Part II

Lucius Lilley

A Scoundrel Or Genius?

By Kathy Brown

What kind of man leaves his fortune to the poor? Who was Lucius Lilley? Was he a scoundrel or genius?

One biographer summarizes the obvious in all of Lucius Lilley's biographies:

"He was a fine illustration of what may be accomplished by integrity, preserverance and resolution."

The first 32 years of Lilley's life are marked by a remarkable business career, whether it be attributed to shrewd judgement or luck.

Born in Homer, Cortland County New York in 1823, Lilley was the oldest of the family and helped his father work a farm in Wayne County, Ohio.

The family was originally from Massachusetts and his great-grandfather, Capt. Reuben Lilley, "served with distinction" in the Revolutionary War.

At age 17, Lilley set out for Cleveland as a stranger, then to Akron and returned to Cleveland in 1844.

There he began his career for P.M. Weddell and Co., a merchantile business, as the youngest clerk and gradually rose to head clerk in 1845, until Weddell's death in 1847.

Lilley assisted in the closing of the vast estate of his old employer and the next year, he purchased a half interest in the Weddell House, then the finest hotel in the west.

After three years, Lilley sold out and was appointed Cleveland agent of the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana line of steamers, moved to Buffalo and then Adrian with the company's interest.

In 1855 Lilley came to Tecumseh as assistant cashier of the Bank of Tecumseh. The bank closed in 1860, its president and cashier were assumed to have left town. Perhaps it was at this time his reputation came into question.

"Bankers had a 'Shylock' reputation in those days," particularly in the era of wild cat banks and few government regulations, said Wilfred Waldron, one who vividly remembers the banker during the 1900's.

Lilley's experience launched a 57 year career in banking which earned his reputation as one of the "oldest, better known, conservative bankers of the state," "A man of most excellent business judgement."

Lilley organized the Savings Bank of P. Bills and Co. Bills was president and Lilley was cashier until 1865 when it was liquidated.

Lilley then organized the National Bank of Tecumseh as cashier until 1874 when it was voluntarily liquidated.

He at once organized the Bank of Bills, Lilley and Co. as president and manager until his death in February 1912 at age 89. It was reorganized as the Lilley State Bank in 1893 under state banking laws.

Lilley also held trust offices. In 1902, he was made Michigan vice-president of the National Bankers Association and was officer of the American Bankers Association of New Orleans and director of the Detroit Trust Co.

He was also identified with various interests in town and promoted the building up of the town. Some resented his hand in these business interests.

His banking position made him a man of power and wealth. He was one of five who published the fact that he hired a substitute for the Civil War draft. However, Lilley collaborated with local businessmen to raise salaries for the troops.

Lilley was recorded to have had "strong pronounced views which he did not hesitate to advocate . . ." but was always "ready to listen."

Others describe Lilley as a man with whom "it was banking or nothing." His business manner alienated some villagers.

However, a newspaper eulogy said of Lilley, "even to his death he was interested in the affairs of the town and neighborhood, was an avid reader, was interested in news and enjoyed visitors." Farming was his hobby.

The most prominent memory Tecumsehites have of "Mr. Banker" is an aristocratic family vignette: Lilley driving his horse drawn carriage, top hat on head, whiskers stylishly trimmed and his wife and daughter seated in back.

The portrait may be seen at Lamb's Pharmacy.

"Lilley was the only man at the time who kept a coachman to drive his wife and daughter and hired him by the year, (he lived on the premises.)," told Waldron. This was a mark of wealth in the village of Tecumseh.

"He lived to please his wife and daughter and his daughter did not live on the same level as his wife," recalls Waldron.

Daughter Julie, "Lulu" is recalled for her flair for fashion and sophistocation bordering on aristocracy.

Lilley married Sarah McEachron of Cleveland there in 1848. She was born of Scottish ancestry and biographers say the family exhibited the "substantial and reliable traits of the nationality."

They had two children, James Raynor and Julia, who married Col. Albert Cummins.

Lilley's family bought and remodeled 201 S. Union, the family home until 1940, which Judge Stacey left for his home on W. Chicago.

Was the estate conscience money?

"No, I don't believe he ever cheated anyone," said Wilfred Waldron. "At heart he greatly pleasured himself leaving money to charity."

A eulogy states "He gave generously of his time and money (to people of poor circumstances) without ostentation and was a liberal given to the churches."

The Vanishing American

About half of the U. S. dairy farmers in business five years ago no longer are.

In Michigan, the nation's sixth-ranking dairy state, the number of dairy farmers has dropped from about 14,000 in 1964 to7,700 last year. The number is expected to be 4,500 by 1980.

Why?

Feed prices have increased some 72 per cent in the past two years. The cost of fertilizers has doubled. The price of fuel is nearly twice what it was in 1973. Interest rates for loans to enable farmers to expand their operations and update their equipment are higher than in 1973.

And dairy farmers' incomes have not kept pace with those increases in their production costs.

While the number of dairy farmers—and dairy cows—is dwindling, output per farm is increasing through a trend to larger, more efficient dairy farm operations. This is what today's dairy farmers are doing to help meet the needs of the American consumer and to help ward off dependence on other countries for such milk products as cheese, butter and nonfat dry milk.

And that's part of the reason we at MMPA think this Vanishing American is important and it's why we think this great natural resource—the dairy farming industry—is worth preserving.

What is home? A blend of memories and mortar . . . walls and roof and smells of breakfast cooking . . . a place of rest at the end of the day . . . a feeling of possession, of belonging . . . a place of hates, loves, anger . . . center of things living.

Home may be a mansion on a hill, a cramped apartment, a farmhouse, a hovel, a new suburban split-level, the house Father built . . . but only to you and your family is it home. No one else may call it that. For home is a part of you!

Centuries ago a shepherd-poet felt this. Lonely seasons on the grazing slopes had taught him to love . . . to long for . . . HOME.

But he realized that, through this life and beyond, the nearness of God is part of the sense of home. Goodness and mercy would follow him all the days of his life. And he would dwell in the house of the Lord forever!

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

I get depressed watching soap operas.

It's not the problems that the characters face daily that get me upset. It's the problems that DON'T confront them that send me on downers.

For instance, you never see a soap opera heroine try to unclog "le toilet" after a wash cloth has been flushed down—and you'll never see that same heroine try to dry out the bathroom carpet after the inevitable overflow.

You never see a soap opera wife in a supermarket (a) agonize over a choice between hamburger and ground chuck; (b) threaten her child with severe bodily harm if he cries for one more free toy in a box of cereal that he won't eat; (c) lock baskets with someone in an aisle crowded enough to resemble a street in New Delhi.

And that's not all. You never see glamorous soap opera stars wash their hair and-or panty hose much less peanut butter and jelly off doorknobs, muddy dogs and trucks, diapers and windows.

You never watch soapers sprint from the shower to the kitchen and stand dripping at the telephone trying to convince the salesman on the other end that the house is already aluminum-sided.

I don't deny the characters on "Days of Our Lives", "General Hospital", and "The Young and the Restless" (to name only a few) have problems.

I'm sure having your mother run off with your fiance, being sent up the river for a crime you didn't commit, or being kicked out of the mansion your husband of two hours left you on his death bed must be kind of hard to take.

But struggling to fix a short in a vacuum cleaner that knocks you on the floor every time you plug it in isn't a picnic either.

It's a boy! — proudly announce Macon residents Joyce and Jim Conrad. Sept. 8 at Adrian's Bixby Hospital, Chad Robert weighed 8 lbs. 5½ oz. and measured 22½inches long. Excited big brothers Michael, 6, and Matt, 3, "check the baby every two minutes," according to Joyce. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Billau, who live on the Ridge, and Mrs. Bertha Conrad of Britton are the pleased grandparents.

Macon sends get well wishes to John Banks who was injured Sept. 6 at the Saline Fair during the tractor pull.

The air-cooling fan on a six-ton tractor exploded, sending metal similar to shrapnel into a crowd of spectators seated in the bleachers.

Banks was taken by ambulance to the University of Michigan Hospital where his right arm and part of a finger of his left hand were amputated.

He has been transferred from intensive care, where he had been placed because of a complicating heart condition, and is progressing well.

Six other people injured in the freak accident were treated and released.

Julie Rhora and Carol Tilden, medical assistants in Dr. Carlton Cook's office, were recently notified that they have passed a national certification examination.

Sponsored jointly by the American Medical Association and the American Association of Medical Assistants, the examination culminated three years of classes and study for the women. It is given only once a year in various cities throughout the country.

In addition to basic certification, Mrs. Rhora also passed a clinical speciality examination.

Mrs. Rhora, a Macon resident, has worked as medical assistant to Dr. Cook for 10 years. Mrs. Tilden, who lives in Onsted, joined the staff nine years ago.

Service Team Elects Chairman

Mrs. Donald Escott is the newly elected service team chairman for the Tecumseh Community Association of the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council which met Sept. 10.

Mrs. Escott may be contacted in regard to any phase of Girl Scouting. Any adult interested in helping may call the unit's troop organizer, Mrs. Glenn Klingensmith, 423-7836.

Mrs. David Bailey is in charge of the uniform exchange. Anyone having outgrown uniforms may bring them to her with an envelope bearing name, address, uniform size and price on it.

Uniform exchange day will be at a later date at the Scout Cabin.

Girl Scout fliers will be coming home from school soon. These have more membership information. October is registration month.

Its Just A Matter Of Time

Area residents will be able to share in the giving for cystic fibrosis research when C-F volunteers march in Tecumseh Sept. 22-26.

"It's just a matter of time" is this year's poster theme for cystic fibrosis featuring a sketch of a 10 year old C-F victim from Flint.

These 1975 campaign posters will appear in Tecumseh store windows this week and will afford an opportunity to reflect upon the theme.

Twenty years ago, when cystic fibrosis research began, it was just a matter of time before a child born with this inherited lung damaging disease succumbed to it.

Now, because of cystic fibrosis campaign funds financing intensive research in this field, it's just a matter of time before this fatal disease might be conquered.

Historical Trip Planned

MACON — Members of Macon's Women's Club traded tales of vacations as their program Sept. 11.

Mrs. Harold Ross assisted Mrs. Paul Kolar in serving luncheon.

Next meeting is Oct. 9 at noon instead of 12:30 p.m. because of the planned trip to the Lenawee Historical Society.

Rummage Sale Discussed

A rummage sale, Business and Professional Women's Dinner, traveling basket and monthly bake sales were four special events discussed by the ladies of the St. Elizabeth Rosary and Altar Society at a meeting Sept. 10.

The rummage sale will be two days later in October.

The Business and Professional Women's Dinner will be in November.

The traveling basket was started by Mary McCrate at the meeting and will continue throughout the year.

An item or number of items are placed in a basket to be given to an Altar Society member.

The bake sales are the first Sunday of each month after all Masses.

With the theme "Getting Acquainted," the Altar Society, with Betty Meni, was host of 38 members and five guests.

Indians Lose To Chelsea

Tecumseh lost to a tough, physical, Chelsea team Friday night opening the football season for the Indians.

Final score stood at 26-13 in the contest. Chelsea has now defeated Tecumseh three years in a row.

Chelsea was on the scoreboard first with a touchdown halfway through the first quarter. Indian Bill Smith blocked the extra point kick. In the next series for Tecumseh, Linvel Lisenbee ran 50 yards to set up 20-yard quarterback keeper by Indian Dave Spillman for the score. Ken Biscupski kicked the extra point and the Indians were out in front 7-6.

However, it was the last time Tecumseh would lead. Chelsea scored again with 53 seconds left in the first frame marching 75 yards in seven plays. Chelsea again missed the point after try.

Late in the third quarter, Chelsea scored on a 25-yard run by Chelsea back Tony Robards. The extra point failed. And early in the fourth quarter, Chelsea grabbed their final touchdown adding the two-point conversion.

With seven minutes left, the Indians scored with a three-yard run by Bill Warner. The two point conversion attempt failed.

Indian quarterback Dave Spillman completed four of 12 passes for 80 yards while Chelsea completed three of eight for 58 yards.

Chelsea's strong ground game predominated. They picked up 329 yards rushing to Tecumseh's 143. Lisenbee was the leading Indian rusher with 85 yards in 13 carries.

Chelsea had 18 first downs to the Indians six. Tecumseh lost 50 yards on four penalties while Chelsea lost 20 yards on two penalties.

Tecumseh fumbled three times losing it once while recovering two of three Chelsea fumbles.

Head coach Pat Connors said of the game, "We're disappointed. We obviously didn't play well and Chelsea has a fine football team. The players knew they didn't play well and were unhappy about it.

He continued, "But I'm not discouraged. We have a lot of inexperienced kids. We'll make some changes and move the players around. I thought our offense looked decent at times."

Concerning Tecumseh's battle with Monroe-Jefferson this Friday at home Connors says, "They should be better than they have been. They have eight kids returning on defense and all their backs are returning. They are young in the offensive line but they have a good football team. It'll be a good test for us."

Harriers Victorious

Tecumseh's cross-country squad lost to a tough Chelsea squad last Thursday and made a poor showing at the new Boston Huron Invitational on Saturday. But they bounced back to devastate Jefferson Tuesday 16-44.

The Indians lost to Chelsea 24-34. Tim Scheff was first for Tecumseh at 16:59 followed by Dave Bilkie third at 17:17 Kent Norris was eighth at 17:35, Jim Harris was tenth at 17:54, and Kim Cantrell was twelfth at 18:31.

In the N.B.H. Invitational, Tecumseh finished eleventh out of 16 Southeastern Michigan teams. Tim Scheff was the only Indian to place finishing in the 33rd spot at 17:27.

Against Jefferson, the Indians captured the first four places with Tim Scheff, Jim Harris, Kent Norris and Dave Bilkie. Respective times were, 16:47, 17:18, 17:28 and 17:29. Steve Medvecv finished in the sixth spot at 17:41 Kim Cantrell came in eighth at 17:55 and Kevin Burchett finished tenth at 18:39.

Indian Harriers are 3-1 overall and 1-0 in the Huron league. They attend the Jackson Invitational this Saturday and travel to New Boston Huron next Tuesday.

Golfers Dominate Opponents

Tecumseh's golf squad continues to dominate every team they play. In the last week, Tecumseh defeated East Jackson on Tuesday, Bedford 159-176 on Monday, Bedford and Sylvania last Thursday and Columbia Central 161-186 Wednesday.

Against East Jackson Tuesday, the Indians prevailed 157-189. Jeff Steiner was medalist at 36 followed by Steve Lynch 38, John Gibson 40, Dave Bauman 43, and Scott Macbeth 44. Steiner's 36 was the lowest individual match score to date for Tecumseh.

John Gibson and Steve Lynch shared medalist honors against Bedford Monday each with a 39 followed by Doug Jacobs 40 and Scott Macbeth 41.

The junior varsity also won 179-191 with Steve Hunter capturing medalist honors at 42.

On Thursday the team played Bedford and Sylvania. The Indians came out on top with a 156 followed by Sylvania, 164 and Bedford 176. Jacobs was medalist at 38, followed by Jeff Steiner and Macbeth 39, and Gibson, 40.

Against Columbia Central, Gibson was the medalist at 37, Jacobs was next at 40, Macbeth at 41 and Steiner, 43. The JV's won two matches 186-216 and 183-212. Steve Hunter was JV medalist at 39.

Indian State Champs Open Season

By FRANK WEIR

Tecumseh's girl basketball squad opens its season next week hoping for a replay of 1974.

Last year, the girls put on a stunning performance finishing with a 23-0 record and a Class B state title.

Coach Diane Nelson lost four girls from that championship team to graduation including Barb Henning, Beckie Stormes, Julie Murphy and Laura Purkey.

You would think such a loss would concern any coach, but not Nelson. "We won't be hurt as much as people had thought. I think our offense is better now than last year. I'm pleased with the replacements."

She continues, "The offense is stronger partly because I shifted a couple of players around and its working out much better. Susie Brown will still be a guard but she'll take Julie Murphy's place in the corner. Susie can penetrate with the ball so well. And the offense if faster too."

Letterwinners returning from last year include, Julie Anderson, Connie Younglove, Jane Faulkner, Melinda Ternak, Sue Brown and Peg Upell.

Nelson doesn't plan any major change in playing style over last year. "We'll have a multiple offense and we'll play a running game 90 percent of the time. That's my philosophy, to take the ball to the other team all the time. It catches them off guard and most teams will tire out. Its also more exciting for the players and fans."

Needless to say, a team can't play a running game unless they themselves are in shape. Nelson has been stressing conditioning.

Defense will be mostly zone and "we'll run a pressure defense when necessary."

As good as last year's team was, Nelson insists that Tecumseh '75 is even stronger. "We're quicker than last year and stronger on the boards. Our only problem is, we don't have as strong a bench this year as last." Her reserve bench last year was made up of juniors. This year, it's sophomores.

Regardless, Nelson's main worry this season is complacency. "Complacency is probably the biggest problem I'll face this year. We'll have to work on it. We talk about it and I watch for it."

Tecumseh opens its season against Bishop Gallagher next Tuesday. First home game is two days later on Thursday and its an important contest. They will host Detroit Dominican, last year's state Class A champs. If the Indians can predominate, "It'll be a feather in our cap."

In later games, Nelson expects competition from Grosse Ile, St. Mary's, St. Thomas and Adrian.

As for the state championship, can they repeat? "We'd like to think we can. It's one of our goals. It's harder to stay on top because everybody wants to beat the champ. We have the talent and potential to do it. Its something we'll try to do."

Several of the players have asked their coach how they can possibly improve on a perfect season. Nelson has a quick reply, "We have two more regular season games this year than last, so they can improve on last year."

Starting lineup includes, Julie Anderson and Jane Faulkner, forward; Melinda Ternak and Sue Brown, guard; and Janice Stevens, center. All are seniors.

Tories Win Opener, 44-8

The Britton-Macon Tories started out the 1975 football season on a successful note defeating the Northwood, Ohio Rangers Saturday afternoon 44-8.

The Tories scored 20 points in the first quarter alone. Britton recovered a Ranger fumble on the Ranger 45 yard line and went in to score six plays later with the TD coming on a 22-yard run by Tim Kurowicki. Steve Crittenden ran across the extra point and the Tories led 8-0.

On the following kickoff Northwood fumbled and the Tories recovered on the Ranger 38-yard line. On the eighth play Rudy Montalvo went seven yards for the TD. The extra point attempt failed and the Tories led 14-0.

Later in the first quarter the Tories recovered another Northwood fumble on the Ranger 22-yard line and again turned the Ranger mistake into a Tory touchdown with Montalvo going the final four yards for the TD. The extra point attempt again failed and Britton led 20-0.

There was no scoring in the second quarter but Northwood missed a golden opportunity to score when they recovered a Tory fumble on Britton's eight yard line. The Tory defense held and Britton had a 20-0 lead at halftime.

Following a Northwood punt in the third quarter, the Tories took control of the ball on their own 32-yard line and marched in to score in 15 plays with Scott White going the final three yards. Montalvo ran over the extra point.

The Britton defense again forced Northwood to punt and the Tories took control of the ball on Ranger 46 yard line. The Tory drive this time was 13 plays with Mark Willaert scoring on a three-yard run early in the fourth quarter. Montalvo again ran over the extra point.

Britton's final score came when they blocked a Northwood punt and Bill Lutz fell on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. Montalvo again ran over the extra point and Britton led 44-0.

Northwood's score followed a Tory mistake when the center snap on a punt went over the punter's head and Northwood took control on the Britton 16-yard line. On the next play Bob Snider threw a pass to Scott Posey for a touchdown. The Rangers also converted the extra point and final score was 44-8.

Northwood rushed for 93 yards and passed for 54 yards for a total offense of 147 yars.

Rudy Montalvo led the Tory rushers with 112 yards in 23 carries. Scott White added 88 yards in 24 attempts, and Tim Kurowicki had 47 yards rushing. The Tory offensive line led by Craig Wagenschutz opened up the holes for the Britton backs.

Randy Smith completed two of five passes for eight yards. The Tory attack netted 248 yards rushing and eight yards passing for a total offense of 256 yards.

Bill Lutz led the Tory defense with 12 tackles and also recovered a blocked punt for a touchdown. Paul Wielfaert had eight tackles.

Britton is now 1-0 for the season and begins its defense of the Tri-County League title this Friday hosting the Whiteford Bobcats.

Clinton Runners Win Two

A young Clinton cross-country squad has won their first two outings against Whiteford and Vandercook Lake.

First was Whiteford on Sept. 9. The Redskins defeated them easily 15-43. They captured the first five places with Chris Wojtowicz coming in first at 17:49 followed by Wally Pike 18:10, freshman Mark Prichard third at 18:11, Jim Klanke fourth at 18:27 and Jody Swain fifth at 18:47. John Dotson finished in the eighth spot.

Clinton had another successful afternoon last Thursday dominating Vandercook Lake 22-39. Wojtowicz was against first at 18:46 followed by Pike in the third spot at 1.9:07, and Mark Prichard took fifth at 19:17.

Jody Swain came in sixth at 19:37, Klanke was seventh at 21:25, Dotson was eighth at 21:46 and Dave Rafferty was ninth at 22:00.

Head coach Ozzie Hashley, beginning his fourth year, is enthusiastic about his young and upcoming team. The squad has only one senior out of ten on the team and over half are freshman and sophomores.

Although Clinton lost their top two runners to graduation there are five returning letterme, including senior Jim Klanke, juniors Mark Eveleth and Roger Lasovage, sophomore Chris Wojtowicz and Wally Pike.

Impressive newcomers, according to Hashley are sophomore Jody Swain and freshman Mark Prichard. Adding depth to the squad is sophomore Dave Rafferty and John Dotson and freshman Matt Peters.

"We have about seven kids which are running within about a minute of each other and the top three are freshmen and sophomores. We've never had this many guys running that close to one another. We've always had two or three outstanding runners but no depth. The situation creates outstanding competition between our own runners. We will develop into an outstanding cross country team over the next two or three years. The future looks real bright. We're excited!"

Coach Hashley looks for the LCAA to be tough since no team except Clinton was hit hard by graduation losses. Addison, Grass Lake, and Manchester should be in there competing for state honors. As for his team, "We're a year away but we'll be there."

Fresh from an easy 60-48 victory over Bishop Gallagher Tuesday night, Tecumseh's Class B state champion girls basketball squad takes on Detroit Dominican this Thursday at home.

Dominican was last year's Class A state champs and coach Diane Nelson figures they'll be tough again this season.

The Indians had no trouble polishing off Bishop Gallagher. Nelson began sending in second stringers in the second quarter and there were no starters for all of the fourth frame.

Tecumseh scored four baskets in the first two minutes and ended the first quarter 18-7 over Gallagher. By halftime, they had stretched their lead to 32-15. In the third quarter they picked up 18 points to 12 for Gallagher. The Indians lost the fourth frame 21-10.

Forward Julie Anderson led in scoring with 25 followed by Melinda Ternak eight, Sue Brown six, Connie Younglove four, Tori Iffland three, Jan Stevens and Grace Burns each with two.

A very hoarse Diane Nelson commented "We totally dominated the game from the beginning. We took control all night long and Gallagher didn't have any strong shooters."

The stage is set for Thursday night. The junior varsity begins play at 6 p.m. with the varsity to follow.

RECREATION FACILITIES ARE TARGETS

Vandals on Rampage

Tecumseh Park and the recreation buildings continue to be ravaged by vandals since the July 20 "arson" fire in the Pit building.

Damages at both "the Pit"—Tecumseh Park—and Community Center are now estimated to be over $5,000.

At its last meeting Council expressed dismay over the damage.

So far, none of the vandals has been caught. Major problem seems to be surveillance of the areas.

Chief Merlin Mowery said when officers approach the Tecumseh Park building, "visitors" there respond, "We're just looking at the stars." Location of the building at the western end of the park makes escape easy for them.

Gates at the park are closed most of the time and officers have a key to gain entrance for patrol, but vandals gain access by foot.

Vandals are believed to be men between the ages of 18 and 22. Officials said they are both local and out of town residents, some known to the police officers," said Mowery.

How do you catch them? What do you do to prevent vandalism? The recreation director, Ward Eardley, Council and local police are asking the same questions.

Eardley said "a better means of security would be the answer. An alarm system, security guards, closer patrol and help of people in the area" are his possible solutions.

"People are afraid to do anything. These people should be gotten a hold of and not slapped on the hands. People have to work together with the city," said Eardley, favoring a get tough policy.

Chief Mowery suggested "the best protection from vandalism are the residents themselves. As in all police problems, police must have absolute public support."

"If it is more than alcoholic beverages being consumed down there, we are unaware of it," said Mowery. He called the destruction "pure maliciousness."

At the Pit site, a snack counter was used to start the fire which gutted the building. Smoke damaged the entire building.

Nine plate glass windows will have to be replaced. Furniture and recreation equipment were destroyed, personal property of employees was stolen, and electrical wiring destroyed.

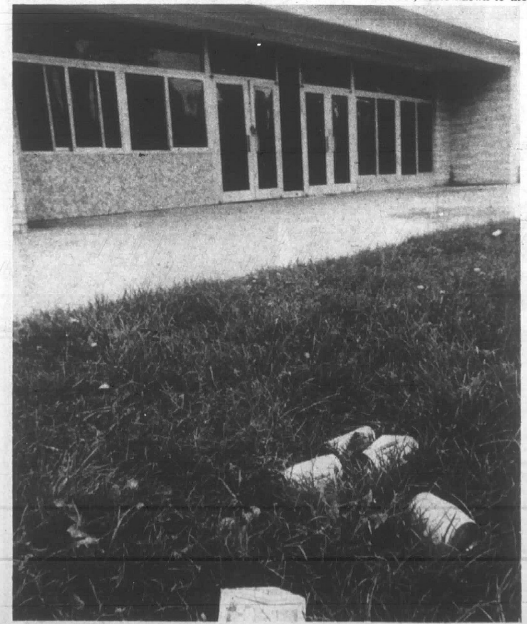
The telephone was completely melted in the blaze, "like a ball of plastic," said Eardley and three picnic tables were demolished.

What is left of the building continues to be smashed since vandals may enter now without breaking.

Indoor heater vents were completely bent. Blood stained the floor, probably from earlier raids when glass was broken.

Debris, from what Eardley called "wine and other kids of parties," litters the recreation area.

Vandals also scarred the new Community Center addition. Windows have been broken, a mercury-vapor lamp shattered, screens ripped, a picnic table dumped into the dam and another mutilated.



NIGHTIME PLAYGROUND — Since the July 20 fire at Tecumseh Park building, vandals have continued to use the facility as a gathering place for drinking and other parties that result in further destruction of the facility. Officials ask community support to spot and report vandalism. (Photo by Cortland Hunt)

'Chance' of Strike at Herrick Hospital

By KATHY BROWN

Herrick Memorial Hospital officials staged a news black out and refused to comment on very basic questions about negotiations with Local 79 of the Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO.

Union represents about 135 hospital service workers including maintenance, housekeeping, dietary, laundry personnel and nurses aides. Bargaining began about two months ago.

Union negotiator Ken Davis of Lansing said negotiations reached an impasse over economics last Friday.

Federal mediator from the state, Edward Connors, will join the two groups for negotiations Monday at 9:30 a.m. at city hall.

Hospital administrator William Groover told the Tecumseh Herald he could give no comment.

Ed Rapin, consultant to the hospital along with Wally Stubbs, said "we at the hospital have no comment about the progress of negotiations. It is a municipal hospital but we don't want anything in the papers."

"We could get along very well without Mr. Rapin," said union negotiator Davis. "Prior to Sept. 19th, talks seemed to be going very smoothly with Mr. Stubbs when all at once Rapin appeared. Rapin is pushing the employees to strike. I think that is his desire," Davis said.

There is "definitely" a chance of a strike, "but it is not something that would happen in a week," told Davis.

He said he hoped Monday's talks would be fruitful but described the hospital's attitude as "very negative on the entire economics issue. They have taken away benefits by chopping every one in half."

Confronted with the possibility of a strike, Rapin said, "Of course a strike is against the law."

Asked if the hospital would remain open after a strike Rapin replied, "That's a hypothetical situation and we don't answer hypothetical situations."

Davis named members of the union bargaining committee as Joyce Forsyth, Betty Beede, Cyna Dotson, Donette Schafer and Jennifer Rodeford.

Herrick Memorial Hospital Board members are Harold Easton, Kenneth Herrick, Paul Hohenstein, John Surratt, Glenn Kohler and Perry Satterthwaite.

Teachers OK New Contract

Tecumseh Education Association, representing 258 teachers in the local schools, ratified a new contract Monday afternoon by almost a unanimous vote at the high school.

The new contract, already ratified by the School Board, calls for a pay hike of $264, raising the base salary for a teacher with a degree from $9,636 to $9,900, and the maximum in 11 years from $15,697 to $16,127. Longevity increments every five years also were increased to $495.

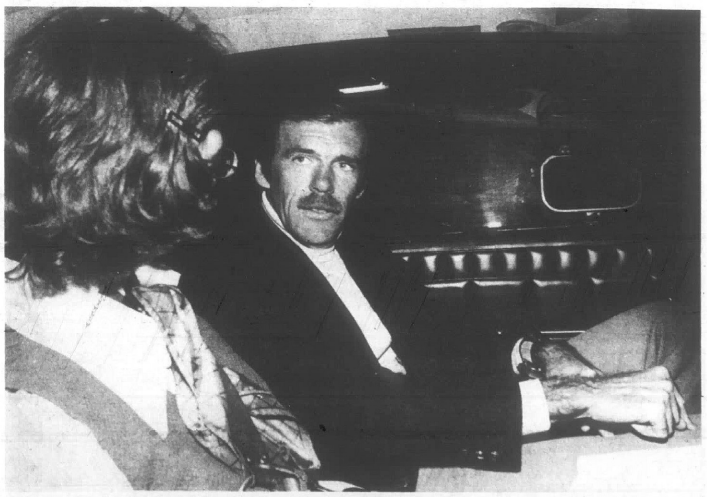
Supt. Robert Duhan says the insurance program was upgraded, teachers' retirement payments will now be paid fully by the Board, and the basic salary schedule was increased approximately 2.7 percent. He said the total cost for the Board would be released after officials double-check their figures and a budget hearing is held.

By law, the schools would have been forced to handle retirement payments for the teachers in 1977.

The language portion of the new contract is to run for three years. Salary and insurance sections are to be negotiated for the second and third year, which means the TEA and Board will negotiate these sections in 1976 and 1977.

Ratification Monday by the TEA marked the third group in the schools to approve new contracts. Maintenance and custodians previously approved a new agreement as did the secretaries.

Monday evening, a tentative agreement was reached with the bus drivers.



AUTHOR TAKES WINGS — Richard Bach, author of "Jonathan Livingston Seagull" visited Meyers Aircraft Industries Friday to buy this Meyers Model 200D, the fastest four place airplane with an unsupercharged engine, designed and once built in Tecumseh. Bach invited Herald reporter Kathy Brown to chat in the cockpit. Photographer Cortland Hunt recorded the meeting.

Famed Author Buys a Meyer's

By KATHY BROWN

The reputation of the Meyers' aircraft brings many airplane enthusiasts from across the nation to unassuming Tecumseh.

Richard Bach, author of "Jonathan Livingston Seagull" is such an enthusiast who visited the Meyer's Aircraft Industries on Friday.

While the tanned Floridian was "wowing" the Meyers Model 200D and his meeting with A.J. Smith, one time world glider champion, the Tecumseh Herald reporter and photographer were "wowing" their interview with the author.

"Tecumseh never fit my image of the place it is. You know all around the country it is renowned as the home of this super efficient airplane."

But when Bach tried to get a flight to Tecumseh from Florida, he was told he'd have to fly to Detroit first and when he wanted to rent a car, he was told the rental agency didn't have a rental office in Tecumseh.

Bach found it unbelievable that Tecumseh is a small town.

Already owner of six airplanes, "I plan to pare the number down to four. Four is a basic level of existence for anyone," he said.

Bach bought the Meyers plane "To get me to the places I want to go, like from Florida to Tecumseh. It flies just as fast as my twin Cessna 310 Conversion.

The Meyers Model 200D built in 1965 was one of the last designed and built in Tecumseh. It is the fastest, four place airplane available

Jewels & gems

By Dick Eggleston

The cameo in ancient times was usually made of one of the layered quartzes such as sardonyx, or in colored glass. It made its appearance first in Hellenic Greece. It was a Roman Craftsman, however, who brought the art to a height of excellence. The cameo was first used, as it is today, as an article of personal adornment, a brooch, or some sort of clasp. they were also used in rings. The fact that Rome dominated a good deal of the Western world left a great many different types of stone for them to use in their art.

You'll find a great many different kinds of jewelry and gifts on display at EGGLESTON'S JEWELRY, 107 E. Chicago Blvd., 423-2715. Bulova, Caravelle, Accutron and Seiko watches are handled and I am a certified Accutron technician. Expert jewelry repairs are done and we will be happy to remount your precious stones.

GEM FACT: Grease in water, the atmosphere or the skin easily coats the back facets of your rings.

To The Editor

TO THE CITIZENS OF TECUMSEH:

Although I don't particularly care for some of the things the Goodwill Industries do, I think it is a crime the way the public use their collection boxes for a "dumping off" place for the things they are too lazy to take to the dump themselves!

I have seen things at the A&P collection box that were just plain junk! No wonder the merchants object to having the boxes on their property when most of the time they look like the city dump.

Come on, folks, let's play fair — either give decent, usable, repairable articles or none at all and make your own trips to the dump!

Want to keep the city clean!

Survey Conducted

A survey of 1975 secondary graduates is being conducted in the 12 Lenawee County School Districts in conjunction with the Lenawee Vocational-Technical Center.

Purpose of the survey is to find out what the graduates are doing and how well they feel the school programs have served their needs.

Counselors in each high school are surveying 1975 seniors with the exception of those who attended the Vo-Tech Center. Vo-Tech is taking the responsibility for surveying all county students who were in its vocational programs.

Information obtained from the survey will be used in planning better school programs.

Survey forms are being mailed to graduates this week. The completed surveys should be returned by Oct. 10 at the latest.

Parents or other relatives of relocated 1975 graduates are asked to forward the forms to them. Each school hopes to reach every senior and the cooperation of every family is much appreciated.

Burn Accidents Can Be Avoided

Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary will mark the month of October, Burn Awareness Month, with several community activities to educate the people about the number of burn accidents, ways to prevent them and the shortage of burn care facilities in the state.

Activities will include a fund raising bike-a-thon Oct. 11, tips on handling fires and tot finder decals distributed through the elementary schools. An "awareness" information board will be at the library and Tecumseh Newstand, and canisters in local businesses for donations to build burn treatment centers. A film, "A Fighting Change," will be shown to the general public and clubs with a demonstration on flame retardant sleep wear.

Dr. Irving Feller, founder and president of the National Institute for Burn Medicine, says the burn problem has historically ignored both by the general public and by the medical community.

"Most people believe that a burn accident simply can't happen to them or to members of their family. But we know more than 100,000 Michigan residents are burned every year — 3,200 of them so severely that they must be hospitalized.

"Yet there are few burn care physicians and less than 10 burn care facilities in the state. Only one burn victim in 10 receives the best possible care," said Feller.

Dr. Feller adds there are many myths about burn victims that have become obsolete because of the advances in burn medicine during the past 20 years.

"Many people still believe that severely burned persons would be better off dead, that their chances of returning to normal, happy lives are virtually nonexistant. Those myths simply aren't true when burn victims receive up-to-date treatment."

With good care and rehabilitation, even those who have suffered 70 and 80 percent burns can lead full and productive lives, can be comfortable themselves and scars don't really matter much, Dr. Feller added.

According to local chairman, Mrs. Ken Beevers, the other side of the burn tragedy is that more than half of all burn accidents could have been prevented.

Many studies, indicate that most people have very little knowledge about preventing burns. The National Institute for Burn Medicine is working to improve burn prevention education.

These accidents, Dr. Feller observes, are caused largely because people don't know what to do in a given situation.

"If you enter a dark room and smell gas, the last thing in the world you would do is turn on a light to investigate. Yet many people do exactly that," said Dr. Feller. The friction of the switch may be ignite gas in the air.

THE SEASONS CHANGED

As summer wound down and impatient autumn stomped in even before the calendar gave him permission, there was a feeling of excitement and expectation. Something was about to happen and there was a tenseness which said hurry, hurry, hurry. The birds felt it.

I must apologize for talking about our young cardinals again. They are such characters though, so entertaining, and around all of the time. Well, no, they are not in constant attendance at the feeders but, in true cardinal fashion, they are very faithful, especially early and late in the day.

Members of this clan are notorious for their eating habits, often they are the first birds noisily grabbing breakfast from the near-my-window feeders, and until there is almost no light left they will be the birds snatching that last bill full of sunflower seeds. In between times it is anyone's guess as to when they will show up for quick snacks.

But the last two families are surpassing all previous records for attendance. The young kids and their older brother and sisters are hungry. Hungry and appreciative of easy eating.

And how they do eat — the food just seems to disaapear. They gobble it down as though knowing time is running out. They have a lot of growing to do and they are doing their best to meet all the schedules.

Featherwise they are acquiring adult plumage very rapidly. Even the bald-headed male's son, who was taking after his father, is changing from day to day until it is almost reaching the point where now his head hardly shows any trace of baldness.

The one grown-up characteristic we were sorry to see the kids acquire is a selfish and slightly nasty disposition. I suppose it is all important and pertinent to survival.

However, it was nice to see several of the birds dining together and apparently enjoying each other's company. All of this has changed and even the most timid female suddenly found the courage to 'invite' her sister to leave the feeding tray.

It was not a pleasant exchange either, the gals went at each other with bills open and feathers raised. Gradually a pecking order has been worked out. Apparently our timid little lady is going to be more aggressive than we thought.

So much for the warm weather type things which suddenly changed almost as though gearing up for winter. A week or so ago there were also a few hints that the cold weather lovers were a bit overanxious and had started crowding in for some record breaking.

Both Mom and Gertie T. saw the tiny red-breasted nuthatch and usually his first appearance is later in the fall. So much later that it is often winter.

Mom saw him first. He was busily engaged in exploring the many cracks, crevices, and crannies in the rough bark of the elm tree. This back door elm, by the way, is still struggling and, although I fear the outcome is going to involve a chain saw, every week it holds on against the Dutch elm disease is cause for celebration. It will be a sad sad day when that tree must go.

But back to the red-breasted nuthatch — Mom saw him working but with Gertie T. he played games. Staring games. She first spotted him through the window in the kitchen. Upside-down as these birds usually are, he was again working on the elm tree.

Suddenly he raised his head, pointed his long narrow bill, and stared at Gertie with his little, black, beady eyes.

Hoping to get a better look at the dark blue-black top of his head and the white stripe above his eyes, Gertie hurried to the breakfast nook. Apparently the bird was hoping to get a better look at her too for when she arrived at the window in the door, the red-breasted had turned his head a tiny bit and was staring at her.

Back to the kitchen window and there was the bird again. How long this staring game would have gone on is anyone's guess — the untimely squeaky whistle of the teakettle broke the spell.

This year, more than ever before, there was a cross over of activities as the seasons changed.

You Told Us

by Kathy Brown

"Every organization is made up of four kinds of bones. The wish bones, who wish that people could do the work; the jaw bones, who do all the talking and little else; the knuckle bones, who knock what everyone else tries to do. Fortunately in every organization there are the backbones, who get under the load of the work and get it done."

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Oliphant have just returned from two months vacation in Alaska and the Canadian Rockies. The couple visited every city in the "Land of the Midnight Sun" and have a story for each visit. Traveling 1500 miles on gravel road of the Alaska Highway, they ventured into the Yukon to Dawson Creek and planned for gold at Bonanza Creek, site of the gold strike in 1898.

Fishing was also a favorite past-time. Silver salmon, grayling and Dolly Vardon trout were caught. They had their salmon canned there. Keni Peninsula, where fertile land produces 40 pound cabbages, and Mt. McKinley State Park were also toured.

On the return trip, they traveled the backbone of the Canadian Rockies, crossed the continental divide five times and visited Yellowstone National Park. Rock specimens were also hunted.

One flat tire was the only repair for the couple's motor home during the entire vacation which they described as "unbelieveably fantastic."

Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Merriman of Orland, Ind. former Tecumsehites, send word of activities of Indian natives in Ohio. While others are preparing for the Bicentennial, the Indians are returning to celebrate the heritage of the Oldtown, a tiny southwestern Ohio village, nearly 200 years old which is the birthplace of Tecumseh, one of the Shawnees' famous war chiefs.

For the last five years, the Indians have been organizing a Tecumseh Confederacy of Cherokee, Creek, Shawnee and Choctaw, mirroring what Tecumseh had tried to do before he was killed in 1813.

The confederacy hopes to obtain a federal grant next year to build a cultural arts center, intertribal museum and art school at a nation house or gathering place in Yellow Springs.

The Indians said they didn't bring anyone in the area they couldn't find jobs for to keep people off welfare.

with an unsupercharged engine, told Ray Betzoldt, salesman and airport manager.

Bronson Engineering Co. of Denver, Colo. is expected to put the plane back into production.

In addition, Bach is the only civilian owner of a BD-5J, a single place miniature jet built like an egg and weighs only 500 lbs empty and 1,000 lbs. with fuel and pilot.

He also owns a seaplane, Fleet 1929 biplane with open cockpit that is "good for landing in hay fields and cow pastures" and a SFS-31 motor glider with a Volkswagen engine.

Bach said his interest in airplanes and flying started "in my abortive year of college. At the time I had a friend, now captain for an airline, who owned a plane and gave me an hour of flight instruction in exchange for taking care of the plane."

Later Bach joined the Air Force and continues to fly his planes ever after.

His first introduction to Meyers was an opportunity to fly one over a year ago.

Bach was reluctant to speak about his books, but once he began, he won his audience.

"I'd like to think that my books are about the fascination human beings have with machines.

"Take the airplane for example, it is such a free giving creature, not a being chained to the ground...the wing is a highly magnificant thing.

"Nothing has the strange capacity of a wing to push off like the feathers on a hawk and fly fast and high.

"You become one with the machine. And soon you get into a whole different vocabulary. You say, 'I will fly somewhere,' not 'the plane' but 'I'. And when you have arrived, you say, 'We have arrived.' exchanging the person because of the inseparability you feel."

About "Jonathan Livingston Seagull":

"He was just there and I wrote about him," said Bach. He said the concept of a talking bird was a problem in selling the book, which might be described as a contemporary work of philosophy.

Mixed reaction to it has included fan letters which claim spiritual and physical healing.

"If inspiration is literally an intake of air, then I'm happy the book can be a new breath for someone who has had the wind knocked out of him."

We could have listened much longer but it was time for us to leave the cockpit and return to the world of typewriters and presses.

The brief encounter gave us a lift like a breath of fresh air.

Bi-centennial Journey

Livestock Dealers
by Thelma Youngiove

BRITTON — Observing the huge livestock trucks traveling on the highways must remind many senior farmers of the changes that have occurred in the methods of marketing farm animals.

At one time there were three reliable livestock dealers doing business in the farming community around Britton.

Those dealers were Henry Karcher, William Underwood, and his son, John L. Underwood. All three men were farmers engaged in general farming, (the production of grain and livestock). In addition to farming they dealt in livestock.

Just to look at their farm homes was sufficient to tell that they were successful in business. All were excellent judges of farm animals as to quality and weight.

Farmers having cattle, sheep, or hogs ready for market would call the dealer of his choice and tell him what he had to sell. The dealer would then come to the farm where the animals were located and after looking at the stock to be sold, would offer the farmer a price for the animals.

Usually the dealer offered a set sum per animal or quoted a price per pound. Producer chose the way he thought he'd make the most on the sale of his livestock. In either case the farmer would be required to deliver the animals to the livestock yards in Britton on a set date, usually on a Saturday morning.

There the animals would be weighed and put into pens at the yards. Later in the day, sometimes quite late at night, the stock would be loaded into railroad stock cars to be shipped to a slaughter house in Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, or Buffalo.

Normally three or four freight car loads of livestock (some having double decks for swine or sheep) were shipped from the Britton stock yards weekly.

It must have been quite a relief to families living near the yards when the last animal had been loaded and the train had departed for its destination.

The mournful sounds of the animals in strange quarters, some separated from their mothers for the first time was not very pleasant to hear.

When trucks became fairly numerous many farmers bought their own and trucked their finished livestock directly to the slaughter houses.

Local livestock dealers had so few call they were forced to find some other enterprise or retire from an active business life. There was little use for the Britton stock yards and they began to deteriorate.

Dry Sandwiches ?

Here's Some Ideas

Home-packed lunches do not have to mean dry sandwiches, soggy pie, and lukewarm coffee left over from breakfast.

If the meal planner gives as much time and attention to the packed lunch as he would to the same meal served at home, the lunch may be nutritious, appetizing and economical.

Here are 11 tips to packing fresher lunches:

Freeze individual cans of juice to pack with the lunch. It will defrost by lunchtime and help to keep the lunch cool.

Use plastic containers with airtight lids.

Use a thermos to keep hot things hot, cold things cold. There are a special cold-only containers for puddings, fruit, salads, etc.

Wrap foods well in plastic wrap, foil, waxed paper, etc.

To prevent soggy bread, butter it before adding sandwich filling.

Wrap lettuce, tomatoes, and other vegetables separately to keep from wilting, add to sandwich just before eating.

Carry foods that won't deteriorate quickly-no mayonnaise, fish, seafood on hot days.

Freeze or refrigerate foods in advance to keep them fresher and cooler longer.

Add dressings to salads just before eating to keep them crisper.

Put crushable things on top in the lunch bag, and pack so they have room to breathe.

Moist loaf cake, and cookies and cakes made with honey will not dry out as fast.

Readers who enjoy a controversial viewpoint will want to mull over the following new books at Tecumseh Public Library.

LIBERAL PARENTS, RADICAL CHILDREN, by Midge Decter. Author describes a growing phenomenon among well-educated young adults in this country: fewer and fewer, she says have developed any clear direction or life style by age 30. Remaining dependent on affluent upper middle class parents, they drift from one pursuit to another, one relationship to another, or one relationship to another, or one life style to another without ever reaching responsible adulthood. Ms. Decter contends parents are to blame.

LOVE AND ADDICTION, by Stanton Peele, discusses the concept that some individuals are so dependent on another that they are "addicted." They use the relationship to hide from difficulties In their lives. Author feels that this addiction is as psychologically harmful as addiction to alcohol or drugs. This book will make the reader reevaluate his emotional responsibilities to others.

In THE INVISIBLE CRASH, James Dines predicts a full scale depression in the next few years. He offers suggestions on what the individual can do now to make the most of an unfortunate economic situation. Only time will tell whether the author's predictions are correct; however, in 14 years of writing the Dines Letter, a stock market publication, Dines predicted many of our current economic problems, including the sharp increase in inflation and unemployment and the rise in the price of gold.

A bad book to read at bedtime is THE CURSE OF THE PHARAOHS by Phillipp Vandenberg. Since the major archaeological expeditions to excavate the pharoahs tombs began in the early 1900's, over 30 key researchers from those expeditions have died prematurely. Causes of death were strangely similar. Most victims died from circulatory collapse, fever accompanied by delusions, or cancer that was quickly terminal. Vandenberg believes that the Egyptians found a way to substantiate the famous curse on a tablet in Tutankhamen's tomb which reads, "Death will slay with his wings whoever disburbs the peace of the Pharaoh." Many holes can be found in his argument, but the book still makes scary reading.

In 1953, two little boys lost their parents to the electric chair after a four-year blaze of publicity. The parents were Julius and Ethel Rosenberg; the crime for which they were executed, conspiring to commit espionage in the U.S. for the Soviet Union. WE ARE YOUR SONS: THE LEGACY OF ETHEL AND JULIUS ROSENBERG is the story of them and their family. It was written by their sons, Robert and Michael Meeropol, who believe them innocent of the charges brought against them.

THE HATCHET MAN, by Mel Arrighi, free lance writer Don Skelton's specialty is flushing out and publishing the secrets of the celebrities. In the midst of investigating the "perfect" marriage of Penelope Wren, Hollywood's latest sensation, Skelton is caught up in a situation that shatters his self-righteous complacency and forces him to question the dividing line between legitimate journalistic investigation and callous exploitation of individuals.

Two new mysteries on the library shelves are THE LIVELY DEAD, by Peter Dickinson, and EVERY CRIME IN THE BOOK, an anthology of stories by the Mystery Writers of America.

DO IT YOURSELF CORNER

by Vic Clauda

When buying a disposal, keep in mind the cheapest one is not always the best investment. Some disposals are made with white metal and the soap and detergent will deteriorate the metal and it may cost as much to repair same as a new one would cost. If you have small children who may drop small metal objects in the disposal, you might consider getting one with a 'flock top'' that has to be turned to the "on" position before it will start. A good safety feature.

Clauda Plumbing and heating has the ''Insinkerator'' disposal in a variety of models. We also have the sinks to install them in from the less expensive enameled steel. See them on display in our modern showroom.

HELPFUL HINT: Always turn water on before starting your disposal and keep it running until all garbage is ground, then turn off disposal then the water.

Michigan's 5th to March

CLINTON — Fifth Michigan Regiment Band, an internationally noted official American Revolution Bicentennial Project of the State of Michigan, is an 160-member recreation of the Civil War Band (1861-1965) of the 5th Michigan Volunteer Infantry Regiment.

Director is Maj. J. Gordon Small, who is also assistant conductor of the famous Detroit Concert Band.

Original regiment, with its band, was mustered through Fort Wayne, Detroit, in the early fall of 1861, and included a 24-member band, plus 20 additional fifers and drummers from the individual companies.

New unit was formed in Howell, in the fall of 1973. It includes an 80-piece Regimental Band with members aged from 13 to 73, a Regimental Color Party, a Historical Flags Color Party, the Regimental Dancers, the Regimental Fifes and Drums, the Regimental Bugle Band, the Regimental Banjos and Singers, and the unit quartermaster and ordinance sections.

Smaller units, including the Brass Choir, the Saxaphone Quartet, and the Woodwind Quintet are also a part of the entire unit.

Since its beginnings, the unit has toured extensively in Canada and the Midwest. It was, for example, selected by the Canadian government to perform at Old Fort Henry in Kingston, Ontario with the Fort Henry Guard . . . an honor usually reserved to the United States Marine units from Washington, D.C.

Group has also performed by special invitation at the annual Canadian National Exhibition, joining in the Exhibition Parade, which was viewed by 750,000 spectators, plus millions on Canadian television.

Unit is the only American Revolution Bicentennial Band that was begun from scratch for the 200th Birthday Celebration. Unit is an ongoing project, however, and will continue to thrill the audiences across the state and the world in the years to come.

As the bicentennial era ends 1789 plus 200, the 5th Michigan will continue to represent American history and tradition.

After joining the department, Catton served as a trooper at Clinton for 10 years before promotion.

Indians Improve, Beat Jefferson

Looking much improved since their loss to Chelsea, The Indians won their second football outing Friday night against Monroe-Jefferson.

Opening league play, the Indians humiliated Monroe Jefferson 21-0.

Most of the scoring action took place in the first quarter. Tecumseh took the opening kickoff and marched down for the touchdown with 6:43 left in the quarter. Linvel Lisenbee ran 12 yards for the score and Ken Biscupski kicked the extra point.

Quarterback Dave Spillman ran one yard for the second score in the first quarter and Biscupski again made the extra point.

Final score came midway through the fourth quarter on a one yard run by Lisenbee. Biscupski made the extra point kick.

Tecumseh's defense was alive and kicking holding Monroe to just 63 yards rushing and no yards passing. The Indian offense ran up 249 yards on the ground led by Lisenbee with 123 yards in 22 carries followed by Jim Egbert with 63 yards in 16 carries.

In the air, Tecumseh completed two of 11 passes for 21 yards while Monroe failed on their only two pass tries.

In addition, the Indians grabbed 15 first downs while Monroe came up with three. Tecumseh was penalized 60 yards in six penalties while Monroe lost 50 yards on four penalties.

Indian Rick Ruttkofsky blocked a Monroe punt in the third quarter.

Tecumseh recovered all four of their fumbles while Monroe lost two of six fumbles.

Coach Connors was pleased with the improvement of the team over the Chelsea defeat. "We switched personnel and worked on the basics. It was another week's seasoning for an inexperienced team."

This Friday, the Indians travel to New Boston Huron. That squad has lost their first two outings but Tecumseh scouts report that they showed a great deal of improvement from their first contest to the second.

Huron lost to Flat Rock last Friday 27-6.

Golfers Are 10-0

The Indian golf squad racked up three more wins and shot a new team record on their own Tecumseh Country Club course.

They took on Jefferson last Wednesday winning 154-167 with Jeff Steiner the medalist at 36. Scott Macbeth and John Gibson tied at 39, followed by Steve Lynch and Doug Jacobs both at 40.

The junior varsity won theirs 165-202. Please note that their score was better than the Jefferson varsity. JV medalist was Steve Hunter at 38 followed by David Graf at 41 and David Bauman, 42.

The team traveled to Jackson for the Western Invitational on Saturday. Tecumseh won it all with a 315 beating 11 other teams. Tourney medalist was Gibson at 75 followed by Jacobs and Steiner at 79 and Steve Lynch 82.

The Indians defeated New Boston Huron on Tuesday 152-178. That team score was a new squad record at Tecumseh Country Club. Medalist was Scott Macbeth at 36. Jacobs was 37; Gibson, 39; and Lynch 40.

The junior varsity had a tougher time losing 185-190. Steve Hunter was medalist at 41 followed by Mike Gower, John Faulkner and Sandy Jacobs all at 49.

Tecumseh varsity is now 10-0 overall and 2-0 in the league. Junior varsity record is 6-1 and 1-1.

The Britton Tories made it two in a row by defeating a tough Whiteford team last Friday night 12-0.

The first quarter was a defensive struggle. Whiteford made their deepest penetration of the night when they were stopped on downs at the Britton 12 yard line.

In the third quarter, Britton recovered another Whiteford fumble, this time on the Bobcat 36 yard line. On the third play, sophomore quarterback Randy Smith skirted around his own left end 35 yards for the last touchdown of the night. Of the 120 yards total offense, Whiteford gained 82 yards in the first quarter. The Tory defense held Whiteford to just 38 total yards the last three quarters. The Tigers scored again early in the second half with Dan Salamin taking it in from the eight yard line and Mark Luma added the extra point.

Later on in the quarter, Clinton's defensive unit caused a Hudson fumble and drove the ball 30 yards for the Skin's first score. Quarterback Phil Erickson went in from the one yard line and he also added the extra point.

Clinton then kicked off to Hudson and a great hit by Casey Thilo caused a fumble. The Redskin's Randy Porterfield recovered on the 43 yard line. In three plays the Redskins were on the board again with a 42 yard touchdown pass from Phil Erickson to Ken Roberts to make the score 16-14. The extra point failed.

Injuries plagued Clinton in the fourth quarter. Hudson scored twice more and put the game out of reach late in the fourth quarter.

Unusual Arts, Crafts Displayed at Festival

Did somebody mention arts and crafts? There won't be many skills that you won't be able to find on US-12 when the Fall Festival comes to town. From the usual to the unique — you'll find them all in Clinton.

Available for you to add to your own collections will be original oil paintings, stoneware items, souvenir plates, pottery and ceramics. If the unusual is your desire, perhaps you would like to acquire something in the line of bread dough art, shellcraft, or even a portrait of yourself done right before your eyes at the festival booth of Janet Cummings.

If jewelry is your thing — Dorothy Hoffman and Barbara Lyke are just the craftswomen for you. Dorothy's unique wire jewelry and Barbara's ceramic pieces will be just what you've been looking for to compliment your favorite outfit.

If gardening has you bugged — we'll have experts in the field of cut flowers, terrariums, evergreens and artificial arrangements.

Handcrafts and needle crafts will abound as exhibitors display their wares in the lines of knit, crochet, macrame, calico crafts, dip and drape dolls, and hand sewn items. For little girls' aprons to Christmas stockings, smocked pillows to homemade popcorn — Clinton marketeers will have them at the festival for you.

Demonstration of crafts and skills will include homemade pretzels and noodles, ceramic bells, fabric flowers, straw wreaths and fabric painting.

The Clinton Cinderettes will be holding two raffles in conjunction with their other crafts. These raffles will benefit the fire department equipment fund. The prizes? — a 36" set of homemade Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls and a crazy quilt comforter. Will you be a winner?

Stained glass items designed by Gerald Wayne will be available. From small trinkets to large windows — he can do them all. Another stained glass craftsman, Daniel Webster, from Ann Arbor will also be on hand to demonstrate this fascinating skill.

And the Southern Michigan Chapter of the National Guild of Michigan Hookrafters (McGowan Guild) will be demonstrating the craft of rug hooking at the Charles Helgrin residence on the corner of Litchfield and Jackson. Rugs will be on display all days of the festival — and those visiting the display will be eligible (at no additional charge) for a chance at a hooked item to be raffled. The winner will be announced at 6 o'clock Sunday, October 5.

Sunday's Parade Promises To Be Largest, Best Ever

GRAND is the word!

This year's Parade promises to be one of the largest and best held in this area for many years. Local and Professional Clowns, Horses galore complete with "Scoopers" — Trains, Marching Bands, Stage Coaches and all other things that make a parade grand will be in full swing down Main Street on Sunday.

Features of the Parade include the 5th Michigan Regimental Band. This band, 160 members strong is a recreation of the Civil War Band of the Michigan Civil War Infantry. Color Guards, Fifes and Drums, Musket Marchers, Bugles, Banjoe's and more go to make up this outstanding highlight of the Parade. This Band is a once in a lifetime event to see. A Bicentennial Project funded by the State of Michigan. It adds that touch of authentic Bicentennial flavor that youngsters and oldsters will appreciate alike.

By popular demand the Grand Leader of the Parade last year will lead the Parade of 75'. That means none other than the novel trained Pig pulling his carriage and Master. This you must see to believe! It is even rumored that Ronald McDonald will be in the Parade. . . Why don't you come and see for yourself Sunday Afternoon Oct. 5th!

CHS Parade, Game, Dance Kicking Off Festivities

The Clinton High School Homecoming will help kick off the festivities of the Fall Festival on Friday, Oct. 3 at 2 p.m.

Participating in the parade will be the Clinton High School Marching Band, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Camp Fire Girls, the queen candidates, last year's Queen Linda King, the cheerleaders, the football and a trail of floats.

SERVING TECUMSEH AND AREA SINCE 1850

VOL. 125 OUR 126th YEAR—NO. 3 | THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1975 | SIXTEEN PAGES—20c

Festival Includes 12 Bands

Twelve county high school bands will perform individual seven minute field shows at the 29th Tecumseh Band Festival at Tecumseh High School Athletic Field on Oct. 7 at 8 p.m.

Tecumseh High School band under the direction of Jimmie Rice will perform a bicentennial show which "expresses the power of our country which comes from the combined faith in God and country," told Rice.

"Yankee Doodle," "Chester," a stirring march adopted by Colonial towns as the alma mater and fight song, "Bound for the Promised Land," representing the migration westward, "God of Our Fathers," "Battle Cry of Freedom" and "God Bless America," once considered for the national anthem during the Roosevelt years, will be performed by the Tecumseh Marching Band.

Bands will also form a mass band to perform patriotic selections under the direction of Robert Pratt of Addison, President of the Lenawee County Band Directors Association (LCBDA).

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Money is divided into 15 shares, 12 for the county bands and three for competitive scholarships open to any high school band student in the county.

Rain date for the event is Oct. 8.

Tree Project Is Nearing $8,500 Goal

Placement of trees and their bases in the downtown district of Tecumseh is almost a certainty with additional contributions the past two weeks.

Dick Eggleston, project chairman for the Chamber of Commerce beautification program, says pledges and donations are now within a few hundred dollars of the $8,500 goal.

Contributors this week were H&R Block and Zell McCarty.

Any amount may be given for the project and should be presented to Mary Lou Dangler, Chamber president, at Gaston's Jewelry. Each tree and base will cost $215, but smaller donations are welcome.

SURROUNDED BY BEAUTY — A quick look to the sidelines would make any football player want to win a game when there are cheerleaders like these to support you. Picture from the left, Wendy Moore, Tina Feezel, Peggy Robideau, Beth Burkhard, Lori Brooks, Jan Hyatt. Cheering is not all fun and games, it's plenty of work too, and to make sure that the girls are ready for each game is the concern of Kathleen Kelso the advisor. (Photo by Mike Sunderland)

'Takes Everyone To Do Job'

By KATHY BROWN

The first relief in about a year came to Herrick Park residents along the raceway this Tuesday, from what they described as the worst algae build up and lowest water level ever.

They don't know if the repair and closing of the now operating Red Mill Dam or Monday's rains had any effect. They feel the city manager, Cal Zorn, has had pressure put on him and has finally let in more water.

However the thick green slime behind the island in Standish Pond where Elaine Shough resides at 611 Outer Drive has not changed, although the water "is the highest it has been in a year," she said.

Meanwhile, she and some of her neighbors have decided to visit city Council Monday, Oct. 7 "in force."

"They decided Council didn't take me seriously," she said.

At the Sept. 16 Council meeting, Mrs. Shough complained about the stench, mosquitoes and possible health hazard on behalf of her some 15 neighbors who live along the Standish Pond and raceway.

Problem area in Standish Pond is located behind an island there. It is about 12 to 14 inches deep, has no visible current and weather conditions are suspected to have created the unusually bad problem.

During the last week while the Tecumseh Products Co. was repairing the Red Mill Dam (they own the water rights on Red Mill Pond) Zorn said a gate was kept open at the Standish Dam to prevent sediment build up in the Standish and the Globe Mill Ponds.

Repairs on Red Mill Dam were completed Friday and the gates closed Saturday and Sunday.

"That area had to have been drained because the gates at the Red Mill Dam were closed," said Zorn. He did not deny the algae remains.

Zorn also said he was assured by the gate operator that the gates were opened at least 15 times this summer to wash down the slime. This was disputed by some residents who said they saw no relief.

Zorn said that residents along the Pond have dumped grass clippings and altered brush to collect in the shallow area.

"If that doesn't cause stench. I don't know what does. I'm not trying to blame anybody. But I wouldn't do it to my place and holler odors. It takes everyone to do a job, the same as everything else," said the city manager.

Mrs. Shough said "I paid $500 to clean it out (the shallow area behind her home) two years ago. I'm not going to touch it. It belongs to the city. They should remove the trees hit by lightning."

Mrs. Shough believes raising the water level in Standish Pond to flush the area is the answer.

She claims Zorn will not do this because he is afraid the Globe Mill Pond Dam could not hold the pressure of more water.

She cited a statement in a recent letter from a Michigan State Department of Natural Resources official that says the Globe Mill Pond is capable of releasing flows through both the spillway and a gated drain tube and "is currently in a safe condition."

Offers Class

Tecumseh Parks and Recreation is offering a class in basic leading of glass and stain glass art. The eight week class begins Oct. 15 at the Community Center. Registration fee is $12 with no supplies included. Readers may register at the Communnity Center, 423-5602.

Zorn cited the same letter satisfied that the city's present operation of the system is safe.

There is "no statuatory authority for any state agency to require the city of Tecumseh to operate the Globe Mill Pond Dam for water circulation through the Globe Mill Pond," said that letter.

Mrs. Shough further claims the city had the river set up for low water when it was rebuilt after the June 1968 washout. She said the Standish Dam gates were cut.

Zorn explained that all the gates on all three dams are the same level. He said a year ago the city tried to use the Globe Mill Pond for all control, but needed extra manpower to do so. The Standish Dam gates were cut six inches to give the city extra time in case of several high water conditions.

Mrs. Shough said, "If we can't do anything with litigation (some) of us want landfill."

Zorn said that if the shallow area in the Standish Pond were filled, the city would need faster controls on the dams than it now has.

"Red Mill Pond has 95 acres of water. Six inches out of there means 18 inches of water we have to control down below. We need all available acreage to control high water," Zorn insisted.

John Mitchell, Lenawee County Drain Commissioner is local enforcement agent for the Michigan Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Public Act 1975.

He said any earth moving involved in the area would be subject to the act and possibly the Inland Lakes and Streams Public Act 1972, which requires permits for dredging or filling of an existing lake or stream or body of water.

He said the River Raisin Watershed Council has no legal authority to order works of improvement or levy assessments but the Standish Pond problem could be a discussion topic for the Watershed Council, which represents a collective interest in the management of the watershed.

Since the problem area is not a county drain, the drain commissioner said he has no jurisdiction. He said a petition to his office may or may not be the answer.

Basically, a petition by municipality or collective land owners alleging a problem and requesting improvement may be made to the Com-

Requests Silence in Negotiations

Little, if any, information is to be released relative to negotiations between Herrick Memorial Hospital and Local 79 of the Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO.

Negotiations began the end of July and are continuing. Monday negotiators met at city hall, but it's not known when they will meet again.

William Groover, hospital administrator, told The Herald Tuesday morning that Ed Connors, representative from the Michigan State Employment Relations Commission, requested that neither the union nor the hospital make any public comment.

The union here represents 138 hospital employees, including maintenance, housekeeping, dietary, laundry personnel and nurses aides.

Complete Plans

Final plans for Tecumseh's annual Community Fund Drive have been completed with the selection of division heads, Mary Bowers, drive chairman and her assistant, John Long, announce.

This year's division heads are:

Industry - Franklin Bock.
Commercial — John Pratt, John Graham.
Professional — Dr. Robert Murray.
Schools — Gene Cooley
Residential — Lewis Potts, Barbara Blanden.
Public employees — Cal Zorn, City of Tecumseh; William Groover, Herrick Hospital and nursing home; Mr. Potts, post office.
Special gifts — Kenneth C. McElroy.
Coordinator of funds — Isadore Koffron.

A kick-off breakfast will be held at Harry's Cafe on Oct. 15 at 8:30. The campaign will run through Nov. 8.

New School Mark

While some schools are dropping in enrollment, the Tecumseh schools have set a new student enrollment record of 3,682.

Official student count was taken Friday for state aid purposes and as required by law. The record figure breaks the 1971 enrollment of 3,680 by two students. It is also 22 pupils more than used by officials in preparing the 1975-76 budget.

A breakdown per grade is:

Kindergarten	278	Seventh Grade	295
First Grade	281	Eighth Grade	302
Second Grade	242	Freshmen	313
Third Grade	238	Sophomores	308
Fourth Grade	241	Juniors	296
Fifth Grade	259	Seniors	249
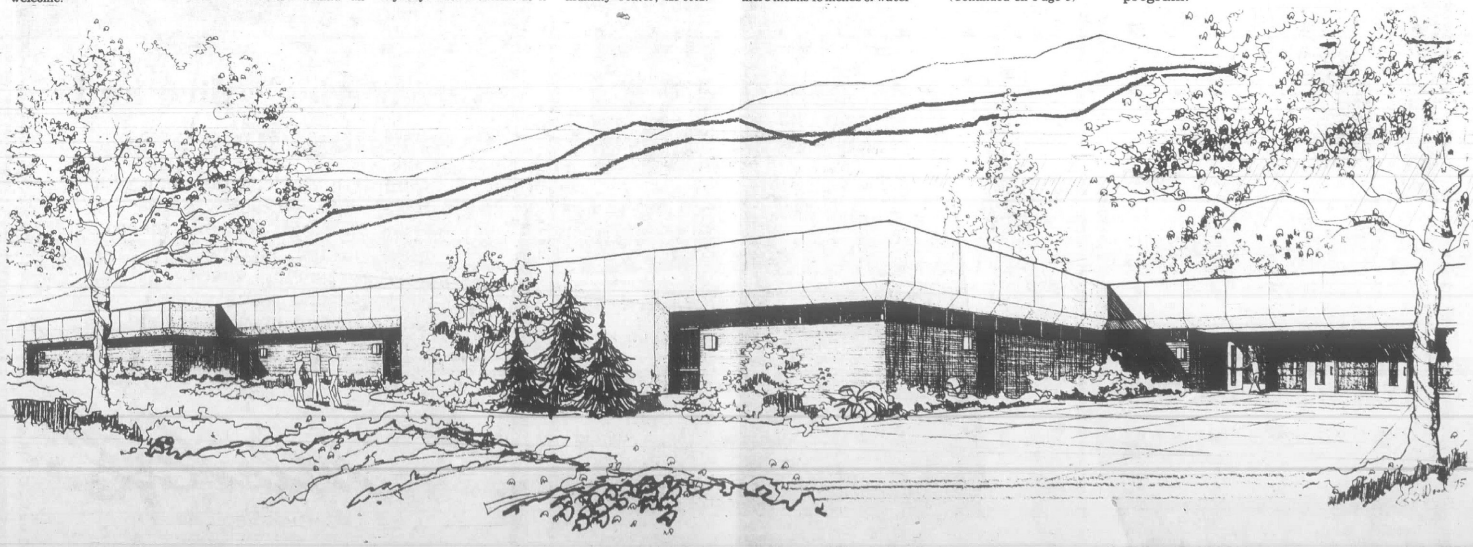
Sixth Grade	294

There are 86 special education students at the high school, and 32 adults enrolled in the night program.



ARCHITECT'S RENDITION — This drawing is what the new addition will appear like at Tecumseh High School from N. Maumee St. after completion, hopefully in the fall of 1976. Supt. Robert Duhan says officials anticipate using at least part of the addition for the opening of school next year. Bids are to be let early in 1976 for the $1.5 million expansion, which will encompass approximately 25,000 square feet or about one-fourth the size of the present high school. Board officials met with architects Monday evening and are pushing construction plans, which may force some juggling of classes next spring when workmen are on the job.

Voice OF THE HERALD

200 YEARS
OF INFORMATION AND INSPIRATION

"Newspapers shouldn't be allowed to print things like that." We're sure you have heard statements similar to that in recent years. Perhaps you have said it yourself.

What things? Maybe an editorial that supports a philosophy that differs from yours. Perhaps a news story that makes you uncomfortable. Or a statement that you feel is misleading or even untrue.

The fact is, however, that newspapers must be allowed to print anything they wish to, subject to libel and slander laws. This is what the First Amendment to the Constitution is all about.

The First Amendment guarantees that the United States shall have a free press. It does not guarantee a fair press, or a responsible press . . .only a free press. For nearly two hundreds years the First Amendment has protected big newspapers and small newspapers . . .good newspapes and bad ones . . .responsible journalists and irresponsible hacks.

During this period of time, the American press has had . . .and does have . . .an overwhelming majority of competent and responsible members. To be sure, the dissidents, and rabble rouses, the kooks have been around and have had the opportunity to be heard. But the voices of reason, of responsibility and good judgment have prevailed . . .and will continue to prevail so long as the press is free.

They have prevailed because the citizens have been informed, because vital issues have had full public examination and discussion. Perhaps Benjamin Franklin expressed it best with these words:

"'Tis my belief . . .that when men differ in opinion, both sides ought equally to have the advantage of being heard in public. When the truth and error have fair play — truth is always an overmatch."

During this Bicentennial year, it will be well for all of us to remember that the free discussion of public business is the prerequisite of liberty. We must keep in mind that any limitation placed on the right of free expression of any person or group . . . no matter how repugnant their cause may be . . .is an infringement on the rights of all of us.

Freedom of speech and of the press have made us a free people. May we, as a nation, have the wisdom to recognize and perpetuate that truth.

The altar was decorated with sprays of straw flowers and wheat.

Escorted by her stepfather, the bride wore a white empire waisted gown trimmed with Nottingham lace on the bodice, long sleeves and flounce which formed a long chapel train. Pearls decorated the bodice.

Her wide-brimmed hat was covered with a fingertip illusion veil. She carried a basket of straw flowers with baby's breath, straw flowers and wheat.

Karen L. Strahl of Midland, bride's sister was matron of honor attired in a gown of flowered voile lined in aqua. It featured an empire waistline, long sleeves and deep flounce. The bodice, neck and cuffs were trimmed in Nottingham lace.

She wore an aqua picture hat with matching band. She carried a basket of dried flowers.

Jane L. Havens, Ann Arbor and Barbara Rockelmann, San Francisco, Calif., attended the bride in apricot gowns, styled like the honor attendant's. They wore matching picture hats and carried baskets of dried flowers.

Jennifer Strahl, bride's niece and Shannon Ledesma, groom's niece, were flowergirls in long dresses of voile lined in aqua and apricot respectively.

They wore wreaths of baby's breath and Mexican star flowers in their hair and carried small baskets of dried flowers.

Mario M. Ledesma of Bellingham, Wash., groom's brother, was best man. Karst Bradsma and Pete Marquez both of Washington were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for 125 guests. Later out-of-town guests were entertained at a buffet dinner hosted by the bride's mother and stepfather at the new home of the bride and groom.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's brother and wife, Raymond and Kathy Ledesma, at their home.

The newlyweds visited Idaho and will honeymoon in Michigan the second week of October.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Kalamazoo College. She was employed three years by the State of Washington as a social worker with Child Protective Services in Spokane, Wash.

The groom is a graduate of Sunnyside High School, Sunnyside, Wash. and attends Spokane Falls College. He is employed by the State of Washington as a counselor working with the retarded at Lakeland Village.

Joins Meat Judging Team

TIPTON — John Vincent of Tipton, a Michigan State University student has joined a meat judging team which is competing against other university teams around the country. This fall, MSU students will go to Timberville, Va., Kansas City, Mo. and Madison, Wis.

Students learn to evaluate beef, lamb and pork. Students earn academic credit through participation on the team.

Vincent, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vincent, graduated from Clinton High School in 1973. He is a junior at MSU majoring in animal husbandry.

He is the president of the Block and Bridle Club, has won the Jack MacAllan Award, a scholarship for Livestock showmanship, and has been a champion showman at the 1975 Little International Showmanship Contest.

To prepare for contests, students take classes in evaluating carcasses in huge refrigerators, attend lectures, and visit several meat packing plants in Michigan.

At the contests, students compete in yield and quality grading. After the judging is completed, students give reasons to support their decisions. They may not use notes during their presentations. Winners are determined by how well their evaluations correlate both individually and as a team to government grading.

Participating in this program helps prepare students for jobs from regular common labelers to meat managers.

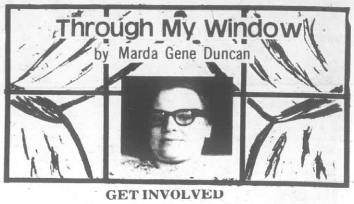
Committee Is Formed

TIPTON — Officers for the Franklin Township Bicentennial Committee were elected by a group of people interested in the township celebration.

Officers elected Sept. 23 at the township hall are Mrs. Grover Swarts, president, Irene Wisner, vice-president; the Rev. Max Bailey, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Hal Tuckerman, press correspondent.

Anyone in the township with items of historical interest are asked to share them with the committee. Cost of duplicating pictures is being investigated. Tipton Knights of Pythias made the first donation.

A potluck supper will be Oct. 9 at 6:30 p.m. at the Tipton Grange. A business meeting will follow at 8 p.m. Township residents are urged to attend.



GET INVOLVED

I am perhaps the greatest fan the National Geographic Society has ever had. Anything they do—magazines, books, records, TV programs—is always so tasteful, accurate, and lovely. It is a joy.

Therefore it was quite natural, when Gertie T. and I were troubled by a bird we could hear but not see, that I suggested we check the bird record in the back of the Society's "Song and Garden Birds of North America." I knew I was shooting a whole afternoon but the cause was good and oh, what a pleasant way to kill time.

We both thought we were hearing a chickadee but could not see the little guy and seldom are these charmers around until much later. Gertie T. put the book on my reading table and took the little book records to the stereo.

While I flipped pages until reaching 152 she put record three on the turntable and placed the needle on track two. There it was, our bird! He was not making his usual buzzy noise, the 'chick-a-dee-dee-dee' which we so often hear in the winter when these birds come to the feeder and do such a beautiful job of ignoring the snow and cold winds.

Instead our bird was whistling a rather plaintive, very loud and shrilly pitched 'fee-bee'. He sounded just like the record.

And this is where the time went. The next bird on the record was a robin and, although there was no sound identification trouble here, he was followed by an eastern bluebird. We had to hear this because bluebirds are certainly not everyday songsters in our yard.

I must admit that the picture on page 218 is not the best bluebird I have ever seen but certainly the record makes up.

In fact, not only did the recorded call sound like the bluebirds we used to have so many, many years ago but, when the narrator said this bird was saying, 'cheer, cheerful charmer', by golly he was! I have often laughed at some of the verbal translations of bird calls and now suddenly I found the tables were turned.

Not turned completely though. I agree with the voice on the record that the nuthatch has a distinctive nasal 'yank' and that a flock of goldfinches sounds like 'conversational twittering'. However, although the record gave an exact rendition of a gang of sparrows, I cannot for the life of me justify the use of the words 'friendly chirping'.

To me a bunch of sparrows sounds like a noisy squabbling bunch of angry busy bodies arguing. I also have trouble reconciling the scarlet tanager message.

To the people who decide, it may sound as though the birds were chriping 'hurry, worry, blurry, flurry'. My ears just don't hear it that way. I will admit though that a scarlet tanager does chirp and he does sound hoarse as though he had a bad cold.

The pure clear whistle of the Baltimore oriole — oops, Marda, you must remember not to use Baltimore, these handsome orange and black birds are either orioles or northern orioles. Regardless of such nit-picking, they have lovely calls, quite easily identified.

Again though I could not hear what the narrator on the record did—his sentiment was nice and romantic, I only hope that when the male oriole calls his mate he truly is saying, 'here, here, come right here, dear'.

Then came the song sparrow. Gertie T. looked at me, I looked at her and we both shook our heads. 'Hip, hip, hooray boys, spring is here' or 'Madge, Madge, Madge, take the teakettle off, the water's hot'.

Oh my, what a difference there is between ears and what they hear. In the book's text they say that Thoreau translated this pretty little bird's happy song as, 'Maids! Maids! Maids! hang up your teakettle-ettle-ettle'.

We decided it was time for something different. The second National Geographic bird book deals with water, prey, and game birds. It too has a record. I shan't go into detail but the nine owls which have been recorded are absolutely marvelous, perfectly charming.

And the harsh squawking egrets and herons are so real-like it made me lonesome for Florida. Much, much more time will be spent with this book of records.

What started out as a simple little quick check-up on a chickadee grew and grew and grew—I'll not tell you how many hours slipped by but, on the other hand, it's a great way to get involved.

Tips On Treating Burns

(Editors note: In cooperation with the Jaycee Auxiliary's promotion of October as Burn Awareness Month, here are first aid suggestions for burn treatment.)

There are many "old wives tales" regarding the treatment of minor burns. Most people know by now that putting butter on a burn is the wrong thing to do, since the salt in butter increases the pain suffered. But many people don't know the right way to deal with a burn accident.

Dr. Irving Feller, President of the National Institute for Burn Medicine and one of the country's foremost authorities on burn medicine, offers the following advice:

+ If a burn accident happens, the first thing to do is to stop the damage. Put out the fire the fastest way you can. Time is critical. Drop and roll, wrap in a rug, cover with water. Pull off burned clothes. Don't run!

+If the burn is caused by a chemical, flood the area with water and remove clothing.

+If a large area is burned, wrap in a clean sheet or towel and go immediately to the nearest hospital emergency room.

+In burns of small areas, wash with cool water and soap. Do not use ice! You could cause frostbite. Apply a bland ointment and cover with a sterile gauze bandage.

+If you have any doubt about what to do, call your family doctor or the nearest hospital emergency room and ask for advice.

Caring for a minor burn at home is easy. The important thing is to keep the burned area clean. Dr. Feller recommends that you:

+Cleanse the area once or twice a day with soap and water; rinse thoroughly and dry. Cover with a thin layer of bland ointment.

+Do not break blisters. They provide a sterile cover over the wound. When the blisters break, remove the loose skin.

Watch for any signs of inflammation, redness, pain, heat or swelling; they may indicate infection. If they occur, see your doctor or go to the nearest hospital emergency room.

Red, White and Blue — and You

What are you going to do with your garden this season? How about something that's different — a real eye-catcher and traffic stopper. How about a special garden design for the Bicentennial?

In honoring the Spirit of '76, you can raise the spirits around your home — by planting a Bicentennial celebration this Fall of red, white and blue Spring-flowering blubs.

It's easy to do, and takes a minimum of time and effort — just plant — water — and wait through Winter. The important thing is the plan, and that can be a great deal of fun.

The entire family can get involved in making the decisions. First, decide on which flowers to use. Tulips bloom in red, white and bi-colors of red and white — hyacinths come in red, white and blue — and daffodils blossom in pure white, white with red trumpets and golden yellow.

Miscellaneous bulbs are also available in red, white and blue for patriotic plantings.

Crocus and anemone blanda bloom in blue and white — scilla and muscari come in deep shades of blue — and the magnificently tall fritillaria imperialis blossoms in red.

All miscellaneous bulbs, with the exception of the fritillaria, are small, and are superb planted in bold masses as a blanket of blue or white — contrasting with other colors of the taller flowers, such as tulips and daffodils.

In addition, these minor flowers are excellent for borders and around your commemorative plantings.

Next, each member of the family can come up with some ideas for a patriotic garden design, like a flag, a star, the letters USA, or just blocks of red, white and blue in random patterns. There is no limit to what you can plant — let your imagination guide you to a creative and personal pattern.

In fact, why limit it to your family? Ask your friends and neighbors if they would like to join the fun; you can each plant designs coordinated with each other's gardens.

The designs can run from house to house — with the entire block as a Bicentennial showcase. And, come Spring, you can all get together to admire and delight at your creativity and cooperation.

Local bulb retailers can help in selection of the bulbs and tell you the flowers times and heights of each as well as which will do best in your area.

Take time to layout the planting design. Children can help to dig up the area and plant bulbs.

Keep in mind bulbs need soil that drains well. Add sand peat or vermiculite to soil with a greater clay content.

Fertilizer is unnecessary since Holland bulbs contain their own food.

Plant in clusters of at least 20 otherwise the blooms might look like a polka-dot flower bed. Plant at least two rows of each color for best results.

In the Spring of '76 plan a neighborhood Bicentennial Bash to celebrate the blooming of your personal Bicentennial salute.

Folks in town with Bicentennial projects are welcome to contact Carol McClure, publicity secretary of Tecumseh's Bicentennial Committee, or Kathy Brown at the Tecumseh Herald. The Tecumseh Public Library has a public Bicentennial Events Calendar for residents to report their project dates.

A New Look At An Old Building

One Hundred and Two W. Chicago Blvd., formerly the home of Ken-Ray drugstore, is empty now, but the building on the main downtown corner takes on new importance when seen through the eyes of historic architect, Richard C. Frank, of Preservation-Urban Design, Inc.

Frank was the architect who commented on the historic value and restoration cost of the Kennedy House.

He called the Palman Building the "single most important commercial building on the Main Street in Tecumseh," because "it is an excellent representation stylistically for the time it was built."

The building's mass and scale gives the city a dominant landmark to identify the center of town, said Frank.

"If it were to be removed, the quality and character of downtown Tecumseh would be greatly diminished. Your community would lack focus and you could expect the remainder of the street to deteriorate in due course," Frank reported.

The materials were cited as incomparable to modern ones and "covering the exterior facade would obliterate the sophisticated detail" and cause Main Street "to lose all sense of the character which is our 'hometown', concluded Frank.

Board Discusses Library Services

CLINTON — Members of Clinton Township Library Board, member of the staff and one Clinton citizen, Nick Holt, attended a meeting at the offices of the Lenawee County Library Board, Monday in Adrian.

Meeting was arranged by the County library board as "negotiating" session to consider the contract for county library services to the Clinton library. As it developed, according to one Clinton library board member, only an "ultimatum" was offered by the county library board.

Clinton's library board had prepared a list of some nine services considered needed from the county library, and the amount they were willing to pay for these services, $1,300.

After an executive session, county library board spokesman, Ray Jackson, stated the board would only accept a contract for the some 15 services previously provided to Clinton, and at the previous cost of all penal fines and state aid, a total of about $4,000.

Clinton's library board then recommended five to one, in favor of accepting the county proposal, pending formal action at the next meeting of the Clinton library board, Tuesday, Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m. in Clinton Township Office.

You Told Us

by Kathy Brown

Perhaps now I can understand what fliers get all excited about. Sunday I had a flying adventure of my own and rode the Ford Trimotor over Tecumseh. The weather was perfect for aerial sight seeing and the autumn color brilliant. Flying offers a person a new perspective of his world and himself. It lifts you from earthly concerns.

Although I've been on large commercial flights from coast to coast, the feeling of traveling in a smaller airplane is more pleasant. The cabin is smaller. Passengers are more apt to be excited about the ride and share their comradery.

Folks who missed the Trimotor's visit at Al Meyers Airport should make friends with an aviator and find out for yourself what fliers get all excited about.

Airman Terry Pearson and wife, Sharon, were in Tecumseh recently to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pearson and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pearson and Mrs. Abby Hull. Airman Pearson is stationed at MacDill AFB, Fla., near Tampa.

Neither driver was injured, according to Clinton State Police.

missioner. He determines the necessity through public hearings and then employs engineers for survey and design.

Cost is levied on the community at large and property owners in a special assessment district.

City bought the water rights on the Standish and Globe Mill Ponds and Evans Creek east of Maumee from Hayden Fuel and Supply Co. in 1970.

Some people in town thought the dam should be restored and area developed for its aesthetic value.

Construction of the new dam cost over $100,000. Total cost, including purchase of the property, was about $150,000.

An anonymous donor gave $25,000, Federal funds ammounted to $40,000, and city tax payers financed the rest — or about $85,000.

Land around Globe Mill Pond Dam has been designated Satterthwaite Park after Perry Satterthwaite of Hayden Fuel. He attended the dams from 1921, when the hydroplant was built, until 1968 when the rain swollen River Raisin washed out Globe Mill Pond Dam.

According to Satterthwaite, "Water never moved in the area behind the Standish Pond island because the Standish Dam backed water up in there. It helps to create the head which helps force water through the raceway." A head is the difference in depth between two bodies ot water.

"I never had a single kick about the condition, and the water level is about the same there," he said.

Satterthwaite said settlers decided to stay in the area because they knew the 21-foot drop in water depth between the Standish and M-50 could be used for water power for their mill operations.

The raceway was manmade, dug with shovels and horse teams in the 1830's. William Hayden Milling Co. bought Globe Mill, site of the Community Center, and all water rights in 1856. Hayden was Mrs. Satterthwaite's grandfather.

Investigations

Several acts of vandalism and thefts were investigated the past week by Tecumseh police who also made a couple arrests involving marijuana and alcoholic beverages.

A resume is:

Sept. 24 — Rich Brighton, 210 W. Kilbuck, reported three pet rabbits stolen from their cage.

Sept. 25 — Steve Kabasa, 210 Cairns, told officers a tent and sleeping bag stolen from behind Community Center. He had been camping there.

Sept. 25 David W. Meyers, 18, was charged with possession and use of marijuna. Arrest occurred after police on patrol investigated a car at Standish Pond. Meyers and three others were in the vehicle at the time.

Vandals Remove Road Signs

More Natural Beauty Road signs have been stolen from various places in the county, noted the Environmental Council of Lenawee (ECOL) at a Sept. 22 meeting.

There appears to be a fad among young people for collecting unusual signs. New security methods are being considered.

Law clerk Ty Duhamel, with a Drain Commission crew has laid out and opened about one and one-half miles of trail for the Medina Park. ECOL is designing it for the County Parks and Recreation Commission.

Railroad ties are being used as steps to avoid erosion of steep slopes on the trails. Plant identification and other features may be added in the spring. A foot bridge will be constructed across Bean Creek.

Siah L. St. Clair, recognized nature study enthusiast and organizer of the yearly Christmas Bird Count for the Audubon Society, died recently. His wife, Mickey, is a member of the ECOL board of directors.

Next ECOL meeting is Oct. 27.

Sept. 25 — Ruth Brady, 113½ N. Evans, reported a rock was thrown through an apartment window.

Sept. 25 — Employee at Tecumseh Plywood reported a theft of hunting knife, $24; coon light with battery, $88; rapala knife, $141; wire stripper, $8, and three screw drivers, $7.

Sept. 27 — Ronald C. Erving, 17, was charged with having an open can of beer in his car and for no proof of insurance. A 15-year-old youth was with thim.

Sept. 28 — A bicycle, stolen from Tracy Yonts, 211 N. Van Buren, was found in Evans Creek behind Patterson school by James Beardsley.

Sept. 30 — Two large windows were broken by stones at Kentucky Fried Chicken.

Sept. 30 — John Parker, 503 Cairns, reported his car's windshield broken either by a hammer or rock.

Sept. 30 — John E. Deming, 605 Russell Rd., reported a bike stolen. Value was $70.

Tecumseh Library

The following novels are new at Tecumseh Public Library:

BROTHERS KEEPERS is Donald Westlake's new novel. Brother Benedict, struggles to save the monastery when it falls into the hands of real estate developers. Luckily the monastery contains a number of typical Westlake zanies who help him out.

Jerzy Kosinski, author of THE PAINTED BIRD, has written a new book called COCKPIT. It is a spy story whose larger themes are cruelty and justice.

Dennis Smith, author of the best-selling nonfiction book REPORT FROM ENGINE CO. 82, has turned to fiction with a new book called FINAL FIRE. It is the story of two brothers, both firemen, as they are caught up in a threatened strike by New York City firemen and the wave of fires that sweep the city, nearly destroying it.

SIX DAYS TO SUNDAY, by Bernard Brunner, is a novel of pro football. The drama centers around the rivalry between two quarterbacks which divides the coaching staff, heightens racial tension on the team, and sends the player's morals to zero.

THE SURVIVORS, by Kristin Hunter, is about Lena Ricks, a dressmaker, industrious and independent. Into her thriving business and decorous personal life comes B.J., a 13-year-old street kid who knows how to fend for himself. Against her better judgement, Lena finds herself trying to manage B.J.'s health, morals and education. The alliance is odd, comic and poignant.

THE ROAD TO GANDOLFO, by Michael Shepherd, is an unlikely but pleasing story about an ex-lieutenant turned criminal's plan to raise 400 million dollars in ransom by kidnapping the Pope.

DRAGONS AT THE GATE, by Robert L. Duncan, is a suspense story set in Tokyo, where Calder, a veteran CIA agent, has all but accepted a mysterious businessman's request to find a horde of Japanese treasure missing since World War II. Nearly too late he learns he is being set up as the victim of an elaborate hoax.

A WORLD FULL OF STRANGERS is Cynthia Freeman's saga of three generations of a family in search of the American dream. Placed just before, during and after World War II, it concerns a Jewish man, David Rezinetsky, who attempts to hide his origins; his wife Katie, whose roots are too deep to hide; and their son Mark, who tries to find the heritage his father has denied him.

"Fire Prevention! What's that?"

Lives may be lost in a fire - precious family jewelry, keepsakes, pictures and clothing that is irreplaceable may be lost. The wise family will check that newspapers and rubbish are removed. That heaters and chimneys are in fireproof condition, that flue pipes cannot ignite combustible walls. Be sure any space heater is ventilated against the poisonous monoxide gas.

Participates Cleaning Explosives

Navy Storekeeper Seaman Appren. Daniel D. Fitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Fitch of 107 Cairns St., is participating in "Operation Nimbus Stream," which involves the clearing of explosives from Damietta Minefield off the Egyptian Coast.

The mine field, laid during hostilities in the Middle East, covers 35 miles of coastline near the Suez Canal, presenting a hazard to navigation and local fishing.

Fitch is a crewmember aboard the amphibious landing ship USS Inchon, which is supporting Egyptian minesweepers during the operation. Helicopters from the Inchon are helping clear the area by towing electronic sleds through the area. The sleds generate a magnetic field which neutralizes any nearby mines.

Christopher Columbus had trouble recruiting sailors for his early voyages. Men were afraid, but the bravest enlisted and sailed off to the wonders of a new world.

Most of us are afraid of the unknown. We have our qualms and doubts about a new job, moving to a strange city, beginning a marriage, or simply facing the uncertainties of tomorrow. We do not know what lies ahead, and we worry about being able to cope with it. In this ever-changing world, we instinctively yearn for that which does not change.

Whatever tomorrow brings, we can have the peaceful conviction that the love of God for His children is trustworthy and everlasting.

Discover an abiding security. Worship this Sunday.

Bicentennial Calendar Ready

Tecumseh's Bicentennial Committee met Sept. 23, with many new ideas for 1976. Presiding over the meeting the Rev. David Fox, states that plans are underway for a program for July 4, 1976.

The Monthly Bicentennial Calendar made by the Brush and Pallet Club is now at the Library. Each club and group is encouraged to display their meetings that are open to the public by putting the meeting on the calendar.

June 29, 1976, has been set as a date for a Vaudeville show presented by Western Michigan University. More details will come later.

The Bicentennial Committee urges each organization, club, church group, etc. to give the Pledge to the American Flag at meetings especially during the year "76." A religious organization should give the pledge to the religious flag.

Another idea is to open each club meeting reviewing "What happened 200 Years Ago" which may pertain to that group.

The Committee invites a representative from each club, organization, etc. to be present at the next Bicentennial meeting to be held Oct. 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the public library.

Any group needing ideas for 1976 can contact the Rev. David Fox or the publicity secretary, Carol McClure.

With bird season approaching, the following excerpt from "The Compleat American Housewife 1776" might prove helpful.

"How we all must regret to hear some Persons, even of Quality say, 'pray, carve up that Hen,' or 'halve that Plover' not considering how indiscreetly they talk. These are the proper Terms:

"Cut up a turkey; rear a goose; unbrace a Mallard or duck; unlace a coney; wing a partridge or quail; allay a pheasant; dismember a hern; thigh a woodcock; display a crane; lift a swan."

The Ridgeway PTO annual pancake supper will be Oct. 2, in the Ridgeway School cafeteria. Pancakes, sausage, applesauce, milk and coffee will be served from 5-7 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from any Ridgeway School student or at the door.

Readers Write

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Alice Howle was prompted to write this letter after the tractor accident of a neighbor, Jack Banks.)

Dear Editor,

We women need to open our eyes and put our dainty hands and arms to work in the right areas to help the men folks. Sometimes it takes an accident and a dear neighbor's loss of an arm to open your eyes. We need to be better neighbors.

Years ago neighbors helped each other plant crops, harvest them and build homes freely. The years go by and people choose to gobble up money for their own gain and can't see what that Christian down the road needs because he may be richer.

God blessed each and every man with a different skill and craft. Extra free hours may help a neighbor and his skill may help you.

We have hands to work with and eyes to see with. If a poor man needs your help and cannot repay you, you may be blessed in some other way someday.

We should all thank God for our eyes to see with, our healthy complete body to breathe with and pray God helps my neighbor endure and master his handicap.

Years ago women cleaned the stove pipes before using the stove. They had the fear of God in them. Fire is dangerous. Soot builds up. Their husbands couldn't get their big arms in those dirty pipes and they had their jobs cut out for them at home.

We women today need to use our arms and hands and get in there and give our free services to the needy neighbors. Let's make sure their homes are free of soot.

After my neighbor lost his arm, I got busy and cleaned my pipes and pulled out approximately four lbs. of soot that accumulated in three years time in the area close to my furnace.

If any neighbor needs his furnace pipes cleaned, call me.

Plea Made For Foster Homes

The Lenawee County Probate Court needs foster homes for boys and girls from the age of 12 to 17.

These youths need foster homes because their own home has failed to meet their needs on an emotional and physical level. This is why young people get into trouble and are brought to the attention of the Court.

In the court's experience, when these young people are provided with the love, concern and patience which foster parents can give, youths are able to make the necessary changes which help them develop into useful citizens.

During the period of time the child is in a foster home, his parents are counseled in an effort to make the necessary changes so their child can return home.

For many people, opening their home to a foster son or daughter is a risk they are afraid to take. The Court staff in the Juvenile Division assures it will provide the support and help needed in caring for one of these youths, sorely in need of a loving concerned adult to become interested in him.

Further information is available from Sister Ann Judith by calling 263-8831, ext. 207.

Hearing Loss is not a Sign of Old Age

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

Send for this non-operating model now. Wear it in the privacy of your own home to see how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 2118, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria Street, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

Thursday at the Herald

By KATHY BROWN

The paper is out. It's Thursday morning and The Tecumseh Herald phone is ringing off the wall. Someone must be furious. Before it jumps off the hook, a reporter cautiously picks it up.

"I want to make a complaint. Why wasn't there a photographer and reporter at the National Honor Society banquet last night? My daughter was inducted and I want to know why her picture isn't in the paper."

"We try to cover school events as best we can, Ma'am, but we can't...."

"Why don't you reporters get off your duff and cover more of these school activities?"

"Sometimes we don't always have...."

"No room? You sure devote enough space to sports. Besides, our daughter doesn't play football—Well never mind. Fill up your paper with sports. And don't bother sending it to us again."

Scratch one more name off the subscription list.

And the phone continues to ring. A club member complains we cut up the "beautiful write up" she spent all week long composing and a sports fan complains we devote too much space to "birthday parties and garden clubs."

Generally it seems we can never have enough of any kind of news coverage to please everyone.

Some people are in awe their "little story" got page one coverage, others are angered their story never got in at all. None of them understand how or why these decisions are made.

The answers may shed some light on how your local community newpaper works and how you can work with it and get it to work for you when you want publicity for an event.

What you may have suspected of us is actually true. Our way is the Chinese Way. A Gannett News Service reporter said in China, editors and executives spend a day once a week working the menial jobs, entirely different from their professional function.

Here at the Herald we operate the Chinese Way. Our reporters are also editors, proof readers, photographers, page layout designers, advertising men, secretaries, complaint departments, and broom pushers.

We do just about anything it takes to get your newspaper to you every week and operate the Heald Publishing Co.

We can't be everywhere to cover each club meeting, school activity, church and family event.

We still rely on you, the people, as our prime news source. A tip from you often produces some of the most interesting news and feature material in the Herald.

Another reason we are limited in our coverage is because we can only print as many pages as our advertisers support. If outgo exceeds income then out we go.

Since the newspaper must be a certain percentage of advertising, we must edit your prose to "news nuggets" and select the most important stories of the week. Some stories must be held over for another time.

The Tecumseh Herald editor will reveal "all you always wanted to know about how to get your news to us but were afraid to ask."

Clip, save, laminate and pass this down to future club PR men:

1. Bring us news as soon as it happens. Monday mornings are hectic for Herald reporters and ad men. If the office is close, you may use the side door drop box. For special events, plan publicity for the week ahead.

2. Deadlines for news and advertising copy, including classified is Tuesday noon. We prefer all news, including weddings, the week before the event. Wedding photographs may be submitted by Tuesday noon for publication that week.

3. Some names inevitably sound different over the phone than they appear in print. It is also time consuming to spell names over the phone. Don't take chances. Get those names correctly typed.

4. So many boring stories begin similiarly to this: "Twelve guests and one member met at the home of Mrs. W. Flower for the Green Thumb Garden Club."

Instead start with the most important thing that happened: "A new method for combating rose aphids was explained to Green Thumb Garden Club members during the regular meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. Flower," and go on to describe:

"Program leader Mrs. Tom Whatnot used a portable spray gun to demonstrate the underleaf method of rose spraying."

Stories which include the who, what, when, where, why and how are more complete and interesting.

5. We get news on paper bags, postcards, loose leaf match box covers and panty hose cardboard. We have a tough time reading through the grease spots and chicken tracks. It is easier if someone can type the copy, double spaced with wide margins so we may swiftly edit your news and have typists set copy.

6. To arrange photo assignments, notify the Herald as soon as possible before the date. We do not have a night staff. Many pictures can be "arranged" for daytime.

7. Keep paragraphs short. Never more than there to five typewritten lines. Long paragraphs, are hard to read when printed in narrow column style on a newspaper.

8. Omit details of decorations at gatherings other than weddings, showers and graduations. Avoid adjectives. Does any hostess ever serve anything but "delicious" refreshments, or set anything but an "attractive" table?

9. Write the day of the week instead of yesterday or today unless the event occurred over a week ago.

10. Here's one of increasing controversy. We prefer use of husband's names by wives. "Mrs. John Smith is easier to find in the phone book than "Mrs. John Smith" is easier to married women are usually denoted by "Jane Smith" and divorced or widowed women by "Mrs. Jane Smith."

11. There are a number of ways to get your news to the Herald. Ideally, news items may be brought to the Herald office, during business hours. Otherwise you may drop off a story at the side drop box, mail it, telephone it, or set up an interview or discuss other arrangements with a Herald reporter at 423-2174.

The Vanishing American

About half of the U. S. dairy farmers in business five years ago no longer are.

In Michigan, the nation's sixth-ranking dairy state, the number of dairy farmers has dropped from about 14,000 in 1964 to7,700 last year. The number is expected to be 4,500 by 1980.

Why?

Feed prices have increased some 72 per cent in the past two years. The cost of fertilizers has doubled. The price of fuel is nearly twice what it was in 1973. Interest rates for loans to enable farmers to expand their operations and update their equipment are higher than in 1973.

And dairy farmers' incomes have not kept pace with those increases in their production costs.

While the number of dairy farmers—and dairy cows—is dwindling, output per farm is increasing through a trend to larger, more efficient dairy farm operations. This is what today's dairy farmers are doing to help meet the needs of the American consumer and to help ward off dependence on other countries for such milk products as cheese, butter and nonfat dry milk.

And that's part of the reason we at MMPA think this Vanishing American is important and it's why we think this great natural resource—the dairy farming industry—is worth preserving.

Indians Pound Huron

Tecumseh made short work of New Boston Huron last Friday beating the Chiefs 55-6 in grid action. And 21 of those points came off the hands of the Indian's second string.

Tecumseh's first score came after a muffed punt hike allowing the Indians to take over at the Chiefs' 17 yard line. Jim Egbert ran one yard for the score with 8:17 left in the first frame. Ken Biscupski made the extra point.

Egbert ran two yards for the second TD and Biscupski again made the extra point. Nearing the end of the first quarter, New Boston Huron fumbled and Tecumseh got the recovery on the 27 yard line. Four plays later, Linvel Lisenbee ran wide to the left for 10 yards and the touchdown.

After such a busy opening quarter, things settled down a bit in the second stanza. Tecumseh picked up their fourth TD after Indian Bill Smith blocked a Chief's punt allowing the Indians to take over the ball deep in Huron territory. Egbert scooted 28 yards around left end for the score and Biscupski got the point after.

As soon as the third quarter got under way, Tecumseh was on the board again with a 42 yard pass play from quarterback Dave Spillman to end Ken Biscupski. Biscupski missed the point after. The Indians made good use of the 11:49 remaining in the quarter.

After that pass play, the Indian's second string took over. Starting at the Chief's 35 yard line, Tecumseh took ten plays with Mark Adams going in one yard for the next touchdown. The point after kick was good.

With barely 3 minutes left in the quarter, Jim Egbert intercepted a pass allowing the Indians to take over at the 17 yard line. Five plays later, quarterback Dave Bohannon ran three yards for the score. The Indians tried to run for the extra points but failed.

New Boston Huron finally got on the board in the fourth quarter after intercepting a Bohannon lateral pass. The Chiefs' tried an on-side kick but Tecumseh recovered.

After four plays, the Indians were forced into a punting situation. Ken Biscupski caught the hike but instead of kicking he threw a screen pass to Jim Egbert good for 30 yards and a first down.

In the last play of the game, Steve Phelps ran 35 yards to the left after a pitchout from Bohannon for the final score. Adams ran in for the extra points.

Leading rusher for Tecumseh was Linvel Lisenbee with 48 yards in seven carries followed by Mark Adams with 43 yards in nine carries, and Steve Phelps with 42 yards in four carries. As a team, the Indians grabbed 225 yards on the ground compared to just 46 for New Boston Huron.

Dave Spillman completed three of five passes for 83 yards while the Chiefs could complete only one of seven for three yards. Leading Indian pass receiver was Biscupski with 42 yards. Tecumseh fumbled once but kept it and allowed one pass interception. New Boston Huron made costly mistakes fumbling three times, all in the first quarter, and losing it twice. They also allowed a pass interception.

The Indians had 11 first downs and the Chiefs, five. Rick Ruttkofsky and Bill Smith each recovered a Chief's fumble.

Tecumseh travels to Flat Rock this Friday night. The Rams and Tecumseh are both 2-0 in the league.

Tories Are 3-0

The Britton Tories defeated Whitmore Lake last Friday night 30-6.

Britton opened up the scoring in the first quarter marching 96 yards in 16 plays with Dave Wielfaert going the final yard for the score. The extra point run failed.

In the second quarter following a short punt and a Whitmore Lake penalty, the Tories took over the ball on the Trojan's 14 yard line. Wielfaert dashed in off tackle on the first play and then ran over the extra point to make the score 14-0.

Whitmore marched back on a 67 yard drive with Floyd Dreffs going 20 yards for the touchdown. The extra point run failed.

In the third quarter the Tories went 56 yards in 10 plays with Randy smith scoring the touchdown on a one yard run. Wielfaert ran over the extra point.

The Tories closed out the scoring in the fourth quarter following a fumble recovery on the Trojan 19 yard line.

On the fifth play, Dave Wielfaert went 10 yards for the touchdown and he also ran over the extra point to make the final score 30-6.

Britton had 295 yards in total offense, all of it by the rushing route. The Tories did not attempt a pass grabbing 16 first downs. Dave Wielfaert, playing his first game ever in the Tory backfield, rushed for 129 yards in 36 carries and scored three touchdowns and three extra points on runs.

Steve Crittenden gained 114 yards in 20 carries and fullback Bill Lutz had 39 yards in five carries. The Tory offensive line of Paul Wielfaert, Mike and Alan Hintz, Craig and Lon Wagenschutz, Don Benham, Mark Willaert and Jeff Campbell was outstanding. Defensively Dave Wielfaert had eight solos and seven assists for 15 tackles and cousin Paul Wielfaert played an outstanding game and had 11 tackles. Craig Wagenshutz had eight tackles.

The Tories are now 3-0 on the season and 2-0 in the Tri-County Conference. Whitmore Lake is 1-2 overall and 0-2 in league action. Britton hosts Sand Creek Friday in the Tories Homecoming game.

Tecumseh Golfers Win Two

Tecumseh's golf squad brought down Onsted Thursday and Monroe CC Monday to remain unbeaten in dual meet play. But they suffered their first loss of the season at the Sylvania Invitational Saturday.

Final tally in the Onsted match was 156-166 played at Devil's Lake Golf Course. Doug Jacobs was medalist at 38 followed by John Gibson and Scott Macbeth each at 39 and Dave Bauman, 40.

The Indians lost out at the Sylvania Invitational Saturday to Sylvania 311-313. Seven teams competed. Jeff Steiner tied for tourney medalist honors with a 76. Jacobs shot a 78, Gibson 79, and Steve Lynch, 80.

Things were back to normal Monday as the Indians beat Monroe Catholic Central 158-163 with Gibson the medalist at 36. Jacobs shot a 39, Macbeth a 41 and Lynch and Steiner each had a 42.

Tecumseh's record now stands at 3-0 in the league.

Redskins Lose to Ida, 14-6

Clinton Redskins took on Ida last Friday dropping the contest 14-6. The Skins now post a 0-3 record for the season.

Clinton's only score came in the first quarter after a 63 yard drive highlighted by an 18 yard run by Ken Roberts. Terry Reiser went in from the one yard line for the score. The extra point try failed.

Ida's first scoring attempt came in the second quarter when they marched 62 yards only to be held on the two yard line by the Clinton defense.

Ida exploded for 14 points in the third quarter, first with a 65 yard run by Roger Oberski and an 80 yard drive in 13 plays with Oberski going the final 21 yards.

Although Clinton had two more opportunities to score, they were stopped by penalties, one on the five yard line, first and goal.

Terry Higgins was leading rusher for Clinton going 64 yards in 11 carries. Total rushing yards for the Skins was 125 and 198 for Ida. The Skins picked up 44 yards passing while Ida grabbed only 10 in the air. Total offense for Ida was 177 and 144 for Clinton.

The Redskins celebrate Homecoming this Friday by hosting Morenci.

Girls Whip Dominican And A.A. Pioneer

By FRANK WEIR

Tecumseh's girls basketball battle wagon began building up steam, rolling over the State Class A champs last Thursday and Ann Arbor Pioneer Monday night.

The Indians beat Detroit Dominican 46-41 last Thursday. Although that score is close, Tecumseh never trailed in the game. Most of Dominican's points came from outside shooting as they were unable to penetrate under the basket.

At the end of the first frame, Tecumseh led 11-7 picking up another 11 points in the second quarter while Dominican grabbed eight. The Indians lost the third quarter scoring nine points to Dominican's 12. In the fourth stanza, the Indians came up with 15 to Dominican's 14.

Leading the scoring for Tecumseh was Julie Anderson with 16 followed by Janice Stevens and Melinda Ternak at 10, Sue Brown at seven and Jane Faulkner, three. Both Stevens and Anderson tied for rebounding honors at 12 each.

Although naturally pleased with the win, coach Diane Nelson commented, "We didn't play one of our better games and we still won against a good team. They were the best team we ever played. The players were dissatisfied with themselves. It was a pressure game and we made mistakes that we don't normally do."

And what were some of those mistakes? "We should have gone inside more but because of the pressure they forgot and would rush their shots. Susie Brown and Melinda Ternak were forced into jump ball situations which they never do usually."

According to Nelson the squad realized that they didn't play one of their better games. "And recognizing that they didn't play a good game is the sign of a championship team," she added.

The junior varsity lost their game 30-25 with Debbie Steadley winning top scoring honors with 12 points.

It was no contest in Ann Arbor Monday for the team. They easily smoked Ann Arbor Pioneer 52-17 after a shaky start.

Pioneer jumped out to a 6-0 lead although the Indians tied it up at the end of the quarter 7-7. That was to be Pioneer's best quarter as Tecumseh scored 13, 15 and 17 in the succeeding frames. Pioneer could muster only four, four and two points in the three remaining quarters.

Sue Brown was forced to sit out the game with the flu. Melinda Ternak was top scorer with 11 points followed by Julie Anderson, Jan Stevens and Connie Younglove all at eight points, Tori Iffland at six, Kris Underwood and Grace Burns each with four points, Cindy Wright with two and Jane Faulkner, one.

Kris Underwood led in rebounds with 12 and Nelson said she "did a fantastic job on the boards." She said of the slow start of the squad, "We were shaky. Pioneer came out playing man-to-man but we played as if it was a zone. We also had a turn over on a bad pass."

Nelson goes on to say, though, that the team settled down. And that's an understatement as they went on to squash their rivals.

The junior varsity also won their contest.

The Indians open their league season Wednesday night when they host Monroe Jefferson. Next Monday the Indians will host Adrian. The Maples have a new coach this season.

Clinton Cagers Fall to Morenci, 46-36

After finishing their season in district competition last year, Clinton's girls basketball squad would like to do even better this season.

In the five games played so far, the Skins have won two and lost three. Against Morenci Tuesday night, the Skins fell 46-36. Sue Richter had top scoring honors for Clinton with 16. Renita Bellmore led in rebounds with 16.

Returning from last year's team is senior center Renita Bellmore, leading rebounder and second highest scorer on the 1974 team. At the guard position is junior letter winner Ruth King whose experienced outside shooting and ballhandling talents will give the Redskins an outside threat.

At the point is sophomore guard Cathy Gibson, filling a key position vacated by last year's leading scorer Kim Porterfield. Cathy's key contribution will be her aggressive defensive talent. At the forward position is sophomore letterwinner Karen Busch, a strong rebounder and consistent inside scorer.

At the other forward spot is Sue Richter who, although a freshman, has two years of junior high experience which gives her excellent basic skills and poise under game conditions.

Rounding out this year's team is senior Geri Mastie, senior guard Elaine Peters, junior center Margaret Campbell, junior forward Sherrie Miller, sophomore forward JoAnn Grossman, and exchange student Sabine Engelbertz, a senior forward.

A young, freshmen laden JV team of 21 girls will also be in contention for league honors under the direction of new coach, Charlene Peck.

Tory Girls Prevail, 38-36

Britton's girls basketball squad began their season on a winning note last Thursday defeating Whiteford 38-36 in a Tri-County league contest.

Playing their fourth game of the year, the Whiteford girls took command early in the game, forcing Britton to commit several turnovers. After trailing 18-9 at the end of the first quarter, the Tory girls began narrowing the gap and were behind by only two points at the half.

Concentrating their defense on Whiteford's Lorie Long, who had scored 20 points during the first half, the Tory girls were able to tie the score during the third quarter and pull ahead early in the final frame.

Britton was able to control the ball during the final minutes of the contest and hold on to their slight lead until the final buzzer.

Taking high scoring honors was Lorie Long with 28 points. Britton's Diana Andrews and Lori Monagin scored 12 points each, and Dawn Bush added nine points.

Whiteford won the junior varsity game 23-18. High scorer for the Britton team was Peggy Squires with six points.

Deerfield will be Britton's next opponent in a game to be played this Thursday in the Britton gym.

Harriers Beat Flat Rock

Tecumseh's cross country squad inundated Flat Rock Tuesday 20-43. Although the squad missed the top spot to Flat Rock's Kim Sharp, they went on to capture 2-12 positions.

Tim Scheff finished in the second spot at 17:53 followed by Kent Norris, 17:56, Jim Harris, 18:04, Steve Medvecz, 18:15, Dave Bilkie, 18:53, Greg Wonderly, 18:55, Brad Sisson, 19:06, Mark Oliver, 19:22, Kevin Burchett, 19:40, Kim Cantrell, 19:44, and Dale Carpenter, 19:54.

Tecumseh participated in the Pinckney Invitational last Saturday finishing fifth out of ten teams with 140 points. Scheff finished 11th, Harris 25th, Medvecz, 29th, Norris, 34th, and Sisson 41st.

Tecumseh entertains Monroe CC Thursday and Airport next Tuesday. The Indians are 4-2 overall and 2-1 in the league.

Flag Football

In fifth and sixth grade flag football, Patterson Elementary swept two games from Tecumseh Acres. The Patterson fifth grade won 32-0 as Paul Vredeveld ran the opening kick off sixty yards and John Walper scored two touchdowns one from 60 yards to pace the win. Dan Caterina also scored for the winners.

The Patterson sixth grade built up a 32-8 halftime lead then went on to down the Acres sixth grade 56-24. Jim Quinn scored four touchdowns for Patterson and Tim Parros tallied two.

The other Patterson touchdown was scored on a 40 yd. run by David Garcia.

Mens League Organizing

Attempts to organize a men's Tecumseh basketball recreation league will be made this Saturday and Sunday at the Boysville gym. Sessions are scheduled to start at 9 a.m.

Individual players and teams are urged to attend the sessions as six teams are required for the league. Three teams already are organized. Individuals will be assigned to other teams.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Jim Reilly, 423-4598.

Clinton Runners Win

Clinton cross country team turned in an outstanding performance Thursday easily outrunning Jonesville by an 18-41 score over a rain soaked Meadowlane Golf Course.

All eight of Clinton's runners turned in their best times ever breaking two team records in the process.

Chris Wojtowicz and Wally Pike tied for first at 17:04 breaking the sophomore team record set by Pike earlier in the week. Mark Prichard was third at 17:30 breaking the freshman team record set by Pike last year.

Jim Klanke turned in a fine time of 17:55 in finishing fourth. Jonesville runners finished fifth, sixth and seventh, then came Mark Eveleth eighth 18:32, Jody Swain ninth, 18:32, John Dotson tenth, 18:57 and Dave Rafferty eleventh at 19:16.

Clinton is now 3-2 overall and will be home at Meadowlane Golf Course Wednesday at 5 p.m. against Morenci.

Gunder is Golf Champ

A Tecumseh resident was crowned club champion last Sunday after completing a match play tournament at Centerview Golf Course.

Clyde Gunder played a four-hole sudden death playoff with Gary McNitt of Adrian on Sunday coming out on top of the championship flight.

Ed Lewis, of Tipton, barely missed the championship in the first flight losing to Barry McAnally. Jerry Carter, of Adrian, won the second flight.

Tony Ferraro, of Tecumseh, won the third flight championship.

Bev Lewis won the women's championship flight and Bonnie Bradley and Shirley Miller, both of Adrian, won the first and second flights respectively.

The tourney had continued for two months before its conclusion Sunday.

McClure Bowls 651

Tecumseh resident Fay McClure had a big night last week at Airport Bowl.

Playing in the women's league, she scored 177, 215, and 259 for a 651 total and a 136 average.

She is on the Tecumseh Products team.

Jewels & gems

By Dick Eggleston

The first step in the cutting of a gem is to saw it roughly into shape. Thin abrasive disks or metal disks charged with powdered diamond or other abrasives are employed to do this. For the shaping of a stone, carborundum wheels or horizontal cast-iron wheels called laps, which are charged with abrasive powder, are used. The stone to be shaped is cemented to the end of a wooden stick called a dop, and is held against the revolving wheel.

GATE CONTROL EXPERIMENT APPROVED

OK Plan To Curb Gripes

By KATHY BROWN

Tecumseh Council Monday night agreed to experiment with the gate controls on the city's Standish and Globe Mill Pond Dams.

It hopes the current in the Mill Race will be restored, create water circulation to remove algae from Standish Dam and satisfy Herrick Park residents.

Algae and stench of impounded waters behind an island in Standish Pond have menaced Herrick Park residents for over a year.

About 25 Herrick Park residents turned out to prove Elaine Shough, 611 Outer Drive, was not alone in her problem. She complained to Council Sept. 15. A few councilmen told her she was wrong.

However the Herrick Park residents at Monday night's Council meeting were convinced that the dam system was rebuilt after the 1968 wash-out to operate for low water level.

This operation, they alleged, has caused the loss of current in the raceway and the unusual algae growths in Standish Pond and until last Tuesday, in the raceway.

They claimed the Mill Race current used to flow at eight to 11 miles an hour. Most of the time they said the water has been running backwards.

The residents argued the solution is to have flood control at the Globe Mill Pond Dam, where it had been maintained in the days of the hydroplant.

They insisted the city manager, Cal Zorn, start by heightening the Standish Pond Dam gates to the original height, thus creating a high table of water so water would spill down with greater force and restore current along the race.

Residents suggested a spillway between Standish and Globe Mill Dam has also had something removed and that there has been more water flowing over there than before.

"We didn't come here to fight," said Clarence Champanois, 403 Outer Drive. "It is a horrible mess, and it has not been right since the gates were cut. Factually, we're short of a spillway," he said.

"I agree with Mr. Zorn. I think control of the Globe Mill Dam is marginal but to prove a point, why not open the gates and create a flow, get rid of the algae. If the water really flows and we can't control water then what we really need is a spillway," Champanois said.

City manager Zorn told, at the insistence of the audience, "all three dams are basically the same level." They were cut off to create flood control further above the Globe Mill Pond Dam.

"I feel the dam at the Globe really can't take much variation. Tops were cut so water spilled at the Standish instead of all spilling at the Globe Mill Dam.

"Water came close to washing over the dike when the Globe was used for control," explained Zorn.

"I don't want to see him lose it (Globe Mill Pond Dam) but adjust the gate with an underflow and overflow, whatever it takes to correct the problem," said Champanois.

Councilwoman Mary Bowers agreed with the residents.

"I'd like to see it happen if it would satisfy these people. I don't see what we could lose. Then years ago there was water in that bed—and not the mess I know it is now," she said. The audience applauded.

Zorn said "this week would have been perfect" to experiment with water levels without threatening Globe Mill Dam Pond, because there was an "even flow." Fluctuations in water level require more maintenance there, he told Council.

Gate control is handled through the street department and needs constant management especially in winter when rain has a 100 percent run off and fluctuation is greater, Zorn added.

"You're gonna have to have Globe Mill Pond open further. You'll need more manpower. Where will you get it?" added Champanois.

"If that's Council's desire, I'll have to figure that out," Zorn replied.

During the discussion Council and the audience learned an alarm system at the Globe Mill Pond Dam has not been operating.

"The first one froze. The new one obtained this spring is not in operation. I can't find anyone who knows how to operate it," Zorn told.

Mrs. Shough, who initially brought the complaint to Council on Sept. 15, said the ongoing struggle to get the truth about the operation of the dams has "severely damaged" the residents' trust in city government.

Preceding the audience discussion, she presented facts and opinions about the water condition and solutions she had collected from various state departments.

According to her sources the city is responsible, under the Inland Lakes and Streams Act of 1973, to maintain water for the residents and if the city fails responsible action, the residents should file suite under the Environmental Protection Act 127.

A water sample behind the Shough home from Standish Pond, taken in August 1975 by an aquatic biologist, showed no oxygen to support life such as fish or bullfrogs. Suggestion was for high water or moving water, or both.

If something doesn't happen by next spring, the city can expect to hear from Herrick Park residents again, said Mrs. Shough. "Nobody is going to stand for this," she said.

Initiate Plan

Wednesday morning, City Manager Cal Zorn told The Herald that the city has purchased boards to put on the Standish Dam and they should be in place Wednesday to back up more water at the Standish Pond.

He said the city has taken a boat up the raceway and couldn't get behind Mrs. Elaine Shough's property at 611 Outer Dr. He said the boat became stuck in some plastic someone had probably laid there to stop weed growth.

"Basically we feel the water level is where it was when the hydroplant operated," Zorn said. He said on Tuesday about two inches of water was flowing over all three dams.

He reported the Globe Mill Pond Dam has been opened two inches off the bottom. Water is still running over the Standish Pond Dam.

There was some movement of algae in the raceway but no velocity, he added.

Services will be held Friday at the Jenter Funeral Home in Manchester.

4 Medical Offices Robbed

Police are continuing their investigation of a breaking and entering last Wednesday or Thursday at the professional building, just east of Herrick Hospital.

Entry into the medical building was made by breaking a window in Dr. Carlton Cook's office. Police theorize that after ransacking Cook's office, taking seconal pills and about $20 in cash, the party entered the main lobby where doors to three other offices, including two other physicians, were pried open.

Dr. Ju Chul Rhee reported a loss of $16 in cash, and Dr. Dolores Sion, a few phenobarb pills.

No loss was reported in the office of Dr. William Adams, dentist, who discovered the B&E and reported it to the police.

Officers found smears of blood, indicating that one of the two believed involved, was cut breaking Cook's window. A pry bar was found near the rear door of Dr. Sion's office.

Fire Procedure Safety Tips

In case of a home fire, does every member of your family know what to do?

During National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 12 to 18, families should review emergency procedures, said Tecumseh Fire Department Chief Wallace MacGeorge.

He offered these suggestions:

+Keep a list of emergency phone calls near the telephone.

+Call the fire department's number, 423-2185. A direct call saves about a minute on a call that is placed to the operator. Calls taken by operators may ring some time before answered. Operator must then call the Lenawee County Sheriff's Department which is Fire Control Center. The Center than takes the address, determines which fire department should be sent and relays the message to the department.

+Families should talk about a fire escape plan for the home. Little children are frightened by emergencies, especially at night. Unless they know what to do in an emergency, they may hide, making it difficult for firemen to locate them, if at all.

Children should be taught to get out immediately and learn how to escape from a second story, what to push to the window to get out and how to break glass, if necessary.

Purchase Of Property Requested

Request of John Birchfield of Tecumseh Tire Exchange for purchase of industrial park property will be referred to Tecumseh Planning Commission, Council decided Monday.

Because the business is more retail instead of industrial, Council and the manager questioned whether it would be compatible with the industrial park concept.

Paint Striper Is Approved

Council Monday night approved the purchase of a 12 gallon self-propelled paint striper. Low bidder Kelly-Creswell Co., Inc. was awarded the sale at $1,465.

The machine is needed because of the number of areas that need pavement marking and other areas neglected, reported City Manager Cal Zorn.

Hearing Set

Council adopted a resolution to establish a sidewalk special assessment district on N. Evans St.

A public hearing is set for the Oct. 20. Properties effected are United Savings Bank, Harry's Cafe and Trickey's Inc. Widening and replacing of sidewalks is proposed.

Shirley Browning and Ronald Barrett Wed

A wedding of simplicity, the immediate family present, took place Aug. 30, in the MayFair Congregational Church in Toledo, Ohio, when Shirley Browning of Swanton, Ohio, became the bride of Ronald Barrett of Clinton.

The Rev. David Clawson performed the double ring ceremony before baskets of white gladioli. Mrs. Clawson was the organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Zella Miracle, Swanton, Ohio, and Hugh Browning of Middlesboro, Ky. The groom's parents are Mrs. Nellie Barrett of Britton and the late Forrest Barrett.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Raleigh Browning. She wore a white lace tiered gown with attached train and carried white carnations and red roses.

Barbara Simmons, of Wanton, Ohio, maid of honor, wore a blue organza gown. Bridesmaids Agatha Partin, Swanton, Ohio, and Carolyn Dixon, Toledo, Ohio, were attired in pink organza gowns and carried carnations tinted in pink and blue, same as the maid of honor.

Tracy Simmons, Toledo, Ohio, was the flower girl, in blue dress and carried a small basket of mixed flowers.

Gary Barrett, Tecumseh, son of the groom, was best man for his father's wedding. Allan Barrett, Tecumseh, and Gregory Griewahn, Adrian, were ushers. Tony Simmons, Toledo, Ohio, was the ring bearer.

Recepution following the ceremony was held at the Sportsman's Club in Trilby, Ohio. A linen covered round table was centered with a three-tired cake which was cut and served by an aunt, Bertha Miracle, Toledo. Buffet lunch was served.

Rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening, prior to the wedding, at the Sveden House in Toledo, Ohio, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barrett of Britton.

The newlyweds are at home at Water Wheels Estates in Clinton.

Bicentennial Is Theme

The Macon Blue Bird Group has been organized for the third grade girls at Ridgeway School. The 10 girls meet after school on Thursdays at the home of their leader Mrs. Paul Hover, Macon.

Assistants for the year are Catherine Harsh and Sherry Hover. Mrs. Arthur Hill will continue as the sponsor, representing the Macon Women's Club, who has sponsored the Macon Camp Fire Group for the last nine years.

Five new members have been received and they include Karen Booker, Pam Cartmell, Sandy DeJonghe, Julie Kujawa, and Liz Valdez.

During this school year, the girls will work on the Solo Flight Award. This is a comprehensive Learn through Service Project, introduced two years ago to permit older Blue Birds to participate in an ongoing 25 point program, which the girls plan and carry out for themselves, on an individual basis.

With 1976 as Bicentennial year, many aspects of the project will be directed toward patriotism, heritage, and historical awareness.

To The Editor

To the Editor —

I would like to comment on a couple of subjects, and ask other Tecumseh residents to express their opinions.

One is concerning our garbage and trash pick-up.

Why do we have to use those special Weaver bags?

Other cities around us use the plastic bags, or other containers. Or some things can be placed at the curb and it will be picked up.

At times some of us have items, such as large cartons, or shrubbery trimmings that are quite difficult to cut into pieces small enough to be put in these Weaver bags.

Also some large families aren't given enough bags to last until the next delivery, and the price they have to pay for extra ones is ridiculous, and unfair. They have enough worry to buy the real necessities and pay the high utility bills.

I feel it is very unfair to them to have to spend so much for special trash bags.

It is also unfair to those who don't need so many bags but are required to pay for a certain number of them.

Why can't we use the plastic bags, or wrap garbage in papers and place it in other containers?

I do hope our city officials will do something about this very soon.

Another subject I would like to ask about is the Boulevard in the center of our city, our main street.

Some years ago it used to be beautiful. Why were all those beautiful shrubs and flowers removed?

I realize the street has been widened but it certainly wasn't necessary to remove all those shrubs.

It not only took away the beauty but it has created a hazard for drivers at night.

It is very difficult to see that center boulevard when coming into Tecumseh after dark. Especially if we are coming in from the west or south, or if it is raining or foggy.

If there could be some small trees or shrubs replaced it would both beautify the street, and eliminate a night hazard.

BOND DETAILS: Said bonds will be coupon bonds, registrable as to principal only, of the denomination of $5,000 each, dated September 1, 1975, numbered in direct order of maturity from 1 upwards and will bear interest from their date payable on May 1, 1976, and semi-annually thereafter.

Said bonds will mature on the first day of May as follows:

$25,000 in each of the years 1977, 1978 and 1979;

$30,000 in each of the years 1980 to 1984, inclusive;

$75,000 in each of the years 1985 to 1989, inclusive;

$125,000 in each of the years 1990 to 1993, inclusive; and $150,000 in each of the years 1994 and 1995.

PRIOR REDEMPTION: Bonds maturing on or after May 1, 1987, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the School District, in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates on or after May 1, 1986, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium as follows:

3% on each bond called for redemption prior to May 1, 1989;

2% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1989, but prior to May 1, 1992;

1% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1992, but prior to maturity.

Thirty days notice of redemption shall be given by publication at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan, which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds, and in case of registered bonds thirty days notice shall be given by mail to the registered holder at the registered address. Bonds called for redemption shall not bear interest after the redemption date, provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same.

INTEREST RATE AND BIDDING DETAILS: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 8% per annum, to be fixed by the bids therefor, expressed in multiples of 1/ 8 or 1/ 20 of 1% or both. The interest on any one bond shall be at rate only, all bonds maturing in any one year must carry the same interest rate and each coupon period shall be represented by one interest coupon. The difference between the highest and lowest interest rate on the bonds shall not exceed 2%. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law, to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, who may also designate a co-paying agent, which may be located outside of Michigan, qualified to act as paying agent under the law of the State in which located or of the United States, both of which shall be subject to approval of the School District.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provisions of Act 269, Public Acts of Michigan, 1955, as amended, and Act 202, Public Acts of Michigan, 1943, as amended, for the purpose of defraying the cost of erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to and remodeling and partially re-furnishing and re-equipping the Tecumseh High School Building, and developing and improving the site. The bonds will pledge the full faith and credit of the School District for payment of the principal and interest thereon, and will be payable from ad valorem taxes, which may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount.

STATE QUALIFICATION: The bonds have been fully qualified pursuant to Act 108, Public Acts of Michigan, 1961, as amended, enacted pursuant to Section 16, Article IX of the Michigan Constitution of 1963. Under the terms of said constitutional and statutory provisions, if for any reason the School District will be or is unable to pay the principal and interest on the bonds when due, then the School District shall borrow and the State shall lend to it an amount sufficient to enable the School District to make the payment.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $30,000.00, drawn upon any incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. The good faith check of the successful bidder will be immediately cashed and payment for the balance of the purchase price of the bonds shall be made at the closing.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from November 1, 1975, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Thrun, Maatsch and Nordberg, attorneys, Lansing, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The School District will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at a place to be designated by the purchaser. The usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock, noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned in which event the School District shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery. Payment for the bonds shall be made in the Federal Reserve Funds.

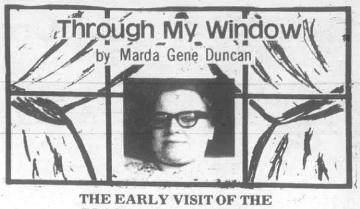
Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan



THE EARLY VISIT OF THE BLACK-THROATED BLUE

Gertie T. was drying my left foot when it started. Such a commotion! We looked at each other and, in unison, exclaimed that the chickadees were back. The loud and happy 'fee-bee, fee-bee, fee-bee', which last week sent us to the bird records thus killing a whole afternoon, was recognized this time.

Gertie T. was about to go to the window hoping to see exactly where the gang was and how many there were when suddenly a small bird tried to light on the crosspiece of the casement window. A chicka — no, it was not one of the noisy chickadees.

This crosspiece on the window is small and affords practically no foothold even for a small bird. Even though the little guy tried hard and was really quite agile, he fluttered at the window, hung upside down for a second, but there was simply no good perching spot.

He could find no way to get a good look at what was going on inside; fortunately we had a good way of looking at what was going on outside.

When the bird left the window he stopped at the near-my-window feeder for a short minute, then took off and was gone. Gertie T. had seen enough however — she dashed for the bird book and immediately found the picture of our visitor. Hooray, not all fall warblers are confusing!

This little guy looked exactly like his pictures on the color plates in both the "Audubon Bird Guide" and Peterson's "Field Guide." His topside was dusty bluish gray, his lower breast and tummy were white, a large area of his throat was black, and a white wing spot was most noticeable. We had been visited by a black-throated blue warbler!

According to the books he should have been slightly over five inches long and yes, as he frantically tried to secure a foothold on the window, he looked about that length. After all chickadees are five inches long and at first we thought that was who we were seeing.

However, even though the length gibed, the shape of the body certainly did not. Chickadees are round, they give an impression of roly-poly, cuddley bodies whereas the black-throated blue was more slender and drawn-out looking. Very much a warbler.

Had he been talking to us, the books say he might have been saying something in a husky voice which they translate as, "I am la-zy". Well, the chickadees were hollering and we let it go at that. Gertie T. and I agreed that the only way to sort out sounds, to check whether there was something other than chickadee chatter, would be to get out the bird record and listen to the recorded black-throated blue's song.

No way in the world could we spend another afternoon and both of us knew that was exactly what was at stake. Therefore we assume the bird waved us a goodby and did not say it too.

Because whether they are saying it or not this was a goodby until next spring. All the warblers are most definitely on the move south—and I must admit that I do not blame them a bit. The Duncans are beginning to think such thoughts themselves.

Although, as of this dictating, the weather is nice and the fall color spectacular is showing signs of being on of the best in years, there are hints and clues about what is coming.

The birds are traveling, all of the green things are poised for their final splurge of gaudy color and, although the sun is warm, the air has a new freshness and chill. Fall is here. This also means that winter is stomping his feet somewhere, impatiently waiting to get at us.

But back ot the warblers. These little guys are well launched into their annual autumn migration. Hopefully the black-throated blues have had a good summer in the northern United States and southern Canada.

Some of the gang spend the summer months as far south as Georgia but they confine themselves to the high mountain areas. These elevations duplicate the environment of the far north but that is a whole different story and not one to go into today.

Suffice to say that after the black-throats raise their families in the underbrush of the deciduous or mixed forest they band together with other warblers and head for a happy and carefree winter in the sunny southland.

Sunny southland for this particular branch of the warbler family being occasionally Key West but more often the islands of the West Indies.

Not all warbler watching is frustrating, our whole day was a good one thanks to the nice start it was given by the early visit of the black-throated blue.

Better get your humidifier in working condition for the heating season. Change your pads or plates. Clean out the pan. Check the float level. You will have to watch the plate type all year to make sure it does not drip out of pan and on to furnace. Alot of good furnaces are ruined that way.

Clauda Plumbing and Heating has most parts for humidifiers. We also carry humidifiers for furnaces, portable room humidifiers, etc.

It will cost you less at Clauda Plumbing & Heating where we have the "know how" and experience. Install it yourself, or we will do it for you.

HELPFUL HINT: To help your humidifier to do its job, tablets are available to put in it to stop the build up of minerals.

Branch Removes Ashtrays

The West Chicago branch of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh has taken a stand to protect the rights of non-smokers, according to Earl D. Mason, Senior Vice-President.

Working together with Vern Manwaring, local representative of the Michigan Lung Association's Huron Valley region, the West Chicago branch has adopted a "no smoking" policy in its building.

"We're not making any value judgements about smokers," Mason said. "We just don't appreciate smoke in our building, as none of our employees is a smoker."

All of the building's ashtrays have been removed and signs are on display which indicate the new policy regarding smoking. If visitors fail to note the signs and begin to smoke, they are asked to stop. "So far the cooperation of our customers has been 99.9 percent great," Mason added.

Literature on smoking and health is also on display at the West Chicago branch. "We hope this will help people realize the staff is not simply being petty in adopting this policy," Manwaring said.

"Second-hand smoke is not only offensive to some people, but, as the literature points out, it is also harmful to the health of anyone who breathes it."

Persons interested in obtaining more information about smoking and health may contact Manwaring by calling 423-7091.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

The turnout Saturday night for the Macon Historical Society (MHS) meeting was great. Eighteen people showed up at Bob and Myra Bush's home, and membership now numbers 27.

Thanks to Woodrow Hunt, guest speaker from Onsted, those present know more about one of Macon's first settlers—Abraham Valentine Hunt, "Woody's" grandfather.

It's full speed ahead on Mills School. Hopefully the roof will be completed, a coat of paint applied and a sign hung before bad weather sets in.

Donations to the school of seven bundles of shingles, two outhouses and money, made by Beatrice Gilmore, Mrs. Leland Bush and Woodrow Hunt, respectively, were gratefully accepted.

A legal document is being drawn up giving Macon Historical Society full ownership of Mills School.

The school will be used for community events and will be self-supporting through fund raising projects.

MHS will meet the first Saturday of each month. Irene and Otto Miller will host the November 1 meeting. Everyone is welcome!

Keep Oct. 18 in mind. That's the date set for Macon United Methodist Church's annual Fall Bazaar and Supper. Everything from house plants and terrariums to beautiful patchwork ruffle-trimmed pillows will be offered for sale. The smorgasbord menu planned is varied and hearty enough to please any appetite.

From THE COMPLEAT AMERICAN HOUSEWIFE: 1776 —

"I wish the Bald Eagle had not been chosen as the Representation of our Country; he is a Bird of bad moral Character, like those among men who live by sharpening and robbing, he is generally poor and often very lousy—The turkey is—a much more respectable bird, and withal a true original native of America."

Childhood Diseases

Remain Threat To Health

People don't worry much about childhood diseases any more, but according to Dr. Roy Highsmith of Lenawee County Health Department, they should.

He stated that outbreaks of preventable diseases, such as polio and measles, could happen in the County unless more young children are vaccinated.

To alert people to the problem and to explain the solution, the local health department joins the state and federal government, organized medicine, industry and volunteer groups in Immunization Action Month.

The October campaign is a time when extensive efforts are made to inform people about the potential dangers of childhood diseases and to urge parents to make sure their children are fully vaccinated.

"Many young parents today don't remember the devastating epidemics of paralytic polio of the 1950's," Dr. Highsmith said, "and aren't aware of the real dangers of measles, rubella and other childhood diseases."

Many believe that the diseases have been completely eradicated and that there is no need to worry about them any more. This is not true, warned the physician.

"The biggest problem is getting children under four-years-old vaccinated. They are the group that will be the hardest hit if there is a local epidemic. Unless 80 percent of all children are vaccinated there is a greater chance of epidemic," he said.

With polio, for example, the national percentage of adequately vaccinated one-to-four-year-old children dropped from 84 percent in 1963 to 60 percent in 1973.

"Polio used to be called infantile paralysis. It could go back to being an infant crippler if children don't get immunized," said Highsmith.

The "school enterers law" states that all children in grades K-12 entering school for the first time must be vaccinated against diptheria, measles, rubella, polio tetanus and pertussis (whopping cough). Mumps vaccine is also available but not required.

Dr. Highsmith urged parents to check their children's immunization records to make sure all vaccinations have been completed.

Unvaccinated children, he said, should be taken to their physician or health department clinic for vaccinations. For information about the County's vaccination clinic, readers may call 263-8831, ext. 316.

Participate In Test

Approximately 30 Tecumseh High School students will participate in the 19th annual Michigan Mathematic Prize Competition contest on Oct. 15, according to Clarence Lacny, high school principal.

A second segment of the math test will be administered on Dec. 3 for the selected top students, who can win scholarships worth up to $750. Western Michigan University will host an awards day in February.

William Raeburn will be in charge of conducting the tests here.

Rummage Sale Planned

Daughters of St. Peters Episcopal Church will sponsor a rummage sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Church. A new and an old wedding gown will be featured.

Prayer Virgil Will Be Observed

A prayer vigil will be observed by members of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church Oct. 15.

Resurgence '76 is an effort for people to continuously pray for our nation throughout the Bicentennial. Emphasis is on "Our Nation Under God."

Big Dream Comes True

Mrs. James Cole of Tecumseh has had one of her long time dreams come true. She received her high school diploma Sept. 11.

"It'd been 23 years since I'd gone to school, but for a long time I'd wanted to further my education. When I told my family what I wanted to do, they were all excited about it also," said Mrs. Cole.

"You don't forget everything you've learned after all that time, believe me, even though a lot of things have changed in 23 years," she told.

She believes no one is ever too old to learn. However she feels some subjects taught "may do more harm than good, and I don't exactly approve of them."

Mrs. Cole is not satisfied to stop learning. "You can't get too much good education. It never hurts to have more than one trade. . .something you can really count on."

Mrs. Cole has three children, two daughters, ages 16 and 13 and a son, 10, and a "wonderful husband."

A graduation party, held at her home, was a double celebration since Mr. and Mrs. Cole's wedding anniversary is Sept. 29.

TECUMSEH VIEWPOINT

"What does the Bicentennial mean to you?" was the question posed by Tecumseh Herald reporter Kathy Brown and reactions were recorded by photographer Frank Weir.

Analysis of reactions shows that half of those interviewed are proud of the Bicentennial but people have a difficult time relating it to their lives.

Kathie Bick, 307 N. Union, "The celebration of our 200th birthday. I'm celebrating by graduating."

Mrs. Elmer Buehrer, 705 W. Chicago Blvd. "I'm gonna have a good time. I live in a 120 year old house," and she seems very proud and happy about it.

Virginia Murray, "A time of joyful celebration. I live in a 135 year old home and I'm restoring a covered wagon for the parade."

Harriet Desmet, 212 E. Kilbuck, "A celebration of freedom. Hopefully it will be the renewing of what our constitution stands for: freedom. We are founded on freedom (including freedom) of worship and should remain dedicated to God.

Jimmie Lincoln, 499 Seminole, "The spirit of America."

Jessie Sluyter, Sluyter's Electric, "It means more to the people in the East than to those who live further West. They have more to relate to because that's where it all started."

Ivan Bidle, Britton, "not very much to me."

Steve Pike, 301 E. Chicago, "I haven't really thought of it."

THS Lunch

MONDAY — Sloppy joe, potato chips, relishes, fruit and milk.

TUESDAY — Beef and noodles, vegetable, cherry dessert, bread and butter and milk.

WEDNESDAY — Cheeseburger on bun, potatoes, fiesta slaw, peaches and milk.

Manuel Arana, the Chilean House, "Two hundred years of liberty and freedom."

Carl Covell, Sutton Road. "There are too many political things right now. The government is not interested in the people but in other governments. There are more pressing problems than the 200th birthday of our country. Ask an umemployed person what it means to him."

Ray Bandlow, assistant principal at Tecumseh High School, "So far its been like Christmas, the spirit is being overshadowed by the commercialism. It seems to be 'Buy' instead of 'Bi'. "

Isabell Arana, Chilean House, "It is a beautiful country. People feel really free. I'm impressed that the country is young but old in experience." Both Mr. and Mrs. Arana are particularly proud because they are working toward their United States citizenship.

Joe Gregory, Gregory's Barber and Hairstyling Shop, "With as young a country we've got, we've accomplished quite a bit. I think we should be pretty proud of that fact."

Historical Material Sought By Library

by KATHY BROWN

One of Tecumseh's Bicentennial projects, underway at Tecumseh Public Library, is getting sluggish response.

The library is interested in filling the Clara Waldron Room with historical materials. Goal is to enrich Tecumseh's local history collection of printed materials.

Library is not equipped to collect other artifacts at this time.

Deborah Havener, head librarian said all properties will be safe.

All items brought to the library can either be given for permanent collection, loaned, or copied.

Items to be returned will be tagged for easy identification, Mrs. Havener reassured.

The basement of the library, the Clara Waldron Room, was remodeled last year with carpeting, ceiling, lighting and furniture to make the room an attractive place to study history and a safe place for valuable materials. Access to the room is supervised by librarians.

Contributions which have been received thus far have been useful to students; local history buffs and out of towners interested in Tecumseh.

+Clara Waldron donated two scrapbooks of her column "Is That So!" It includes some material not in her book, "One Hundred Years A Country Town." High school students find it helpful in writing term papers. Pat Eby formerly of Tecumseh indexed one of the books which has increased its use.

+Mrs. Perry Hayden gave the library two huge scrapbooks of the William Hayden Milling Co. Volumes tell the history of the mill with records of business, copies of the old newspaper, "Tecumseh Globe," old advertisements and the history of "Dynamic Kernels," the tithing experiment Henry Ford was associated with.

+Marion Whelan, local genealogist donated several photographs of early Tecumseh. A book of "Selected Poems" by Isaac Adams, 1802-1879, a local poet, will remain in a special collection at the library.

+A collection of photographs for Co. F of the 26th Michigan Infantry of the Civil War, all local volunteers, may be an important link for Tecumseh families interested in their ancestors.

+Various clubs have donated secretaries' minutes. They may be used to write the histories of Tecumseh's organizations.

+A personality file on Ray Herrick, which includes photographs and biographical material, was donated by the Tecumseh Herald. Out of towners and local historians have found it helpful for various projects.

"If families are not doing anything with such historical files, it would be useful to have them here at the library," said Mrs. Havener.

Library To Help You Use Your Mind During Michigan Library Month

by KATHY BROWN

"No Deposit — No Return" is not just a fact about nonreturnable bottles. It also is true of an unused mind.

Tecumseh Public Library is interested in helping residents use their minds and it is participating in Michigan Library Month during October.

This year's theme is "Recycle Your Mind." The library has books for all ages interested in continuing their education.

Head librarian Deborah Havener said, "Our prime concern is that people of all ages use the library and enjoy books — and they do!"

Books are important to learning at each stage in life even though each age group may use them differently. Pre-schoolers may enjoy picture books; older people may read for leisure, interest or information.

Mrs. Havener noted a trend among adults to use books in conjunction with adult education classes.

She observed "a trend back to inner resources instead of material possessions. Library usage increases when the economy sags."

Introductory books: mathematics, psychology, accounting, vocabulary building, and high school equivalancy test aids have been in great demand by adults.

Librarians are interested in collecting educational board games for ages pre-school on up so patrons may check them out.

Other quiet games such as checkers and chess would be used in the library as a study break for teenagers or a diversion for adults.

Librarians also want residents to donate "well loved" stuffed animals still in good condition. The collection would be available to occupy children too young to read while their parents are using the library. Mrs. Havener explained other libraries have such collections to help children learn libraries are a fun place to be.

Other animals that have the stuff loved out of them could be used by children's librarian, Lois Sprengnether, as puppets for story hours.

Anyone who would like to help the librarians in their recycling project can contact them at 423-2238 to make donations of educational board games or stuffed animals.

Anyone who would like to check out a book and recycle his mind can visit the library at 215 Ottawa from 1 to 9 p.m. Monday thru Wednesday, and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Cystic Fibrosis Collects Over Its '75' Goal

BRITTON — "We went over the top," said Mrs. Ned Brown, local Cystic Fibrosis chairwoman, as she announced the $170.31 raised for the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Drive was held from Sept. 15-30 with the goal set at $150 for the Britton area. Money raised goes to help support research and care for children suffering from Cystic Fibrosis and other lung damaging diseases.

Mrs. Brown wishes to thank the community for their support and the following solicitors, Barb Gibson, Jan Furgason, Ruth Gubbe, Genevieve Servoss and Alice Bearinger.

New Pastor In Britton

BRITTON — There are two new faces in the Britton Congregational Christian Church's choir and pulpit lately. They are Pastor and Mrs. David Hawk.

Pastor Hawk began pastorial duties Sept. 21, and has been busy moving in for the past two weeks.

"Dave", as he prefers to be called, is a native of Akron, Ohio. He graduated in 1972 from Bowling Green State University with a BS in biology and a commission as Second Lt. in the U.S. Air Force. He attended Trinity Evangelical Divinity School for a year and then completed his theological training at Princeton Theological Seminary.

Throughout his seminary career he was supported and supervised by the Congregational Foundation of Theological Studies, a division of the National Association of Congregational Christian Churches, in which the Britton Church is a participant.

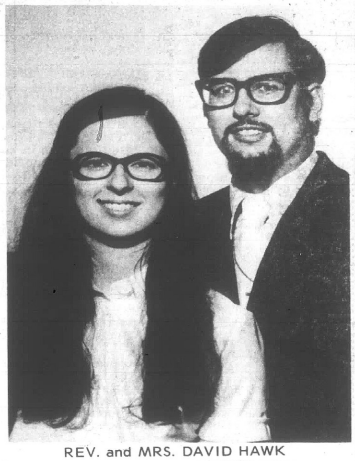
In June he was awarded his Master of Divinity degree and his CFTS certificate of recognition. The Britton Church is his first charge.

Ordination will be Oct. 26, at his home church, Plain Congregational Church, in Bowling Green, Ohio

Linda Hawk is also a native Ohioan, a farm girl from near Wapakoneta. She too graduated from Bowling Green State University, with an education degree in home economics.

She was the organist for her home church, also Plain Church of Bowling Green, all through college. She is currently becoming active in a variety of church activities, and is advisor for a 4-H sewing group.

The Hawks are both interested in music, a variety of sports including softball and volleyball, square dancing, and a variety of crafts, so you may meet them most anywhere in the community. Both enjoy the small-town closeness and rural setting of Britton, and look forward to an enjoyable and fruitful ministry.



REV. and MRS. DAVID HAWK

Tips On Storing Meat And Poultry

As soon as you get the meat home, take off the store wrapping and rewrap it loosely in wax paper so that air can get to it. Sometimes it's more convenient to put it in an open dish and cover it loosely with waxed paper. Put in refrigerator.

If you're freezing the meat, however, it should be wrapped airtight.

If possible, take the meat out of the refrigerator before cooking and let it stand until it is at room temperature. About an hour for small cuts, two or even more for large cuts.

Council Appoints Gibbard, Trustee

CLINTON — Stanley Gibbard, former Michigan State Police officer, and present real estate agent, was appointed as trustee on the Clinton Village Council, at the council meeting Monday. He will fill the vacancy of Richard Koster.

A representative of First Federal Savings of Lenawee was present to explain building plans for their new branch office, to be located across the street from the post office.

Although it will not be possible to save the house, the antique barn and smokehouse will be preserved on the site.

Dr. E.V. Wight was present to discuss the proposed dog ordinance. Suggestion was made that it should be a dog nuisance ordinance so that responsible dog owners are not penalized. Council agreed to incorporate that reasoning into the proposed ordinance.

Council authorized an additional two police officers to be on duty for Halloween.

Fall Festival Sets Record

CLINTON — Clinton's second annual three-day Fall Festival has to be noted as one of the most successful events ever staged here.

Perfect weather was the icing on the cake for general chairman, Kathy Thomas, and her efficient staff, who seemed to have thought of every detail to make a great festival success.

Certainly the attendance was outstanding all three days, and the crowds lining the streets for Sunday's parade rivaled or perhaps surpassed the crowd for the 125th year celebration in 1936.

Friday's fish fry at the United Church of Christ set a new record for dinners there, 460 persons were served.

St. John's Episcopal Church beef barbecue luncheons were complete sellout Friday and Saturday.

St. Dominic's Altar Society served over 100 apple pies during the three day event.

Sunday, the Clinton Rotarians dispatched 850 chicken halves in barbecue dinners, and were sold out by early afternoon.

CHS Spanish Clubs took in over $600 at their taco booth.

United Church of Christ reported their 1,000 pretzels all sold by Saturday afternoon.

Ice Cream Social by United Methodist Church, Sunday afternoon, dispensed 40 pies, 20 cakes, and about 33½ gallons of ice cream, and 14 dozen ice cream bars.

Some artists reported they sold more handicrafts and merchandise in one day alone then they did during the entire festival last year.

The Elementary PTO booth reported over 200 hot dogs sold. And the Boy Scout booth topped that with about 1,500 hot dogs sold over the three days.

That's the way it went, up and down the street. Everyone reported good sales.

UCC To Hear Candidate

CLINTON — Pulpit committee of the United Church of Christ has invited the Rev. Roy Wagner to speak at the morning worship service, Oct. 12.

A coffee hour will follow the service, and a family potluck dinner will be held at 1 p.m. to enable the members of the congregation to meet the Rev. and Mrs. Wagner.

A congregational meeting will be Oct. 19, after the morning service, to vote on extending a call to the candidate.

Pulpit committee requests that all persons associated with the church be present on these occasions to make this important decision.

Harbaugh Hired, Township Assessor

CLINTON — Eugene Harbaugh was contracted by the Clinton Township Board, at Monday's meeting, to do the 1976 tax assessment roll and the 1975 spread of tax roll, at a cost of $2,000. He will start immediately and conclude by April 1, 1976.

Harbaugh, a Lenawee County resident, is a Michigan State Certified Level II assessor.

Harry Comstock will continue to serve as Clinton Township supervisor.

After discussion, the board decided to reduce the excess money in the Clinton Township Library fund by temporarily lowering the millage from one-mill to one-half mill for the 1975 taxable year only.

Supervisor Comstock reported that the Zoning Board is meeting on the third Thursday of each month, working on the updating of the zoning ordinance for the township.

Since the township treasurer and deputy treasurer have an increased work load due to the township library account, the Clinton Riverside Cemetery account, the township board voted to increase their salaries.

Treasurer was raised by $50 per month and the deputy treasurer by $20 per month, effective Oct. 1, for the remainder of the year.

A property owner appeared to explain what he is doing to take care of a noise complaint by his neighbors.

John Colton, vice-president of the Clinton Township Library Board and member of the library budget committee, was present to answer questions about the library budget.

Board approved building permits totalling $1,200 submitted by building inspector, Charles Wilson.

Slides Shown Of Methodist Homes

CLINTON — The Rev. Bert Hosking, executive director of the United Methodist homes in Chelsea and Detroit showed slides of both homes at the meeting of the United Methodist Women, Monday night.

Boulevard Temple construction in Detroit involved retaining the historical architecture of the exterior of the building and remodeling the interior.

Because of the expense of the remodeling programs, only the kitchen at Chelsea Home will be remodeled now, and more will be done at a later time.

Mrs. Carl Terry reported on the Methodist Children's Home in Detroit. Members will take a trip to visit that home Oct. 29, leaving Clinton, at 8:30 a.m.

Next meeting of the UMW is during the annual Book Fair, Nov. 3, when Mrs. Howard Oesterling will review a book on child rearing. Books will be on display Oct. 26, Nov. 2, 3, and 4.

Mrs. Robert Herman is reported recovering satisfactorily after throat surgery, Friday, in Bixby Hospital. Her daughter, Mrs. Jerry Wert, came from Chicago to visit for a few days with her parents.

Mrs. Marie Priest has been moved to Crestmont Nursing Home, Fenton, where she expects to convalesce there for about a month.

Indians Get Rammed

Tecumseh lost its first league contest to Flat Rock Friday night 19-7 dropping their overall record to 2-2.

The Indians started the scoring in the first quarter when Jim Egbert ran three yards for the score. Ken Biscupski picked up the extra point.

The Rams came across in the second quarter first with a 35 yard pass play. A little over a minute later, Flat Rock scored again after John Cecil picked up a Tecumseh fumble and ran 37 yards for the touchdown. The Rams got the extra point on their first TD of the second frame but Indian Bill Smith blocked the kick after their second.

Final score in the game came in the fourth quarter for Flat Rock when Bob Blosser ran 55 yards for the score. The point after attempt failed.

Tecumseh out rushed their opponents 184 yards to 141 for the Rams. Linvel Lisenbee was leading ground gainer for Tecumseh with 79 yards. The Rams completed three of seven passes for 82 yards while Tecumseh came through on two of ten for 21 yards.

Tecumseh also picked up more first downs than Flat Rock 12-6 and each team lost 25 yards on three penalties.

Tecumseh celebrates homecoming this Friday night by hosting Monroe Catholic Center.

The JV squad won theirs 22-12.

Skins Overpowered

Clinton's Redskins lost a tough grid battle to Morenci 40-8 spoiling homecoming festivities for the Clinton fans.

Morenci jumped out to a 12-0 early lead in the first quarter on long breakaway runs by Morenci speedster Terry Pennington on runs of 45 yards and 75 yards, both extra points failed.

In the second quarter Stan Rendel scored on an eight yard run to give Morenci an 18-0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter on a fine run with excellent blocking, Redskin Ken Roberts ran back a kickoff for 77 yards. Phil Erickson converted the extra points by a pass to Roberts.

Morenci again scored when Rendel went over from the two yard line and Hamalainen's kick was good.

Later Morenci's Stevenson went over from the two yard line and Pennington's conversion was good. Morenci scored again in the fourth quarter on a five yard run by Johnson and the extra point was good.

Clinton's injuries in the previous week of practice took its toll with three starters missing the homecoming game: Lee Russ, Doug Feldkamp, and Steve Hinz. "We just don't have the depth to afford these kind of injuries," said Coach Don Eaton.

"Tackling was the worst I've ever seen even though they did have very fine backs. We just were not hitting. I am very upset over the performance."

Girls Chomp Adrian

Tecumseh's girls won two more defeating Monroe Jefferson 73-20 on Wednesday of last week to open Huron League play. They went on to defeat Adrian Monday night 60-27.

Melinda Ternak grabbed scoring honors in the Jefferson contest with 21 points followed by Julie Anderson with 16.

Against Adrian, the squad led by a scarce five points at the end of the first quarter 7-2. They picked up steam in the second quarter scoring 18 points to Adrian's nine. It was more of the same in the third frame with Tecumseh grabbing 22 points and the Maples finding the basket for just six points. In the last stanza, the Indians came up with 13 points and Adrian, 10.

Tori Iffland had a fine game against Adrian earning top scoring honors with 17 points. Susie Brown had 12 points, Julie Anderson and Debbie Steadley each had nine, Melinda Ternak, six, Peg Upell three, Connie Younglove, two and Kris Underwood one.

Tecumseh is now 5-0 for the season and have not suffered a loss in their last 27 games.

Golfers Win

Tecumseh's golf squad knocked off three opponents starting with a 158-168 victory over Airport last Wednesday.

Steve Lynch was medalist in that battle with a 38 followed by John Gibson and Scott Macbeth each at 39 and Doug Jacobs 42.

The next day, the Indians took on Hudson beating them 153-163. Jacobs shot a one-under-par 35 followed by Gibson at 37, Macbeth, 39 and Steve Lynch and Jeff Steiner each at 42.

Tecumseh stretched their record to 15-0 overall and 5-0 in the league by beating Grosse Ile 162-181 Monday. Gibson led the Indians with a 39 followed by Steiner, and Macbeth each at 40 and Jacobs at 43.

Indian Harriers Drop 2

Although Tecumseh's cross country squad ran well they couldn't overpower two very tough opponents. The Indians lost to Monroe CC last Thursday 25-31 and to Airport 17-44 on Tuesday of this week.

Tim Scheff grabbed the first spot against CC with a 16:14 time. CC grabbed the next two positions with Jim Harris finishing fourth for the Indians at 16:56. Monroe claimed the fifth and sixth spots and Indians Steve Medvecz and Kent Norris came in seventh and eighth. Dave Bilkie took the eleventh position.

It was tough going against the Airport squad Tuesday for the Indians. Airport is rated third in the state with a 10-0 meet record. Tecumseh ran one of its best meets with three runners finishing under 17 minutes. According to coach Croft that's a first

But it just wasn't enough to outdistance Airport. The Jets captured the top three positions with Tim Scheff the first Indian to cross the finish line in the fourth spot with a 16.25 time.

Next for Tecumseh was Jim Harris in the eighth position at 16:56 and Kent Norris ninth at 16:57. Dave Bilkie was eleventh, Brad Sisson twelfth, Steve Medvecz thirteenth and Kevin Burchett fourteenth for Tecumseh.

The Indians post a 4-4 overall record and are 2-3 in the league. They travel to Grosse Ile Thursday, participate in the Mason Invitational Saturday and host Carlson next Tuesday.

Clinton Runners Victorious

Clinton's cross country squad beat Morenci last week, made a good showing in the Fayette Invitational and won a close one against Sand Creek Monday night.

Clinton beat Morenci 22-37 at Clinton's Meadowlane Golf Course last Wednesday. Wally Pike captured first place and set a new school record time of 16:38 breaking the old mark of 16:44.

Chris Wojtowicz finished third, Mark Prichard fifth, Jody Swain was sixth, Jim Klanke seventh, Mark Eveleth eighth, and John Dotson eleventh.

The team finished sixth out of 11 teams at the Fayette Invitational over the weekend.

Wally Pike led the Redskin runners with a 19th place finish out of over 70 runners.

Chris Wojtowicz was 34th, Jody Swain 39th, Jim Klanke 41st, and Mark Prichard 42nd.

Dave Rafferty picked up a medal by finishing ninth out of over 60 runners in a JV race.

Clinton's Wally Pike took second place in the Sand Creek battle which the Skins won 25-32. Sand Creek captured the top spot. Sand Creek took third but was followed by three Clinton men, Chris Wojtowicz, Jody Swain, and Mark Prichard. Jim Klanke finished eighth for Clinton.

Clinton is now 5-2 overall.

Tories Undefeated

The Britton Tories squeezed by Sand Creek 16-14 to pick up a homecoming victory Friday night.

Sand Creek scored in the second quarter on a 45 yard drive. In the next series of plays, though, Britton marched 60 yards for their score. The Aggies fumbled a punt on their own two yard line and the Tories promptly went into the end zone for their second score.

Sand Creek chalked up another TD in the third frame.

Rudy Montalvo led in rushing for the Tories with 90 yards in 26 carries. Britton had 150 yards rushing to Sand Creek's 192 yards. Mike Hintz and Craig Wagenschutz picked up ten tackles apiece for Britton. The Tories completed one of three passes for 11 yards.

Britton is now 4-0 overall.

Jewels & gems

By Dick Eggleston

About to become a grandparent, godparent, uncle or aunt? When there is a "blessed event" expected in the family, everyone begins to worry about necessities. But some luxuries become necessary as part of a family's heritage. A special "Peter Rabbit" plate, for example, or a silver cup reserved until the baby is born, so he (or she!) can have the name and date engraved. These are the sort of gifts that will be treasured, handed down because they last and last.

Gifts that will be treasured for many years come from EGGLESTON'S JEWELRY, 107 E. Chicago Blvd., 423-2715. We can bronze baby shoes in five beautiful finishes and guarantee them unconditionally and stock Oneida stainless flatware in many patterns as well as serving pieces. BankAmericard and Master Charge honored.

GEM FACT: Never put a knife blade into a flame; it will permanently discolor, and will also be dulled.

ANSWERING the call is Fireman Sherman Cole. He activates the plectron, a tone activated receiver, announces the type and location of the fire and starts the fire whistle. The dual alarm system is a safety precaution in case one signal fails.

TYPE OF FIRE and location are written on the chalk board so other trucks may follow the lead driver. One man always stays behind on the radio to give directions and answer other fire calls.

Profile: Fire Prevention Week

Tecumseh Fire Department

by KATHY BROWN

Firefighting requires more than jumping on a truck and arriving at the right address. Firefighting requires skill, readiness and flexibility.

"Our men are all family men. Most of the fires of a minor nature, but every time the whistle blows, they don't know what they'll have to lay on the line," said Chief Wallace MacGeorge.

"Versatility is the key. Every fire is different and you have to know how to use your knowledge and equipment," said MacGeorge.

Twice a month the chief drills the men in operating all equipment and safety procedures in fighting the types of fires. Professional training manuals are used.

New techniques are constantly added. For example firemen are now color coding all city water mains and fire hydrants on a map in the radio room. Firemen can be radioed information on the best approach to a fire in case a water main or fire hydrant is under repair.

Younger firemen are interested in emergency medical training (EMT) Seven have already taken the 80 hour EMT course on their own time at Bixby Hospital.

In case of a major emergency, Tecumseh Fire Department can depend on Raisin Township and Clinton Fire Departments for mutual aid. The informal agreement insures each department has adequate equipment and manpower.

"Instead of auxiliary stations as in bigger cities, out here we rely on different departments when we have the equivalent of a three alarm fire," said MacGeroge. "Without mutual aid we might lose an entire city block." Cooperation was demonstrated during the July 20 fire downtown.

"Almost everyone is proud of our department. We have one of the best. They are interested in doing a good job. Most men join because of the high esteem for the department. They feel it is an honor to join; they do it for the self-satisfaction of doing a good job for their fellow man.

To join a man must be recommended by another fireman as someone the men can rely on and trust. He is nominated to the reserves, elected by a two-thirds majority vote for a year probation and afterward, must be reelected by the same vote. Officers are elected by the firemen.

The chief is hired by the city manager with the Council's approval.

Tecumseh Fire Department is not a volunteer department but "part-paid", five dollars per call and three dollars per hour.

There are 25 firemen, four of which are reserves. Three men work full-time, 24 hours on and 48 hours off. On duty they live in an apartment at the fire barn.

These men maintain equipment, take calls and information and get the first truck started.

Different fires require different equipment.

On most city fires, the one year old "Big Yellow" truck is used. It can pump 1,000 gallons per minute and carries 750 gallons of water. A deluge nozzle enables water to be pumped over any downtown building.

Department also has a '63 and '56 pumper, each with 750 gallon per minute capacity and 600 gallon water tanks.

Tank capacity is important for shuttling water to rural fires. A '52 truck with 600 gallon tank is used for grass and rural fires.

A '41 truck is the department's pet, used for recreation. A rescue truck is used for personal injuries.

The cherry picker offers the men maneuverability and greater safety. They do not have to depend on a building wall to use an extended ladder to get over the blaze.

Once the firemen return from their call, the trucks are loaded with clean hose and gas and cleaned by the drivers. All equipment is made ready for the next emergency.

Stop Smoking Clinic Here

Want to quit smoking? Then you should attend a five-day plan to stop smoking clinic scheduled to begin Oct. 26 at Herrick Hospital.

Dr. Gordon Guild and Richard Broome, of Adrian, will conduct the clinic Sunday through Thursday evenings at the local hospital, Oct. 26-27-28-29-30. Each session, starting at 7 p.m., will last just over an hour.

Persons interested in the clinic are urged to register by calling the doctor's office, 423-7458 during the day, or his home in the evening, 423-4586. Registration fee for materials is $3. First 75 to register will be accepted for the October clinic.

Dr. Guild, who hopes to conduct another clinic in the near future, says approximately 50 to 75 percent is the average number of smokers who quit.

The local physician says over 80 million Americans are addicted to smoking, 75,000 die yearly from lung cancer and 90 percent of these deaths could be eliminated if smoking were eliminated, 300,000 die yearly due to smoking related diseases, and smokers die eight years sooner than non-smokers.

The five-day clinic will include therapy sessions, films, lectures, demonstrations, buddy system and personal control book to follow each day.

Plan May Include Decorative Lights

Chamber of Commerce has completed its drive for a beautification plan for downtown Tecumseh.

The Chamber, needing $8,500 to buy trees and bases for the business district, has raised $9,065 from 40 sponsors. Trees and bases have already been ordered with hopes of installation yet this fall.

An added feature to the project may be decorative lighting between the trees. Officials have studied the possibility of erecting 10-foot poles with globe-type lights.

City manager Cal Zorn has been asked to determine the costs of the decorative lights, and if the costs are acceptable, he would want the poles installed aaong with the Chamber's trees and bases.

Each base will be electrified in order to light the trees for the holidays. Zorn says installation of the poles along with the trees and bases will avoid tearing up sidewalk twice as wiring to bases and poles can be accomplished at the same time.

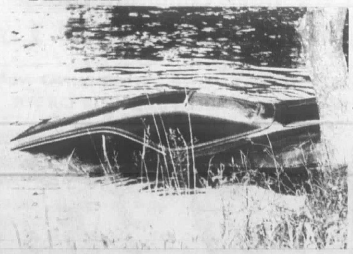
Youth, 20, Sentenced

Richard Sterling, 20, Tecumseh, was sentenced Oct. 7 in circuit court to five years probation and six months in jail with credit from July 23 on a July 21 charge of breaking and entering the Tecumseh Country Club Pro Shop.

He was also ordered to pay $500 court costs and restitution to be determined.



A 19-year-old Tecumseh youth, Steven F. Coscarelli, escaped drowning about 5:30 Saturday morning when the car he was driving plunged into Standish Pond and sank in 10 feet of water. He crawled out a window before the car sank and was helped to shore by Jose A. Arana, 131 E. Chicago Blvd., who had just left the car. Coscarelli has been charged with driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

Senior attendants for the queen were Debbie Rogers and Tammy Richmond. Others in her court were Cindy Wright, Angie Spagnoli and Leslie Gierson. Miss Carothers also reigned during the annual homecoming dance after the Indians 20-8 victory.

Two Catch Thief

Two Tecumseh businessmen combined to nab a shop lifter Saturday. The chase started in Eggleston's Jewelry store and ended on Logan St., just east of N. Ottawa.

Duward L. Mobley, 31, Battle Creek admitted the theft to police after being caught and then told officers he was also guilty of robbing a store in Battle Creek.

Richard Eggleston, jewelry store owner, observed Mobley taking a $115 watch and running out of the front door of his store. He chased him east to Ottawa where Mobley started north on Ottawa.

Eggleston cut through Cal's Tog Shop and asked Cal Damon for help. Mobley offered no resistance when the two businessmen caught up with him.

He is currently in the county jail under $15,000 bond.

Cyclist, 14, Is Fatality

William Todd, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Todd, Sr., 10170 Tipton Hwy., Tipton, was killed when he was struck by an automobile, while riding on a bicycle on M-50 just east of Beebe Hwy., at 8:40 p.m.

Howard Kime, 49, 10370 Wimple Hwy., Onsted, was driving west, and passing another vehicle when he struck the eastbound bicycle rider on the highway.

The boy was taken to Bixby Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Lenawee Sheriff's department investigated the accident, and reported Todd was wearing dark clothing and did not have reflectors on his bicycle. The driver was not charged.

William Todd was born June 14, 1961 in Ann Arbor to William and Rosemary (Loveland) Todd.

He was a student at Tecumseh High School and a member of the cadet band there.

Surviving besides his parents are a sister, Nancy Lee, and a brother, Charles Lee, both at home, and his paternal grandfather, William Todd of Flushing.

A memorial service will be conducted at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Tipton Community Church with the Rev. Max Bailey officiating.

Bridge, Road Extension OK'd by Government

City of Tecumseh has been authorized to proceed with plans to extend Russell Rd. east from Mill Hwy. to Rogers and with construction of a new bridge over River Raisin.

A letter from Federal authorities said "all Federal and State requirements have been satisfied and you are hereby authorized to proceed with programming, design and right-of-way acquisition for the project."

Cal Zorn, city manager, expects to discuss purchase of right-of-way properties with the Tecumseh Products, William Mackey and Clifford Adams this week. He also expects to recommend hiring an engineer for the project to Council next Monday night.

Zorn hopes to let contracts for the work next spring with completion of the fall of 1976.

Letting of the contracts in the spring may also be combined with planned work for Russell Rd. between Adrian St. and Mill. Cost for this development is $200,000 with Federal funds providing $107,000, special assessments providing about $20,000 and the balance from the city's general fund.

Total cost for the Russell Rd. extension and bridge is estimated at $380,000.

Federal funds will provide $187,000 with the balance financed by revenue bonds, re-payment through weight and gas taxes.

Continue Talks

Contract negotiations between Herrick Memorial Hospital and Local 79 of the Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO are continuing.

William Groover, hospital administrator, told the Herald Wednesday morning that the hospital is still operating under the request of Ed Connors, representative from the Michigan State Employment Relations Commission, that neither union nor the hospital make any public comment.

Future meetings have been scheduled, Groover added.

The union local represents 138 hospital employees, including maintenance, housekeeping, dietary, laundry personnel and nurses aides.

Leaf Bags Available

Plastic bags for the city's free fall pickup of leaves for residents are now available at city hall.

City officials state that the pickup service will definitely start no later than Monday, Oct. 27.

Foundation 'Club' To Recognize Donors of $100

A "Century Club" was unanimously approved by the directors of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation Tuesday night for recognition of donors who give $100 or more to the 1975-76 Community Fund Drive.

Individuals, and each corporation and business who donate $100 or more will be publicly recognized by being listed as Century Club members in The Herald each week. It is hoped that the plan will stimulate some to contribute more to the local drive.

The Tecumseh campaign was kicked off Wednesday morning when drive chairman Mary Bowers and her assistant, John Long, met with division heads at a breakfast at Harry's Cafe.

This year's goal is $71,416. Solicitations are scheduled to start immediately.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

A COVEY OF FUN

My goodness, but the house was quiet. It sounded as though no one was home but, in fact, the exact opposite was true and we had a full house. It was mid-afternoon. Dad and Rog were taking naps, Mom was busy at her desk, Auntn was buried in a book, Gertie T. was busy filing old articles, and I was slowly reading my way through the mountain high stack of odds and ends which had been accumulating for months.

Penny the schnauser, was stretched flat on her favorite spot on the livingroom floor. From this very special place she can keep track of the kitchen, the livingroom, the front door, and my room without moving anything except her eyes.

Such a quiet yet busy mood was just ripe for breaking and Mom was the one who did it. A look out the front window and a shout 'activated' everybody except the nappers.

Auntn joined Mother who had gone to the window for a closer look. Gerti T. took one glance through our window and began moving tables, chairs, and the footstool in preparation for flying my bed around and poor Penny was frantically running back and forth trying to see what all the commotion was about.

Mom could hardly believe her eyes and kept asking is it true, are they really, and it couldn't be anything else, could it. Well, indeed it couldn't, they really were, and indeed it was true. A convey of quail was in the corner of Prettyman's yard and as we watched, more scurried down the sidewalk to join the group. What a sight!

Few things are cuter. Fat round bodies, short tails, little heads perched atop slender necks, and ridiculously skinny legs. This does not tell the story at all. The male quail's heads are boldly striped with black and white whereas the females have dark brown and buff markings.

Their posture is upright which means their little heads and squat bodies are held straight, almost chicken-like. And when they hurry along their sturdy legs are just short enough and move so fast they are just a blur. Great to watch.

And quail always seem to be in a hurry, they hustle and bustle, and are full of all sorts of important business. This day their business seemed concentrated in the corner of Prettyman's yard. Whether some special seeds were ripe or what, I have no idea — all I know is that it was vitally important that all the little quail hurry to that one spot and then mill around.

There seemed to be a great bit of head bobbing to do and a great deal of pecking at the ground. I said little a few sentences back but actually the birds were almost full grown which means they were somewhere from eight to ten inches long.

We all wondered where they came from, Mom and I looked up to see most of them huddled together. However, three or four stragglers, running at top speed, came from the east and followed a straight line right down the middle of the sidewalk. The whole convey numbered twelve or fourteen.

By this time Penny was almost besides herself. She is very much a person dog, she does what her people do and when they get excited looking out windows she wants to do the same. The only trouble is that her legs are short and our front windows high — she was the perfect picture of frustration.

Finally Auntn took pity and opened the front door. Penny went charging out, ran across the front yard and stopped dead still just this side of the road. There she sat down and stared.

Surprisingly enough the quail did not scatter, nor did they pay much attention to the dog. Some minutes later something did alert them and four took off, flying towards the creek. Oh, that familiar quail in-flight silhouette — short stubby tails fanned open, broad rounded wings set well back on the body, and little round heads.

Unfortunately they did not squawk nor whistle bob-Bob-white as they flew. The rest of the gang dashed for the shelter of Prettyman's brush pile. Penny continued to stare, we could almost hear her asking, "Where did they go and what happened!"

Several weeks ago we had a great break in a busy afternoon thanks to a convey of quail who afforded us a covey of fun.

Letters On Garbage And Trash System Cause Stink

To the Editor:

In reference to Mrs. Quigley's letter that appeared in the Herald last week. I am in full agreement with both issues. Having low shrubs or reflectors on the boulevard is a very good safety improvement.

My pet peeve is the trash pick-up. No one can detest those bags any more than I do. In addition to all the reasons that Mrs. Quigley gave, there are even more. If the trash bags are placed at the curb the night before, or anytime prior to pick-up, the bags are ripped open by cats and dogs and garbage is scattered everywhere. If you accidently miss the truck and the garbage must remain in the garage for another week. This can really make for a bad situation, especially in hot weather. Even though I have been told that the bags are used for sanitary reasons, neither of the two situations are very sanitary at all.

I am one person that would like to see the trash bags done away with completely and go to a system similar to the one in Adrian. They will still have the cats and dogs but at least it will not be so expensive and a lot more convenient.

For those people that like these bags, let them use them if they so choose but for those of us that are opposed to them, give us another alternative.

Thank You,
Mrs. Jack Mackey

To the Editor:

Right on Mrs. Quigley!

My sentiments exactly on our garage and trash pick-up system. Why I just couldn't imagine not fighting flies, maggots, dogs, cats and whatever else that is attracted to garbage, if we had any other kind of system.

I don't have a large family by any means and yet I still don't have enough bags to last one year. We aren't even allotted one a week for when they are delivered there are only 50 bags for one year.

My husband and I am two of these nuts that believe our air is dirty enough and don't believe in burning the burnable stuff, so we stomp and flatten and everything else to try to get everything as compact as can be so all will fit into the bag.

Also, like during the war, we take the ends out of cans and flatten them and still every year, somtime in September, we have to trip out and buy some more bags at 42c a piece.

I'm sure most Tecumseh residents would be willing to buy our own trash cans with tops that seal good. The way it is now, there are always bags strewn apart up and down the street and that's waiting till the appointed morning of pick-up.

We know, as it has happened to us repeatedly.

Not only that, but being a female, I have a heck of a time getting the blumin things from the garage to the curb without the bag tearing. They're too bulky.

Also along these lines, once a year in the spring is not enough for pick-up of large items like branches, old hot water heaters or whatever. Why not once in the spring and once in the fall?

It doesn't seem fair that Weaver should have such a monopoly on this area in all retrospect.

Mrs. M. Hogarth
905 Park St.

(Editors Note: For many, many years the city has picked up leaves, branches, grass clippings and bulky items in the spring and fall. Late this month, fall pick-up by the city is scheduled. As to the price of 42c per bag, the price also includes the pick-up service by Weaver - whose service is a vast improvement over service provided by the previous collector.)

(Editors Note: AT) Leonard Lendon and wife, Beverly, are living at Ewa Beach, Hawaii while he is stationed at Barbers' Point for the three to five years.)

Oahu is a butiful island. For the tourist, there is quite a lot to see and do, also very expensive. To live here is even more expensive, so if you plan to retire here, make sure you have lots of ready cash!

There's poverty all around, but few tourists ever see it. They have to go out away from Waikiki and Honolulu to see it.

We have rains somewhere on the island every day. When it's not raining the sun is out in full force.

If you are in the right place at the right time you can see rainbows touching the ground.

So if any of you decide to visit Hawaii in the next few years; look us up. We'll be the only Lendon's in the phone book!

Aloha
Beverly A. Lendon

PC Meeting

By FRANK WEIR

In a lengthy meeting of Tecumseh's Planning Commission Tuesday night, members discussed re-zoning requests and a capital improvement program for the city.

Commission approved a request for re-zoning by Red Mill Sales and Leasing for property on S. Evans near Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co. from RA-2 (residential) to industrial.

The plan is to use the property for parking and council must give final approval.

Planning Commission voted to table a request by John Birchfield for a plot in the planned industrial park, located between Mill Rd. and Raisin Center Rd.

Birchfield wants to open a retail tire outlet and perhaps a tire re-caping operation in the future. Commission voted to table the request until plats are completed on the park.

Cal Zorn, city manager, reported to commission on the progress of several capital improvements:

—The city is presently working with the Lenawee County Drain Commission on a facility study for expansion of the sewer plant.

—Hopefully contracts will be let this fall for sewers requested for a development on Burt St.

—Curb and gutter on Pearl St. is included in the 1976-77 budget.

—Region II will be submitting a bicycle route plan.

In other business, Commission passed a motion asking for a recommendation from Region II concerning downtown residency and parking ordinances.

Member Carl Lamb said that downtown building owners reported living areas are three-fourths occupied. All would like to see parking ordinances changed, Lamb said.

In final business, Commission refused to pass a site plan review submitted by William Powell, real estate broker and developer, saying the plan was incomplete and not finalized. Plan is for an apartment development near Tecumseh Country Club.

Jewels & gems

By Dick Eggleston

The kind of ornamentation in a jewelry design is more important than even the manner of execution. The leaf pattern with curling stems which is intersected by clusters of berries have offered through the ages many pleasing arrangements. The spiral and the running scroll are also important motifs. Whatever the motif of the jewelry, however, it must be in keeping with the character of the stone, and actually set the stone used off to its best advantage.

One of the advantages to shopping at EGGLESTON'S JEWELRY, 107 E. Chicago Blvd., 423-2715 is our friendly assistance. Jewelry can be re-set into new mounting and we handle repairs of all kinds as well as sizing of rings so they fit properly. Bank-Americard and Master Charges honored. "Fine Jewelry...Always".

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

If someone had told me two years ago that I'd spend a beautiful autumn afternoon chasing a runaway lamb, I'd never have believed it. Now, as the Monkees declared in song several years back, 'I'm a believer."

Of course my husband was at work when Ba-Ba decided that the grass was definitely greener on the other side of the fence. Husbands are somehow always at work when natural disasters (like having the toilet overflow) strike.

Anyway, there I was valiantly trying to keep my flip-flop slippers on as I tried to round up one very agitated nearly-grown sheep. Bertha, our half golden lab retriever, half Heinz, had her teeth sunk alternately in Ba-Ba's left ear and fore leg. Grounds for agitation, n'est pas?

After making a wide circle of the yard 47½ times without even touching either of the critters, I, too, became agitated and decided it was time to call in the troops.

I screamed for my children's playmate, who was visiting from the farm next to ours, to go in and call her father. These neighbors had been neighbors of ours in Ypsilanti also.

My six-year-old son was able to grab Bertha and drag her to the porch. Several minutes later, I cornered Ba-Ba and held on for dear life. He began to run, dragging me with him—and he's lucky he didn't sustain a hernia after that trick.

Just then the reenforcements arrived. My six-foot-three neighbor picked up the sheep's back legs and "wheelbarrowed" him into the pen while his wife (my neighbor's), three kids, two dogs, 13 chickens and I watched.

"Remember our days in Ypsi," I asked my neighbor, "when all we had to contend with was street gangs throwing rocks through our windows and attempted B&W's?"

"Yeah," they grinned. "Those were the days.

A new course designed to keep apace with the trend toward commercial art will be offered at Siena Heights College.

Color developing and printing will begin January, 1976 as part of its development of a major program in photography.

Many aspects of color photography will be featured in the new course on an introductory level and in addition to using color film, developing and printing color photographs may be included.

Sheriffs Dogs Track Missing Cub Scouts

Two Cub Scouts are missing! Maybe Brutus (a trained tracking and guard dog) can find them. Seventy-three Cubs and their parents watched and waited anxiously as the dog searched.

Boys in trouble? Not really, just the first Pack meeting of the year for Pack 73 at the Presbyterian Church. The Sheriffs Department gave a demonstration with their trained dogs, Brutus and Kathy.

Cubmaster Chuck Sullivan greeted the new parents and enlisted the aid of six new den mothers. Steven Covell, Ronnie Kane and Robin Smith were inducted into Webelos.

Awards were given to: Paul Vredveld, artist, athlete and naturalist; Steven Covell, three silver arrows; Ronnie Kane, silver arrow; Tony Urban, one year pin; Steven Covell, Ronnie Kane, John Covell, Rosemarie Covell, two year pins.

Bicentennial patches went to Scott Bakus, Tim Butler, Joan Covell, Jim Judd, Scott Klanke, David Marcum, Tracy Parrish and Robin Smith.

An award was given for taking part in all three summer activities; the July 4 Parade in Adrian, the District fun day and picnic on July 12 and the Cub Scout Olympics on Aug. 2.

Summertime award winners were: John Covell, Rosemarie Covell, Steven Covell, Chuck Sullivan, Joyce Sullivan and Scott Sullivan.

Donuts were donated by Doby's Donuts.

Oct. 4, was supposed to be a special day for about 68 of the Cubs. The trip to Ann Arbor was fun. The trip home wasn't! The first (and perhaps only) college football game for many of the Scouts ended with rudeness from many Michigan fans. A promise of tickets for a future game left many unimpressed. The enthusiasm just won't be there, said the group.

Cubs, parents, brothers and sisters visited Camp Munhake in the Waterloos Recreation Area on Oct. 5. Several hours later the panting parents followed the 45 Cubs back to the cars for a drink and a picnic. After a five mile hike, close to seven mile. The leaders of Pack 73 congratulate all of those who made the hike and thank them for making the outing a success.

Patches will be given to all 45 Cubs who took part in the hike. Parents may order and pay for extra patches for non-Scouts who hiked the five miles.

Pack committee will meet Oct. 23, at 7 p.m. at the Methodist Church.

Next Pack meeting will be Sail Boat Regatta with boat being made by fathers and sons. It will be Oct. 25, at p.m. at the Methodist Churc

Bi-centennial Journey

Old Laundry Methods
by Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — How many women of this generation would want to do the family laundry by using the equipment and methods employed by housewives prior to the invention of motor operated or electric washing machines?

Homemakers of this generation may have a difficult time trying to imagine what it was like to use such crude laundry methods.

Standard equipment in those days consisted of a large copper boiler (now a collector's item), a wood or coal range on which the water was heated, a couple of large wash tubs, a scrub board, scrub brush, wash bench, homemade soap, ammonia, blueing (liquid or ball blueing) a couple of pails, clothes stick to lift the boiling hot clothes out of the boiler, a clothes line and wooden clothes pins.

Often water was pumped late Sunday and the water carried in to fill the boiler in order to get an early start on Monday. Some women soaked the white clothes overnight.

The homemade soap was shaved into very small bits. In the morning a hot fire was built in the kitchen range and the boiler moved to the hottest part of the stove top to boil the white clothes. The big wash tub was brought into the back room or kitchen and put on two chairs or the wash bench.

Another tub for rinsing the clothes was put nearby and filled with water. Some women used another tub of water to which blueing was added to make the clothes whiter.

The clothes stick was used to lift the boiling clothes from the boiler and convey them to the wash tub where they were scrubbed up and down on the corrugated scrub board. The scrubbing was not only hard on the clothes but also on the individuals back and fingers.

When the washer woman thought the clothes were clean, she wrung them as dry as possible by hand, rinsed them wrung them out again, and then rinsed them in the blueing water. Then the clothes were ready to be hung on the closthes line to dry.

After the white clothes were washed and rinsed, the housewife started on the light colored clothes and continued until she ended with the dirty work clothes. Doing the laundry for a large family was indeed hard work and required several hours.

Drying clothes outside on nice warm sunny days was not too bad, but trying to dry clothes during the winter months was not easy, especially when the garments froze stiff as boards.

Fingers became numb with cold trying to pin the clothes onto the clothes line. Taking the frozen clothes off the line late in the day was a cold task.

Doing the family laundry in the days when those old methods were used was hard work and took hours of time but seldom if ever did those hard working women complain.

Because much of Monday was spent doing the laundry (Monday definitely was wash day), the housewife planned a simple meal. In many homes the main dish on wash day was a boiled dinner.

In preparing a boiled dinner some used corned beef or a ham bone. After cooking that until nearly done, potatoes, carrots, onions, turnips, and a head of cabbage cut into wedges was added.

The boiled dinner served from a large platter with plenty of thick slices of homemade bread, good dairy butter (farm made), and dessert made a satisfying meal.

When the manually operated washing machines came into common use, housewives found wash day much easier. The conventional wringer type washer was a still greater improvement and appreciated by women.

Now, what would those dear old ladies who labored so hard doing the family laundry think of today's automatic washers and dryers? It is doubtful if anyone of them ever so much as dreamed of our modern laundry facilities.

NELL GRAY CELEBRATES 95th

Brittonite Honored

BRITTON — Mrs. Nell Gray, oldest Britton resident, was pleasantly surprised Tuesday afternoon when a group of thoughtful neighbors dropped in to help celebrate her 95th birthday anniversary with her. A beautiful decorated birthday cake, made by Diane Davila, highlighted the special occasion.

Nell (Pocklington) Gray, born Oct. 14, 1880 in the Britton area, married Garfield Gray, a farmer from Deerfield in 1906. They lived on a farm north of Britton for several years before moving into the village. Mr. Gray died in 1956.

She has one son, Jimmy, and two grandchildren, Todd and Michele in Ann Arbor.

Neighbors say that even though she is 95, she does some ironing, bakes cookies, washes windows and a lot of other small household jobs. She has a woman who lives in with her during the week, but she is not one to be waited on.

She is well liked by her neighbors who take good care of her.

Indians Swoop Down On Falcons

Defusing a Monroe Catholic Central scoring drive late in the fourth quarter that would've spelled defeat, the Indians came out on top of the Falcons Friday night 20-8 before an enthusiastic Homecoming crowd.

Tecumseh held a slim 13-8 advantage with seven minutes left on the clock. Monroe was in Tecumseh territory when Indian Doug Bunch intercepted a pitch-out racing 66 yards for the score.

The Indians were first on the board in the second quarter with a one yard run by Jim Egbert. Ken Biscupski kicked the extra point. Leading ground gainer for Tecumseh, Linvel Lisenbee, made the next Tecumseh score, a nine yard run with the kick failing in the third quarter.

Catholic Central pulled themselves together grabbing their first and only score in the fourth frame with a 13 yard pass play from quarter Mike Gonyea to Mike Beaudry. Beaudry ran in the extra points as well.

Tecumseh carved out 252 yards on the ground with Linvel Lisenbee picking up 170 yards himslef in 23 carries. Jim Egbert added 50 yards on 12 carries. The Falcons came through with 146 yards rushing on 38 carries.

In the air, Tecumseh completed four of eight passes for 49 yards and lost that one important interception by Bunch.

The Indians nailed down 15 first downs to the Falcon's eight.

Each squad suffered four penalities with Tecumseh losing 30 yards and CC fifty yards.

The Indians are now 3-2 overall and 3-1 in the league. They are tied for second place in the Huron League with Flat Rock and Carlson. Grosse Ile is on top of the pack registering a 4-0 record.

Tecumseh hosts Airport this Friday.

Britton Bashed By St. Thomas

In a battle for the Tri-County Conference lead Ann Arbor St. Thomas defeated Britton 12-0 last Friday.

The first half was a defensive struggle. St. Thomas got a break when Britton fumbled and the Irish recovered it on the Tory 25 yard line. The Tory defense held however.

Britton's deepest penetration was to the St. Thomas 28 yard line where the Irish then intercepted a Britton pass to stop the threat.

In the third quarter, St. Thomas marched 71 yards for a touchdown in eight plays with Irish quarterback John Wright passing to Steve Smith for 33 yards and a touchdown. The extra point kick failed. The Tories took the Irish kick off and marched down to the St. Thomas 37 yard line, but a penalty stopped the drive.

Late in the fourth quarter St. Thomas punter Mark Kelly kicked the ball out of bounds at the Britton one yard line. With time running out, the Tories had to go to the air. St. Thomas' Jim Driscoll intercepted a Randy Smith pass returning it 22 yards for the final score of the night.

For St. Thomas, John Wright and Jim Driscoll were outstanding offensively and Paul Sherger played a fine game defensively. They picked up 139 yards rushing and 66 yards passing for 205 yards in total offense. They had nine first downs.

For Britton, Rudy Montalvo was the leading rusher with 66 yards. The Tories picked up 84 yards rushing and 12 yards passing for a total offense of 96 yards and five first downs.

Defensively Dave Wielfaert had 11 tackles and Craig Wagenschutz had 10 tackles.

St. Thomas is now 4-0 in the Conference and 4-1 overall. Britton is 3-1 in the league play and 4-1 overall.

Girls Destroy Huron, 79-16

by Frank Weir

It will come as no shock to anyone that Tecumseh's girl cage squad wiped out another opponent last Wednesday.

A hapless New Boston Huron team was the latest victim of the Indian machine falling by an embarrassing 79-16 score.

But then Tecumseh has the habit of winning big. Their latest victory marked the 28th straight win for the Indians posting a 6-0 overall record for this season.

Tecumseh came out roaring against Huron racking up an amazing 24 points in the first quarter compared to a miserable four points for the opposition.

The second frame was an equal eight and eight with the second string in for the starters. In the third stanza, coach Diane Nelson mixed second string with starters resulting in 21 points for Tecumseh and just two for Huron.

And the fourth quarter resulted in 26 points for Tecumseh and another two for Huron.

Melinda Ternak came out with scoring honors garnering 20 points. She was followed by Julie Anderson with 13, Sue Brown, 12, Tori Iffland eight, Jan Stevens, Grace Burns and Debbie Steadley each with six, Cindy Wright four, Peg Upell and Kriss Underwood each with two.

Anderson led in rebounds with 12 followed by Steadley with 11.

The junior varsity won theirs 37-11 with Robin Isom leading the scoring with nine. The JV squad is 4-0 in the league.

The girls travel to Flat Rock this Wednesday. The Rams are 4-0 in league play. On Wednesday of next week, the team hosts St. Mary's.

Nelson expects some stiff competition from St. Mary's whose coach has vowed that they "will not lose to Tecumseh."

The Indians have their own theory about that, however.

Redskin Runners Lose

Clinton cross country lost to a tough Addison squad on Wednesday of last week but pulled together for the Dundee Invitational on Saturday.

Addison overpowered Clinton by a 15 to 46 score. Addison is currently rated No. 1 in the state by the Cross Country Coaches Association and the squad gave Clinton little reason to doubt that rating.

Addison's top two runners broke their course record and they had only a 52 second gap between their top five men.

Wally Pike again led the Redskins finishing sixth at 17:54, Chris Wojtowicz was seventh at 18:04, Jody Swain 11th at 18:38, Mark Prichard was 12th at 18:46, Jim Klanke was 15th, Dave Rafferty 18th and John Dotson 19th. Clinton is now 5 and 3 overall and 1 and 2 in the LCAA.

The Redskins made a good showing at the Dundee Invitational Saturday finishing fifth in a tough field of ten teams with 139 points.

Wally Pike led the Redskins finishing 14th among the field of over 60 runners. His time was 17:55 over the long, winding three mile Dundee course.

Chris Wojtowicz was 24th at 18:22, Mark Prichard 26th at 18:39, Jody Swain was 36th at 18:58, and Jim Klanke finished out the scoring by finishing 39th at 19:19.

Other Clinton places were a 48th by Dave Rafferty and a 52nd by John Dotson. The meet was won by Addison with 30 points.

Harriers Fall to Devils

Tecumseh's cross country squad lost a heart breaker to Grosse Ile last Thursday. The Red Devils beat the Indians by just one point 27-28.

Grosse Ile took the first two places with Indian Jim Harris taking the third spot at 17:10. Kent Norris was fourth at 17:12, Brad Sisson sixth at 17:19, Steve Medvecz seventh at 17:20 and Dave Bilkie eighth at 17:32.

The squad traveled to the Mason Invitational on Saturday finishing sixth out of 13 teams with 161 points. Lansing Hill won it with 59 points.

Tim Scheff placed 14th for the Indians at 16:26. Jim Harris was 33rd, STeve Medvecz 35th, Kent Norris 38th, and Brad Sisson 41st.

Tecumseh now posts a 4-5 overall record and 2-4 in the league.

They meet Carlson Thursday, attend the Hudson Invitational Saturday and attend the league meet next Tuesday in Monroe.

JV's Win

The junior varsity defeated Catholic Central 16-0 last Thursday. Touchdowns were scored by Dick Cangley on a one yard burst, and by Jeff Robideau from 16 yards out. Robideau scored on both extra point runs.

The JV defense held their opponents to no yardage and allowed them to cross the 50 yard line only once. Butch Harvey and Max Sackett each had an interception for Tecumseh.

The JV squad posts a 4-0 overall record.

Panthers Rip Up Redskins

Clinton Redskins had their hands full with grid powerhouse Addison last Friday losing to the Panthers 48-12.

Addison quarterback Mark Hadden had a field day completing nine of 10 passes for 189 yards and two touchdowns. Total offense for the squad ended at 375 yards while Clinton came up with 269 yards.

Addison's first touchdown came on a 20-yard pass play from Hadden to Bob Baker in the first quarter. They added two more scores in the second frame and opened the second half scoring with a 34-yard scramble by Hadden.

Clinton got on the board for the first time with a 20 yard pass from Phil Erickson to tight end David Tallman. The extra point try failed. The Panthers added two more touchdowns on short runs before Clinton scored again on a four yard run by Terry Higgins.

Head coach Don Eaton commented on the game, "We took quite a trouncing by the score, but there was a lot more positive things this week. We had probably as tough a task as anyone playing four out of five rated teams in our first games."

Clinton hosts Onsted this Friday night.

Golfers Down Carlson, Third In Regionals

Tecumseh's golf squad finished up its regular dual meet season with a victory over Carlson 145-159 on Wednesday of last week. They went on to Burr Oak Golf Course in Parma last Saturday to place third in the Class B regionals which will allow them to participate in state competition this Saturday in Battle Creek.

That 145 score against Carlson was a new school record for the Indians. Doug Jacobs was medalist with an even par 34. And that's a new record low medalist score.

John Gibson, Scott Macbeth, and Steve Lynch came in at 37 followed by Jeff Steiner at 38 and Dave Bauman at 39. Filling the record book, it must be noted that these scores mark the first time that all of the varsity finished under 40.

Tecumseh is undefeated after their dual meet season with a 16-0 record. In fact they haven't lost a match in dual meet competition in three years posting a 29-0 winning streak.

The junior varsity also won their match against Carlson 167-175 with medalist honors going to David Graf with a 40 followed by Steve Hunter and Keith Bauman at 42 and Mike Gower, 43. The JVs finished with a 10-2 record overall which is the most wins for them ever in a season.

The varsity traveled to Parma Saturday to compete in the Class B regionals taking third place with a 322 score. Parma Western won with 317 strokes followed by Hillsdale at 320.

Gibson was top Indian with a 77. Jeff Steiner was next at 80, Jacobs shot an 81 and Macbeth an 84.

Tecumseh travels to Raisin River Golf Course in Monroe this Wednesday to participate in the Huron League meet. On Saturday they go to the Bedford Valley Golf Course near Battle Creek for the state tournament.

City Approves Assessment for Sidewalk

A special assessment of $5,345 was approved by Council Monday night involving three property owners and the city for the repair and widening of the sidewalk on the west side of N. Evans Street from Trickey's Inc., to Chicago Blvd.

Despite Council's approval of the assessment, two property owners protested the cost.

Harry and Alice Morris, owners at 115 N. Evans protested their $734 assessment by letter and Hubert Van Camp, owner of Trickey's building and property protested his $927 assessment in person.

City was assessed $265 for its footage and United S avings Bank, $3,418.

Mayor Harold Easton told VanCamp that it is the city's philosophy that the property owner should bear the cost as an improvement to his property.

Sidewalk will be made 12-foot wide, an extra two feet to provide for the width of five planters that will be installed along that section to improve the sidewalk in the area.

WANTED FOR ROBBERY, KIDNAPPING

Fugitive, Holding 3 Men as Hostages, Killed Here

A 22-year old Ann Arbor man was shot and killed here early Wednesday morning after fleeing police and running a roadblock at N. Evans St. and Burt.

Dead is Ronald Osburn, who was wanted on armed robbery and kidnapping charges.

A Lenawee County deputy shot him after a county patrol car and Tecumseh police cruiser finally cornered him opposite the parking lot of the Herrick Park Bank branch at the south end of the River Raisin bridge on N. Evans St.

Events leading to the shooting and eventual death of Osburn started earlier in the morning when area police departments were alerted of an armed robbery in Washtenaw County and to be on the look out for a 1965 or 1966 red Mercury. This car was found abandoned at the Glass Slipper bar in Manchester.

At 3:59 a.m., Tecumseh Sgt. Jerry Anderson was on patrol headed south on N. Evans when he noticed a red van headed north and with only one headlight. He turned around and stopped the van, unaware of the situation. The van turned into the driveway of the former Irene Gallo residence, first house south of Burt St. on N. Evans.

When Osburn refused to leave the van and Anderson heard male voices shouting for help, Anderson summoned Officer James Stephens for backup help. Stephens arrived along with a county patrol car. Help also came from the Clinton police.

By this time county officers had learned of the abandoned car and were on the lookout for the red van. Osburn, arrived with a shot gun, had seized the van after robbing and kidnapping three men at the Glass Slipper bar at Manchester, shortly before 3 a.m.

He had the men tied up in the back of the van, and had robbed and beaten them.

While the van was parked in the drive, the kidnapped hostages pleaded with the police to let Osburn go as he was threatening to kill them. Shortly, Osburn drove out of the drive, across a lawn and fled into River Acres. Police chased him around the River Acres Dr. and Red Mill Dr. loop and back to the N. Evans-Burt St. intersection.

Osburn ignored a roadblock at the intersection and two shots fired by officers manning the roadblock. He then headed south with a county car overtaking him on the River Raisin bridge.

The county deputy swerved in front of the van and stopped blocking his way. Anderson in a city police car immediately blocked him from the north, pinning the van between the two patrol cars.

Osburn continued to threaten the police and his three hostages and attempts to smoke him out of the van failed.

Sheriff Richard Germond says "every effort was made to disarm the suspect and to talk him out of the van. He had threatened the lives of the hostages, and when all attempts failed to get him to give himself up, appropriate action was taken."

Osburn was shot in the chest while still in the van. He was taken to Herrick Hospital and then transferred to Ann Arbor where he was pronounced dead.

His three hostages — Phillip Ludwich, 21; John S. Culp, 25; and David R. Crauss, 20, all of Manchester — were taken to the local hospital for treatment. Two of the men had been beaten about the face with the butt end of the shotgun.

Other departments which eventually centered on the shooting scene included the State Police, Manchester police and officers from Washtenaw County.

Osburn, according to Tecumseh Police Chief Merlin Mowry, had a record. He was involved here in an unarmed robbery in August when he reportedly drove away with a man's wallet at the Clark Service Station.

Old Problems, Gripes Just Won't Go Away

By Kathy Brown

Two weeks ago at the Oct. 6 Council meeting, Tecumseh City Council agreed to experiment with the Standish and Globe Mill Pond Dam gates to remove algae in the Shough Swamp on Standish Pond.

Since then the city has added boards to heighten the Standish Pond Dam and back up water there. The Globe Mill Pond Dam gates were opened and flood control has been maintained basically at the Globe Mill Pond Dam.

An extra man was assigned to survey the water levels and together with the present employe instructed to do the same, the men have put in many extra hours keeping watch on the dam system.

Monday night, Mrs. Elaine Shough, 611 Outer Dr. told City Council that the experiment "worked beautifully the water level went up, the algae moved, the water cleared and the situation is considerably better — until Oct. 14," when, she said, "the bottom gates were opened more at the Globe and water in the Standish Pond was lowered.

She said the residents checked the water levels four times a day from early morning to midnight and that "this flushing action is not working at all."

"We're all frightened as residents that Mr. Zorn, (city manager) will let it go back to the old conditions. He said he's not rebuilding the little spillway."

Residents feel the added height to the middle spillway is essential to control the flow of water between Standish and the Globe and keep the water high and moving.

City manager Cal Zorn said that the boards were not added to the spillway in the race, only at the Standish Pond Dam, with the thinking that if the experiment proved successful the middle spillway would not need to be altered and the city could use the lower spillway to keep ahead of the water at the Globe Mill Pond Dam.

Last Friday, Mrs. Shough delivered a letter to the manager requesting that the city make application to clean the Standish area in back of the Shough and Buenaflor residences, the cost to be paid by the residents. The offer is conditional that the swamp condition be permanently replaced with high, moving water.

City employes, Dave Williams, who checked the dams last year, and John Curth who checks the dams this year, were present at Council Monday night to answer questions about the two week experiment. The city also kept a log.

"The only difference in the operation of the dams in the last two weeks is that last week the gates were opened at night. This past week they were opened in the morning," said John Curth.

He explained the two men were putting in extra time in the operation and changed the schedule because of other needs.

They explained that there was no constant water level in the past two weeks since the gates have been opened and raised every day. The water was especially low Sunday because the water was five to six inches higher than normal Saturday in the Globe Mill Pond and the Globe Mill Pond Dam gates were raised 10 inches.

"This is quite a hazard the way we've got it," said Dave Williams about the two week experiment. "This way, you've really got to watch it."

"A half inch of rain can raise the Globe 10 inches because of the way the gates are set," explained John Curth.

"My main concern is the dam. It has been close, but we have maintained it. It scares you to death to be in charge of it," said Williams.

"From the time it starts raining to the time it stops . . . you don't sleep, " they told Council.

Repairing the electronic alarm was proposed by Council and citizens to save the manhours. However, city employes commented that the instruction manual for the device warns that bad weather can affect accurate operation of the electronic alarm.

"I think the dam was built wrong in the first place," said Council Dr. Carlton Cook. "It should have been built with a big slopway instead of gates, so water would have gone over the top. I don't know why it was built the way it was."

Mrs. Shough told Council she wanted some guarantee that the dams would not be operated in the same old way. She didn't get any.

At one point Councilman Aden Mead seemed serious about hiring Mrs. Shough to control the dams, if she would accept complete responsibility at a dollar a year. She replied, yes.

"Ma'm, I'm not going to make any guarantees at this point. I'm going to do what's right for the dam." Councilman Cook told her.

Council adjourned without any other reply.

Meanwhile Mrs. Shough said she continues to talk to various experts and would have engineers further investigate the situation.

"The fight has just begun as far as we're concerned," she told the Herald. "Monday night was a complete renig as far as we are concerned, a save face routine for the Council and Zorn."

Decorative Light Plan Is Studied

City manager Cal Zorn was authorized by Council Monday night to proceed with a lighting plan for downtown Tecumseh.

Council and the manager felt that as long as the city was asked to investigate decorative lights, they should be added at the same time the sidewalks will be dug up for wiring the Chamber trees.

The downton tree planting and Christmas lighting project has been approved by the merchants. The Chamber of Commerce completed its drive for the project, raising $9,065 from 40 sponsors. Cost of the project is expected at $8,500.

Zorn told Council Monday that 18 10-foot high poles with globe-type bulbs would be needed to place the decorative lights between the trees. Double lights would be placed on existing poles.

Mayor Harold Easton pointed out the extra lights are an important safety feature. They light dark areas created by growing trees.

Zorn estimated the cost of project materials to be $9,400. He suggested Council use unappropriated Sesquicentennial funds.

Council decided to wait for a firm cost estimate and to re-contact the Sesquicentennial Committee for its reaction to the use of the money for street lights.

4-Way Stop Meeting Set for Oct. 29th

A four-way stop at the intersection of M-50 will be the topic of a public indormation meeting at the Franklin Township Hall Tipton, Oct. 29 at 7:30 p.m.

The placing of the signs has been deferred until after this meeting.

A spokesman of the department of highways will be at the meeting to answer questions about the intersection. All Tecumseh and Franklin Townships and Tecumseh city officials are invited to voice their opinions.

Low Bidder

Low bid of G.J. McLravy and Sons, Inc. for $20,100 was accepted by Council Monday night for the survey plans and specifications of the proposed Russell Road bridge over River Raisin.

McLravy and Sons designed the N. Evans St. bridge over the River Raisin and N. Maumee St. bridge over Evans Creek.

1975-76 School Budget Sets New Mark: $5 Million

A record-breaking 1975-76 school budget, reflecting an increase of nearly $700,000, was approved by the School Board Monday night.

The new budget totals $5,095,585, compared to last year's $4,412,436. It is not only a record budget but the first to ever top $5 million. Only 10 years ago the schools operated on a budget of $1.2, but inflation, coupled with a student enrollment increase of about 500, have sent costs soaring.

Of the new budget, 72 percent or $3,667,727 is for salaries, and 28 percent or $1,427,858 for non-salary or operation expenditures.

Board Passes Resolution

By FRANK WEIR

At a meeting of Tecumseh's school board Monday night, members passed a resolution supporting the concept of career education development in district schools.

The resolution was required to comply with Public Act 97, which was passed last year by the state legislature.

The Act calls for career education through all grades, kindergarten through twelve, and to "help kids to make wise decisions in how to relate to life outside of four walls" according to Elaine Elliot, Career Education Coordinator for Lenawee County.

Elliot, along with Tecumseh curriculum coordinator Wayne Kaiser and assistant junior high principal, Donald Berkley, addressed the board on their plans for implementing career education in the district.

Kaiser stressed that their goal this year would be to make people aware of the Act and work with administration and teachers in planning the actual implementation of career education next year.

Berkley stated that career education would be "infused" into regular subject areas using different resources. Elliot gave newspapers as an example of possible resources.

Eventually the state would have to set learner goals.

Supt. Robert Duhan told the board that the state has not made funds available for the program as yet, although that is a possibility for the future.

Other activities will center around the theme of witches for the Halloween season.

The Nov. 22 special at 1:30 p.m. will look at "Eating from a Mouse's Point of View." Christmas will feature the special story of "Nicholas, the Boy Who Wanted to Be Santa Claus" on Dec. 13, at 1:30 p.m. The January through May programs will be announced late in the year.

SQUIRRELS AND WALNUTS

The fall-type things began earlier than usual this year, didn't they? Everything seemed a bit off kilter, autumn's timing was slightly off schedule. Oh, I'm not complaining — far from it. That the fall fun started early just means that we have had longer to enjoy it. I am speaking not only of the lovely color but also that very special fall treat we have here at the end of Logan Street with squirrels and walnuts.

When word goes out that the walnuts are ready for harvest, the squirrels shift into high gear and are busy from morning until night. They work frightfully hard. I realize it is incorrect to read human feelings into animal behavior but sometimes it is difficult to resist.

Difficult being almost impossible. Thus although they do work hard it looks to me as though they were having fun too. Oh, I do hope they are — how sad it would be to work so hard and not enjoy it.

Fox squirrels are great walnut buriers. The process is always the same and has been described so often that I hesitate to do it again. Fast and furious digging with the front feet produces the hole, the walnut is dropped in and carefully tucked into place, then the squirrel uses both his head and feet to cover and smooth the dirt.

Finally a few fallen leaves on a bit of dead grass is used to camouflage the 'burial site.' Not long ago I watched a short film clip of a fox squirrel. It was taken in Northern Michigan and that squirrel was using the same patting technique that ours do.

Just think, if all the walnuts that are planted were left to grow, what a veritable forest of walnut trees there would be. Of course, all kinds of nuts are tucked away by squirrels and this, in no small measure, is an important factor in reforestration.

However, lawn mowers take care of the nuts which might survive the winter and begin sprouting in our yards. And no doubt many do 'survive' too because the squirrels could not possibly dig up more than a small fraction of what they bury.

This brings us to the question people always ask if I happen to have company during this hectic time. Do the squirrels really dig up the buried nuts and if so, how do they know where to dig? Sight, smell, good memory or just plain luck?

I have read no accurate nor well documented answers. From personal observation though I do know that indeed many of the buried nuts are later dug up and would guess that smell and luck are probably the most important factors.

Many many times when the snow covers the yard I have watched a big fat squirrel tunnel through the white stuff, furiously scratch and dig up the ground — and oh my, sometimes those front feet can really toss up enough dirt to spoil the pretty white snow — but after this work it is always nice when the squirrel lifts his snow covered face and proudly holds a black shriveled walnut in his mouth.

But that is winter watching, fall is the time for harvesting and storing. Most of the fox squirrels shuck the walnuts before sticking them in the ground. Holding them with their front paws, it takes only a few seconds to bit and peel off the tough shucks.

Nothing, of course, is much messier or dirtier than those icky nasty black husks. And the stain that oozes from them is practically indelible. It does dreadful things to peoples' hands and clothes — it does the same thing to squirrels' paws and faces.

The dirty mouths and front feet don't seem to bother them though and I must admit that when one of these hard working stained creatures scrambles up to the near-my-window feeder we all have to laugh at his appearance. Cute.

And now for the really exciting news — if all goes according to plans next week's article will be through a different window. The Duncans will be in Florida. Hopefully we will be watching egrets catching fish and not squirrels burying walnuts. I will tell you all about it next week!

Plans Told For UNICEF

Special plans were announced today for the youngsters of Tecumseh to join millions of American boys and girls in commemorating National UNICEF Day this Halloween in a 25th Anniversary celebration of Trick or Treat for UNICEF.

Under the auspices of Joyce Manwaring, chairman at the First Baptist Church, UNICEF Trick or Treaters will dress up in traditional Halloween costumes and visit homes in small supervised groups.

Instead of candy and apples for themselves, they will be asking for pennies and nickles, dimes and quarters to bring help and hope to needy children in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

"I can't imagine a better way for our youngsters to learn about international understanding than by serving a truly worthwhile cause," Mrs. Manwaring said.

"Literally hundreds of millions of children are threatened with malnutrition, starvation and disease in the developing world. They need all the help we can possibly spare," she added.

No contribution will be too large — or too small, she stressed.

The occasion of the 25th Anniversary should spur residents on to help as much as they can.

Just two cents can buy a pencil or an eraser for a school child or teacher to use. Just three cents provides three high-dose Vitamin A capsules, enough to protect one little child against nutritionally caused blindness for an entire year.

Since a Sunday school class in Pennsylvania started the ball rolling 25 years ago by collecting $17 for the world's children, Halloween and the United Nations Children's Fund have become virtually synonymous in the United States.

During the past seven years, the annual Halloween collection for UNICEF-assisted child-welfare programs has not fallen once below $3 million, and the overall total has climbed to more than $46 million.

Other representatives are Lois Rinehart representing Presbyterian Church, Pam Niedermier, St. Elizabeth; Iris Gage, St. Peter's; Marvel Steinhoff, Methodist church.

This year's drive will be held at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church on Oct. 27 starting at 4 p.m.

SL Firemen Hold Parties

There will be two Halloween parties this year sponsored by the Sand Lake Fire Flyes. The first will be a teen party for grades seven thru 12 on Oct. 29 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Teens may bring one guest and meet at the fire station.

The regular Halloween party will be Oct. 31 for children age one year to the sixth grade at the fire station at 6:30 p.m.

Questions about the parties may be answered by calling 467-2619 or 456-4926 or 431-2523. Each fireman's child may bring one guest.

Members decided to fix a food basket for a needy family in Franklin Township, members are to bring something for the basket to the November meeting. The Auxiliary will furnish the meat.

Items for the Christmas sale should be brought to the November meeting.

Sand Lake Annual Christmas party will be Dec. 21 with Donna Baker, chairman and Leona Smith, Marion Krapp and Sue Winder assisting.

The Auxiliary officers are Verna Parkes, president; Linda Erickson, vice-president; T.J. McDurman, secretary; Janet Rohda, treasurer; Anita Hankenrof two year trustee.

Appointed officers are Jean Rodgers, sunshine; Ollie Koons, reporter; Karen Clark, historian and Marion Krapp, 50-50 Club.

Li'l Abner Review

By KATHY BROWN

Whatever you do this weekend, the most necessary thing to do is see the Tecumseh Players present Li'l Abner for the final performances Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Community Center Glass Room.

The playwrights would be flattered to see how Tecumseh's "amateur" players have created a real family from the Dogpatch characters created by Al Capp.

The lead characters have come to life on the local stage with all the cartoon humor and charm.

Action of the musical takes place in Dogpatch, USA and Washington D.C.

Plot revolves around the theme of boy gets girl but in this case of Hill Country high jinks, its girl gets boy in the Sadie Hawkins tradition.

But a lot transpires before Daisy Mae, played by Tina Feezel and Li'l Abner, played by Mike Hiser, are united by Marrin Sam in the finale.

Feezel and Hiser work well together on stage, both adding warmth to their roles which makes them well liked as a couple, particularly in "Love in a Home," a duet.

The more immediate problem however is to find something necessary about Dogpatch to spare it from destruction by an atom bomb test.

The necessary reason that saves Dogpatch actually surfaces in the last seconds of the A-bomb count down.

Caryle McLeod as Mammy Yokum adds the right touch of mischievousness as the matchmaking, overbearing Mammy. With Pappy Yokum, played by Rick Vaught as her "silent" partner, the pair offer a cute Dogpatch version of the hen and hen pecked husband. Make-up is outstanding and contributes to their characterization.

Dr. Carlton Cook receives a political promotion from Mayor of River City to the role of Sen. Jack S. Phogbound, the bumbling, vain, do-nothing politician. Cook shows his acting leadership by uniting the cast in this key scene in the first act.

John Westol portrays Marryin' Sam as a likeable, good neighbor and guardian of all Dogpatcher lovers. He unites the cast successfully for a rousing chorus to hail Jubilation T. Cornpone, the town's bumbling founder, and to marry off Daisy in "Matrimonial Stomp."

Every cast has a member who leads particular distinction and personality to his role. Six foot eight (at least) Tom Studinicka, offers a perfectly hilarious performance as Earthquake McGoon, the world's dirtiest wrestler.

Every cast also has a versatile character actor. Ray Lovett is the man in this Players' cast. As Mayor Dawgmeat his rubber knees set your own a whirling to the country tunes.

Hurray for the musical trio, Betty Flanders, Carol Thompson and Patti Kinney. Though small in number they were effective in guiding the cast with good rhythm.

Jo Ann Cooley did an admirable job of choreography for the cramped stage. The simple yet animated steps brought the dancers "out" to the audience.

With all the talent Tecumseh has, and has collected from neighboring communities, it is amazing that Tecumseh doesn't offer a better theatre as a showplace.

The time has come to put Price & Pride together again.
If we can't do it, nobody can.

Price without Pride is no bargain.

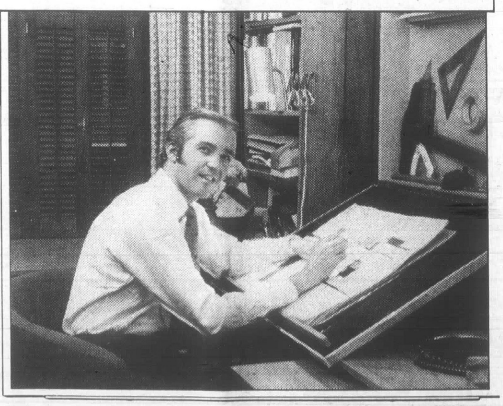
MAKING PLANS



Do you like to build things . . . a bird house or a skyscraper? If you are such a person, you know that plans are involved, often difficult ones. Usually we use the drawing board before we start building.

Making plans may be called foresight or looking ahead — and we all know that this is necessary whether building an object or building your life.

As you make plans for the future, don't overlook one of the most effective and time-honored aids in building a strong character — your church! Like millions before you, you may find just what you need to make your plans succeed.

Achieve success? This is what we all want and what we plan for. Start your planning now by going to church next Sunday.

The Indians had no problem blowing Carlson off the course last Thursday. Tecumseh won the first seven positions with Tim Scheff first at 15:47.

Scheff was followed by Dave Bilkie second, Kent Norris third, Steve Medvecz fourth, and Brad Sisson fifth.

Girls Rock The Rams, 67-23

Tecumseh's girls polished off Flat Rock last Wednesday 67-23 to up their cage record to 7-0 for the season and 3-0 in the league.

The victory was their 30th consecutive win.

Tecumseh outdistanced their competition 43-10 in the first half holding Flat Rock to 13 points for the second half while scoring 24 themselves.

Debbie Steadley grabbed 10 rebounds and Susie Brown came up with nine.

Brown led in the scoring with 16 followed by Tori Iffland and Melinda Ternak each with 12, Julie Anderson with 11, Janice Stevens with six.

The junior varsity won 43-14 with Grace Burns garnering 15 points and Janice Jahner, 12.

Tecumseh takes on St. Mary's this Wednesday night. Coach Diane Nelson confides that St. Mary's will give the Indians the best game they've had since Detroit Dominican earlier in the season. Nelson continues to say that they are strong outside shooters.

Game is at Tecumseh. The Indians also host Bedford Thursday night.

Golfers Second In State

Tecumseh's golf squad completed their season Saturday finishing second in the state in Class B competition. Indian John Gibson took state medalist honors with a 79 at the Bedford Valley Golf Course near Battle Creek.

In addition, the Indians won the Huron League meet last Wednesday with a 310 score. That victory coupled with an undefeated season gave Tecumseh league championship honors.

The Indians were tied with Jackson Western each with a 334 in state competition Saturday. Jackson won state honors in a sudden death playoff 18-20. East Grand Rapids finished third at 342.

Finishing behind Gibson for Tecumseh was Doug Jacobs and Scott Macbeth each with an 84 and Jeff Steiner with an 87.

Monroe Catholic Central and New Boston Huron finished behind Tecumseh in the league meet each with a 323 score. Gibson was medalist in that meet with a 72 followed by Jeff Steiner finishing sixth at 77, Jacobs eighth at 78 and Steve Lynch 13th at 84.

Tecumseh had an outstanding season finishing with a 16-0 record winning three tournaments and placing second in two others. They were third in the regionals. They've won 29 dual matches in a row, their last defeat coming in the final match of the 1973 season.

Indians Shoot Down Airport Jets

The Indians prevailed over Airport Friday 12-6 throwing Tecumseh into a four way tie for first place in the Huron League with a 4-1 league record.

Other teams in the tie are Grosse Ile, Flat Rock and Carlson. The Indians battle Grosse Ile this week and Carlson the next in two key games.

Tecumseh started this scoring in the Airport game in the second quarter with a 27 yard field goal by Ken Biscupski followed by a 13 yard run by Linvel Lisenbee and Biscupski kicking the extra point. Airport had attempted a field goal in the first quarter but Indian Dan Tilton blocked the try.

Dale Malone ran 80 yards in the third quarter for Airport's only score.

A safety in the fourth quarter for Tecumseh completed the scoring.

The Indians had 237 yards rushing with Lisenbee leading the pack with 130 yards in 29 carries. Airport came in with 121 yards in 29 carries. The Jets completed only one of four passes for eight yards losing two interceptions. Tecumseh completed six of 13 passes for 72 yards also losing two interceptions.

The junior varsity easily rambled over Airport 38-12 last Thursday. The contest was highlighted by a 92 yard kickoff return by Indian Jim Anderson.

The JV's are 5-0 overall.

Skins Win Tourney

Clinton cross country lost to Grass Lake Monday 17-38 but beat Onsted last Wednesday 27-30. Their record now stands at 2-3 in the LCAA league and 6-4 overall.

On Saturday, the squad had a successful afternoon at the Manchester Invitational picking up a trophy and six medals.

All races at Manchester were run by classes with top three men in each class counting in the scoring. Clinton won a trophy in the sophomore class run.

Wally Pike led the sophomores finishing fourth in 16:49. Chris Wojtowicz was eighth and Jody Swain tenth. These three also won medals for their individual efforts. Dave Rafferty and John Dotson finished 19th and 27th in the sophomore race.

Clinton sophomores totaled 22 points with Stockbridge finishing second with 24 and Manchester third at 40.

Pike finished first in the Onsted match at 16:08 setting a new school and course record. Clinton took the fifth through eighth spots.

Grass Lake had excellent depth to beat the Skins Monday. Pike was fifth for Clinton at 17:11 followed by Jim Klanke, sixth, Mark Prichard ninth, Chris Wojtowicz tenth, Dave Rafferty 13th, and John Dotson 16th.

Britton Skunks Deerfield

Britton defeated arch rival Deerfield Friday night 24-6.

The Tories took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards in ten plays with quarterback Randy Smith scoring on a one yard run. Dave Wielfaert ran over the extra point.

In the second quarter, Deerfield defensive tackle Larry Hoffman batted down a Britton lateral. He picked up the ball and raced 50 yards for a touchdown. The extra point kick failed.

In the third quarter Deerfield was forced to punt in its own territory. Craig Wagenschutz blocked the punt and recovered the ball on the Minuteman 20 yard line. Six plays later Dave Wielfaert scored from three yards out. Rudy Montalvo ran over the extra point.

The last touchdown came in the fourth quarter on a four play, 85 yard drive. Rudy Montalvo ran 70 yards for the touchdown. He also ran over the extra point.

The tories are now 5-1 on the season and 4-1 in league competition. Britton travels to Madison this Friday night.

Clinton Is Still Winless

The Redskins were hoping for their first victory in a long grid season Friday when they met Onsted. Those high hopes notwithstanding, the Skins lost the contest 33-20. Their record now stands at 0-6.

Clinton had a poor first half allowing the Wildcats to jump out in front 25-0 by halftime.

Instead of laying down and dying, though, the Redskins pulled together in the third quarter. Phil Erickson threw a nine yard touchdown pass to Doug Feldkamp for one score and a 63 yard pass to Ken Roberts for another. Phil Martiny ran in the extra points after the first score. The try after the second failed.

In the fourth stanza Terry Higgins hustled 30 yards for Clinton's final score. Extra point try failed. With a scant four minutes remaining, Clinton trailed by just five points. An Onsted touchdown with two minutes left sealed the Redskins fate.

The Skins had 255 total offensive yardage compared to 256 for Onsted.

PTO UNICEF Trick Or Treat

BRITTON — The Britton-Macon PTO has set Thursday night, Oct. 30, as "Trick or Treat" night for Britton children. All arrangements are in the hands of the UNICEF committee.

Halloween is actually on Friday night, and the change was made after a consultation with Supt. William Saxton.

There is a home game for the Britton Tories on Friday night, and it was felt that adding this traffic, to the already heavier Friday night traffic might put small ghosts and goblins in danger, for they would be out just when the traffic would be heaviest.

Thursday night is relatively free on the community calendar, and the committee will make every effort to see that the festivities end at a reasonable hour for a school night.

"Trick or Treat" begins at 6 p.m., when the fire whistle blows, and childen may continue, at their parents' discretion, until the fire whistle blows again at 7:30 p.m.

At that time they should proceed directly to the school gym for costume judging and refreshments.

Prizes for the Funnies, Most Original, and Prettiest (or Handsomest) costume in each group of boys and girls from pre-school to seventh grade plus. The prizes this year will be silver dollars.

Cider and donuts will be served after the costumes are judged. Games and amusements will keep the children occupied while groups other than their own are being judges.

UNICEF Trick or Treating will take place simultaneously with regular trick or treating. Those children working for UNICEF will be equipped with name tags and orange cardboard collection boxes from UNICEF.

The United Nations Childrens' Fund gives help to the hundreds of millions of children living in the developing countries of the world, without regard to their race, religion, sex, or the politics of their governments.

The fund assists children in over 110 countries in Latin America, Africa, Asia, and the Middle East. In Indochina, UNICEF is helping children in all parts of Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia.

UNICEF contribution will become water pipe's or pumps, high protein foods, medical supplies and vaccines, chalkboards and pencils, bicycles and boats, in emergency situations such as last year's Upper Africa famine, and in long-range development programs as well.

Contributions support institutions for training teachers, nurses, midwives, and other child care personnel. All aid is given under strict rules of control and supervision by UNICEF's field staff.

No money is given to governments—it is given in the form of aid to programs—and the government requesting the aid for its children must match that aid from its own resources.

Often after some years a pilot project becomes a national program which the governing agency of a country can carry out by itself. This is not a giveway program (except in emergencies) it is a self-help program.

Members of the UNICEF committee this year are Mrs. Judy Melley, Mrs. Arlene Porter, Mrs. Brenda Jordan, and Mrs. Connie Butler.

Next week's Tecumseh Herald will contain safety tips for trick or treaters, as well as more information on the evening's schedule.

Joe Prochaska Is Honored For Music

BRITTON — Joseph Prochaska, 10124 Pennington Rd., has been accepted into the State of Michigan Polka Music Hall of Fame. This honor is conferred upon men that have dedicated their lives to music.

This distinctive honor was bestowed upon Prochaska Sunday at a banquet and presentation program in the Hickory Park Hall at Ida. Music and dancing followed with music by the 3-K's, Harold Mitas Orchestra, Rene and the Good Times and Others.

Joe and his wife, Frances, have four sons, one daughter, and six grandchildren. He has been playing the accordion since he was 16-years-old and has inherited his musical talent from his grandfather and two uncles who were very talented musicians from Vnorva, Czechoslovakia.

A self-taught musician, Joe would play his accordion each evening for his family and at all the neighborhood parties. He plays by ear and from his heart.

He gained fame for his sing-alongs while he played his accordion at various picnics and other events. He has played in many parts of southeastern Michigan, Ohio and other states.

Joe had the honor of being invited to play with the Al Grebnick Orchestra in Texas and Oklahoma with Dean Hanson, as a guest.

Most of the monies received from playing he gave to charities, because Joe says, "That when God gives an individual a special talent, he should share it with others and not exploit it."

Boysville Has Tough Role

FACES FINANCIAL PROBLEMS IN MAINTAINING SCHOOL, PROGRAM

Brother Edward Overstreet, Director

By KATHY BROWN

Boysville of Michigan has seen a lot of changes since the Archdiocese of Detroit founded it in 1948 near Macon on a 360 acre tract given as a gift from Henry Ford.

Most significant is the change from caring for boys from broken homes to rehabilitating juvenile offenders.

In 1971, Boysville changed to an experimental training program known as Positive Peer Culture (PPC). The program, for boys 12 to 17, emphasizes that the youth care about himself and show concern for other people.

Groups of young men live, work and recreate together under the guidance of a counseling team: a dormitory counselor who lives in with the students, a group leader who works with the students in their peer counseling sessions and group teachers.

Working as a team, the professionals determine the daily treatment that changes with the youth's progress.

A good deal of the juvenile's problems are worked over in the PPC peer counseling sessions. They offer self-expression and self-help.

In the five, 90-minute weekday sessions, the youth gets a chance to relive the problems with home, school and the law. He is encouraged, but not allowed, to express his hostility. Once the hostility is expressed, it can be dealt with positively.

Before each session, a youth selects a problem he needs to discuss from a list of 12. The list includes problems ranging from low self-image to stealing, authority problems. The group then votes to tackle one youth's specific problem and then discusses alternatives to help him deal with his negative behaviour.

This program is non-punitive and is more humane than laying of hands on a boy. It rejects the "politeness game" in which juveniles learn to manipulate authority by acting good. PPC focuses on the youth himself and is designed to help him stand on his own two feet and deal with his problems and shortcomings with a positive outlook.

These boys respond to the treatment and caring from adults as evidenced by their respect for their teachers and counselors. The 14 brothers of the Holy Cross and six sisters are affectionately called "Bro" and "Sis."

The exceptional PPC program offers encouraging results. Director Brother Edward Overstreet said that through informal research made by Boysville staff, the PPC program has a 75 percent success rate.

Success of the program is measured by (1) holding a job or continuing school, (2) non-involvement with the police and (3) living in an approved situation.

Comparatively, Jackson Prison has about 60 percent rate of recidivism, commented Brother Overstreet.

"We already know what kinds of programs and institutions there are available for juvenile offenders. What we need to know is how do the success rates of these various institutions compare to each other," said Overstreet.

The PPC treatment program has made a drastic impact on the budget of Boysville. Education costs have soared because the program requires professional staff that can deal with the problems of juveniles.

Teacher aides also had to be hired to help teachers deal with paperwork and administer tests in the new "learn at your own pace" instruction system used to instruct these boys, who often have learning deficiencies.

Besides salary, the non-religious staff, which now outnumbers the religious, has other requirements: days off, vacation, sick days, employe benefits.

Boysville must meet certain requirements of state government to operate as a home and school for delinquents but once these changes are made, Boysville does not necessarily receive more money.

The boys' legal guardians, which are either the county, court or state, pay only for certain social services: room and board, salaries for dormitory counselors and food.

Still day to day expenses cost more than payments. Payments are also delayed. State pays actual costs of operation of a year ago and since it takes six months for the bureaucracy to check bookkeeping, Boysville is actually paid for the costs of these social services from 18 months ago.

Boysville has been forced to use donations, ordinarily earmarked for building development, for day to day expenses.

Its building development program has suffered by $1 million since 1971. There are real expenses which now must be met to keep Boysville an approved institution.

These include: at least $50,000 for repair of a 20-year-old sewer system, and more if the system must be replaced, a $400,000 outstanding loan for the new health facility (this was the first time Boysville needed a loan); costs to refurbish older buildings and replace 26-year-old mattresses, beds and other furnishings.

Next in line, Boysville would like to build a new student dormitory to replace an army barracks, moved to Boysville in 1948 from Fort Dearborn.

Air conditioning, for the year around school, is a desired improvement. A staff residence and new athletic facility could be considered once necessary improvements are met.

Most people mistakenly think because Boysville qualifies for government assistance and because the property once belonged to Henry Ford, it is supported by the Ford Foundation.

Since its founding, it has been assisted by the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic fraternal organization. But the $150,000 annual donation through a special membership collection is exhausted by day-to-day expenses.

To deal with these financial realities, Boysville has launched a development program and is approaching foundations, corporations and individuals to assist in financial planning.

Boysville is seeking concerned individuals who might be interested in using their influence and talents to formulate a development council to present Boysville's needs to foundations which might lend financial support.

A great amount of pressure is put on the 50 lay persons, employed in all capacities from counselors to kitchen help, and religious who have to be interested in the welfare of their charges. Each must serve as an example of concern to the boys.

Boysville officials do not deny these pressures exist for staff, but point out that this is a challenge one must accept in working with juveniles. Boysville has accepted the challenge working through the PPC program and is making a positive contribution to the development of youth.

Council Race Is Only Issue on City Ballot

A light turnout at the polls is expected here next Tuesday when city voters will elect three to Council. It is the only issue on the ballot.

Three incumbents — Harold Easton, Aden Mead and Wallace Whiting — are seeking re-election, while Len DeMoss is making his first run for a public office.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Following is a resume of the canidates:

LEN DEMOSS

Len DeMoss

Len DeMoss, 28, is a supervisor for the Ford Motor Co.

He has resided in Tecumseh since 1960 and is a member of the Jaycees and St. Elizabeth Church. He has two children.

"My basic reason for seeking office is two fold: to be sensitive to the desires and wishes of Tecumseh citizens and to work toward the goal of achieving a better quality of life in the city," commented DeMoss.

"All too often in the past, I feel the Council has been relatively insensitive to the desires of its citizenry. For example, in the past two issues of the paper, citizens have complained about trash bags. Yet at Monday's Council meeting, this was not even brought up.

"If elected I would attempt to find answers to unanswered questions such as this," told DeMoss.

HAROLD EASTON

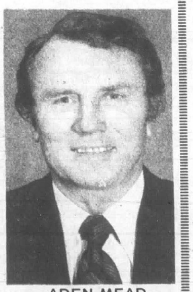
Harold Easton

Harold Easton, 51, has served on Council for 16 years, 14 as mayor. He has resided in the city for 41 years and is a retail gasoline dealer.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church, the American Legion, Rotary Club, Tecumseh Fire Department, Masonic Lodge, Lenawee County Sheriff's Department.

Easton said he is seeking another term because, "I have seen progress in the city, and I would still like to see some things done."

"The best way to make government more responsive to its citizens is for the citizens to make their wants known to Council. I have never refused to discuss any part of city government when citizens asked," he continued, "but many are apathetic and for some reason do not attend meetings."



ADEN MEAD

Aden Mead

President of Weather-Seal of Southeastern Michigan, Inc., Aden Mead, 61, has served two years on Council.

He has resided in Tecumseh since 1938 and served many years as president of the Tecumseh School District School Board. A member of the Methodist Church, he has served in various capacities.

"Responsible government" is Mead's primary interest.

He believes "every person must do his share, I make it my personal challenge to do the best I can to make government work at the grass roots level."

Mead emphasized "continued and increased attendance at Council meetings is the best way to get Council's attention on problems of its citizens."

WALLACE WHITING

Wallace Whiting

Wallace Whiting, 68, has resided in Tecumseh for 35 years and is retired. He has served on Council since 1969 and is a member of the Community Action governing board of Region II.

Interest in the city and in the downtown's re-development head the reasons Whiting said he is seeking re-election.

Regarding responsiveness to citizenry, Whiting commented, "Lowering the millage is in response to the people's need. The main thing is people don't attend council meetings...if they did, they wouldn't make the comments they do." He encourages citizens to attend Council meetings.

Circus at HS Gym Tuesday

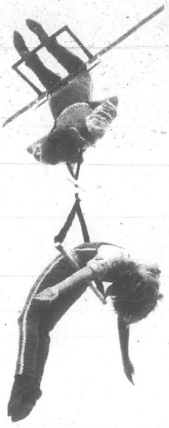
A three-ring, indoor circus will be featured here next Tuesday night at the Tecumseh High School gym with performances slated at 6:00 and 8:00.

Advanced tickets — cheaper than at the door — are now on sale at Lamb's Pharmacy, Flanders Music, Ken-Ray Drugs, The Chilean House, Party Shop and Tecumseh Country Market.

This marks the fifth year for the Voorheis Bros. Circus and it's said to be bigger and better than ever before.

Acts will include trained chimps, lions and other animals, clowns, trapeze artists, jugglers, acrobats, circus band and more.

Indian Fan Club is sponsoring the circus here with proceeds designated for various athletic programs in the schools. Don Brazee, assistant high school principal, is chairman of the event.



Halloween Plans Different; Chiefs Seeks Cooperation

This year, the city of Tecumseh has not designated a night for Halloween trick or treating. The fire whistle will not be blown to signal the start or finish of the trick or treating hours, as was done in past years.

Instead the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring three parties for different grade levels.

The first parties will be Thursday for all kindergartners through third graders at Patterson School and for all fourth to sixth graders at Tecumseh Acres School. Both parties are from 6:30 to 7:45 p.m.

Pre-schoolers will be at the Community Center Friday afternoon Oct. 31 at 1 to 2:30 p.m.

These parties will have costume competition.

Saturday from 7:30 to 9:45 p.m. at the Community Center will be a junior high record hop with cider and donuts.

Despite these activities, some of which extend over into Saturday, youngsters for sure will be out trick and treating Friday night.

Merlin Mowery, police chief, is asking children and parents to cooperate. He points out that traffic may be more than usual with a Friday night football game and dance here.

He says some young children will be on the streets about the same time as people will be going to the game. Local CB radio club will aid the police in controlling the youngsters and traffic.

20,000 Bags Are Coming

A shipment of 20,000 plastic bags for leaves are expected next week at city hall.

At the present, the city has depleted its supply for residents.

Cal Zorn, says free city pickups will continue in November until all leaves, and small limbs are picked up.

Check Robbery at Laundry

Police are continuing their investigation of an unarmed robbery last Friday night at Clothes Line Laundry.

Lynne Rowe, 18, Adrian told officers that she was preparing to lock up at closing time when she was surprised by two men.

She said the men took approximately $106 and fled in a car east on W. Chicago Blvd.

G&J Assets Auctioned

Assets of G&J Wood Products were auctioned off Tuesday with equipment and miscellaneous items bringing in approximately $50,000 and a top bid to buy buildings and real estate offered at $70,000.

A hearing for sale of the buildings and approximately 8 acres will go before Judge Rex Martin in Circuit Court next Monday. It may or may not be approved.

The top bid of $70,000 is about half the appraised figure and was offered by Harry Beland of Tecumseh Woodworking.

Bonds Sold

School bonds in the amount of $1,500,000 — for a new addition to Tecumseh High School — were sold to Michigan National Bank Tuesday night.

Winning percentage bid was 6.33675, edging out bids from Halsey Stuart, bonding house, and a joint bid by United Savings Bank of Tecumseh and Detroit Bank and Trust. Seven bids were opened.

The low bid is considered excellent and reflects the credit rating of the schools and community plus the schools' low indebtedness.

Fund Drive Off To Good Start

Drive officials of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation have only initial reports from various divisions but are optimistic about the 1975-76 campaign.

Residential contributions, usually slow in coming in, already are over $1,250. Special gifts top $2,000 at this stage, and first report from Fisher Body indicates a donation of approximately $10,800.

Tecumseh Products is expected to make its first report next week along with other industrial plants. Business or commercial, professional and school reports are anticipated as the drive enters its third week.

Money Bag with $278 Is Taken

A theft of $278.60 from the gift shop at Herrick Hospital was reported Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Ruth Jobes.

According to the police report, Mrs. Joseph Galazzi was working in the gift shop about 11:30 a.m. and left the shop to get Mrs. Marge Rohweder. A money bag, containing the cash and left on a chair, was gone when they returned.

Peliminary Study on Water Levels Now Underway

A preliminary study for maintaining proper water levels in the Globe Mill to Standish Pond areas was approved by Council Monday night at a special meeting.

Ground work for the study, an outgrowth of dissatisfaction from Herrick Park residents about algae and water levels in the ponds the raceway, began Wednesday following a meeting at city hall.

Cal Zorn, city manager, met with representatives from Ayres, Lewis, Norris & May, Inc., an Ann Arbor engineering-architectural firm. and the soil conservation district Wednesday morning.

It is now known how long the study will take but Zorn does not expect to have it for next Monday night's Council meeting, although the Ann Arbor firm already has done some preliminary investigations for the Herrick Park residents.

The special meeting resulted from a discussion last Friday between Mayor Harold Easton and two residents, Clarence Champanois and Morgan Ford. Easton told other city officials Monday night that he agreed with the residents' proposal, saying that the city "has some responsibility" and should engage engineers to study the operations of the Globe Mill and Standish Pond dams.

If the study privides solutions to the problems, Easton stated the city should proceed or carry out these solutions if economically feasible. Officials authorized $1,000 for the study.

Champanois was chief spokesman for the Herrick Park delegation, and the confrontation between the residents and city lacked much of the verbal harangue of previous meetings.

The pickup, owned by Calvin Rickard, Waterwheel Estates, Clinton, had been stripped. Both doors, all wheels including spare, and whole front end except motor, drive shaft and transmission were taken. Also stolen were two wheels from another vehicle and some tools.

Films Shown at Friends Church

What's Up, Josh?, a film says what young people need to hear in a way that will cause them to listen, will be shown at the Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church, 9500 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., Nov. 2, at 7:30 p.m.

The film has all the right answers and a college campus is the dramatic setting.

Tom, a philsophy student, loves Jean, a chemistry major. His reaction to "playing second fiddle to a Bunsen burner" causes his grades to suffer. Professor Murrell warns that "D is for danger."

While the conflict rages, Josh McDowell comes to the campus for an encounter with the students. He declares the Bible to be true, its position defensible, its message vital.

Tom's conflict brings discussion with both Josh and Professor Murrell, but it's a walk on a lonely beach with his Christian roommate plus a scholarly argument for the resurrection of Christ that brings light.

All invited to attend.

A Closer Look At Business And Professional Woman's Club

Hearing Loss is not a Sign of Old Age

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

Send for this non-operating model now. Wear it in the privacy of your own home to see how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 2118, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria Street, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

(Editor's note: In honor of Business Women's Week Oct. 19 to 25, The Herald takes a closer look at the local Business and Professional Woman's Club in a salute to all working women.)

Sistership for working women is not something new in Tecumseh.

Almost half a century old, the Tecumseh Business and Professional Woman's Club has offered working women comradery and an opportunity to serve the community.

"Business women are busy and they don't have time for lots of extra-curricular work. At these once a month meetings, a lot of work gets done," added president Betty Flanders.

Since its founding in 1930, the members has been interested in sharing each other's experiences at work and home.

"Can a Woman Manage Both a Home and Job?" was a program theme in 1932 and sounds very similar to the questions mothers and wives are still discussing in 1975.

"Working Women" was a dominant meeting theme through the war years. They studied the affects of war on business.

Historian Beulah Todd, who reviewed the history, noted that after the war, membership dropped perhaps because more women joined the working force. Membership is about 100.

Youth and the disadvantaged have always been important concerns to the club women.

Tecumseh's BPW contributes to the Loch Rio Home for Girls in Belleville, Girls State program, Cancer Society, Goodwill and to a scholarship fund for a music student.

The women also host a graduation party for the handicapped graduates at Tecumseh High School and assist needy families and medical patients. Other acts of thoughtfulness and practiced within the club.

Although the club belongs to the County Federation it is not a member of the national Federation because the local group feels it is more effective to offer community service where it counts the most -- in Tecumseh.

For these projects, the group uses its dues and has fund raising projects. Yearly budget averages about $1,000.

In 1940 the popular "Collect for Club Women" by Mary Stewart was adopted. It is recited as a pledge of rededication at each meeting.

During the war years and post war years, many programs had patriotic themes. This year's theme is "Patriotic Harmony" in accord with the Bicentennial.

Civic pride is part of this theme. Pet project of the club this year is to beautify downtown Tecumseh. Dedication of a park bench is planned.

In the 1960's and 1970's club programs reflected a growing interest in social issues -- life in prisons and adoptive parents, youth programs -- Boys and Girls State and Maurice Spears Campus, and fads -- astrology, fashions and crafts.

Fun is also shared with the December Christmas program, June picnic and March fun night.

Although the years have brought some changes in the social climate that have helped the working woman achieve new freedoms, the Business and Professional Woman's Club remains loyal to the community and interested in youth, and interested in sharing the challenges of working woman's life.

Homemakers Club Alumni Reunion

The Holloway Homemakers 4-H Club was organized in 1945. The club enjoyed an alumni reunion Saturday evening at the Holloway Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Mary Miller, a county 4-H assistant, spoke on how the 4-H has changed from the past to the present.

Dyle Henning, the county 4-H agent, spoke about what makes a good 4-H group and his experiences with 4-H and in Vietnam.

Special recognition was given by Mary Moll in honor of Mrs. Lois Ventz who for five years, lead the club. Diann Brubaker gave an accordian solo. Mrs. Jay Fisher made comments. The evening concluded with a sing-a-long with Brenda Marks accompanying on the piano.

A DREAM COME TRUE

Believe it or not, I was wide awake and chattering long before the alarm exploded. And just think it was set for 5 a.m.! The date was Oct. 15, a most exciting Wednesday. The Duncans were flying to Florida!

To make a short story out of the long, hectic and confusing job of packing, could I just say that our plane left at 12:25 p.m. and we were on board.

Actually, of course, there was much more to it than that. At 9:30 a.m. I was in the car; Mom, Wanda and Elizabeth were running back and forth between house and car with last minute boxes and suitcases; Dad and Dick were downtown taking care of a few final details. Finally things were as ready as they could be.

Ordinarily it would not take two cars to get three people to the airport. Nothing is simple with the Duncans though. Dad, Dick and my wheel-chair went in Carmean's car while Wanda, Mom and I followed in the station wagon.

The wagon of course, was packed full already for Bob and Gen. Hopefully we had left enough room for their bags.

Oh yes, as I sat in the car waiting, I almost laughed aloud. The record was not broken - the Duncans were getting ready to travel and suddenly the windshield was covered with raindrops.

Fortunately it was only a slight sprinkle and, by the time we were in the lounge at Metro even the heavy overcase was breaking up and blue sky showing.

I hardly know what to say about Metro. When Wanda first turned in and began pointing out various buildings - well, I just don't know what to say about its size and complexness. Mom and Dad had been there but I had not.

And quite frankly, I am still trying to get it all sorted out. Everything was so large and yet there was nothing I could really latch on to in order to get a proper prospective. A fascinating experience.

Dick had made all our reservations, and checked and re-checked them. Everything went like clockwork. Our flight was on Eastern Airlines, a Whisper-jet. It was a DC-9.

While boarding Dick even stopped my chair at the door of the cock-pit and introduced me to the captain. I had planned to remember all statistics, the flight plan etc. but truthfully, I was so busy looking and so excited that only two of the captain's messages registered. And I will not swear to the accuracy of them. But it does seem that at one time we were cruising at over 1550 miles per hour and that over Spartansburg, S.C. we were almost seven miles high.

We had wondered exactly how I would be 'managed'. Braces and wheelchairs sometimes cause problems. What happened was this - my chair was too wide for the aisles of the plane so two Eastern men lifted me from my chair into theirs, pushed me down the aisle and then lifted me into a seat on the plane.

My chair was checked through as baggage. On the plane the aisle was off-center thus allowing three seats on one side and two on the other.

We Duncans enjoyed traveling together. My seat was on the aisle - I looked right into the stewardess section and the cockpit of the plane.

What an assemblage of dials, gauges, switches, buttons, indicator lights and I don't know what all. It was amazing how much was packed into a small place.

The cockpit door was not open all the time, of course, but when it was, what a pleasure to watch how effortlessly the captain handled his ship.

The winning composition consists of a "Bicentennial Minute" and a commentary discussing the revelance of this "minute" for today and for America's future. Miss Faulkner also scored high on a current events exam.

The panel of judges in the competition included Mayor Harold Easton, School Board member Pat Tressler, High School English Department Chairman John LaSotta, and Student Assembly President Rod Turner.

Jane Faulkner will now compete with other high school winners to become one of the two state representatives to the national competition.

Two winners from each state and the District of Columbia will receive a scholarship of $1,000 and an all-expense paid trip to Williamsburg, Va. from Jan. 16-19, 1976 to attend seminars on educational and social issues and to be on hand for the selection of the national winner.

The grand prize winner receives a $10,000 scholarship and will have his or her "Bicentennial Minute" presented on the CBS television network.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips
423-5213

"Your eyes! I could lose myself forever in those lovely, limpid pools. And the shine of your honey-colored hair is matched only by the softness of it. Your profile is classic, and you move with grace no other creature knows."

I wish I could say that I am the object of this ardent adulation. I'd even be satisfied if they were lines written by Shelley or Keates about some beautiful ficticious woman.

But the truth is, this is my spouse's praise for someone I know very well — someone who is threatening my marriage, wrecking my happy home. Ah, the eternal triangle!

Bertha came to live with us not quite a year ago and wasted little time endearing herself to my husband and children. She is indeed, beautiful and to a certain degree talented. But I console myself with the knowledge that her lineage is less than pure.

You see, Bertha's father, "The General" was a handsome, devil-may-care Golden Labrador Retriever, and her mother was just one of the many he loved and left. Had General done the honorable thing, Bertha would not be what she is today: a mongrel.

But this family of mine doesn't care about Bertha's lack of breeding. They worship the very ground she digs holes in.

It's not been easy competing with this cunning canine cutie. Even though I can cock my head from side to side when high-pitched notes on the harmonica are played, my performance doesn't evoke the applause that Bertha's does.

I even mastered playing dead, shaking hands, rolling over and fetching a stick (even though the latter caused a severe case of splinters). And all I got for my efforts was; "You better get the vacuuming done before Bertha takes her nap."

But the kicker came last week in the form of a family edict. I am no longer allowed to watch my favorite TV soap opera because it's on the same time "Lassie" re-runs are aired.

And they say "it's a dog's life. . . "

Marion Is Accepted For PNP Training

CLINTON — Mrs. Donald Marion has been accepted into the Pediatric Nurse Practioner (PNP) continuing education program for nurses at University School of Nursing, Ann Arbor.

The program, which was only recently expanded from a class of 10 to 16, has been instituted in Michigan for only three years.

The program concerns well-child care, counseling of parents, testing of growth and development, vision and hearing.

Beginning in January, she will take four months training at University of Michigan and selected clinic sites. In May, Mrs. Marion will begin serving as a pediatrician practicum with Dr. A. Luz, Adrian, for four months.

After working in the field for two years, the PNP may take state board exams to become certified.

She is married and has three children.

Plan Ahead Apply Early For Funds

CLINTON Need help paying for college next year or in the near future? If so, Dan Schindler at Clinton High School says that now's the time to learn all you can about costs at different kinds of colleges, how much your family might be asked to pay toward these costs, and what you'll need from outside sources.

Then you can begin to find out about the various kinds of student financial aid — grants, loans, and jobs.

Financial aid is one way that thousands of students each year get money for college. But to give yourself the best chance of getting what you need, you must plan ahead and apply early.

As the first step in planning, get a copy of "Meeting College Costs in 1976-77," "A Guide for Parents and Students." It's a free booklet prepared by the College Scholarship Service (CSS) of the College Board. It is at the high school guidance office.

In addition to a valuable checklist of steps to follow in applying for aid, "Meeting College Costs also explains:

How to estimate your expenses at different kinds of colleges and what your family will be asked to pay;

How to figure out your approximate need for aid by using the worksheets and following the easy, step-by-step outline of the need analysis system used by CSS to process the Parents' Confidential Statement (PCS);

Where aid comes from and how to apply it from various sources such as federal and state governments, private agencies, and colleges themselves;

How and where to find more detailed information about different kinds of aid that are available.

Drama Club Prepares For Performance

CLINTON — Clinton High School Drama Club is preparing for their first performance to be given Nov. 14 and 15 in Clinton High School auditorium.

The play is a comedy "Everyone Loves Opal", in which three swindlers try to dispose of a sweet old lady in order to collect her life insurance. John Patrick is the playwright.

Cast includes: Opal, Chari Cadmus; Gloria, Darcy Schneider; Brad, Jet Thomas; Sal, Bill Stout; officer, Craig Durr; doctor, Greg Busch.

Mrs. Donald Geiger is faculty advisor, and she is aided by student directors, Sandy Porterfield and Liz Wolf.

The Bicentennial offers Tecumseh citizens a unique opportunity to explore our country's history, traditions, and values. Individuals and groups planning Bicentennial activities will find many ideas for programs at Tecumseh Public Library. Below are a few good sources.

BICENTENNIAL U.S.A.: PATHWAYS TO CELEBRATION is a general guide to planning a community celebration. Several chapters describe and evaluate other specific historical celebrations, such as the New Jersey Tercentenary and the Civil War Centennial. There are also ideas for projects, programs and events which could be sponsored by various community groups. The emphasis is on a thorough, coordinated planning. The author is Robert G. Hartje.

AMERICA'S BIRTHDAY: A PLANNING AND ACTIVITY GUIDE FOR CITIZEN PARTICIPATION DURING THE BICENTENNIAL YEARS is another general planning guide. It is compiled by the Peoples Bicentennial Commission, a group much publicized for its efforts to decommercialize the Bicentennial and use the Bicentennial era as a time to change our society in ways that bring it closer to our traditional ideals of personal liberty and equality.

AMERICA'S BIRTHDAY contains many ideas for programs topics and projects for schools, churches, and other community groups. It is especially useful for those planning programs to study current American values.

HOW TO PLAN AND CONDUCT A BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION, by Adele Gutman Nathan is a guide to planning a Bicentennial pageant. Emphasis is on organization, from naming a committee through costuming, rehearsing, and publicizing. Although aimed at a community celebration, the guidelines could easily be adapted to school, church, or club activity.

"BICENTENNIAL READING, VIEWING, LISTENING" is a pamphlet sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities and the American Library Association. It is a selected list of books, films, records and other materials designed to be used with the American Issues Forum, a 36-week program for individual investigation and group discussion of the fundamental issues of American life. Pick up a free copy at the library.

Peoples Bicentennial Commission has published several useful pamphlets which may be checked out of the library's vertical file.

"First Principles: the Platform of '76" contains many quotations from Revolutionary War writings. These are arranged by topics, such as Law and Order, Corruption, Patriotism, and Bureaucracy. They could be used as a focus for group discussions.

"The Light in the Steeple: Religion and the American Revolution" contains many interesting topics for discussion by church groups, including much fascinating background material on American religious history.

Readers of science fiction and fantasy should be sure to check the Young Adult section of the Tecumseh Public Library. Journey a world of magnetic storms which exists in the same space as ours in DIMENSION A by L.P. Davies. There you can find not one, but two plots to invade our own world using interdimensional travel.

For an assortment of short but special short stories, borrow THE GIFTS OF ASTI AND OTHER STORIES OF SCIENCE FICTION, edited by Roger Elwood. Andre Norton and Robert Silverberg are just two of the eight writers included.

You may like the futuristic horror story, "Stella," the ROLLERBall-like "Fireday: Firenight," or the story of "Betty Ann," an orphan who knew she was different but not as different as the mysterious visitor helped her discover.

Escape from reality, of the future, or today is found in STONEFLIGHT by Georgess McHargue. Janie finds the way to bring stone creatures to life; then she finds that they want her to join them in being stone!

Ray Bradbury's classic about the banning and burning of all books in the futuristic FAHRENHEIT 451, has been added.

As an independent agent we answer to one boss — our hometown people.

We represent several firms, but we work for only one boss—you. That way we can always place you with a company which we think is best for each line of insurance you need. Naturally, we prefer companies like Auto-Owners who look at a loss and take care of it right away, without haggling or delays. That's one of the reasons we're part of the Altogether Family. Like us, they're always there when you need them.

LARC Begins Christmas Card Sale

The Lenawee Association for Retarded Citizens (LARC) is beginning its sale of Christmas cards designed by mentally retarded individuals.

The National Association for Retarded Citizens Christmas card contest provides a means by which mentally retarded children and adults can express themselves through their artistic creations.

Teachers of participating artists praise the design contest because it provides an opportunity for personal expression and recognition which can be used to supplement and reinforce other learning areas.

Money spent on these cards represents a contribution to the local association for retarded citizens.

For more information on this program or information on placing orders, contact local chairman, Mrs. Raymond Bird at 451-5141 or pick-up a brochure at the United Savings Bank.

Proceeds from the card sale will provide for community-based projects of the Lenawee Association.

Next meeting is Nov. 10 at 7 p.m. at the Clinton Community Center.

Christmas Seal Campaign Begins

A goal of $18,500 in Christmas Seal contributions has been set for the 68th annual Christmas Seal campaign to be conducted in Lenawee County this year.

Contributions will finance lung association programs dealing with emphysema, tuberculosis, asthma, chronic bronchitis, and other lung diseases and illnesses. The related concerns of the air pollution and nonsmokers' rights are also important elements in the organization's year-round work.

Vern Manwaring, Tecumseh is a regional board member.

Christmas Seals are now in the mail to previous Michigan contributors, and this year they bear a special theme — "Christmas Greetings from the Children of America."

The familiar red double-barred cross on each Christmas Seal is the mark of the traditional Christmas Seal

Jewels & gems

By Dick Eggleston

In addition to the round brilliant, stones are cut in a variety of square, triangular, diamond-shaped, and trapezodial facet cuts. The use of such cuts is largely determined by original shape of the stone. Large rubies, sapphires and emeralds are often cut square, with a large table facet surrounded by a relatively small number of supplementary facets. The emerald cut, a slightly different variation has a total of fifty facets in all.

and semi-precious stones can be found at EGGLESTON'S JEWELRY, 107 E. Chicago Blv., 423-2715. Costume jewelry inexpensive as well as fine items are handled and we have Keepsake Registered diamonds for engagement and weddings.

The Village of Britton

EDITOR MARY MASKA — Please Phone 451-2161 — Evenings & Weekends

Trick Or Treat Thursday Night

BRITTON — Children in the village area will trick or treat on Thursday night, Oct. 30 between 6 and 7:30 p.m., with start and finish signaled by the fire whistle.

Children are asked to show consideration for families eating their evening meal and wait until 6 p.m.

After 7:30 p.m. all children and their escorts are invited to the Britton-Macon School gym for costume judging and refreshments.

Prizes will be awarded for the Funniest, Prettiest or Handsomest and Most Original in each age group.

Consider these suggestions for a safe Halloween night.

+ Include flashlight and reflective tape on a child's costume. Make sure the child can see completely.

+ Trick or treat in familiar neighborhoods only.

+ Caution children not to enter a house unless accompanied by an adult. Children should remain on the porch.

+ A responsible adult or teenager should accompany each group of children. An adult should always remain in the background.

+ All treats should be inspected before sampling. Be suspicious of "homemade" items. Quarter apples and candy bars or large pieces with a knife before eating.

+ Watch the traffic, cross only at corners, look both ways. Get out of cars only at the curb.

Householders should leave on all porch and yard lights; confine pets—which often react dangerously to exotic costumes and strange noises; drivers should exercise special care.

THE BIG PUMPKIN — Ron and Linda Rohrback have got to be the most successful pumpkin growers in the area. Heather Dicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dicks, neighbor of the Rohrbacks, is shown beside the 100 lb. pumpkin. The Rohrbacks grew 30 of these huge pumpkins.

The Rev. Dan Arnold of Berea, Ohio and the Rev. Carlton Cassidy of Yarmouthport, Mass. also participated.

Ordination was completed with the administering of ordination vows and prayer. Participants in these activities from Plain Church included The Rev. Tom Witzel, pastor; the Rev. Scout News

BRITTON — An outstanding performance was recorded by Britton Boy Scout Troop 23 at the Lenape Scout District Fall Camporee at Camp Kanastake in the Irish Hills Oct. 10, 11 and 12.

Ribbons were awarded to the top three patrols. First place went to the Jaws Patrol in which Gary Wilcox participated. Third place was captured by the Patriot Patrol of which Barry Hall was Patrol Leader.

Ribbons were also awarded to the top three patrol flags. First place was won by the Patriot Patrol with Barry Hall, leader. Second place went to the Bicentennial Patrol with Larry Wilcox leader.

Card of Thanks

To our friends and neighbors in Herrick Park. Mrs. Warren and I were pleased at the friendly response to the building of our home on Herrick Park Dr. We had put in many hours on the design and location on the lot. We hoped to complete the landscaping this fall, to give the evergreens a good start in the spring. However, because of litigation over property lines, we have had to delay until spring. We hope that all of you will bear with us in this matter.

Girls Whip 3

Tecumseh's girl cagers won three in a row during the past week stretching their winning record to 10-0 this season with 33 consecutive wins.

They defeated Monroe St. Mary's last Wednesday 48-36, Beford Thursday 76-15 and Addison Monday night 55-18.

St. Mary's threw a fright into Tecumseh fans when they jumped into the lead after the opening tip-off 4-0. The Indians battled back through and took the lead 14-10 after the first frame.

At the half Tecumseh led 26-20 and St. Mary's kept up the battle. The Indians picked up just one more point after the third stanza grabbing 11 for themselves and giving up ten. They held on Though, scoring 11 in the fourth period to St. Mary's six.

Sue Brown was the leading scorer against St. Mary's with 14 points. Jan Stevens had 10.

There was no contest against Bedford Thursday. The Indians scored 18 points in the first quarter to none for Bedford. At the half Tecumseh led 39-5.

Julie Anderson was leading scorer in that contest with 24 points. Stevens had 16 and Kris Underwood nine.

Tecumseh easily handed Addison a loss on Monday. Anderson was again high scorer with 16 followed by Stevens with 13 and Melinda Ternak nine.

Anderson led in rebounds all three games.

Next action for Tecumseh will be against Airport Wednesday night. A week from Wednesday, Nov. 5, the Indians play Grosse Ile.

The Red Devils are also undefeated this season. And for those who are superstitious, Tecumseh's girls suffered their last regular season loss to Grosse Ile two years ago by five points. Like next week's game, that contest was also played at Grosse Ile.

Coach Diane Nelson says of the upcoming battle, "We're taking it a little more seriously than others. Grosse Ile is capable of beating us if we don't play up to our capabilities."

The junior varsity also won all three of their games, 38-24, 52-13 and 33-10 respectively.

Harriers At Regionals

Tecumseh's cross country squad completed their season Saturday placing ninth out of 19 teams in regional competition with 261 points. Marshall won the regionals with 89 points held at Battle Creek Harper Creek.

Tim Scheff was top finisher for the Indians ending in the 25th spot overall with a 17:08 time. That wasn't quite good enough to qualify Scheff for state competition.

Jim Harris finished 52nd. Kent Norris 57th, Dave Bilkie 62nd, and Brad Sisson 65th for Tecumseh.

Redskins Pick Up First Grid Victory

It's been a long hard season for Clinton's grid squad. Having suffered six straight losses this year, the Redskins finally turned things around last Friday beating Grass Lake 32-16.

Three of Clinton's five touchdowns came on passes from quarterback Phil Erickson. Erickson hit Doug Feldkamp for 21 yards and the first score of the game in the second quarter. Casey Thilo ran three yeards for another score in the second frame.

Grass Lake came alive in the third stanza chalking up 16 points although Clinton picked up another six for themselves on a 64 yard pass play from Erickson to Phil Martiny.

The Redskins exploded again in the fourth quarter to put away the game adding 14 points. One score came on a four yard pass play to Ken Roberts. Second and final score came on a two yard run by Martiny.

Clinton had 219 yards on the ground and 171 through the air with Erickson completing nine of 12 passes. Grass Lake had 222 yards total offense.

The Skins travel to Manchester this Friday.

Redskin Runners Lose

Clinton cross country squad lost its last match of the season to Manchester last Wednesdy 17-44. And one of the runners missed qualifying in the regionals by just one place.

Wally Pike led the team against Manchester finishing fourth at 17:12. Jody Swain was seventh, Jim Klanke 11th and Mark Prichard 12th.

The Redskins ended the season with a 6-5 overall record the best record for Clinton in several years. And with most of the team underclassmen, the future looks bright for Clinton.

Pike finished 21st out of 110 runners at the regional match Saturday. Only the top 20 runners qualify for state competition. This was the third year in a row that Clinton's top runner missed qualifying by one place in the regionals.

Overall, Clinton finished 13th out of 18 teams. Klanke was 67th, Swain 71st, Prichard 72nd, and Dave Rafferty 84th.

Clinton hosts the LCAA league meet this Wednesday at Meadowlane Golf Course.

Indians Bedeviled, Lose Contest 13-3

The Grosse Ile Red Devils proved too much for the Indians Friday with Tecumseh losing in a tight battle 13-3.

The loss forces Tecumseh into second place in the Huron League. Grosse Ile, Carlson, and Flat Rock all won their weekend games and are tied for first place with 5-1 records. The Indians are 4-2 in the league.

Tecumseh's defense had problems fighting off Grosse Ile's passing antics featuring quarterback Al Ray. And the Indians just couldn't pull their offense together allowing three pass interceptions and losing one of two fumbles.

Neither team was able to complete a successful scoring drive for most of the first quarter. But, with 4:39 on the clock, Ray connected with Mike Sharkey for the 11 yard Grosse Ile score. The kick for the extra point was no good.

At the very end of the second frame, a pass interception by Indian John Egbert set up a 30 yard Tecumseh field goal by Ken Biscupski.

Another field goal attempt in the third quarter failed. On the next play after the kickoff, Grosse Ile's Dan Dailey caught a pass from Ray and raced 80 yards for the score. The kick was good.

The Red Devils intercepted a Dave Spillman pass late in the third quarter with the Indians deep in their territory. Two plays later, Tecumseh returned the favor with Linvel Lisenbee intercepting a pass. One play after that Grosse Ile picked off another Indian pass defusing the scoring drive.

Tecumseh picked up 130 yards on the ground with Lisenbee the leader at 57 yards in 18 carries. Grosse Ile had 53 yards on the ground and 148 through the air. The Indians completed four of 11 passes for 18 yards.

The Red Devils had 11 first downs compared to five for Tecumseh.

Tecumseh hosts Carlson this Friday.

The junior varsity beat Grosse Ile last Thursday 16-0 to remain undefeated with a 6-0 record.

Jeff Robideau and Jim Anderson ran 15 and 13 yards respectively for the Indian touchdowns. Anderson and Dan Yoder kicked the extra points.

According to coach Roger Young the defensive squad did an outstanding job during the game. Defense consists of: Dan Dehaan, Tom Conklin, John Silberhorn, Bill Tooman, Dan Yoder, Wendel Withrow, Jeff Robideau, Robin Coker, Mike Ery, Butch Harvey and Jim Anderson.

Score by quarters:

Tecumseh	0	3	0	0	— 3
Grosse Ile	6	0	7	0	—13

Tories Rip Madison

Britton-Macon Tories ran their record to 6-1 defeating Madison Friday night 20-0.

After a first quarter defensive struggle, Britton went in for the score on seven plays with Rudy Montalvo running three yards early in the second frame.

Madison drove to Britton's 11 yard line in the first half but Mark Willaert intercepted a pass to stop the threat.

Late in the third quarter, Don Benham recovered a Trojan fumble on their 34 yard line setting up another Tory score early in the fourth stanza. Montalvo again ran three yards for the score. Extra point was successful.

Final score came on a four-play 55 yard drive with Montalvo running 48 yards for the touchdown.

Britton had 264 yards total offense compared to 103 for Madison. Leading rusher was Montalvo with 162 yards.

Quarterback Randy Smith completed one pass, the only one he attempted, for nine yards. Mike Hintz led the Tory defense with 14 tackles assisted by Lon Wagenschutz with 12 tackles and Bill Lutz with 11. Wagenschutz had a fumble recovery and Don Benham had two fumble recoveries for Britton.

Coach Randy Salisbury said, "It was our best team effort of the season."

The Tories host Summerfield this Friday. Each team has a 6-1 record.

DEFENSIVE STRUGGLE — Tecumseh's defense swarms around a Red Devil ball carrier last Friday at Grosse Ile. The Indians had their defensive and offensive problems that night losing the contest 13-3. Only score for Tecumseh came on a 30 yard field goal by Ken Biscupski. (Photo by Frank Weir)

Local Club Celebrates

The Tecumseh Exchange Club celebrates 30 years of service to the community in the Bicentennial year.

Now consisting of only 12 members, the club's president Herbert Hoag said the group is interested in boosting membership to at least 38 members, the number of charter members.

The Dawn Patrol breakfast and airfield day at Meyers Airport is the annual fund raising event for which the Exchange Club is best known. The Kiwanis Club assists.

Proceeds from the event have helped the club of businessmen fulfill their pledge to support "youth, God and country."

Some of the many projects it has funded or assisted are the softball and hockey teams, athletic equipment (including athletic field scoreboard and lights), Adams Park, equipment for Fire Department and hospital, Boys and Girls State.

Reports $800 Loss

Vandalism and thefts were at a minimum here the past week although one resident reported a loss of $800.

Domingo Navarrette, 605 S. Evans, told police Saturday that a stereo, four speakers and a lady's shaver were stolen from his residence. Entry was made through an unlocked back door. Navarrette estimated his loss at $800.

Last Wednesday, Frances Wallace, 1325 Southwestern Dr., reported a rock through a windshield and loss of 18 gallons of gas while automobile was parked in Town and Country Apartment parking lot.

Also last Wednesday, Richard C. Benson, 22, was charged with possession of marijuana.

Hall Bates, 309 W. Russell Rd., reported glass damage to his car. BB or pellet gun believed used in the vandalism.

Don Wolfe, Sunoco Station, told officers that he was pulling into the station and saw two running from the area of parked cars. Investigation showed that a battery had been taken from a car.

Meet Nov. 24

Tecumseh School Board, which normally meets the third Monday evening of each month, will hold its November meeting on the fourth Monday, Nov. 24th.

OK Refuse Pact With Weaver

Maenard H. Weaver garbage collection system will continue in Tecumseh under a new three-year contract approved by Council Monday night.

Weaver's low bid of 48 cents per paper sack was six cents more than the bid three years ago. Charge includes bag, pick-up and disposal.

Two other firms, Earl Linke of Ypsilanti bid 70 cents per sack and Lenawee Disposal bid 52 cents per sack.

Responding to criticism in the press by citizens, the Council explained the merits of the paper bag system and heard supportive testimony from the audience.

Councilman Carlton Cook noted that complaintants may not have been familiar with the city's unsuccessful experiments with other systems. "This bag system may not be perfect, but it is the best there is."

Council members Ray Puffer and Mary Bowers agreed the bags were sturdier than plastic.

A representative from St. Regis Paper Co., told Council the present 30-gallon capacity bags hold twice as much as a plastic bag of the same size which costs 70 cents.

Replying to a question Mayor Harold Easton said only 50 bags are distributed to each residence with a separate water meter since that is the number packaged. Council anticipates families vacation for the average of two weeks a year.

Furthermore, "We feel more people need less than 50." Additional bags may be purchased at city hall.

Lenawee Disposal submitted an alternate bid for a card system. Customers would be required to use 1.5 mill or heavier plastic bags, purchased wherever they choose, and would attach a disposal tag, costing 35 cents to cover handling costs.

Council vetoed the idea as more costly and inconvenient to consumers.

Suspend Experiments, Await Engineer Study

With winter rain and bad weather approaching, Council decided Monday night to suspend experimental operation of the dam system until the city receives the report of the engineers studying the operation.

Engineer firm of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May of Ann Arbor told city manager Cal Zorn a preliminary report would be available by Nov. 12.

Council decided to remove the boards at the Standish Pond Dam on the basis that residents agreed to end the experiment with the approach of bad weather.

Dave Williams, city employee operating the dams, said in winter, rain has a 100 percent run off. Water running over the Glob Mill Pond Dam causes control arms to freeze.

Better control can be maintained at the Standish Pond Dam, which has four gates, than at the Globe's one.

Report cards will be mailed the week of Nov. 10 and include a letter for parents to fill out their student's schedule, with the student's help, so each of the subject teacher may visit.

Auditorium 'Nest Egg' Is Started

Tecumseh doesn't have a new auditorium yet, but Monday night Council decided to set aside a "nest egg" of $1,860 or 20 percent of the $9,300 Sesquicentennial profit as an "incentive" to build one.

The percentage was one of the suggestions by the Sesquicentennial Committee for disposal of the profits

Remainder of the funds, $6,510, were voted toward the cost of decorative lighting fixtures for the downtown beautification project.

Cost for the fixtures was estimated at $8,036 by J & X. Electrical. The $1,526 difference will come from city funds.

Tecumseh Historical Society also received a 10 percent cut, or $930, and to date has received $500.

DeMoss Beats Incumbent for Council

Although Tuesday's vote was light and there was only one issue on the ballot, the electorate pulled a mild surprise with the election of Len DeMoss to Council.

DeMoss, polling 424 votes, second to Aden Mead, who was elected along with Mayor Harold Easton, will succeed Wallace Whiting at city hall. Mr. Whiting had served on Council since 1969.

Vera Gardner, city clerk, reports a total vote of 652, about 16 percent of the 3,966 registered voters here.

A breakdown by precinct of the vote is:

Fund Drive Nears 65%

Scattered returns and reports of pledges indicate that the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive has reached approximately 65 percent of its $71,416 goal, Mary Bowers, drive chairman, announces.

Solicitations are still underway in most industrial plants. Local schools expect to complete their drive this week, but several divisions are lagging.

A few contributions for commercial have been reported as well as some from professional, city and residential. No report has been received yet from the hospital.

Members of the Century Club, a form of recognition for those who contribute $100 or more, now numbers over 40. Directors of the Foundation hope that establishment of the Club will encourage others to give more.

Indians Are Underdogs in Final Against Adrian

The stage is set for the finale to Tecumseh's football season. The Indians host Class A Adrian this Friday marking the 18th clash in a rivalry that has grown in intensity with each yearly contest.

Tecumseh comes into the game with a 5-2 league record tying for second place in the Huron league with Carlson. Adrian is having a good year, posting a 4-1 league record and guaranteed at least a share of the South Central Conference title. Only league loss was an upset to Jackson.

Tecumseh has won seven, lost 10 and tied once in the series which began in 1957. Last year, the Indians dominated the game, coming out on top 13-6. For all 17 games, Tecumseh has scored 155 points on the Maples while giving up 297 points.

The Maples will be heavily favored to avenge last season's loss.

The Indians have ben shut out five times and have blanked the Maples twice, in '59 and '68.

The orange and black will be losing 26 seniors after Friday's contest including, Mark Adams, Gary Beasley, Brian Bird, Ken Biscupski, Doug Bunch, Scott Church, Mike Creswell, Jim Egbert, Tim Eggleston, Mark Hunter, Linvel Lisenbee, Doug Nichols, Mark Noe, Rick Ruttkofsky, Tom Schwartz, Bill Smith, Brad Williams, Eric Baldwin, John Vanderpool, Rich Verebeck, Dan Forgacs, Tom Halasz, Dan Pizana and John Van Valkenberg.

Jewels & gems

By Dick Eggleston

Looking for the perfect gift for the person-man or woman—who has everything? Often something simple and usable is also the most memorable. A letter opener, for example, can be both beautiful and utilitarian. For the lady in your life, a delicate one made of gold or carved wood or ivory, perhaps. For the man who has everything, a fine bladed letter opener in copper, or brass, or silver, initialed, and chosen for him personally, can make all the difference between the gift that is forgotten, and one that is a constant reminder of you, the giver.

Beautiful gift items of all kinds are on display at EGGLESTON'S JEWELRY, 107 E. Chicago Blvd., 423-2715. We have a wide selection of Oneida flatware and serving pieces including Shelly, Plymouth Rock, Coronation, MozartpMadrid, Paul Revere, Louisiana, Frostfire, Venetia, Cherie, Modern Antique, Chateau, Lasting Rose, Capistrano and Nordic Crown patterns. This is the time to buy your holiday gift while our selections are still large.

GEM FACT: Good china grows lovelier with use, so don't save those dishes for "best".

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

First allow me to state that when we allowed the Vietnamese to enter this country, this writer was very much opposed to it for many reasons, one being because of our critical situation in the labor force.

I have been in the process of building a home for several months and have had occasions to require adult assistance in miscellaneous phases of the building project. Naturally I could not afford skilled trade pay but was offering $2.50 an hour.

A number of efforts were made to hire help on a recommended basis and promises were made to the effect that "we will be there" — and many never showed. Finally a decision was made to contact the Pastor at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Tecumseh and inquired as to Vietnamese assistance.

Through this inquiry, Mr. Le Dinh Hy, at that time from the Adrian area and currently with St. Elizabeth Church, in Tecumseh, came to work for me. Having Mr. Hy assist in miscellaneous phases of the building project has certainly been a most pleasant and rewarding experience.

He is cheerful, pleasant, sings a lot and very talented. He has painted, stained, assisted in some wiring, helped put up Cedar Siding, hung doors and numerous other miscellaneous things usually involved in home building. Rarely has he had to be instructed as to a method more than once. He speaks reasonably good English.

In summation, Mr. Hy has been worth far more than I could afford to pay and I would certainly recommend him as an employee either part-time or full-time and would certainly encourage the public and employers to give the Vietnamese consideration toward employment — Especiall Le Dinh Hy.

In Memory Of Son

Dedication plaques on two new reading machines presented to the Junior High School Reading Lab by Mr. and Mrs. Larry DeJonghe of Ridgeway will bear the name of their son, Eric, who died in a bicycle and auto accident last September.

A tutorette reading machine is equipped with a boom mike headset. Cards with printed words and sound track rotate through the machine. Audio cards will be used to fit the specific needs of the students.

A Sharp monophonic cassett recorder will be used to play phonics lessons, build vocabulary, read along with stories and work on other reading skills.

Residents Car Pool

Approximately one-quarter of a mile north from the intersection of M-50 on M-52 is a rough finished parking lot designated with a sign as "Car Pool Parking Site."

The only such site in the county, it was one of 52 sites developed by the State Highway Commission on state highway right-of-way to encourage car-pooling.

Use of these experimental lots at primary intersections has doubled in the last six months, said the Commission. Use increases with the approach of winter.

Average cost of each is $2,000 for simple grading, graveling, leveling and signing.

Most of the sites were selected on the basis that cars already were being parked near the intersections while the drivers rode in other vehicles to and from jobs.

Car-pool sites are unattended, with random parking and no cost to drivers. Heavy usage at a few of the sites might justify expansion, the Commission said.

A DREAM COME TRUE
Part II

Last week's article ended with the question, "Did the Duncans ever reach Florida?" The answer is that well, of course, we did. But I'm getting ahead of myself.

The flight down was lovely. Upon taking off from Metro we quickly climbed through a thin cloud cover and found bright sunshine and sparkling blue skies.

For the next couple of hours we flew over a world covered with a layer of frosting, whipped cream frosting that was whipped, swirled and mounded. The clouds truly did look good enough to eat.

As we got farther and farther south the cloud cover began breaking up. Over the airport we were practically in clear skies. Only a few cotton balls here and there.

And, as the plane descended what a thrill it was to see green ground, a multitude of blue lakes sparkling in the sunshine and finally palm trees.

In an incredibly short time we had made the transition form fall, with it's lovely colors, to mid-summer with its flowers in full bloom. Never once was there a hint of Old Man Winter and we did not miss him a bit!

But once again I am ahead of myself. Ours was a luncheon flight. The airplane was almost full, so the three stewardesses were busy every minute. At first we kept comparing this trip with last fall's, in just a little over two hours we covered the ground which then took an exhausting eight days.

Or, another way of gauging it — as soon as the plane was on course the girls began serving, and by the time we were enjoying our pre-lunch cup of tea we were well into what last year would have been the second day. Lunch was the third day and then we quit counting.

We were much too excited to remember all of the captain's information. He did a nice job of telling where we were, altitude, speed and even which air-control center was directing us.

However, there were clouds to look at, fellow passengers to observe, the friendly and efficient stewardesses to enjoy and a dog to watch.

A seeing-eye dog. He was a real beauty, a cross between a Labrador and a German shepherd. He had the build and markings of the latter but his heavier and broader nose was all Lab.

He was predominately black with light tan feet and facial markings. A pretty face. He was obviously a young dog and rather nervous at first, but the stewardesses all petted and fussed over him a great deal.

He soon found a comfortable position — laying down with front paws and head in the aisle, he apparently did not feel so cooped up and quit shaking. This was his only sign of nervousness, never did he forget his superb training.

His master explained that they had graduated from the Lions sponsored school for seeing-eye dogs on Oct. 2. George was indeed a young dog, only 17 months old. Oh, imagine such manners at that age!

The man also said that he was the oldest person to have ever graduated. A most interesting gentleman.

His dog, of course, delighted in all the attention and petting but, when one of the girls brought him a plate of food, and a dish of water, he touched neither until his master gave them to him.

Once the plane landed at the Tampa Airport, Dick's well-made arrangements went into action again. I had been first to board at Metro and was last off here.

Two Eastern Airline men lifted me from the airplane seat to an airline chair, pushed me down the narrow aisle of the airplane into the boarding area where they lifted me into a wheelchair.

Then a sky-cap took over. Through numerous corridors, two elevators and a monorail type people mover, we finally arrived when the luggage and my wheelchair were waiting.

This is where the young man who was driving the wheelchair transportation van met us. I felt just like Iron-The van had a side-opening and a hydraulic lift, it was great. In no time at all we were at Sun Valley where Auntn, Rog and Penny gave us a marvelous welcome.

It is still hard to believe that we could have breakfast in Tecumseh, lunch in an airplane and dinner in Tarpon Springs.

For all of us Oct. 15 will long be remembered as a red-letter day. A dream come true day.

You Told Us

by Kathy Brown

Most of my life has been spent living in metropolitan areas, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Washington, D.C., where crime is higher and the chances of being a victim forces one to take preventive measures. Doors are locked. Keys are kept in a safe place when not on the person.

Though the criminal element may be a part of living in the big city, cautious habits should not be abandoned.

I can't help but shake my head when I see a driver leave the car motor running while he or she runs into the store "for a quick minute."

The next minute, that driver may be chasing the car with an unknown driver in it.

Those who disapprove of crime, particularly juvenile crime should take a minute to reflect on personal habits. Are we encouraging crime with carelessness?

Complaint Is Heard

CLINTON — In other action Monday night, Clinton Village Council approved a request by Charles Noragon to build two permanent horseshoe courts at the south side of the fireman's cabin, with location subject to approval by the fire board.

Oak Tree respresentatives requested acceptance of street and drainage in the new areas of the subdivision. Since FHA loans hinge on council's approval, a special meeting was set for Nov. 10 at 8 p.m. to expedite this matter. A performance bond and guarantee will be required from the street contractor.

A possible new electrical rate structure was also discussed Monday.

Council agreed to allow village engineers to advertise for bids by next council meeting for: A) connecting Well No. 4 into water system and B) provide second river crossing near well site.

Bidders must bid on A, and have option to bid on B.

Need for a new flood plain map was explained by Sharpe.

Gilbert Hill brought a large box full of one day's collection of castoff bottles and cans from the vacant lot beside his business place. Council approved appropriate notice of complaint be conveyed to adjacent business owner by officer Frank Becker.

Council went into executive session at conclusion of the lengthy regular meeting.

Sewer Proposel Generates More Heat Than Light

CLINTON — More heat than light was generated on the subject of the proposed sewer treatment plant at the meeting of Clinton Village Council, Monday night, as more than 70 citizens jammed the council chambers, with standing room only.

Considered first was the verbal resignation of councilman Dale Sourbeck, who has moved from the village. Resignation was accepted with regret.

President Clayton Strolle then appointed Dr. Richard Dixon to serve the remainder of the vacancy and he was immediately seated. Dixon had served previously on the council for several years.

Edwin Platt served as spokesman for the citizens present, who had appeared in response to a letter circulated in the village stating concern for the cost of the proposed sewer plant to property owners.

Village engineer Richard Sharpe explained that the present sewer system serves 700 households in the village, and is actually on a series of settling tanks, with the chlorine treated affluent dispersed into the River Raisin.

Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has indicated this system will no longer comply with Michigan Health Department or national health standards.

Sewer plant projected for 20 years to meet EPA suggested requirements would need to accommodate some 4,000 people, and include the immediate growth area bounded by Lima Center Rd., Pennington Rd. and Hogan Rd., Sharpe said.

When certain citizens asked if it were possible to plan for the immediate needs of the present rather than 20 years hence, Sharpe noted that there are about 103 houses already on the drawing board for the community and the council must take this growth into account in its plans.

Present utility rates raise some $52,000 in water funds and $40,000 in sewer funds and each of these departments is carrying a surplus of $15,000 to $20,000 at present.

Currently sewer treatment costs are approximately $20,000 per year, to operate the sewer system built in 1939.

Dale Sourbeck arrived at about this point in the proceedings, submitted his written resignation, and made a statement suggesting that a second engineering firm be engaged to review any plan for the proposed sewer equipment so more than needed not be ordered.

Sharpe stated that only a feasibility study had been completed. About the prospect of acceptance 80 percent of Federal funds, 20 percent financed locally, he said, "If you want 80 percent Federal money, you do what the government says."

Attorney Melvin Smith said he was still working on a proposed contract with the engineers, Ayres, Lewis, Norris, and May. A flat fee basis will be offered, with the clause that nothing be actually started until authorized by the council, pending appropriation of Federal Government funds and arrangements made for the raising of the local share of funds.

Smith said it was necessary to hire an engineering study before specific costs can be determined.

Council voted to hold the necessary public meeting to inform the public of the specifics of the proposed sewage plant.

Spina Is Named To Library Board

CLINTON — Supervisor Harry Comstock read a letter of resignation from Lee Groeb, president of the Clinton Township Library Board, at the meeting of the Clinton Township Board, Monday night. Resignation dated Oct. 20 was immediately effective.

Library Board vice-president, John Colton, reported he called a recent special meeting of the library board to accept the resignation and to consider possible persons to fill the vacancy. He submitted the library board's recommendation of Dennis Spina for the vacancy.

Township board accepted the suggestion and named Dennis Spina to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the term, until Nov. 1976. Spina operates a nursery business west of the village.

Board voted to accept the agreement to transfer Riverside Cemetery from Clinton Cemetery Association to Clinton township as drawn up by Attorney Melvin Smith.

Board also accepted the agreement of operation and maintenance of the Riverside Cemetery between Clinton Township and Clinton Village, as drawn up by Attorney Smith.

Charlie Noragon was present to discuss cemetery matters. Cemetery board will meet next week to set policies.

Six months extension on mobile home permit was granted Mrs. Robert Newman.

This Financial Report has been audited by the accounting firm of Gross & Ludwig CPA, Adrian, Michigan.

Prepared and submitted by:

H. Eugene Cooley,
Assistant Superintendent of Schools

During the period covered by this report, July 1, 1974 through June 30, 1975, a total of 3668 full-time pupils were enrolled, with another 18 full time equivalency in adult education. To serve these pupils the district employed a staff of 158 teachers. In addition the district employed an additional 12 staff members holding valid teaching certificates. The total amount paid for student instruction was $2,933,257.32. The number of full time equated certificated employees totaled 170. The ratio of 3668 pupils to employees holding a valid Michigan Teaching Certificate was 21.6 during the 1974-75 school year. The actual pupil teacher ration was 1 to 23.2.

Minimum and maximum teachers salaries were as follows:

DEGREE	MINIMUM	MAXIMUM
Bachelor of Arts	$ 9,636.00	$15,697.00
Master of Arts	10,624.00	17,306.00
M A plus 15 semester hours	11,155.00	18,172.00
Specialist Degree	11,713.00	19,080.00

The district operates 144 classrooms in eight buildings during the school year.

To the best of my knowledge and belief this report accurately reflects the financial status of the Tecumseh Public School District for the fiscal year 1974-75, rule 340, 351 of the General School Laws and the State Board of Education.

Robert S. Duhan
Superintendent,
Tecumseh Public Schools

DO IT YOURSELF CORNER

by Vic Clauda
Master Plumber

If your gas water heater has a rumbling sound, it may be that your heater has a layer of scale on the bottom of the heater, and when it is heated, there is either steam or air bubbles generated that make a noise escaping to the top of the heater. It is advisable to clean out your water heater.

It is possible to cut down the amount of gas going to the heater, which will reduce the noise, but that will also cut down on the recovery rate.

CLAUDA PLUMBING AND HEATING HAS A COMPLETE LINE OF WATER HEATER REPAIRS, relief valves, replacement elements, thermostats, thermocouples, etc.

HELPFUL HINT: A clean water heater saves fuel and will recover faster.

For classics of another sort, be sure to browse through MYTHOLOGICAL CREATURES: A PICTORIAL DICTIONARY by Paulita Sedgwick. Monsters such as the slimy skinless Scottish "Nuckelavee" or the more familiar "Vampire" can be found here; as well as the Egyptian god, "Ra" and the Scandanavian "Hulderfolk," who are magical beings with monkey like tails. This would be a good starting place for TV's NIGHT STALKER.

Everyone at sometime wants to "get away from it all." Young adults at the Tecumseh Public Library can find that they are in good company with the following stories.

Nick is Bianca Bradbury's BOY ON THE RUN as he leaves his over-protective mother to survive on a rugged Massachusetts island with an abandoned pup. Would-be foragers in the wild will enjoy this.

A Spanish-Basque emigre comes to Idaho to help his godfather herd sheep in YEAR WALK by Ann Nolan Clark. The West of 1910 is seen as a lonely and often frightening place to be.

BEE is a horse that has twice thrown and nearly killed Herb in Peter Zachary Cohen's tale of a boy who gets an unpaid ranch job to be near animals. Modern-day cattle rustlers and the untrustworthy horse provide an exciting test for this look at the west today.

NAOMI wishes for many things, but now, most of all, she wishes that a fortune-teller proves wrong so that she lives past her 14th birthday. Berniece Rabe fills this novel of farm life in the 1930's with humor, reality, and an always interesting title character.

Mystery, spies and murder follow a Scottish girl and her new American friend in A FORMIDABLE ENEMY by Mabel Esther Allen. Kidnapping and romance only add to this fast-paced adventure.

Another story as current as today's headlines is Frank Herbert's SOUL CATCHER. Katsuk is a young Indian man who kidnaps a white boy to sacrifice for all the innocent Indians slain by the "Hoquat" or white man. Katsuk's meditations show him that he is chosen as the instrument of Soul Catcher, the greatest of the spirits. Reminiscent of KUNG FU this book takes the Native American history and religious traditions to create a real spellbinder.

TUNED OUT by Maia Wojciechoska offers a view of another type of escape: LSD. Written in the style of a journal kept by 16-year-old Jim who sees the drug experiences of his idolized older brother. This book won the 1965 Newbery Award for its look at life today that avoids sensationalism and pat resolutions.

DINKY HOCKER SHOOTS SMACK by M.E. Kerr might sound similar until you learn that Dinky isn't a heroin addict. She is a girl who wants her parents' attention and to break her food addiction. Then she might escape to a world of dating and "the good life." This is sure to catch you off-guard and start even the sourest reader smiling.

Nursery School Applications Taken

Applications for enrollment of pre-school age children in the nursery school of the Lenawee Vocational-Technical Center are being taken during November for enrollment of the children in September 1976.

The nursery school program was established primarily as a laboratory experience for 11th and 12th grade students and it is designed to provide the most favorable development of children during their pre-school years.

Parents of prospective pre-school pupils may be interviewed during January and February and they will be notified of acceptance by March 1.

Has Exhibits

The Lenawee County Historical Museum announces its first bicentennial exhibit entitled "Then and Now", it is a display of 100 pictures, showing changes that have taken place in the last 100 or more years.

Exhibit opens Nov. 9 and continues indefinitely in the museum at 108 S. Main St. in Adrian. The museum is open from 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays. There is no admission charge.

Camp Fire M-D Tea Held

BRITTON — The Bicentennial theme was carried out at the recent Campfire Mother-Daughter Tea at the Britton-Macon School, with a spinning wheel demonstration.

Mrs. Charles Botarro of Ann Arbor, guest speaker, demonstrated how to use a drop spindle and a spinning wheel.

The drop spindle, which can be fashioned from a pencil and a potato according to Mrs. Botarro, is a way to spin wool into yarn, but is more tedious because it does not wind the strands of yarn as it forms them, as does the spinning wheel.

Mrs. Botarro explained about natural dyes and showed what colors you could get from weeds and roots.

Approximately 200 mothers, daughters, leaders and sponsors attended. Table decorations, made by Sandy Bortel, were red, white and blue flowers made from raw wool.

Memoriam

Donna was a good woman
She brought me to life
She always understood me
Whether I was wrong or right.

She lived her life praising God
She lived her life in love.
Always had a helping hand
For anyone in this land.

Yes Donna was a good woman
She always had a smile
Her elegance and beauty.
Was her love that lasted awhile

She brought me through my lifetime
Taught me all I know
She showed me that the sun would shine
And the hard times would go.

Yes, Donna was a good woman
She brought me to life
That's why I'll never understand
Why she died that night.

But knowing my life is pleasing her
Is all I can give there isn't a day I don't think of her
In my heart she still lives.

Oh, Donna was a good woman
She brought me to life
A kiss to the sky and tear in my eye
I know that she can see me.

In loving memory of Tammy Renee Schultz. You wished no one a last farewell, or even said goodbye. You were gone before we knew it and only God knows why. Our hearts still ache with loneliness, Our hearts shed many tears, God knows how much we miss you, at the end of one sad year.
Sadly missed by
Sisters and family 11-6c

In fond remembrance of a dear daughter, Tammy Renee Schultz who passed away Nov. 9, 1974.
When family ties are broken
And loved ones have to part,
It leaves a wound that never heals,
And also a broken heart.
Upon the path we tread,
We bless the years we shared with her,
And leave the rest to God.
His end was very sudden
It made us weep and cry,
But the saddest part to all of us
We never said goodbye.
Always loved and remembered by Mom and Dad 11-6c

Cagers Prevail

Tecumseh's girl cage squad whipped Airport last Wednesday 57-14 upping their record to 11-0 overall and 5-0 in the league.

The Indians had little trouble scoring 36 points in the first half to just six for Airport.

Julie Anderson was top scorer with 14 followed by Melinda Ternak with eight. Tori Iffland, Cindy Wright, Sue Brown and Debbie Steadley all had six points.

The junior varsity also won their battle 44-20. Grace Burns was tops in scoring with 10 followed by Gloria Fossbender with eight. The JV's are 9-2 overall and 5-0 in the league.

This Wednesday is Tecumseh's big battle with Grosse Ile, a "pretty respectable team," accoring to Diane Nelson. Both squads are undefeated this season.

The contest is at Grosse Ile, the scene of the Indians last regular season loss two years ago.

Skins Fall 35-0

Clinton traveled to Manchester last Friday night hoping for their second win of the season.

That was not to be as a powerful Dutchmen squad dominated the action and dumped the Skins 35-0. Clinton posts a 1-7 record.

Manchester quarterback Jeff Clark threw for three scores and guided the Dutchmen offense to 35 points while Clinton could not manage to get on the board.

Clark opened the scoring in the first quarter with a four yard run with Omre adding the extra point.

In the second quarter, Clark put his throwing arm to work scores of 14 and 25 yards to Mike Smith and Tim Koceski and Omre added both extra points.

Manchester kept on rolling in the second half when Craig Fielder broke loose on a 40 yard scamper early in the third quarter.

The Dutchmen's final score came again on a 21 yard pass from Clark to Mike Smith.

Craig Fielder was the top ground gainer of the night rushing for 150 yards in 10 carries as the Dutchmen ended the game with 382 total yards offense, while Clinton's offense totaled 212 yards.

Clinton's Randy King intercepted two Clark passes which was a bright spot for Clinton and team captain Ken Roberts made 14 tackles in his usual fine performance.

JV's Complete Undefeated Season

Tecumseh's junior varsity grid squad completed an undefeated season by dumping Carlson last Thursday 20-8. Last year the team was undefeated as freshmen which seems to indicate that some good talent is on its way up to the varsity ranks.

Against Carlson, quarterback Dick Cangley scored a touchdown on his own and passed to Jim Neill for another. Dan Yoder scrambled 25 yards for the other TD.

Tecumseh's seven victories included, Chelsea, 6-0; Jefferson, 22-6; Flat Rock, 22-12; Monroe CC, 16-0; Airport, 38-12; Grosse Ile, 16-0; and Carlson, 20-8.

Jeff Robideau came out on top in scoring honors with six touchdowns and three point after attempts for a 42 point total. Butch Harvey was next with 28 points; Jim Anderson had 22 points; Dick Cangley, 18; Jim Neill, 16; Bill Tooman, eight.

The Indians scored 140 total points against all their opponents while giving up only 38 points. Tecumseh had 1,889 total offensive vardage.

The offensive live was made up of Robin Coker, center, Dale Allen and Wendel Withrow, guards; Greg Lewis and John Silberhorn, tackles; Bill Tooman and Jim Neill, ends.

Coach Roger Young said, "It was an all around team effort, that was the key."

Indians Look Tough, Beat Carlson 20-7

The Indians, playing their best game of the season, defeated Gibralter Carlson Friday night 20-7.

The win put Tecumseh into a tie with Carlson for second place in the Huron League with 5-2 records. Flat Rock and Grosse Ile tied for the top spot in the conference at 6-1 each.

Each team held the other during the first quarter with the first score coming from the Indians in the second frame on a one yard run by quarterback Dave Spillman. Ken Biscupski kicked the extra point.

Jim Egbert ran in the next Tecumseh score, a one yard run in the third stanza. Biscupski's kick was again good.

Carlson got into the action also in the third quarter with a 11-yard pass play from quarterback Joe Drennen to Tom Tritt. Drennen kicked the extra point.

In the final quarter, Jim Egbert ran 10 yards for the final score. A bad snap broke up the point after try.

The Indians racked up 282 yards total offense and 16 first downs. Forty-five yards came through the air on two passes. Carlson passed for 99 yards, completing six of 13 passes, and rushed for 119 yards.

The Indian's Terry Brooks had a good night, intercepting two Carlson passes one in the second quarter and one in the fourth.

The Indians close out their season hosting Adrian this Friday night.

In the first game the Tomahawk Squirts skated to a 4-4 tie with Slaughter-Newman of Sylvania. Assists go to Clark Warfel, Steve Eardley and Mike Schoenberger.

In the second game, the Tecumseh PeeWees suffered a loss to the Churchill Devil-Dogs 5-2. Tim Eardley and Wendell West scored for Tecumseh, assist on goal went to Craig Lasobik.

Clinton Middle School Gridders

The Clinton Middle School football season was not very successful when looked at from a victory stand point. The seventh grade record was 0 and 6 while the eight grade mark was 0 and 4. Coach Dave Pray, however, explained that both teams were much smaller than any of their opponents. He also said that the teams progressed tremendously since the beginning of the season.

The seventh grade was in every game until the end even though they lacked the numbers to make a successful team. Due to the vast numbers of players who came out and later quit, the seventh grade finished the season with less than the minimum it takes to play the game. "I am not sure many of the seventh grade boys realize what it is to commit themselves to the sport and to then support their commitment by sticking it out. I was really disappointed at the boys who gave up without really giving football a chance," said Pray.

The eighth grade team lost only two players the entire season and this was very important. Each young man improved greatly during the season and developed in his own particular position. The improvement of the team over the season was very noticeable to all and these players will form a nucleus for the junior varsity next year.

The teams are very sound fundamentally and should do well in the future if they continue to work and develop some size.

Football Interest Starts Early

Football is quickly replacing baseball as the national pastime. And youngsters of all ages are more interested in the game than ever.

But a player doesn't suddenly enter high school and play varsity football.

A boys football education begins as early as elementary school with flag football. In junior high, players get closer to the real thing.

Tecumseh Junior High has six intramural football teams divided into two groups of three teams each by weight. There are 23 seventh and eighth grade players on each squad.

The lightweight division is for youngsters 60-105 pounds. Teams are the Apaches, coached by Richard Montcalm; the Shawnees, coached by Gordon Crocker; and the Seminoles coached by Patrick Pomy.

The heavyweight class is for players weighing 106 and up. Those three teams are the Chippewas, headed by Edward Oxley; the Ottawas by Mr. Rachwal, and the Navajos coached by Dermont Poley.

The whole idea of the program according to assistant principal Don Berkley is to teach fundamentals. "We involve every one who wants to play. Every kid on the bench plays."

Following the idea of maximum participation, girls counselor Mary Long coaches the junior high cheerleaders, over 100 girls who practice during the noon hour. Equal groups of girls are assigned to each team for the duration of the season.

Flag Football Concluded

Flag football concluded last week with games being played under the lights at the softball field.

Sutton fifth grade went through the five game schedule undefeated to win the championship. In the sixth grade, Sutton and Patterson were co-champions with identical 4-1 records.

End Honored

Tecumseh graduate Dennis Dermyer was named defensive player of the week after Grand Valley State College's game with Northwood the weekend before last.

Last weekend the Lakers played Northern Michigan where Dennis received all-conference honors for his play.

Dermyer is a defensive end for the Lakers.

Tories Can't Catch Bulldogs, Lose 32-16

Britton found themselves playing catch-up football in their battle with Summerfield Friday night eventually losing 32-16.

Summerfield took a quick 13-0 lead before Britton's workhorse Rudy Montalvo scored on a three yard run in the first period. He also ran in the extra points.

The Bulldogs scored again in the second stanza, but the Tories refused to give up. Montalvo scored on a two yard run and ran in the extra points as well to leave Britton trailing by just three points, 19-16, at the half.

At the beginning of the second half, Britton attempted an onside kick but Summerfield recovered at the Tories 40 yard line. They went in for the score and added another TD in the fourth quarter to snatch the victory.

Britton had 155 yards rushing and 10 yards through the air compared to Summerfield's 310 yards all on the ground. Montalvo rushed for 127 yards before an injury sidelined him in the third period. Leading rusher in the game was the Bulldog's John Yokum with 146 yards.

The loss dropped Britton's record to 6-2 and gave them third place in the Tri-County league. The two teams were tied for second place before the game.

The contest closed out Britton's grid season.

Score by quarters:

Britton	8	8	0	0	—16
Smfld.	13	6	7	6	—32

Frosh Are 6-1

The Indian frosh grid squad topped off their season last Wednesday with a victory over Claque Middle 14-0.

It was their sixth consecutive win and the freshman ended with a 6-1 record losing only to Manchester's junior varsity team 12-0.

Tecumseh's victories were, Monroe CC 34-0, Adrian 6-2, Bedford 12-9, Michigan Center 36-6, Chelsea 34-20, Claque Middle 14-0.

The Indians scored 136 total points to their opponents' 49.

Coaching direction came from Ted Todd assisted by Vic Lawson.

Quarterbacking the team to a successful season was John Ely. Other team members included, Kevin Bater, Jon Betzolt, Randy Bolz, Greg Borton, Joe Brooks, Rick Burgett, Ron Calzada, Jesse Castorina, John Clark, Mark Creswell, Randy Halvin, Mike Helms, Skip Johnstone, David Render, David Rudd, Cliff Schill, Glenon Shough, Steve Sisson, Greg Tripp, Bob Warner, Kevin Williamson and Tom Wright.

Extend Drive

Tecumseh's Community Fund Foundation Drive was scheduled to end this Friday but slow and disappointing returns of contributions have made it necessary to extend the campaign through Nov. 21, Mary Bowers, drive chairman, announces.

Although most divisions have yet to complete their drives, only the schools are certain of topping their quota. Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, says $3,441 has been raised or pledged, $441 over the $3,000 goal.

Frank Bock, head of the industrial division, is confident that industry will meet its goal of $40,000, which is over half of the $71,416 quota.

Sorry returns are reported in the commercial and hospital divisions. The commercial goal is $12,000 and donations so far amount to less than half.

Officials were hoping for a better total contribution from the hospital but employees there donated only $310. City hall reports donations of nearly $400, a surprising amount considering the small number of employees contributing compared to the hospital.

The professional division is about half-way to its $2,816 goal, and residential is nearly 70 percent of its $2,100 goal.

Special gifts total $9,000, just $1,000 short of the $10,000 goal.

2 Men Rob, Terrorize Sage Family, Guests

Two young white males robbed and terrorized one of the area's best known families early Sunday morning, escaping in a family car with valuables taken from the home.

Bob Sage, Taylor Rd. resident and formerly of Tecumseh, said Tuesday that the 40-minute ordeal was more than just frightening as it involved the people "we love."

With the Sages at the time were their daughter and her family, John and Melissa Booth and two-year-old daughter, Abby, of Ontario; niece, Nancy Hodges, and friend Mohammed Yassaman of Mt. Pleasant.

All were threatened by the armed men.

Sunday's ordeal started shortly before nine o'clock when John Booth was loading his car for a return trip to Ontario. While returning on a trip from his car to the house, he caught a glimpse of the two men crouched near a brick wall at the residence.

By the time he ran into the house and slammed the door, the intruders crashed through a kitchen door, threatened the Sages and guests, and herded all into the living room.

All were bound, except Mrs. Sage, who was ordered to lie on a couch. Mr. Sage had informed the robbers of her heart condition.

He said that while one held the family at gunpoint, the other ransacked the residence, taking many sentimental valuables and heirlooms that cannot be replaced. Estimates of the loss have run as high as $20,000.

If they were not family or sentimental items, they "wouldn't mean that much to me," said Sage in reference to the valuables that included jewelry, silverware and other items.

While the robbery was taking place, Mr. Sage and his daughter, Melissa, kept a conversation going with the lone robber, who was covering them with a handgun in the living room.

Shortly after the two men left in a family car loaded with the valuables, Mr. Sage notified authorities who quickly set up a roadblock. The car was not found however, until about 3 a.m. Monday in a public access site at Sand Lake.

Mr. Sage, son of Bill Sage, a founder of the Tecumseh Products, is well known in this area, having helped many, including young people, for example, in furthering their education. He also is a trustee of Siena Heights College.

Clinic Rates Success - 81% Quit Smoking

Results of the first Five-Day Plan to Quit Smoking clinic at Herrick Hospital prove its effectiveness.

Dr. Gordon Guild, local physician, and Richard Broome, of Adrian, conducted the clinic that attracted 56 area smokers.

Of the 56 registered, 42 completed the plan, and 34 or 81 percent of the 42 quit smoking.

One smoker averaged two packs a day for 51 years, and the youngest smoker had started at age 10 and had smoked for seven years. Both successfully completed the course.

A follow-up meeting was held last Thursday night to note progress. A film relative to the heart also was shown.

60-Apartment Complex Will Extend Utilities

A site plan for a 60-apartment complex adjoining the Tecumseh Country Club was approved by the Planning Commission Tuesday night.

William Powell, local real estate broker and developer, says construction of the first stage — 20 apartments in two units — will be underway in the spring.

City officials already have started plans for construction of sewer and necessary lift stations. Once plans are completed bids will be sought and a special assessment district assigned.

Officials will have a public hearing for the special assessment district. A hearing was held in the past and drew considerable criticizm; however, Powell will be paying much of the expense and about $20,000 for a lift station. Officials don't anticipate much opposition.

The apartment development and related construction of sewer and water will open up the entire northeast area of Tecumseh for development with city utilities. This area includes hundreds of acres between Burt St. and Macon Rd.

If Powell is able to start construction in early spring, he hopes to have the first 20 apartments completed by late summer or early fall. Each apartment — one, two or three-bedroom — will have approximately 1,300 square feet of living space.

Each will have built-ins, possible fireplaces, and either patios or balconies facing the golf course and the heavily wooded area, just west of the Country Club along River Raisin.

Construction will be two-story with rough, sawn cedar exterior. Entry will be off Burt St. with the first two units scheduled opposite the men's and ladies' tees on the 17th hole.

Other units to be added will be nearer Burt St.

Some times when your toilet does not flush properly, it is because there is not enough water in the tank. The water should be ¾" below the overflow. It could also be that the jets that are in the bowl below the water line are plugged. Once in a while the holes in the rim get plugged. These can be cleaned easily with the hook of a coat hanger.

CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING, INC. has all kinds of chemicals to clean your toilet bowls, drain lines, sewer lines, septic tank and dry wells. An ounce of prevention can save major repairs later.

Storage Area Needed by Club

The Tecumseh Service Club is in urgent need of a storage facility, heated and lighted so that the club's supply of clothing can be sorted, sized and made ready for fitting for children's use.

The Tecumseh Service Club is a volunteer group of Tecumseh women who provide emergency assistance to families within the Tecumseh School District.

Officers of the Service Club are Mrs. John Baran, president and Mrs. Jean Colgrove, treasurer. Mrs. Fred Dickinson and Mrs. Robert Brown act as advisors. Meetings are held in November and December. Special meetings are called by the president as the need arises.

The Service Club was first started about 1932 and was supported by funds from local civic organizations and concerned citizens. After 1950 the Service Club was included in the Community Fund Agencies.

As our city has increased in size, so have calls for assistance. Each call is investigated by a member. The schools contact the club if a child is in urgent need of clothing. The Service Club also receives emergency calls from older citizens, especially when illness is involved. Referrals come from schools, neighbors and social agencies.

For a number of years at Thanksgiving and Christmas time food baskets were filled and distributed by Service Club workers. When the Salvation Army began its Christmas Street collections in Tecumseh it planned to distribute the food baskets. As this project became too complicated, a small check was sent by the Salvation Army to take place of the food basket. The Service Club continues to provide gifts for the children and people who otherwise would not have a Christmas.

Maintaining a clothing center for the emergency needs of children of the Tecumseh School District is one of the Service Clubs chief concerns. Many mothers regularly send their donations of children's used clothing and boots.

Calls for the Tecumseh Service Club may be made to Mrs. John Baran, 423-4453.

Jewels & gems

By Dick Eggleston

Costumes like those worn on the stage must be seen at a distance, and they demand a jewelry that will have its effect even at long range. Such jewelry must have glitter of highly polished surfaces, and brilliant stones. Ordinary people, however, are interested in jewelry normal size, noticeable only at close range. Jewelry should always properly compliment an entire costume, and be worn sensitively, so that it is shown to its best advantage.

We at EGGLESTON'S JEWELRY, 107 E. Chicago Blvd., 423-2715 have jewelry to compliment your costume. Keepsake diamond rings, engagement rings and birthstones rings, tie tacks, cuff links, watches and other pieces are handled. Brides-to-be are invited to come in and register with our bridal registry and we have a free booklet to assist her in planning the wedding.

Raise Cane At Center

by KATHY BROWN

"Before you couldn't give it away," said Louann Chatfield, 107 S. Van Buren, referring to pieces of furniture like the cane seat chair before her. "Today, everybody has use for something."

She continued patting the partly finished seat with a damp sponge to keep the cane flexible for the next step.

"We all love this one," she groaned. Members of the chair caning class had all reached about the same step last week.

The classmates were preparing their chairs and themselves to begin the weaving diagonally from right to left. This is the hardest part; they puffed and panted.

The class is sponsored by the Tecumseh Department of Parks and Recreation at the Community Center on Tuesday nights from 7-9 p.m.

Evalyn Halberstadt, instructor, explained the process. Pegs are used to hold the cane in place and create tension when weaving left to right, top to bottom and then diagonally from right to left. Mrs. Halberstadt started caning 10 years ago and is self-taught.

Most people who take the class are looking for something different in the way of a hobby. Most of them have the chairs or are readily supplied by family members and friends anxious to have their old chairs reseated.

Interest in such old time crafts seems to be related to the do it yourself trend encouraged by the economy.

Harry R. Reidy of Britton said, "When you make it a business, it becomes work. I'm going to keep it a hobby for fun."

Luann Chatfield and her husband thought they would be "one step ahead if we would do it ourselves." They refinished several pieces of furniture this summer.

Jeanette Lockhart of Matthews Hwy. and Norma Allen of Haviland Dr. find the craft lets them relax. They are sisters and are teachers' aides at Lenawee Institute. "You've got to eat your Wheaties before you start this," said Mrs. Lockhart.

If interest continues, Mrs. Halberstadt said another class may begin in January.

Some of the students said the chairs are getting hard to find. Better start hunting for one now.

WAITING FOR THE NEXT STEP — Cara Neal, 2519 U.S. 12, Clinton, has just finished tying a knot under the chair and awaits the instructor's advice before proceeding to weave the cane diagonally. (Photo by Frank Weir)

To The Editor

"Thank You"

To the Editor:

There are certain occasions when a verbal "thank you", although warm and sincere, needs a little more exposure — occasions when the whole community would like to read and echo appreciation.

We refer to the cooperation by many persons and businesses which helped make the recent circus promotion a "roaring" success. But a special citation goes to Jim Lincoln for the front-page billing three weeks running and to Ken Herrick and Jim Robideau for their purchase of large blocks of tickets for the employees' children.

It seemed evident that all in attendance were very pleasantly entertained.

WORKING DILIGENTLY to weave the cane just right, John Stephenson 511 E. Logan, finished a row without distraction from the camera or the beads of perspiration on his chin. Tecumseh Public Library

A variety of new picture books at the Tecumseh Public Library can help parents and teachers show young children important ideas can still be fun.

WALTER THE WOLF by Marjorie Sharmat is sure to be a favorite, thanks to Kelly Deschle's funny drawings accompanying the story of a young wolf who is tired of being perfect. Walter finds out about "bad friends" and hurting people, but the lesson is "painless," except for the laughter.

SEE WHAT I AM by Roger Duvoisin is a look at colors. Edna Mitchell Preston's SQUAWK TO THE MOON, LITTLE GOOSE is about a disobedient, but fast-thinking goose who is very much like "the boy who cried wolf." EAT by Diane Paterson is an unusual look at the problem of getting someone to eat.

Titles that are self-explanatory are: MY TELL TIME BOOK; MY BUTTON BOOK . . . each by Vivian Bennett; and THE LITTLE BOY WHO LOVED DIRT AND ALMOST BECAME A SUPERSLOB by Judith Vigna.

Johanna Johnston introduces Edie; a girl who hates to go to bed in EDIE CHANGES HER MIND. In a sequel, she learns that there's a right and a wrong time to talk in SPEAK UP, EDIE!

While we were thinking of books in sequels, a few others have been added. The ever-popular tug boat, Little Toot has another adventure in LITTLE TOOT THROUGH THE GOLDEN GATE; As usual Hardie Gramatsky's cheery drawings bring all the boats in the harbor to life. Since first appearing in 1939 he has been a favorite of many children.

A more recent addition to children's literature is FATHER CHRISTMAS, the British look at a Santa Claus. Now he has the chance to turn his sleigh into a camper for a brief while as FATHER CHRISTMAS GOES ON HOLIDAY. Again written and illustrated by Raymond Briggs, this is a book to chuckle over before, during, and after the holiday season.

While not exactly picture-books, children of all ages love Winnie-the-Pooh. In 1971 Virginia Ellison continued the work of A.A. Milne by creating the POOH PARTY BOOK. Because of its popularity she has written the POOH COOK BOOK and POOH GET-WELL BOOK with "recipes and activities to help you recover from wheezles and sneezles." We hope though that you won't wait until you are sick to enjoy it.

Board Implements Plans For Comprehensive Career Education

CLINTON — Elaine Elliott was present at the school board meeting Monday night to explain plans for implementing the Act 97, Public Acts of 1974, which requires that all local educational agencies develop a Comprehensive Career Education Plan.

Clinton Schools will use this school year to develop a concept for this program.

Superintendent Richard Wegner discussed the possible impact of proposed cuts in State Aid and dollar revenue from the 1975-76 school operating budget. Aid for trasnsportation and remedial reading costs were among the items which would be affected.

Fred McCrate was present to report on the recent LCAA league meeting concerning the admission of Blissfield Schools to the LCAA league. Although Clinton cast a negative vote, Blissfield was voted into the league.

Board answered questions of several parents present, whose children had band instruments stolen from the Middle School.

After consideration, board authorized the superintendent to investigate some insurance coverage for all band instruments, in middle school or high school.

Also to be implemented is the keeping of record, registering of all instruments and notification to parents, as to the documentation of school policy.

Other matters discussed were the political reform bill and the impact of the Michigan Single Business Tax. The latter deletes all personal inventory property from assessment for tax purposes.

Board went into executive session to discuss presentations which will be made at fact-finding and arbitration on contracts still under negotiation.

Bi-centennial Journey

Sugar Cane or Sorghum
By Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — In years past practically every farmer in southeastern Michigan grew at least a small patch of sugar cane — often referred to as sorghum.

Sorghum or cane looks and grows much the same as corn. If a family had a large garden they sometimes planted a few rows of sorghum in the garden. If not they planted a few rows along one side of a corn field. The cane was cultivated the same as the corn.

Seeds of the sugar cane or sorghum grow at the top of the stalks in clusters in more or less a head like formation. The seeds are black when mature and are about the size of radish seeds. In order to encourage the growing of sorghum, some sorghum mill owners used to distribute free seeds.

Sorghum was produced for making sorghum syrup or sorghum molasses, commonly called molasses by most families. The molasses produced from sorghum was lighter in color and milder in flavor than the molasses commonly sold in grocery stores.

Sorghum, that sweet thick golden syrup, had many uses. It was used in making gingerbread, molasses cakes, and those good old-fashioned molasses cookies, suet puddings, also molasses taffy and popcorn balls.

In the fall, just before a hard frost sugar cane had to be stripped (leaves removed from the stalks and the seeds cut off). Stripping was done by hand, usually by the youth of the family.

Each person used a sword like blade of wood whittled from a thin beard. After the stalks had been stripped of leaves, the stalks were cut just above the ground and tied into bundles.

Then the bundles were loaded onto a wagon or truck ready to be taken to the sorghum mill. Care had to be taken in tying and loading the bundles.

The stalks were slippery and unless handled carefully some of the cane might slip off the load and be lost.

At the mill the stalks were crushed and the juice squeezed out. Then the juice from the stalks was boiled until it became thick. When finished the sorghum molasses was put into crockers or containers furnished by the grower.

The pulp (residue) left from the cane stalks was often hauled back to the farms and used for banking buildings and water tanks to prevent them from freezing.

During the late 1800's and the early 1900's, the Gripton cane mill owned and operated by the Gripton Brothers, George and Charles, which was located about one mile east of Britton, operated night and day during the fall.

Cane was brought to the mill from miles around. The mill was sold and moved into Britton where sorghum molasses was made until the mill burned. The last sorghum mill to be operated in the area was located in Tecumseh.

My Year In Sweden

By Valerie Egli
Exchange Student

(Editor's Note:
Valerie Egli, an exchange student to Sweden for a year with Youth for Understanding will write a column every month for the Tecumseh Herald. She will share her experiences as a member of a Swedish family, the Gustavssons near Goteborg, Sweden. In Sweden since July, Val has lived with one other family for the summertime. She is now living in Angered, a suburb of Goteborg, and attending the gymnasium in Goteborg. She will complete her senior year in Sweden and return to the U.S.A. next July. This is her first installment.)

Now that I've been away from home for about three months, I've learned to appreciate the small, hardly noticeable things I saw every day in the U.S.A. These are what I miss the most when I think of home.

I remember the way the sun shines through the classroom windows early on a fall morning; the way it warms the students on the way home from school so that they have to take off the jackets they used against the crisp morning air; how it colors the sky as it sets in the evening.

Here it's a rare occasion to see the sun at all. In fact, one can't see the sky for all the clouds. Last fall, so I'm told, the sun shone for a grand total of 30 hours in four months!

I miss being able to turn on the TV and switching the channels to find what's best to take up my time. Swedish television only has two nationwide stations, run by the government. Programing doesn't start until 3 p.m. Television in Sweden is not used much for entertainment, as in the United States, but more for education.

They've had almost every kind of documentary imaginable, from the advancement of ancient Asiatic man into America, to the reasons behind the demonstration during the tennis match between Sweden and Chile. There was even a documentary on the U.S. involvement in the Korean War.

However, they do have some serials imported from England, and MASH, which is now being replaced by "Rhoda" from the USA, which helped me make it through the beginning weeks.

And I miss those big American cars, even though they are gas guzzlers. All I see here are those tiny little "foreign" cars. I never will become fond of riding in a car where my knees are higher than my shoulders.

And last, but really the most, I miss being able to just talk with my family and friends; the phrases we invented and tossed back and forth until they were just old enough to be preserved as happy memories; really being able to communicate.

My Swedish parents don't understand English. I think everybody takes their native language too much for granted. I never, until now, realized what a wonder language really is, nor appreciated being able to use mine so fluently.

Committee to Meet

Tecumseh Bicentennial Committee will meet Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Clara Waldron Room at Tecumseh Public Library.

"Pajama Game" in Saline

The long-run Broadway musical comedy hit, "The Pajama Game," (about a romance that gets rocked by a strike in a pajama factory) is being presented by The Saline Area Players at the Saline High School Theatre on Nov. 20, 21, 22 at 8 p.m.

John Fisher (Sid) will star as a superintendent of the Sleep Tite Pajama Factory in a mid-western town, in the mid 1950's. Trying to make a good record by keeping production at a peak, he finds himself distracted by the prettiest of the factory girls, to be played by Beverly Wistert (Babe) who denies reciprocating his interest of love. When she helps organize a slowdown of the employees, it then results in a three sided conflict between management, labor, and love.

The high spirited song and dance show was written by George Abbott and Richard Bissell. The music written by Richard Adler and Jerry Ross.

The scenes of the show spin from factory to office to production floor then stock rooms on to the employees annual picnic, in which the rousing "Once A Year Day" is sung exuberantly and the tavern that is slyly described in the song that was so long No. 1 on the hit parade, the witty-tango-style "Hernando's Hideaway." Other well remembered songs include "Hey There," "I'm Not At All In Love," "Steam Heat," "Small Talk," and "Seven And A Half Cents."

Tickets may be purchased at the Citizens Bank of Saline and the box office at 7 p.m. nights of the performance.

Indians Stung By Adrian, 18-7

Although Tecumseh Indians lost their battle with the Adrian Maples last Friday night 18-7, they undoubtedly surprised a lot of people — including the Maples.

If the Indians could have mustered greater offense things might have been different. Costly mistakes took their toll on the orange and black as well. Tecumseh lost two fumbles and allowed two pass interceptions.

A case in point is Adrian's first score of the game.

Indian Ken Biscupski was punting deep in Tecumseh's own territory in the first quarter. A bad snap from center resulted in a weak, low kick with the Maples' Tom Rink catching it in mid air and running 10 yards for the score. Adrian's kick was no good.

Later in the first quarter, Adrian added another six points with a 67-yard run by Rick DuBose. Tecumseh's defense held the Maples on the run after the touchdown.

Neither team could mount a scoring drive in the second quarter.

In the third frame, Tecumseh finally got on the clock with Jim Egbert catching a 10-yard pass from Dave Spillman. Biscupski kicked the extra point.

Final score in the game came on a five-yard pass play from Adrian's Brad Mackintosh to Jim Cottrell. The run for extra points was no good.

Tecumseh could manage only 48 yards total rushing with Egbert the leading rusher with 20 yards in eight carries.

Adrian ran up 182 yards with DuBose leading the way with 137 yards in 28 carries.

Spillman connected on six of 17 passes for 47 yards. He gave up two interceptions. Adrian completed four of 13 passes for 45 yards.

Tecumseh had six first downs and the Maples eight. Adrian had penalty problems losing 105 yards on nine penalties. Tecumseh lost 55 yards on five penalties.

The Indians ended their season with a 5-4 league record.

Score by Quarters:

Tecumseh	0	0	7	0	—7
Adrian	12	0	0	6	—18

Napoleon Whips Redskins

Clinton completed its grid season Friday on a sour note losing to Napoleon 32-16.

Napoleon's Rod Rhoad had touchdown passes of 15, 25, and 29 yards on the way to victory. The Redskin defense had problems holding Napoleon on crucial third and fourth down situations.

Clinton scored two touchdowns in the first half with a 23 yard pass from Phil Erickson to Ken Roberts and a 16 yard run by freshman Casey Thilo.

Napoleon had 166 yards rushing and passed for 125 yards. The Skins had a total of 111 yards on the ground and 136 in the air.

Clinton ended their season with a 1-8 overall record.

Girls Burn the Devils

Coach and fans really had nothing to worry about when Tecumseh's girls basketball team traveled to Grosse Ile last Wednesday.

The Indians took command and won the contest 58-29. The win upped the Indians record to 6-0 in the league and 12-0 overall this season.

Grosse Ile was the scene of Tecumseh's last regular season loss and that fact had spooked the local fans.

Julie Anderson led in scoring and rebounds with 18 points and eight rebounds. Melinda Ternak had 13 points, Jan Stevens had eight, Sue Brown four, and Tori Iffland, Peg Upell and Cindy Wright each had two points.

The junior varsity also won their game 38-16. Janice Jahner had 14 points and Grace Burns, 13.

Coach Diane Nelson said of the game, "The girls played their best game of the season. We changed to a man-to-man defense and they couldn't move against us all night."

Tecumseh plays its final at home game this Wednesday against Carlson. On Friday, Nov. 14 they travel to Ann Arbor St. Thomas and then play in Adrian on Nov. 17 to complete the regular season.

First match in the District Tournament will be against Columbia Central on Thursday, Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. at Columbia Central.

Recipe For Old Clippings

Here's a recipe for preserving those important newspaper clippings that turn yellow and fall apart a little more each time they are handled.

"Changing Times" magazine published this simple formula which is de-acidification process recommended by the New England Document Conservation Center in North Andover, Mass.

After dissolving one crushed milk of magneisia tablet in one-quart bottle of club soda, recap the bottle tightly and let it stand in the refrigerator overnight.

Next day, pour the solution into a shallow pan big enough to hold the clippings unfolded. Put them in, making sure each is well saturated before adding the next. After two hours, remove them one at a time and dry them on blotters of paper towels.

The solution can't be reused. If the newspaper has colored ink, test the ink with a bit of cotton dipped in the solution to see whether it runs.

After this treatment, your clippings should last until the Quadricentennial in 2176!

Chemically, the magnesium oxide combines with the carbon dioxide in the soda to form magnesium carbonate which neutralizes acids in the paper that cause deterioration.

Children's Book Week Plans Told

By KATHY BROWN

"Food from a Mouse's Point of View" will be the program for elementary children's story hour at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 22 at the Tecumseh Public Library, which is celebrating National Children's Book Week, Nov. 17-23.

The pre-Thanksgiving program will offer a cartoon on "Anatole," a French mouse who is the subject of several books by Eve Titus and a filmstrip on the "Tale of Two Bad Mice," based on the animal stories of British Beatrix Potter.

"When you think of it, who would enjoy Thanksgiving and food better than a mouse?" asked children's librarian Lois Sprengnether, sipping her popular recipe for Russian tea while she reviewed the library's plans for Children's Book Week with the Herald reporter.

"We want to bring to everyone's attention that so many kids don't read because they have never had the pleasure to own a book," Mrs. Sprengnether said.

"One little boy I remember returned to the library for the book "Little Toot." He enjoyed it so much, he insisted in calling the library "Little Toot's House." Maybe if children like a book so much they should own it, even if they've read it so much they know it by heart," she added.

A display suggesting "Books as Gifts" may spark ideas for Christmas gifts. "Librarians are a veritable computer," explained Mrs. Sprengnether, "and can usually think of a book for you on any topic." She welcomed patrons to ask librarians for suggestions.

Story time for pre-schoolers will continue this month except during Thanksgiving week. Nov. 19 at 1:30 p.m. and Nov. 20 at 10 a.m. pre-schoolers are invited to hear about "The Meanist Squirrel I Ever Met."

Mothers are invited to the special program for moms only, presented by the Cooperative Extension Service during the 10 a.m. story time. Maybe Mrs. Sprengnether will even share her Russian tea recipe.

Above calculations are based on latest Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers standard HRF-1 tests at today's electric rate.

COMPARE THE ENERGY SAVINGS!

SLIM-WALL FOAM INSULATION!
Westinghouse uses a special foam type insulation the most efficient insulating material used in refrigerators. Foam fills every nook and cranny to insulate evenly ... won't rot or settle and adds structural strength to the cabinet. As an added benefit, foam insulation gives more storage space in less floor space.

HIGH PERFORMANCE FILTER-COOL SYSTEM!
Improved condenser system provides better heat dissipation, for greater operating efficiency. Cooling fan has extra-large blades to move more air, but at lower speed for extra-quiet operation!

WESTINGHOUSE "T" COMPRESSOR!
The "heart" of the refrigerator! Precision machined parts, computer-checked assembly combine power and precision to assure an absolute minimum of friction during compressor operation. All working parts are completely surrounded by an oil "bath" sealed inside the compressor's shell to further reduce friction and wear. These add up to higher efficiency and longer life for the Westinghouse "T" Compressor.

WITH A UNION 76 FLAME CONTROL BURNER AND ENERGY-SAVING FORMULA

The facts add up to unbelievable fuel savings . . .

Here's how . . . STEP #1 Turn down your thermostat and save 15%

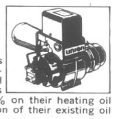
STEP #2
Save From 3% to 40% When You Install a Union 76 Flame Control Oil Burner



Under actual home conditions (not laboratory simulated conditions), Union 76 Flame Control Oil Burners saved home owners from 3% all the way up to 40% on their heating oil costs, depending on the condition of their existing oil burner.

STEP #3

Additional savings can be realized by setting back your thermostat at night while you sleep. Figuring an average of 8 hours of set-back you will save 1% per degree the night temperature is lowered.

The Union Flame Control helps fight air pollution as well. In a 1969 study by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Union's flame retention device was compared with five combustion improving devices in a typical warm-air furnace. Union's "Flame Control" ". . . was the only one that reduced smoke emissions substantially . . . . . increased operating efficiency appreciably, which could result in substantial fuel savings over a long period of time."

New Addition Is Landscaped

Landscaping and sodding for the new addition of the Herrick Memorial Hospital are being accomplished by Paul Burns and his crew according to the designs drawn up by Lynn Cook and her landscaping committee.

As with everything these days, the cost ran over the original estimate. Contributions may be made through the Hospital Landscape Fund.

Hospital auxiliary members are reminded volunteers are still needed for visitors check, especially in the afternoons. Sharon Connors at 423-7219 is taking volunteers.

The Holiday Ball is Saturday, Dec. 13. Invitations will be out this month.

Sharon McFadden of Tecumseh and Cindy Piatt of Clinton were each awarded a $500 scholarship from the auxiliary. Michaelene Towers of Clayton received $250 scholarship.

Commercial Services Are Hit

Opportunities for jobs in Commercial Services are continuing to open up, so this course remains popular with high school students attending the Lenawee Vocational-Technical Center. This year it is so popular that more boys than ever before have elected to train in Commercial Services.

Sharon Brittain is the instructor and Ernestine Brown, her assistant.

Students in Commercial Services develop the skills they will need in a laundry or laundromat, and in cleaning commercial buildings, medical facilities, motels and private homes.

In the Vo-Tec Laboratory students learn how to use equipment such as floor cleaners, shampooers, floor buffers and vacuums, sewing machines, flat irons, steam irons, commercial and home style washers, driers and dishwashers. The proper use of chemical cleaners is included in the student's program.

The girls make minor repairs on clothing, such as replacing zippers, buttons or other fasteners, sewing a split seam or changing a hem.

These abilities are helpful, not only on a laundry, but in the dry cleaning business.

Part-time, full time and after school employment requests from employers who contact the Center are available to students who are presently being trained as well as students who have graduated.

Recent graduates are employed at Bixby Hospital, Maria Hall, Holiday Inn, Hudson High Schook, Clayton School, Onsted High School, Christ the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Adrian, Mariannes in the Adrian Mall and Herrick Hosptial in Tecumseh.

Principals Attend Annual Conference

In attendance at the 50th Annual Conference of the Michigan Association of Elementary School Principals at Grand Rapids, were principals Cynthia Opelt, Patterson School, Tom Sura, Sutton-Tipton, Lois Fleming, Herrick Park-Ridgeway, Pete Clark, Tecumseh Acres and Wayne Kaiser, curriculum co-ordinator.

Scheduled in-service programs on Oct. 28 included: The Role of the Principal in In-Service Education, Outdoor Education, Para-Professional Training, Career Education, and Elementary School Evaluation.

DNR Checking Station

The Wildlife Division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources will operate a deer checking station according to the following schedule during the 1975 firearms deer season.

The checking station will be located and operated at the: Adrian Mall, Junction M-52 and US-223 parking lot, East side of Sears, Roebuck Store), Adrian, Michigan, Nov. 22 and 29 1-4 p.m.

Mark Osburn has accepted a position, as assistant buyer, with the Jordan-Marsh Store in Boston, Mass. He recently moved to his apartment in Beverly, Mass.

Mark graduated from Eastern Michigan University with a degree in business administration and lived and worked in Ann Arbor for several years.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Osburn, 231 Park St.

Auxiliary Delegates

Mrs. Eugene Foust and Mrs. Tom Ball of the Tecumseh Jaycees Auxiliary attended the fall board meeting of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary at Boyne Mountain, Oct. 31 - Nov. 2.

The state auxiliary approved its third annual Bowling Tournament at Flint on March 6 for the Michigan Kidney Foundation. Last year $900 was raised for the National Institute for Burn Medicine.

Members were also urged to send Secretary of State Henry Kissinger a Mail-O-Gram Nov. 11 in honor of Veterans Day, asking once again where the 1300 POW-MIA's are.

A drug saving program for Project Concern was adopted. Local doctors will be contacted for help in the life saving program.

As an independent agent we answer to one boss— our hometown people

We represent several firms, but we work for only one boss—you. That way we can always place you with a company which we think is best for each line of insurance you need. Naturally, we prefer companies like Auto-Owners who look at a loss and take care of it right away, without haggling or delays. That's one of the reasons we're part of the Altogether Family. Like us, they're always there when you need them.

BOOKS ARE NOBLE

The library is a marvelous and unique place. It can dispel your loneliness, lift your spirits, banish your worries, and transport you into another time and place.

And books literally have the power to change your life. They can stimulate your intellect, arouse your curiosity. They can lead you into more profitable and exciting work.

Without the immortal power of books, we would not know of past man and past civilizations. We would not know the creations of mankind throughout his long history of inspiration and strength.

One immortal Book offers you beauty, hope and inspiration — more than any other.

Go and find this Book. Find the strength in it, when you enter into the House of the Lord.

Enrollment Up For Adult Ed

Adult Education Enrollment is on the increase in Tecumseh High School. Last year, in its infant stage, the program attracted 42 students in just four course offerings.

This year the High School Completion Program alone has been expanded to 12 courses with an enrollment of 70 students representing a 67 percent increase. The average age of the students is 26 years with a range of from 16-53 years old.

The initial staff which consisted of five instructors, has also been increased to allow for the rise of enrollment. Tee instructors, eight of which are also employed full time during the day, are presently involved in the Adult Education Program.

The College Program offered by Monroe County Community College has a total enrollment of 32 students in two courses, political science and psychology. These classes are currently available on Monday and Wednesday nights at the high school.

A German language class taught by Mrs. Gisela Gero is also available at the high school. It has an enrollment of approximately 20 students.

The number of students involved in the Adult Education Programs has reached a total of 122 representing an increase of 191 percent.

Women consistently outnumber men in the program by at least three to one. One reason for this imbalance may be the recent trend toward women's liberation in the home and on the job.

More employment opportunities are becoming available to women who possess the necessary skills for advancement. Occupations formerly held by men only are now opened to women due to the increased emphasis on equal rights.

The success of the programs thus far can be attributed in part to the untiring efforts of the instructors and administrators, with their sincere belief in Adult Education.

The instructors seem to be doing a good job of motiviating adults to seek additional education. The students are no longer afraid to go back to school and seek help in areas in which they feel a need.

The high school completion program is entirely self supporting with no direct cost to the local taxpayer.

Through My Window

BUSINESS AS USUAL

Well, no, that is not quite true. At least, where bird watching is concerned the activity is far below par. However, if one is talking about the beaches and the flower blossoming, then it certainly is business as usual.

We must still be slightly Michigan oriented because it seems more than just a little strange to have so many bushes and plants in full bloom. In our immediate area, within window-view that is, there are large bushes absolutely loaded with huge waxy yellow blossoms. Yellow allamanda. On rides we have also noticed beautiful blossoming purple bushes.

And instead of having the gardens all de-activated and tucked away for winter, down here they are just nicely planted. Friends of my aunt and uncle planted tomato plants several weeks ago and say they are coming along fine.

Our neighbor is looking for a very special kind of petunia he favors. In fact, Bill is a bit upset that he has not found them yet because they should have been tucked in about 10 days ago.

So new are we to all of this fall and winter gardening that our yard does not have too much yet. There are poinsettias by the ramp that are well above Dad's head — and shades of what is coming, the uppermost leaves are quite red already. There is also a small hibiscus bush by the driveway which stingily shows us only one blossom at a time. That is a very pretty blossom though, fairly large and red.

The other day we snuck away from the unpacking and getting settled to check on how the beaches were doing. First we drove down a little road that we found last year which dead ends right at the edge of the Gulf. I am not at all sure this is a road we should be on but until someone tells us differently we shall enjoy it. The view of the water is great and often there are boats to see too. Sometimes fishing boats, once in a while a large freighter.

Of course, things are often not as they seem and what looks very strange may have a perfectly logical explanation. There is a house near the end of this road that always makes us chuckle. The house is directly on the Gulf. Yet what is tucked up close to the back door but a big above-ground swimming pool. Who said something about carrying coals to Newcastle?

Sunset Beach was our next stop. This is a Tarpon Springs city park, well kept and popular. It is rather small but there are covered picnic tables and they say swimming is excellent. It is not touristy and, although we did not take time on this trip, last year it was fun just to sit in the car and watch whole families enjoying themselves — it was also fun to listen to them chatter away in Greek. An interesting sounding language.

Howard Park was, and still is, our favorite. In addition to many lovely picnic areas with palm trees and long needled pines there is a causeway where we often see many shore and water birds and an island with more palm trees, parking areas and sandy beaches.

I wonder if all bird watchers could easily become people collectors? We three Duncans certainly could. One of our reasons for going to Howard Park was to satisfy our curiosity about an old man we saw everytime we were there last year.

He looked like such an interesting man, a real character. His age could have been anything from 80 on up, although, of course, appearances can be deceiving. He always wore swimming shorts and was usually barefooted. He stepped along at a good clip even though he was noticeably stooped.

His snow-white hair and dapper little mustache were accentuated by a beautiful tan. His left arm was heavily tattooed. Always he was walking on the beach — sometimes alone, once with a man who must have been his brother. Could he possibly be there this year?

Indeed he was! He was walking with two other men. A bit more stooped, slightly more tanned but still the same interesting air surrounded him. We could just not help wondering what stories he might have to tell.

Now we are patiently waiting for the birds. When they come back to our small lake and feeder — then, with all of the flowers and the busy beaches, it will be business as usual.

Participation Is Urged

The Tecumseh Bicentennial Committee is urging all local clubs and citizens to participate in the nation's 200th birthday anniversary celebration.

The committee is planning a one-day July 4th festivity, including a parade by town residents to the athletic field to hear a guest speaker.

A Vaudeville Show will be presented by the Western Michigan University players on June 29. Local clubs will be asked to oversee details for these events.

In addition to these functions, the committee would like to have numerous other civic programs scheduled.

The committee would like to hear from individuals and groups who have already planned a tribute to the Bicentennial.

If your organization has a project planned please contact the Rev. David Fox at 423-3233 or Carol McClure, publicity, at 423-3408.

The Committee would also appreciate knowing what individuals or clubs would like to happen in the community during the observance of the Bicentennial year.

Some of the other ideas suggested were planting flowers in red, white and blue by the garden clubs and also a "Liberty Tree" to be lit all year long.

Personal projects may include reading the Constitution, starting the family's genealogy or researching the name of your street.

Clubs might appoint a "legislation representative" to alert members to national, state and local government legislation.

Any ideas or suggestions to make the occasion more memorable for the citizens of Tecumseh are welcomed. Please call 423-3408.

Armed Services Test

Tecumseh High School seniors interested in exploring vocational opportunities wrote the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB), Oct. 28 at the public library.

The single test battery developed by the military services, provides aptitude test scores for use in career counseling.

A students acceptance for enlistment, and ultimate duty assignment are determined by the individual service based on the needs of the Service in relation to his aptitude scores, experience and expressed desires.

The test is not administered for use solely by the Armed Service, however, the scores are valid for predicting success in civilian occupations as well.

Approximately half of the Senior class volunteered to write this test. No fee was charged nor is any commitment made to the military service for taking the test.

Ratify Contract

A new three-year contract between Herrick Hospital and approximately 135 service employees has been reached with the union ratifying the pact last Wednesday.

William Groover, hospital administrator, says the wage and fringe portions of the contract amount to a 6.97 percent increase the first year, including an average 25 cents per hour hike. Wage increases the next two years will amount to 20 cents each year.

Negotiations with the union, an affiliate of the AFL-CIO, began the last week in July.

City Plans Industrial Service Road

Tecumseh Council appears to have thrown a wrench into the plans of R.A. Boley who requested to purchase a northwest lot earlier this year in the city's industrial park area just south of Russell Rd.

Council discussed Monday night the desireability of a U or horse shoe shaped service road off Russell Rd. to control traffic that may be generated by the industrial park development.

Boley said the service road would make his chosen lot "air tight."

"The service road won't suit my needs," Boley told Council. "I'll need a bigger lot and have to go to a back lot. The idea was for a lot to exit directly onto Russell Rd. without a service road.

Boley decided against a northeast lot because of the water table. He plans a retail gas station and to expand with some other conforming business.

Council also questioned the financing of the service road, which will be nearly a half-mile in length. Originally, the city was to recoup its investment in the property and cost of curb and gutter through sale of lots in the park.

Councilman Carlton Cook said he was "not opposed to taking money for sewer and water and road out of general taxes." He feels this should be an incentive to industry.

Lobbying for the service drive, Cook said, "it ought to be done right, if developed at all." Councilmen seemed to agree with him.

Council decided not to make any commitments about the Industrial Park land until after a public hearing for re-zoning of the area to industrial. The hearing is scheduled Dec. 1 at 8 p.m. at city hall.

Mayor Harold Easton told Boley he had time to change his mind.

OK 10 Days Free Parking

There will only be 10 days of free off-street parking this year in downtown Tecumseh as requested by the Chamber of Commerce.

Council aaproved the change Monday night. Dates are Dec. 15 to 25.

Parking will be courtesy of the Chamber who annually bags the meters in an effort to promote shopping in downtown Tecumseh during the holidays.

Bags Arrive

A new supply of leaf bags has finally arrived at city hall from New York.

The city has extended its pickup service for residents because of the delay. Filled bags should be left at the curb.

Early Paper

Because of the holiday next Thursday, The Herald will be printed Monday afternoon and in the Tuesday morning mail. It will be at the newsstands late Monday.

Advertising will be picked up Thursday and Friday, with deadline for both ads and news 9 a.m. Monday.

DOWNTOWN DEVELOPMENT — New concrete bases and trees are now being installed in the downtown development program. Checking the new bases and trees here are Mary Lou Dangler, president of the Chamber, and Dick Eggleston, chairman of the project. Tecumsehites Tom Merx and Mark Goodacre handle the installations for Spielman's Nursery. (Photo by Frank Weir)

World of Miniatures

by KATHY BROWN

In the world of miniatures, she is getting bigger all the time.

Three years ago when she began tinkering with scraps of balsa wood, discarded by her four airplane building sons, Judee Williamson of Macon had an ambitious plan to construct a miniature model of the family's Henry Ford home for posterity.

She was intrigued with antiques and restoring the home but like most of us, she couldn't afford the luxury and turned instead to creating miniatures.

Little did she dream that three years later, her tiny handmade rooms cased in hardwood boxes would have commercial appeal, bringing her commissions and students from all directions.

She has just accepted a commission from Patricia Nimocks, noted craftswoman of Louisville, Ky. She is flying Judee to Acapulco, Mexico for one week to build a miniature villa.

Judee teaches advanced classes in miniature room building at Miniature Makers Workshop in Birmingham. The shop converted exclusively to dealing in miniatures, thanks to the influence Judee's work has made, and is now one of the biggest sources of miniatures in the United States.

Judee's first rooms were made with only three tools; a razor blade, emery board and sandpaper. The shop introduced her to craft tools.

In the advanced classes students learn how to light the rooms, carve brick, pad chairs, carve spirals in wood, lay parquet floors and add more shape and contour to the furnishings.

In beginner classes, taught by others, basic concepts of design and miniature furniture making is studied.

Until her first show at Greenfield Village last December, Judee was unaware of just how many miniature enthusiasts there are throughout the country.

The mighty miniature lovers across America even have a National Association of Miniature Enthusiasts (NAME) with over 5,000 members and a quarterly magazine.

Judee attempted to explain the miniature mania.

"People who love miniatures have either never grown up — in a nice way;" she hastened to add, "or they are antique collectors who have run out of antiques to collect. Third is the nostalgia. Miniatures capture something

NO SMALL INTEREST — Judee Williamson of Macon now devotes her time to teaching, making and showing her miniatures. These scenes and rooms cast a hypnotic charm on observers intrigued by the infinitesimally small handmade details. Christmas tree features 1½ volt lights. Under it are doll house "miniature furniture for miniatures." Room below was constructed around the heirloom broach of the Rohweder family. (Photo by Frank Weir)

City Delays New Walk on N. Evans

Construction of new sidewalk on N. Evans St., from United Savings Bank to Trickey's, has been postponed until spring.

Because of possible weather conditions, the contractor would not guarantee the concrete, including the finishing.

The new walk will be two feet wider with the costs to be charged to property owners.

Council recently approved the construction which was protested by one tax payer. Another property owner, Hubert Van Camp of Clinton, did not protest the construction but questioned the cost of the additional two feet, which will make N. Evans St. that much narrower in the downtown section.

$74,546 EXCEEDS GOAL BY $3,000

Drive Goes Over Top

Community Fund officials were overjoyed last Friday when returns from the industrial and special gift divisions sent the 1975-76 Tecumseh drive way over its $71,416 goal.

Mary Bowers, drive chairman, reports $74,546 raised with some late donations possibly pushing the total over $75,000.

Spectacular industrial returns, especially from the Tecumseh Products, along with an unexpected $10,000 donation to the special gift division make Tecumseh one of the few communities to meet or surpass goals this year.

Both of these divisions went over their quotas as did the schools.

Frank Bock, head of the industrial division, reports a contribution from the Tecumseh Products and employees of $28.451.

Fisher Body give $10,347, of which $1,600 was a corporate pledge and the balance employee pledges of $8,747.

Results of the drive are:

Division	Goal	Amt.	Over	Under
Industrial	$40,000	$41,633	$1,633
Commercial	$12,000	$6,400		$5,600

Girls Heading for 2nd Title!

Although Tecumseh football has ended and boys basketball has yet to begin, excitement is just building in girls' basketball.

On the heels of a triumphant, undefeated season, the orange and black will begin the defense of their Class B state title this Thursday night at 8 o'clock when they enter District tournament competing at Brooklyn.

Tecumseh travels to Brooklyn to play Columbia Central in the opening game of district competition. If they win – and they are the heavy favorite – they will play again this Saturday at Brooklyn at 7:30 p.m.

The District championship game will be played Monday night at 7:30 p.m.

The Indians had little trouble garnering the Huron League championship with a 7-0 league record this fall. For the entire season they posted 15 wins and no losses.

They ended their regular season Monday night with an easy victory over Adrian, 65-28. It marked their 38th consecutive win. The last time Tecumseh tasted defeat was in the final game of the regionals in 1973 when Holt upset them, 50-45.

A District title would send Tecumseh into the Regionals to be held in Riverview this year. After that comes the quarter-finals at Battle Creek and the state semi-finals and finals to be held again in Grand Rapids this year.

The toughest competition coach Diane Nelson expects in tournament play will come from Kalamazoo Parchment, a probable quarter-final foe, and either Cheseaning or Jenison in the finals.

The Indians beat Jenison last year in the semi-finals 49-32.

HUSTLE ON DEFENSE — If the Tecumseh High School girls are successful in winning their second straight state Class B title, you can bet that their defense will play a major role. Harrassing an Adrian player Monday night were Tori Iffland and Julie Anderson, as the local team won easily — by 37 points — over a supposedly tough Adrian team.

Jewels & gems

By Dick Eggleston

Diamond is in many ways, the experts say, the most extraordinary mineral in the world of inorganic matter. It is interesting as it is one of the most precious gems. It is the hardest mineral and therefore a vital working materials. And it is an important witness of genetic conditions and processes in the depths of the Earth. The diamond is formed during 600 million years, within 60 miles of the earth's outer crust. They are brought to the surface during quickly cooling vulcanic erruptions; no wonder that they are among man's most prized possessions.

If you are looking for a diamond be sure to see our fine selection at EGGLESTON'S JEWELRY, 107 E. Chicago Blvd., 423-2715. Keepsake dinner, engagement and birthstone rings are handled and we have many inexpensive as well as fine costume jewelry pieces. Rings can be sized for comfort and safety and we do expert repairs.

GEM FACT: An occasional washing in soap and water is all that is needed to keep pewter bright and shining.

Nutrition Programs Are Urged

Urging that the State of Michigan implement its own health care programs and not rely on federal funds and agencies, James Havel political scientist and legislative specialist spoke to the American Association of University Women Nov. 10 at Plotter Center, Adrian.

Havel is from the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures, a non-profit citizens' group which works to update and improve state legislatures.

MHC Designates Pawson Farm

By Kathy Brown

A farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Pawson of 5464 Pawson Rd., Tipton has been designated as a Centennial Farm by the division of Michigan history.

The farm, located in Franklin Township, has been in the possession of the family since 1870. It was originally purchased April 5, 1870 by Charles A. Pawson, great-grandfather of the present owners, from Benjamin F. Reynolds.

Charles Pawson, a carpenter, married Reynolds' daughter, Clarinda. He bought the property in 1870 and built the present home in 1882. Pawsons have always resided in the home and farmed. Dorman Pawson, his two brothers and sister were born in the home.

Now the farm is operated by Pawson, his wife, Jill, their children Troy, 12, Karman, 10 and Mary, 7 and a hired man.

The Secretary of State Department administers the Centennial Farm program, inaugurated in 1948. Since then, more than 3,000 Michigan farms have been certified as Centennial Farms.

Certificates are provided by the Division of Michigan History. Large metal markers are provided by the Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Companies.

A centennial farm is one which has been in the continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

"Come on, doc. Level with me—I can take it! What have I got? Six months? A year maybe?"

My general practioner tried to mask his deep concern with a feigned look of puzzlement. "What on earth are you talking about?" Doctors! Always answering questions with questions.

"Why, my brain tumor, of course."

"You haven't got a brain tumor."

"Oh. Well, it must be an aneurysm then. Or maybe it's..."

"Hold it!"

"I'll bet it's anexoria nervosa!"

"You're giving ME anexoria nervosa! All you've got is an acute case of televisnia excessia."

I hated to admit it, but his diagnosis was correct. I winched at his verbal prescription: No more Marcus Welby, M.D., Doctors' Hospital or Medical Center.

I knew the first week would be hard, but I also knew that if I were to be truly cured I would have to go cold turkey.

On Monday night I was very brave and determined, and made it through an entire movie without so much as switching channels during commericals to watch Dr. Gannon perform a tricky kidney transplant.

On Tuesday evening I began to weaken, but even though my heart was with Doctors Welby and Kiley, I stayed true to Detective Joe Forrester.

By Thursday I thought I was home free. The previous night I had forsaken George Peppard's lovely bedside manner for Don Rickles...

It was a Friday afternoon movie that did me in. "The Young Interns" was on, and thought I'd seen it three times, I've always been a sucker for Dick Clark.

I blew it in my doctor's office the following Monday. When he asked how I was doing, I told him I thought I had myxedema.

"You leave me no choice," he said solemnly. "We'll have to do a radical televisionectomy."

"Not that," I gasped. But secretely I thought, "Let him take it out. I'll still have my medical encyclopedia!"

Miniatures

from their past which is joyful and lovely for them."

Some people are fascinated by miniatures because they have "no photographs to remember" things like a mother's sewing room, auntie's parlor at Christmas or grandma's country store and post office. Judee has done these themes.

She likes to build the rooms around some personal object of the individual. Once completed the rooms are sealed by silicone, opened only by the artist.

Whenever a commission is finished, she trys to display it locally so as many people can see it in the shortest amount of time.

Pat's Craft Studio, Macon Grocery Store, Bixby Hospital via a good neighbor and United Savings Bank have displayed her work.

An average room takes about 10 days to make — with 15 hours of labor a day.

"This is not the kind of work you can do from 9 to 5," said Judee. "I become totally and absolutely involved. That's why I like to teach. It puts me in contact with people and keeps me alert."

Judee will have her own show at the Fisher Building Lobby in Detroit Nov. 18 to 28, across from the Etcetera (miniature) Shop.

A show will also be Nov. 21 and 22 from 10 to 4 p.m. at the Birmingham shop.

Eighty student boxes will be displayed.

"I'm not trying to go away from here. I'm not trying to be famous. The most important thing to me is to make miniatures and please people with them," told Judee.

Please her public she has!

City Vandalism Continues to Climb

Vandalism in the city of Tecumseh has climbed to $5,670 dollars and the dollar amount does not include other maintenance by the city such as cleaning up overturned trash barrels or replacement of uprooted shrubs or trees.

Mounting costs of vandalism were discussed in length again by Council at Monday's meeting. Various opinions were expressed as to the reason and a cure.

Councilman Wallace Whiting said the vandalism "reflects on the apathetic attitude of the general public."

He urges a "concerted effort" by residents along with the city, schools and police, to report and protect against acts of vandalism.

"If we could be guaranteed they'd have jail time" Mayor Harold Easton said, "the problem might not be as bad. How do you get people to take responsibility?"

Councilman James Palmer said Tecumseh has entered "a new era" under the present police chief Merlin Mowery.

He cited the relatively calm Halloween nights of Tecumseh compared to other communities. This year Tecumseh did not designate a Halloween night for trick or treating and the recreation department encouraged students to attend the city planned activities instead.

Councilman Ray Puffer agreed with the audience suggestion to hold parents responsible for damages.

According to the city attorney Greg Foresthoefel, parents can be held responsible under civil action for up to $500.

Sales Boost Band

Band camp won't cost Tecumseh High School Band members a single cent this year, thanks to the success of the recent candle sale.

To date, the high school has $2,678 in its band fund and the junior high school has $1,240 in its fund.

Considerably more candles were sold this year because a similar though improved product was sold. Net profit from the sale of 3,420 candles is $3,238.

Candles will be distributed Thursday through Saturday.

Band camp this year will be July 22-26 at Alma College. Sixty members will attend.

Unused monies go back into the fund. The accounting system provides the Junior High School Band with a separate fund so its earnings will be used by that band class for band camp when it is in high school.

Master Plumber

The cans of air that you buy to clean out drains are not too efficient if you have a vent. If it is plugged beyond the vent, you will just force the water up the vent and when you take the tank of air off, you will get all the water right back — sometimes with an unexpected bath.

CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING has the drain cleaner you need to clean the drain whether it be mechanical or chemical at a very economical price. It costs less to buy the best! If you can't get your drain open, call us and we will do it right. We have toilet plungers and sink plungers that are the best.

HELPFUL HINT: If you are going to plunge a double compartment sink, be sure you plug the opposite side. If you plunge a lavatory, be sure to plug the overflow.

BOUND TO IMPROVE

The well-filled bird feeder attracts no one. The mocking birds' raisins which float in a little dish in the birdbath remain untasted. Bread thrown on the lake is slowly nibbled by the fish. The lake itself is strangely and sadly bereft of birds. I could be the perfect picture of frustration and disappointment.

That is I could be, were I not the eternal optimist. A cockeyed optimist would be more accurate, if I may borrow that phrase from the song in "South Pacific." The bird watching is just unbelievably bad! But, gradually it is improving and hopefully, things will continue to improve.

Last year we had good bird watching right from the beginning. I keep reminding myself though that we are almost six weeks ahead of our arrival date last year — we came back early but the birds didn't.

There seems to be, in addition to the great north and south migration, a rather marked movement among the birds who are technically called non-migratory.

During the hot weather many of them apparently go back to the woods and swamps where it is cooler. The almost daily 80 to 85 degree temperature we have all enjoyed must still be keeping the birds in summer hiding.

At least, this is one guess. Mom's skeptical looks tell me that I am whistling in the dark. Another possible explanation is one that truly, I hate to think about — the land developing proceeds at a feverish pitch and the huge project on two sides of our park is still going full blast.

Enormous machines are rumbling from dawn 'til dark, seven days a week. The destruction of habitat, the noise, the confusion, all of this has to be taking its toll. I refuse to think how frightfully high that toll might be.

But Marda, you were wearing your optimist cap today? Dwell on the birds you have.

When we first arrived the mocking birds were singing all night long. What a strange and yet nice sensation to rouse out of a deep sleep in the middle of the night and hear birds singing.

It has been a few weeks since we last heard their night-talk but the mockers are still around. As they fly past the porch these large dark gray birds flash their white wing patches at us. And, as they post on the roof of our neighbor's coach, they seem to show off their long-tailed slender-bodied silhouettes.

As for the raisins — well, there was water in the birdbath for a week or so before we remembered to get some raisins. The mockers checked the birdbath frequently and were, I suppose, disgusted at finding nothing to eat. Now they are making us wait.

Of course, the bird we first looked for at Sun Valley were George, the big white egret. He was undisputed king last year. No sight of him at first but finally an egret appeared.

He is not in steady residence though and his actions don't seem quite right. And, is it just imagination or is he slightly smaller? I will have to start making inquiries.

Actually, if we saw all of the birds we hear, there would be nothing to do but list and watch them. The other day, for example, I about went straight out of my mind. All day long I listened to that familiar loud and raucous rattling which means only one thing, a kingfisher. There is simply no mistaking them.

However our lake is not kingfisher 'country.' It is too open and none of the trees are large enough to afford fishing perches. None except those at the end of the lake that is. A large swamp extends beyond the northern end of the lake. It's tall dark and brooding trees are the backdrop which makes my porch-looking so endlessly enjoyable.

This is also the area where the kingfisher must have been. I don't know what his problem was but he certainly spent the whole day complaining about something.

What a relief to hear a bird sound, recognize it and be able to look over the lake and see the source. I would say it was a nice turn of events except that the birds were least terns. A large flock was wheeling and turning quite close to the surface of the water!

My last bird is the real cause for my optimism. A deep scarlet male cardinal lit on the boxwood bush by the porch. With that kind of omen I just know that the bird watching is bound to improve.

Indians Are Experienced, 5 Lettermen Return

By FRANK WEIR

The Indians open their basketball season with a scrimmage against Chelsea this Saturday from 9-11:30 a.m. On Monday they host Ann Arbor Huron.

And head coach Ron Spagnoli is cautiously optimistic about his teams' fortunes. Nevertheless, things look pretty rosy for Tecumseh with five returning lettermen including last year's leaders in scoring and rebounds.

Last season the squad finished with a 9-5 league record tying with Grosse Ile for third place in the Huron League.

Returning lettermen include, Bruce Hughes, the 6'7" center who led in scoring and rebounding last season with 279 points and 220 rebounds, Ken Biscupski, 6'4" forward who was second in scoring last year with 223 points, Linvel Lisenbee, 5'10" guard, Jeff Schafer, 6'4" forward, third in rebounding last season, and Brad Sisson 5'10" guard third in scoring honors last year with 159 total points.

Those five also form the tentative starting line up for the season. Other team members include juniors Dave Bilkie, Tim Mayers, Scott Macbeth, Dave Bohannon, Paul Whisman, Dan Maves, and Gary Allen.

Coach and team are chomping at the bit in anticipation of starting the season. Says Spagnoli, "The kids are excited and I'm excited. Everyone on the team is good. We have the quickness and skills necessary to be successful. The team has potential and all the top kids are black. Whether we are successful remains to be seen but the potential is there."

Spagnoli can't see any obvious weak areas in the team. Last year the squad had a problem with consistent shooting. As Spagnoli puts it, "We felt we should have done better last year than we did. We had a very good defense but our shooting hurt us. We've got new shooting drills and I feel we'll do better. We'll have to do better. But this early, its difficult to tell. It'll take a couple of weeks."

Spagnoli is quite happy with the progress the team has made thus far in practice and depth on the bench is a definite orange and black strength.

Naturally the team will look to its seniors for leadership. "We expect all the seniors to be leaders. We'll develop the team concept, everyone has a role in leadership. We didn't have it last year and you need it to be successful."

Tecumseh will again have a tough defense this season. "We'll take advantage when the fast break presents itself. And we've worked on the running game this summer."

Gilbralter Carlson won the league championship last year and should be tough again. Spagnoli feels the league as a whole should be tougher this year than last. All have a good nucleus of players and should be improved.

Tecumseh opens its league season when they travel to Flat Rock Dec. 5.

38th CONSECUTIVE WIN — Tecumseh's girls basketball squad closed out their regular season with a victory over Adrian 65-28 Monday night. It was their 38th win in a row. 1975-76 INDIAN CAGE SQUAD — Tecumseh opens its basketball season this Saturday with a scrimmage against Chelsea from 9-11:30 a.m. First game will be against Ann Arbor Huron next Monday night in Tecumseh. All of last year's leaders in scoring and rebounding are back again this season. Head coach Ron Spagnoli is pictured above kneeling in front with No. 14 Linvel Lisenbee standing behind the coach. Head for District Tourney

With the predictability of life and death itself, Tecumseh's girls basketball squad won three more games in the past week to close out regular season play.

The girls brought down Carlson, Ann Arbor St. Thomas and Adrian stretching their season record to 15-0 and 7-0 in the Huron League. The victory over Adrian Monday night made it the 38th consecutive win for the Indians.

They easily won the Huron League championship with Grosse Ile taking second place with a 6-1 record.

Tecumseh enters district tournament action facing Columbia Central Thursday night at 8 p.m. in Brooklyn. If they win — and they are favored to — they will play again Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. District championship game will be next Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Tecumseh blew Carlson off the court last Wednesday 74-13 in a complete mismatch. Julie Anderson was top scorer at 22 points followed by Jan Stevens with 13.

The junior varsity also won 47-10 with Gloria Fosbender grabbing scoring honors with 12 and Grace Burns with 11.

The Indians traveled to Ann Arbor Friday night to meet St. Thomas. Tecumseh won that contest 61-37 with Susie Brown capturing scoring honors with 15 and Anderson with 12. Melinda Ternak had 11 and Stevens nine in the game.

The junior varsity lost to St. Thomas in a close game, 23-18. Grace Burns had six points and Janice Jahner four.

Coach Diane Nelson expected more of a tussle when the Indians traveled to Adrian Monday night. But Tecumseh had little trouble despite a slow start in shooting from the field.

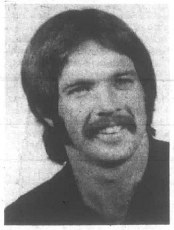
The orange and black couldn't seem to hit the bucket at the beginning of the contest and the Maples took a one point lead.

But by the end of the first frame, Tecumseh was ahead 13-8 and by the half they made it 34-14. Final tally in the game was 65-28 in favor of the Indians.

Julie Anderson led in scoring with 21 points followed by Melinda Ternak with 15 and Tori Iffland with 10 points. Susie Brown had eight, Stevens five, Cindy Wright, four and Debbie Steadly, two.

The junior varsity also won over the Maples 45-20 with Grace Burns and Jill Greenfield each with 13 points. Gloria Fosbender had nine.

The JV's ended their season with a 12-3 overall record.



Mike Allen, 26, of Tecumseh, is club professional at the Jackson Raquet Club. He is a 1968 graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Northern Michigan University.

Youth Hockey

The Tecumseh recreation department's youth hockey teams skated to a tie and a loss this weekend at Tam O Shanter.

The Tomahawk Squirts, sponsored by Raynor Snyder Realty were outshot 6-2 by a very strong first National Sabres of Sylvania. Goals for the Tomahawks were made by Chris O'Connell and Kevin Napierala and assists on goals to Mike Doherty and Mike Foley.

In the second game the Tomahawk PeeWees sponsored by Tecumseh Products go off to an early first period lead as Wendell West and Tim Eardley each put one in the nets. Early in the second period a Tomahawk third goal was put in by Ken Grodi and it looked as thought the game was going for the Tomahawk third goal was put in by Ken Grodi

However two quick goals in the second period by Reeb Bruins changed the play rapidly.

In the final period, Reebs put two more goals in making it 4 to 3. However with 5 minutes left Tim Eardley tallied his second goal of the day to tie the game 4 to 4 and the tie stood.

Tories to Open Cage Season

Britton's basketball squad opens its season next Tuesday night with a non-league battle against Manchester.

The Tories—who finished with an 8-11 record last year—have just two returning lettermen this year including Jim Craddit and Craig Wagenschutz. The team lost six starters from last year.

Other team members include seniors Paul Wielfaert, Dave Wielfaert and Mike Childs, juniors Lon Wagenschutz, Jim Frayer, Bill Lutz, Ron Williams, Mark Willaert and sophomore Phil Loesch.

Head coach of the squad is Jim Sweigart and he says of his charges, "This team plays well together, they click well. They aren't overstrong in any one area but there is no terrible weakness in any one area.

"I'm concerned with their rebounding at times but then other times they have no problems. I would say that our man-to-man defense needs work. It has to be a team effort."

Sweigart continues, "We plan to run more this year then in the past. We've spent a good deal of time in practice on this and our defense. Last year our strength was in defense. We shot 30 percent from the floor which was pathetic but we still won eight ball games. That was because we had a strong defense. With the running game we should score more points. But defense is one of the keys."

Sweigart figures Ann Arbor St. Thomas to be the toughest in the Tri-County league. St. Thomas holds last year's confernece title and they've only lost one starter. Besides St, Thomas, Sweigart feels league play should be fairly even.

Sweigart is pleased with the team's spirit. "They are very hard workers and are united. They're a pleasurable team to coach."

Mark Lewis is coaching the junior varsity. First league game for the Tories is against Whiteford Dec. 5.

Britton Honors Athletes

The Britton Tories held their fall sports awards program Tuesday night sponsored by the Tory Athletic Boosters Club.

Varsity football awards were presented. The Tories ended with a 6-2 overall record. Those receiving awards included Craig Wagenschutz - defensive lineman of the year; Paul Wielfaert - defensive back of the year; Mike Hintz - offensive lineman of the year; Rudy Montalvo - offensive back of the year; and Dave Wielfaert - most valuable player of the year.

In addition, Montalvo and Bill Lutz were named co-captains for next year.

The squad is losing six seniors including Paul and Dave Wielfaert, Craig Wagenschutz, Mike Hintz, Don Reaum, and Jeff Campbell.

The football junior varsity squad posted a 3-4 record.

Other sports honored were girls basketball. The girls varsity ended with an 8-6 record. Dawn Bush was named to the Tri-County league first team and Diane Andrews to the second team. Jenene Bruce and Lori Monigan received honorable mention.

The junior varsity posted a 9-5 record.

Bus Bought By Britton Board

BRITTON — Britton-Macon Board of Education accepted the bid of McFadden Corporation of Lansing for a 60-passenger school bus body at a cost of $6,340.

The board also directed Supt. William Saxton to let bids for a school bus chasis.

Principal John DeLine reviewed the results of the State of Michigan Educational Assessment Tests which were given to fourth and seventh grade students.

The test is one part of a cooperative effort between the state, local school districts, and citizens to search for ways to improve the quality of education for all Michigan school children.

Anthony Bandurski gave a library report.

Board approved the senior trip to Florida, sometime in May.

Approval was also given for a nine-game football schedule. Eight games have been scheduled in past seasons. Purchase of girl's softball uniforms were also approved.

In other action Board approved transferring $2,500 from the general fund to the unemployment compensation savings account.

Released-Time Bible Classes

BRITTON — Gerald L. Booth, Jr., pastor of the Britton Bethel Baptist Church, announced the church is offering non-sectarian released-time Bible classes to pupils enrolled in junior high (grades 7-9) at Britton-Macon area school.

Michigan law provides pupils may be released during school hours to attend such activities. However, school officials must have written permission from the pupil's parents. (These forms have been distributed to the students for the parent's signature).

One class per month will be held on the following dates: Nov. 19, Dec. 17, Jan. 21, Feb. 18, March 17, and April 21. Each session is about one hour long.

Under Michigan law released-time Bible classes cannot be held on school premises, so transportation will be provided to those students who have returned a parent signed permission slip, to the school office.

Doctor Suing City, Officer after Clash

Although city officials have known for several days that a lawsuit may be filled against the city and a local police officer, officials still are in the dark as to what action — has or may — take place.

Dr. Edward J. Dranginis, 701 Outer Dr., reportedly has filed suit against the city and officer, asking for $370,000 in damages, for alleged mistreatment of his wife, Nancy, and son in an incident on Sept. 13 with Officer Gerry Greene.

Cal Zorn, city manager, said Monday that he was aware of the incident but had no knowledge relative to the lawsuit against the city.

According to city officials, Greene had completed his round of duty on Sept. 13 and was enroute home when he reportedly saw Daniel Dranginis, 16, throwing rocks at a home under construction in the Herrick Park area.

Greene is said to have apprehended the youth and taken him to the police station. Mrs. Dranginis reportedly was called to the station where she was asked to sign — and refused — release papers for her son.

Instead, officials say, she went to the Greene home and verbally accosted the officer, who then placed her under arrest. Greene is said to have called the station for a patrol car to pick Mrs. Dranginis up.

Instead, she got into her car, apparently to drive away, when Greene pulled her from vehicle. There reportedly is a witness to this.

The doctor's lawsuit is said to have charged Greene with beating his son and wife without apparent reason; that both were arrested without a warrant, plus other charges and accusations.

Punitive damages in the amount of $100,000 each are being sought for Nancy, Daniel and Edward Dranginis, plus $10,000 in actual damages for Edward and Daniel Dranginis and $50,000 in actual damages for Mrs. Dranginis.

The Dranginis attorneys reportedly are located in Southfield.

B&E at Gambles

Tecumseh police are continuing an investigation of a breaking and entering that occurred shortly before 3 a.m. Sunday at Gambles.

According to the report, the alarm was received at the police station at 2:42 a.m. while a patrol car was in the River Acres area. By the time this car and another cruiser with officers arrived, the burglars had vanished.

As of Monday morning, the known loss was limited to four shotguns and rifles taken from a display stand.

Entry to the store was gained by breaking a window and prying locks off a rear door.

TECUMSEH'S PILGRIM FAMILY — First Thanksgiving of the Vietnamese family sponsored by St. Elizabeth Church will be celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McCann. Although the Thanksgiving Day tradition is not understood by the Vietnamese, the 18 member family continues to give thanks for the kindnesses shown by residents. "The family is thankful to anyone who has helped them. They feel wanted and are very happy to be here in a home," told Ruth McCann, a volunteer working with the family. "They understand how we can be so thankful." Since their arrival in July, they are finding a place in the community. They are now self-supporting. Children are also doing good in school. The Rev. Brooks Martin, youth pastor at Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church will speak.

An offering will be taken for the Crop Program. During the time of the adult service, "little people" service will be in the annex of the church, for ages 5 to 11. Nursery facilities (a cry room) will be available.

Public is invited.

Plan Bazaar, Flea Market

The Senior Citizens' Tuesday Arts and Crafts group will hold its first Christmas bazaar flea market at the Community Center, Dec. 5 and Dec. 6.

Hours are Friday from 2-8 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Under the direction of Mary Lou Eardley, the seniors have been busy for the last few months making many craft items, Christmas decorations and small gifts.

Need Skiers

Ten more registrants are needed for the Tecumseh Ski Club, according to Ward Eardley, recreation director.

A meeting relative to the continuation of the club will be held next Thursday evening, Dec. 4, at 7 o'clock at the Community Center, and registration will be taken at this time.

Offer $1,000 for Robbery Information

A $1,000 reward has been offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the two young men who robbed and terrorized the Robert Sage family on Sunday, Nov. 9.

Two interested citizens have put up the money in hopes that tips and necessary information will be forthcoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Sage, their daughter and her family and friends of the family were held at gun point in the Sage house for 40 minutes while the Taylor Rd. residence was being ransacked.

Many sentimental valuables along with heirlooms were taken in the robbery.

Romping District

Unless there was a catastrophic upset Monday night in the district finals at Columbia Central, Tecumseh girls varsity advanced to the regional tourney at Riverview, suburb of Detroit, for a regional opening game there next Wednesday.

Coach Diane Nelson's team easily disposed of Columbia Central and Willow Run in the first two district games and were heavily favored to oust Jackson Lumen Christi in Monday night's title clash.

If the Indians proceed to the regional opener and win, they will play for the regional championship on Friday, Dec. 5th.

Santa Arriving Here Friday

Santa Claus is scheduled to arrive in downtown Tecumseh this Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock through the courtesy of the local Chamber of Commerce.

He will greet youngsters here until 7 p.m., and again Saturday afternoon from 1:00 to 5:00. His visitation hours will be published in next week's issue of The Herald, and they will also be posted on Santa's house.

Although the snow has yet to fly — at least to any degree — Santa's helpers have been busy nonetheless. Four members of the Green Thumb organization of the Senior Citizens and Buck Maynard have rebuilt Santa's house. Santa's home in Tecumseh, to be located on the south side of E. Chicago Blvd. in downtown Tecumseh near Ottawa St., has been insulated, carpeted and fluorescent lighting installed.

Couple Recite Vows

Margaret E. Keeney and Robert A. Hackett were married Nov. 8 at 4:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Tecumseh by the Rev. Kenneth Boyd.

Betty Flanders was organist at the wedding of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Keeney II, Tipton and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard D. Hackett, 509 Cairns St.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a Victorian style gown of sheer nylon over taffeta. The natural waistline was accented by Venitian lace and Victorian lace on the sleeves and bodice.

Matching lace covered her satin headpiece which secured her two tiered cathedral veil, made by the bride's maternal grandmother.

She carried dried, silk and straw flowers accented with baby's breath. Her jewelry was an amethyst pinky ring, belonging to her paternal grandmother.

Cathy King of Tecumseh was maid of honor in a gown of cotton chintz with a dusty rose and blue Victorian print. The princess style gown featured long sleeves.

She wore a picture hat with sheer bows, matching the gown.

Cynthia Libs of Tecumseh and Leta Schultz of Onsted, the bride's cousin, were bridesmaids, attired as the honor attendant.

The bride made the bridesmaids dresses.

Mervin Maynard of Tecumseh was best man. Marvin Maynard of Ann Arbor and William Keeney, brides' brother of Tipton, were groomsmen.

Dick Smith of Hillsdale and George Henzler of Toledo, Ohio were ushers.

A dinner was hosted for 400 guests at the United Products Workers Union Hall.

Laura Schultz and LuAnn Hackett assisted with serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramin Sadr of Columbus, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Waggle from East Liverpool, Ohio were special guests.

After a wedding trip to the East, the couple will reside in Sand Creek.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Tecumseh High School and employed at Dancer's. The groom is a 1970 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed as a plumber by Clauda Plumbing and Heating.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at W.C.'s of Adrian.

"GO WITH YOUR GRANDFATHER"—Ray Betzoldt, left, made the mistake of taking along 14 year-old grandson, John Betzoldt who -- you guessed it -- shot his grandfather's deer. Prize was a 150 lb., eight point buck taken near Hubbard Lake on the third day of the trip. It was beginner's luck! Both are from Tecumseh. (Photo by Cortland Hunt)

The honored couple were married Nov. 26, 1925.

Sons and daughters of the couple arranged the surprise party. They are George and Jackie VanCamp, Tecumseh; Don and Margaret VanCamp, Brooklyn; Roger and Shirley Phalen and Jim and Marilyn Haddrill.

Among those attending were grandchildren, Michael VanCamp, Kristin Haddrill, Ryan Haddrill, Scott Haddrill, Cheryl VanCamp, Cindy VanCamp, Cathy VanCamp, Linda VanCamp, Tim VanCamp and friends Ken Linn and Rick Sitarz.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. VanCamp's brothers and sisters, Mrs. Ester Higgins, Tecumseh; Mrs. Lucille Ciucci of Mason; Mr. and Mrs. Glen VanCamp, of Grand Ledge and Mrs. Reba Furman of Onandaga.

Bicentennial Message

CHAIRMAN'S Message

The Rev. David Fox, chairman of the Tecumseh Bicentennial Committee, offers this message:

The Bicentennial commemoration offers each of us a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for involvement in a unique experience. All of us in the Tecumseh area can pay tribute to past accomplishments, celebrate years of struggle and achievement, and use the Bicentennial as an inspiration for planning our future.

Our greatest challenge lies in the opportunity to use the excitement and enthusiasm of the celebration to build an even better community and nation.

Get involved yourself, with your family, and with organizations you serve in implementing the Bicentennial themes:

Heritage '76 means discovering one's heritage, an exciting experience. The Bicentennial invites all Americans to examine this nation's history and values . . . to rekindle the fires of optimism and confidence.

Festival U.S.A. is the very core of the Bicentennial. It encourages revival of the spirit of hospitality and cultural exchange that has made the United States one of the great countries of the world.

Horizon '76 calls Americans to band together in their communities and define goals, establish plans and priorities for the future . . . and then leave behind a lasting memorial to the Bicentennial.

In addition to these three national themes for the Bicentennial observance, two areas of special emphasis for Michigan were adopted by the State Bicentennial Commission:

GOVERNMENTAL REVIEW

The Bicentennial commemorates the birth of a form of government that has survived for 200 years. Examine our government that has survived for 200 years. Examine our government at every level. Seriously analyze the governmental process. Discuss and review the basic concepts from which grew not only the United States governmental structure, but the structures of local and state governments as well.

TRANSPORTATION

Michigan has a right to call attention to its important and historical accomplishments in transportation and the Bicentennial is an excellent vehicle to accomplish this.

To remind us that the Bicentennial has a more lasting meaning than the one, big, grand, and glorious celebration of 1976, the Michigan legislature has extended the observance of the Bicentennial by law until Jan. 1, 1980. Keep in mind the "Bicentennial Decade" when making plans and formulating programs for the bicentennial observance.

Brittonite Gets Commendation

By FRANK WEIR

BRITTON — There's a whale of a difference between quiet living in Britton and handling top secret messages at the Pentagon in Washington during an international crisis.

But that's just what Larry Ash, of 8904 Ridge Road, did for 3½ years while in the Navy.

Larry spent most of his hitch as a message processing technician at the Joint Chiefs of Staff message center in the Pentagon. And last Wednesday, Larry received the Joint Service Commendation Medal and citation for his work at a special ceremony at the Naval Reserve Facility in Ann Arbor.

Commander R. L. Sloan made the presentation.

Larry joined the Navy after graduation from Bowling Green University in 1972. He left the service in October of this year.

In his position at the message center, Larry, and other technicians, handled top secret military information coming into—or out of—the nation's capitol.

He was on duty the night President Ford ordered the military to re-capture the merchant ship Maya Guez in South East Asia. Many of the attack orders and other data were relayed by him.

Larry found the work exciting and who wouldn't. All of us harbor James Bondian fantasies of cloak-and-daggery from time to time. He worked in a room surrounded by lead-lined walls and all personnel had to go through several security check areas. Occasionally he would participate in drills in the event of nuclear war.

He also served as a message courier for one year delivering information to the White House, the office of the Secretary of State and others.

Present at the awards ceremony Wednesday were Larry's wife, Gale and son, Mathew, 2½ years-old, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ash, and in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. James Lister. All are of Britton.

Nancy Benedict and Howard Wilson Wed

BRITTON — A wedding of simplicity took place Saturday afternoon in the Britton Congregational Christian Church, uniting Nancy (Brown) Benedict and Howard Wilson, both of Tecumseh, in marriage.

The Rev. David Hawk performed the double ring ceremony before the candlelit altar, enhanced with bouquets of blue, white and gold mums.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ned Brown, of Britton, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson of Pompano Beach, Fla.

Mrs. William Raeburn was organist.

The bride chose a floor length A-line Alice blue travera knit gown with a short matching hooded jacket and long sleeves, trimmed in blue maribu.

Her bouquet was of yellow roses and baby's breath, tied with a deep blue velvet ribbon.

The couple were attended by their children. Diana Wilson was maid of honor and Mark Wilson, was best man; Noel Benedict was the ringbearer, all of Tecumseh.

Roger Brown, brother of the bride, and Charles Wilson, brother of the groom, from Grand Rapids, were ushers.

A reception for 70 guests was held in the fellowship center of the church immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Ronald Cheever and Mrs. August Maska presided at the buffet table and poured coffee; Mrs. William Bailey served punch; and Mrs. Richard Moore served the cake.

A champaign rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening in the candle light room at Bauer Manor, given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson.

The bride is employed at Eva's Beauty Bar, as a beautician and the groom is an accountant at Fisher Body in Tecumseh.

The newlyweds will make their home at 1105 Murray Drive, Tecumseh, following a short wedding trip.

New Merit Badge Is Added

Tecumseh Scouts can earn a new merit badge for perservation and assist the Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee in its goal to preserve the town's 19th century architecture.

The American Heritage merit badge became available to Scouts in September. It stresses involvement of the Scout in local history and one of its requirements focuses directly on historic preservation.

To earn the badge, which is a circular patch dominated by a likeness of the Statue of Liberty's head, a Scout must complete five steps.

Research and participation are keynotes.

Under another category, the applicant is asked to explain what the National Register of Historic Places is and how a property becomes eligible for listing and to describe the National Register properties in his area.

Tecumseh's only home on the National Register is the Musgrove Evans home. Built in 1826, it is the first home in the country.

The Historic District Study Committee hopes other Tecumseh homes will merit a place on the National Register. Scouts can assist with research.

Another option for a Scout to merit the American heritage badge is to locate and bring to the attention of the state historic preservation officer a local property or object that the Scout believes is worthy of listing in the National Register. He is then asked to assist the preservation officer in nominating it for inclusion.

Any civic leader involved in history as a hobby or profession and interested in helping young men find out more about the community's past should contact a local troop leader.

Lady of the Year Award Is Planned

Janet Curtiss has been named general chairwoman of the Lady of the Year Committee to honor the Lenawee County woman who has made an outstanding contribution to her respective field during the past.

To submit a name for consideration, contact Gladys Newton, Tecumseh area, 423-2784.

A panel of judges selected from civic leaders in the county will determine the woman to be honored.

Beta Sigma Phi is an international cultural and social organization with approximately 240,000 active members throughout the United States, Canada and 21 other countries.

The group's international endowment fund contributes more than $250,000 for cancer research and more than $750,000 for other projects including Cystic Fibrosis research, Literacy Village in Lucknow, India, Girlstown, U.S.A., scholarships and other projects.

COMPARE THE ENERGY SAVINGS!

SLIM-WALL FOAM INSULATION!

Westinghouse uses a special foam type insulation . . . the most efficient insulating material used in refrigerators. Foam fills every nook and cranny to insulate evenly . . . won't rot or settle and adds structural strength to the cabinet. As an added benefit, foam insulation gives more storage space in less floor space.

HIGH PERFORMANCE FILTER COOL SYSTEM!

Improved condenser system provides better heat dissipation, for greater operating efficiency. Cooling fan has extra-large blades to move more air, but at lower speed for extra-quiet operation!

WESTINGHOUSE "T" COMPRESSOR!

The "heart" of the refrigerator! Precision machined parts, computer-checked assembly combine power and precision to assure an absolute minimum of friction during compressor operation. All working parts are completely surrounded by an oil "bath" sealed inside the compressor's shell to further reduce friction and wear. These add up to higher efficiency and longer life for the Westinghouse "T" Compressor.

STUPID, SENSELESS SLAUGHTER

Unfortunately we were all too right. The white egret we occasionally saw the first few weeks we were here is definitely not George. We thought this one was not quite large enough and after watching him, we were positive he was not the same bird. He was not sure enough of himself, he did not seem to know the lake well enough and he certainly did not have the regal manner nor aloof haughtiness.

Last year's egret let us know right from the beginning he was King of this lake. People were allowed to live on the shores but only by his sufferance. We had to be on our toes and live according to his rules and regulations.

Primarily, of course, these concerned food. All fish caught in the lake were his. And, as soon as a line was cast, he was nearby in case the fisherman had any luck.

He also felt it his right and privilege to stand in front of any coach and silently command action. His cold stare meant that either his loyal subject could appear with a fish or two, which had been stored in the refrigerator for just such an event, or come out with a fish pole and begin fishing, or at least appear with some bread to toss into the lake.

This was the last resort - as the fish came to nibble the bread, George nibbled on the fish.

This year's bird is pretty enough. He has a long graceful neck, slender body and black stilt-like legs. His plumage looks new, freshly white, but in no way is he as tall as George, who was probably 40 inches, nor as heavy.

And it is inconceivable that he would ever stride up to a coach and demand food. In fact, just the opposite is true and from what we have observed he seems quite shy and skiddish. If a fisherman appears, this bird is more apt to fly away than demand the catch.

Well, a few questions and a few hesitant answers and I have just part of the story. The egret we now see is not George. George was assassinated, killed, gunned down, murdered.

Apparently it happened just a few weeks before we arrived. I did not ask for all the gory details but it was a stupid senseless killing. A few people know who did it, I hope none of the Duncans ever do.

There are hunters and sportsmen and there are people who have guns and take to the field merely for the sake of killing and slaughtering. These people are neither hunters or sportsmen.

Certainly it was this type of person who shot George, in the swamp at the north end of the lake. I simply cannot understand such pointless acts. This bird never hurt anyone nor caused any damage.

What possible excuse could there be for gunning him down except killing for the sake of killing? There would not even be the challenge of stalking for he was half-tame. George was not afraid of people. Perhaps his undoing was he did not know that he should fear man.

So now it remains to be seen just how long it will take before our lake once again has its own resident and ruling egret.

Egrets have definite life styles. They share a common roost at night and some of them will occasionally fish together during the day. On the other hand, most have quite strong territorial instincts and, once a particularly pleasing fishing spot has been found, a bird will defend it against all intruders.

This is what we are hoping will happen. Once a strong-willed and determined egret takes over the lake again it will be much easier to think of last year's George and his untimely fate. It truly was such a stupid, senseless slaughter.

Clinton Opens Cage Season

by FRANK WEIR

Clinton opens its cage season this Friday with a league match against Hudson trying to forget a very forgettable 0-21 record last year.

It seems strange to hear head coach Dave Arnold talk optimistically about his squad's fortunes with a twinkle in his eye no less. Last year was a very long year for players and coach alike.

"This is probably one of the taller teams we've ever had with several varsity and junior varsity players between 6'1" and 6'4". We'll have height and speed is the big thing this year," Arnold says.

Arnold has been working with the squad all summer, stressing conditioning. "I started out tough. I had them run five miles which scared some of the kids. I hit them with training rules to develop a stronger team attitude. I want all 24 out for the team playing as one unit, not as JV and varsity. The kids worked hard this summer on individual skills, working on weights building up leg strength."

Besides height and speed, another strength of this year's team according to Arnold is depth.

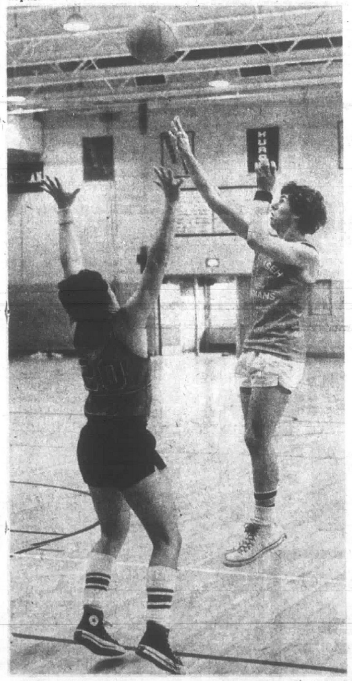
But all teams have weak spots. Arnold mentions weaknesses, "We have no real leader out of the group yet. We have lots of good talent but nobody has stepped out. Also, I'll probably have to work on installing a full court pressure defense. Last year I didn't have the talent to do it."

Clinton has five returning lettermen from last year's squad including Dave Mowery, Tom Richter, Barry Clark, Gary Payeur and Jeff Gibson. Also, senior Len Rochowiak is returning from the JV squad.

Arnold is looking forward to an exciting league season. "This year should be one of the best years in the league. No one has a great height advantage. There should be a lot of fast breaking, speed and man-to-man."

Arnold feels the tough league teams will be Hudson and Morenci.

"I'm optimistic with what I see. There have been no attitude problems, no dissension. This is a group of kids who like to run. With their leg strength, our height will be an advantage. Last year the kids were more football oriented. We won't give up so much on the boards this year," Arnold concludes.



UP AND AT 'EM — Tecumseh's Dave Bilkie puts the ball up during the Indians cage scrimmage against Chelsea Saturday morning. Coach Ron Spagnoli was "somewhat encouraged" after the scrimmage but feels the squad needs more work offensively. As expected, the Indians were tough on defense. Opening game for Tecumseh is Tuesday night when they host Ann Arbor Huron. (Photo by Frank Weir)

Girls Are Victorious in 1st Two Games

By Frank Weir

Tecumseh's girls easily won the first two games of district competition, whipping Columbia Central 68—26 last Thursday night and Willow Run 75—30 Saturday night.

They play Jackson Lumen Christi for the district championship Monday night at 7 p.m. and they are favored to win it.

If they do, next stop for the Indians is regional competition Dec. 3rd and 5th to be held at Riverview High School.

The girls had a few problems getting their machine started Thursday night against Columbia Central. They opened district competition with several mental errors seldom seen by Tecumseh fans.

They led by just four points 11—7 at the end of the first quarter. In the second frame everything suddenly clicked together with the Indians rampaging to a 38—14 lead at the half. The slow start had been a recurring problem for the Indians during the season but they've never failed to come out of it and win.

Coach Diane Nelson can't explain the problem. "We can't figure it out. We've talked about it. They made mental errors that they didn't make as freshman. If we're up against a real good team we could be in trouble and they know this. They were embarassed with the way they played."

At any rate, Tecumseh didn't have any other problems the rest of the night scoring 30 points in the second half to Central's 12 points.

Julie Anderson came out on top in scoring with 17 points followed by Jan Stevens with 14, Melinda Ternak with eight, Susie Brown with six, Connie Younglove, Tori Iffland, Debbie Steadley and Cindy Wright all with four, Grace Burns with three and Kris Underwood and Peg Upell each with two.

As a team, Tecumseh dumped 47 per cent of their shots compared to 25 per cent for Central. Tecumseh turned over the ball 13 times to 27 for their opponents.

The Indians cured the slow start problem in time for their battle against Willow Run Saturday night scoring 17 points in the first quarter to just four for Willow Run.

Tecumseh had another strong second quarter running up 28 points and holding the opposition to another four points. Willow Run played their best in the third quarter scoring 14 points to Tecumseh's 16. In the final frame, the Indians scored 14 to eight.

Ternak was top scorer with 17 followed by Grace Burns who had a good night and scored 13 points. Anderson was next with 12 points, Susie Brown and Cindy Wright each had eight, Kris Underwood, Connie Younglove and Tori Iffland had four each, Upell and Stevens each had two and Steadley had one.

Anderson led in rebounds with seven followed by Burns with six.

Needless to say, coach Nelson was "pleased with their overall performance, they improved a lot over Thursday's game."

Score by quarters:

Tecumseh	11	27	17	13—68
Col Cent.	7	7	6	6—26
Tecumseh	17	28	16	14—75
Willow Run	4	4	14	8—30

Tories Avenged

In a close district tournament battle played Saturday night, the Tory girls avenged two earlier losses to Ann Arbor St. Thomas by winning 37-32.

A tenacious Tory zone defense forced the Irish into numerous errors. Three starting St. Thomas players were in foul trouble early in the game, and the Britton girls were able to capitalize on the bonus free throw situations.

Even though St. Thomas attempted to press throughout the game, the poised Tory five were able to control the ball and forced St. Thomas to play their type of game.

The Britton girls presented a well-balanced attack with junior Dawn Bush scoring 15 points to lead the Tory offense followed by Lori Monagin with nine. Shooting 56 percent from the floor in the final quarter, Britton was able to fend off a last minute surge by the Irish to advance to the finals against Grass Lake Tuesday night at 7:30.

Club Hockey

Tecumseh won big over Chelsea in Michigan South Central club hockey Sunday. Final tally was 8—3 in favor of Tecumseh. At the end of the first period, Tecumseh led 2—1. Not satisfied with such a slim lead, Tecumseh added three more goals in the second period and another three in the third to put the game safely away.

Chelsea put two more goals on the board for their cause in the third period.

Scoring for Tecumseh was Tom Everett with two goals and an assist, Carl Krzesicki, Joe Wood, Dave Perry, Jeff Steiner, Tom Shelton and Mike Koscho all with one goal apiece.

Grabbing assists were Ron Oman, Steve Ahrens and Jerry McFadden.

Tecumseh's record in the young season so far stands at 1—1—1. They play Hanover—Horton next Sunday at 4:30 at Jackson Sports Arena.

Clinton Girls Are Victorious

Clinton's girls basketball squad won their first game of the district tournament last Thursday night. They prevailed over hudson 48-45.

Sue Richter led in scoring for the Redskins with 19 points. Renita Bellmore came out on top in rebounds for Clinton.

The Skins continue play on their own court Monday. Final district championship game will be Wednesday.

Breaks Record

Tecumseh graduate Dan Gunder — now playing safety for Grand Valley State College — intercepted six passes during the course of the just-completed grid season to set a new record.

He snapped a two-year-old record held by teammate Alvin Ward.

The interceptions raised Gunder's career total to eight, which is also a record.

Junior High Basketball Program Is Big Success, Participation Heavy

The Tecumseh Junior High basketball program involves approximately one-third of the boys attending the school. More than ninety boys are enthusiastically participating on the interscholastic and intramural teams.

The interscholastic teams were chosen after open tryouts. As coach of the seventh grade, Ted Todd runs his 18 players through fundamental drills four times a week.

After a disappointing 3-8 record last year, the 15 boys on the eighth grade team are looking forward to that first game against Blissfield on Thursday, December 4 at 4 p.m.

Ed Oxley, coach of the eighth grade team, has made the comment, "With the addition of four new players the team has definitely improved. They really want to win."

The six intramural teams are made up of more than sixty other boys. These teams will play ten games. The unique feature of this program is that each boy must play at least half of every game. Everyone gets involved. These games are on Wednesdays, beginning on Dec. 3 at 6:15 p.m.

Girls also added to the enthusiasm of the basketball program by attending the games and cheering the team on to victory. They are under the direction of Mrs. Diane Nelson.

At times, the walls of the tiny gym seem to come crumbling down.

Scores 2 Hat Tricks

Tecumseh Recreation Department's youth hockey teams had a loss and a win in weekend play. On Saturday the Tomahawk Squirts suffered a loss outshot 4—1 by the Sautter Red Wings. Lone goal for the Tomahawks was by top scorer Chris O'Connell.

In the second Tecumseh game played on Sunday afternoon, a strong Pee Wee team outplayed the Colgan Electric Rangers 9-5. The Tomahawks — with outstanding team work and good passing — stayed in the lead the entire game.

Two hat tricks were made by the Tecumseh team. Three goals by Mark VanBuren gave him a hat trick and Tim Eardley put four points on the board to give him a hat trick.

The other two goals for Tecumseh were made by Mike Rossetti who nearly got the third hat trick for the day.

Assists on goals went to Wendell West, two, Craig Lasobik, one, defenseman Robby Forman earned four and Ken Grodi picked up two.

Next weekend play finds the Tecumseh Squirts skating Saturday at 5 p.m. and the Pee Wees also play on SatuRday at 8 p.m. Both games are at Tam-O'Shanter in Sylvania, Ohio.

Tecumseh teams are sponsored by Tecumseh Products and Raynor Snyder Realty of Adrian.

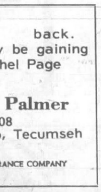
Jewels & gems



By Dick Eggleston

This year, jewelry stores will ring up more than $50 million dollars in — of all things — clock sales. Of course, the grandfather clocks produce a significant portion of total clock volume. More than just timepieces, grandfather and grandmother clocks command old-fashioned respect for workmanship. Perhaps that is why some customers spend as much as $3,600 for a grandfather clock with hand-engraved faces. Intrigued by the mechanical workings of the pendulums and appreciative of loving craftmanship, men are the prime customers for grandfather clocks.

Decorator wall clocks by Seth-Thomas and Bulova are available at EGGLESTON'S JEWELRY, 107 E. Chicago Blvd., 423-2715 as well as smaller time pieces as watches by Bulova, Caravelle, Accutron and Seiko. Any of these will make fine Christmas gifts. I am a certified Accutron technician and do expert repairs. Have a nice Thanksgiving!

GEM FACT: Keep rubber away from fine silver, for rubber can cause tarnish.

Weiss, SPACE AND THE WEATHER; THE STORY OF MODERN WEATHER PREDICTION by Don Dwiggins, EXPLORING A BROOK by Winifred and Cecil Lubell, Vera Croxford's ALL KINDS OF ANIMALS, THE HOW AND WHY OF GROWING by Lorus and Margery Milne, SPIDERS AND SCORPIONS by J.L. Farm Bureau Insurance is proud to serve Lenawee County

We opened our first agency in Lenawee County in 1949; our first Lenawee agent worked from a farm home on Berkey about seven miles south of Blissfield.

Since that beginning we have grown not only in size but in service. We now offer dozens of insurance lines that were not available to our agents in 1949. We have a claims network that gives you prompt service anywhere, anytime. In Lenawee County we're near you with offices in Adrian, Morenci, and Tecumseh. And we center our service on you, the customer.

We're proud of our agents, of their knowledge, their helpfulness, their genuine interest in the policyholder. We want to share our pride with you. If you'd like to talk insurance, come to us first.

Vietnamese Children Are Eager Learners Find Friends and Fun in Tecumseh Schools

By KATHY BROWN

Tecumseh parents might have been puzzled to see a priest and interpreter standing in line during recent parent-teacher conferences at Tecumseh Schools.

For the teachers, however, there was no mystery.

The parent, Nguyen Ngan was accompanied by Fr. Vincent Howard, representing St. Elizabeth Church and Mr. He, the family's interpreter, also a Vietnamese refuge.

Ngan is the head of the 18 member Vietnamese household sponsored by St. Elizabeth Church. The family has been living in the former church convent since July.

Five of Ngan's seven children and two other young men from the group began their American schooling in September.

And what did the teachers have to say?

Comments from Cynthia Opelt, principal at Patterson School typified those of school officials.

"The children are coming along beautifully and doing extremely well," Mrs. Opelt enthused. "Teachers are putting forth a great deal of effort and finding extra materials for them. The children understand just about anything if you take time with them. They are working out better than expected."

Four Nguyen children are in grade school at Patterson, one attends the junior high school and three young men attend the high school.

All the students are getting along with their peers and are progressing in their English. They understand more than they can speak.

They show mathematical skill, artistic talent and most important to their teachers, an eagerness to learn, which the father encourages.

"It is easy to teach when a student is eager to learn," told Mrs. James Lincoln, Thuyet's third grade teacher at Patterson.

The teachers commented the father is thankful and "He insists that the children have homework."

The children are shy of strangers but respond warmly once a rapport is established.

Mrs. William Powell, kindergarten teacher of Kim Hanh told of the child's openness. She now uses her teacher's name and joins the others in tickling sessions.

"At first I thought it was too good to be true. She was so quiet. When she joined the children in tickling each other that was the first thing that told me she was child-like," said Mrs. Powell.

Fifth grader Nguyen Hoa in Mrs. Nancy Kintner's class and sixth grader Nguyen Minh in Mrs. Vicki Kirsch's class are typical boys for their age. They are developing a new love for an old American sport—football. But they also tackle their school work.

In math the children are either a grade below or at their grade level. Most of the young students however are learning English through primers.

In the junior high school, Binh has a high "B" in math and is not afraid to volunteer in science class when he understands a question, said his teachers.

Binh is assisted in his English exercises by high school volunteers from the future teachers club.

"We never really knew whether he could understand and read English," said Donald Berkley, assistant principal. "He has come a long way now. These high school students have taken him farther with individualized training than we could have."

The three Vietnamese high school students are Nguyen Thanh in ninth grade, Pham Minh in the 11th grade and Ngo Viet in the 12th grade.

They are not always graded on written tests because of the language problems. Instead test results are explained.

"It is amazing what they can do with a limited amount of English," said Bill Croft, history teacher. He said they are "extremely interested" in American History.

Viet, the oldest in school, is described by teachers as "quite intelligent." He has been accepted to enter Siena Heights College in September 1976. He hopes for a scholarship.

Viet recently visited his refugee parents in Wisconsin and hopes to see them again at Christmas time. He misses them and is concerned about doing well. He wants to take care of them.

Youngest of three children, he told his sponsors that in Vietnam, it is custom for the youngest son to be "left behind." Viet has been independent since age 14.

Viet told Fr. Howard in the presence of the reporter that he had a "date to see my parents this evening." Father pondered the remark and then Viet clarified, "in my dreams, Father." His remark reveals his lonesomeness for them.

Minh has a sister with a family in North Dakota, whom he said he hopes to visit this Christmas.

"Perhaps if someone did not have as big a family as we have, he would feel sad and want to go back to Vietnam, but we have a family," explained Minh.

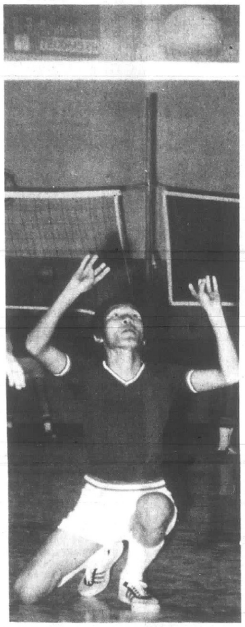
None of the family wants to return now, he added. They fear they would be killed. Perhaps in two years, they will have the choice to return, he hopes.

Even the youngest of the children, the two-year-old son, Quoc and one-year-old daughter, Thuy are thriving with the care and attention of their mother, Nyuyen Ghi, and parishioners.

Thuy was underweight and had an infection when the family arrived. "Frankly we did not know whether she would live," commented Fr. Howard. "Now look at her, she is healthy and walking."

It must be the love.

JUST ONE OF THE KIDS — Thuyet intently works on a pine cone and tissue paper turkey in art class. At first the other children favored the Vietnamese children, smaller than their classmates. Now, they expect them to wait in line and take turns, too.



ATHLETIC SKILL — Viet, Thanh and Minh play soccer and volleyball well.

WIDE EYED LISTENER — Kim Hanh is absorbed in a story being told by Mrs. William Powell, her kindergarten teacher.

Photos by Cortland Hunt

LOTS OF FRIENDS — Hoa loves football, has lots of friends in school and does his school works too. He received extra credit for good work just like other students in his class.

Nightingale of the playroom

Less than a century and a quarter have passed since that terrible winter when Florence Nightingale ministered to suffering British soldiers. Until then there had been no place for women nurses in military hospitals, and not many women nurses anywhere.

Ever notice how often it is the occupations or professions of SERVICE TO OTHERS that excite the imagination of our children? We should learn something from that!

Boys and girls see themselves as amateur adults. Through their imagination they often show us the world they would like to live in.

Their hopes can become a reality if we support our churches with our faith and our families. After all, it was the Founder of Christianity who insisted that He came not to be ministered unto, but to minister.

STATE TOURNEY NEXT WEEK

Girls in Regionals

Tecumseh's undefeated high school varsity girls basketball team entered regional tournament play Wednesday night — only four games away from another Class B title game.

Coach Diane Nelson's team, looking stronger than ever, easily whipped Jackson Lumen Christi last week for the district championship, 60-31, at Columbia Central.

Wednesday night, the Indians took on River Rouge at Riverview High School, just south of Detroit. If they handled Rouge, and the betting is that they did, they will play for the regional championship this Friday night at 8 p.m. at Riverview.

Title opponent could be Grosse Ile, already twice a victim of the Indians this season.

A regional title would send the orange and black into the quarter-finals at Battle Creek Pennfield next Wednesday evening.

State semi-finals and finals will be held again in Grand Rapids, Friday and Saturday nights, Dec. 12-13.

Directions to Riverview High school are: take I-75 north to Fort St. exit, go five miles on Fort St. to Sibley and turn right, one-half mile on Sibley to Quarry, turn left on Quarry to the high school.

Final Drive Totals Top Goal Figures By Over $4,000

Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation officials wrapped up the recent drive this week and report the campaign topped the goal by over $4,000.

Mary Bowers, drive chairman, says a few more returns have been received, pushing the 1975 drive to $75,682.33. Goal was $71,416.

More monies were received from industrial, commercial, professional and residential divisions, with the residential division just missing its goal of $2,100. Late contributions raised residential donations to $2,033.

The industrial, school and special gift divisions went over their goals with special gifts recording $19,000, $9,000 more than its goal.

Breakdown of the final figures is:

Division	Goal	Amt.	Over	Under
Industrial	$40,000	$42,173	$2,173
Commercial	$12,000	$6,585		$5,415

27th ANNUAL BALL — The decorating committee didn't order the first snow, but Herrick Hospital Auxiliary members want you to know that they are having a (snow) ball planning the Dec. 13th Holiday Ball. Engineer Submits Proposals To Control Water in Ponds

Five proposals, or alternatives, to controlling an algae problem in waters surrounding the Herrick Park subdivision have been submitted to Council by an Ann Arbor engineer.

Councilmen received the engineer's report just prior to their meeting and were unable to take any action at the meeting, preferring to wait until all had reviewed the report.

In his report, the engineer recommended alternate 1 to be undertaken as it requires very little expense.

This proposal calls for operating the Globe Mill Pond gate as an overflow weir, or dam. The sluice gates at Standish Pond would be designed or modified to act as a weir without increasing their height.

When the overflow exceeds 12 inches at the Globe gate, it would be opened to allow underflow and a greater discharge of water from the pond.

The engineer also presented several recommendations, one of which was briefly discussed by some citizens from Herrick Park and Council Monday night.

This recommendation proposed dredging shallow areas in Standish Pond to promote a better flow of water, and to cut a channel across some property to reduce siltation in the south section of the pond.

City manager Cal Zorn was asked to contact some contractors to determine if now is a good time for such work.

City officials have asked the engineer to be present at the next Council meeting, scheduled for Dec. 15. Some information, such as costs, will be sought.

Some alternatives and recommendations from the engineer would obviously cost considerable monies, such as a 60-foot spillway at Globe Pond and modifications of present facilities.

Products Buys Pump Plant in Detroit

Tecumseh Products Company has announced the acquisition of M.P. Pumps, Inc. of Detroit, for an undisclosed sum of cash.

M.P. Pumps manufactures a line of centrifugul pumps used extensively to circulate liquids used by many industries, but principally for agricultural uses.

Tecumseh Products management says that it is their intention to continue to operate M.P. Pumps, Inc. with current management. Robert Barr, as general manager, will have full responsibilities in all phases of the business for this division.

Tecumseh is the world's largest independent manufacturer of hermetic compressors for the refrigeration and air conditioning industry, and is also a leading supplier of engines and transaxles for the outdoor power equipment industry.

Weather Delays Work to Spring

Work on the city's downtown beautification program has been delayed until spring.

Cal Zorn, city manager, told Council Monday night the electric wiring has not even been started and with cold weather here, he would prefer filling voids around the bases with sand and wait until spring for concrete.

Many bases have been installed and some trees. Installation of trees and bases on N. Evans St. will not be done until after new and wider sidewalks are poured there, another spring project.

Parents Reunited

The upcoming holidays will be happier for the family of Nguyen Ngan, the Vietnamese family sponsored by St. Elizabeth Church, for Ngan's parents have arrived in Tecumseh Tuesday night from Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Nguyen Van Long, 67, and his wife, Nguyen Thi Da, 65, appear to be in good health. They are happy to be reunited with their son and family after about seven months.

"When we left Vietnam we did not believe we would see our son again," said Long through an interpreter.

Ngan learned about his parents from his brother-in-law. He and his 11 member family are now being sponsored by a church in Detroit.

The grandparents and Ngan's brother-in-law escaped from Vietnam on the same ship and travelled to Thailand and then Singapore.

About a month ago, Ngan learned of their whereabouts from his in-law.

They were assisted in their search for each other through a refugee agency of the United Nations.

The two families and grandparents are anxious for a reunion.

From the city of Vung Tau, in the eastern Vietnam, Long had worked as a household employee and his wife in a local market.

New System to Start

General Telephone Company's new electronic switching system in Adrian will be placed in service at 2:00 a.m. on Sunday, December 7.

This system will enable Adrian area customers to have the finest, most modern telephone system available, according to Tom Jones, Adrian Division manager.

The new system will simplify the direct distance dialed calls. The customer will only have to dial the digit "1" where, under the system being replaced, they had to dial "9" and "0".

Conversion to the direct distance dialing prefix digit of "1" will be effective Dec. 7 for customers in Adrian, Blissfield, Britton, Clinton, Hudson, Tecumseh and Tipton exchanges, Jones said.

There will be no changes for operator handled calls.

Customers also will have a new directory assistance number effective December 7. The Adrian customers will dial "411" and the Blissfield, Britton, Clinton, Hudson, Tecumseh and Tipton customers will dial "1" plus "411" to reach directory assistance, Jones notes.

The method used by Lenawee and Hillsdale County customers to call other parties on the same line will be modified beginning Dec. 7. These new procedures are outlined on page 2 of current Lenawee County telephone directory.

Jones suggested that if there are any questions on what to dial that the customer should first check the information section of the Lenawee County telephone directory. Listed in this section of the directory are the dialing procedures that will be effective Dec. 7.

A letter explaining these new procedures has been mailed to customers who will be affected by these changes. Further questions should be addressed to the Adrian Business Office, Jones stated.

Approximately 30,000 telephone users in 13 communities in Lenawee and Hillsdale Counties will benefit from this installation.

In addition to providing Adrian with local and long distance service, the new electronic central office will also supply long distance service to Tecumseh, Blissfield, Clinton, Hudson, Britton, Tipton, Onsted, Deerfield, Ogden Center, Sand Creek, Morenci and Clayton.

Adrian's new telephone system, representing an added investment by General Telephone of $7.1 million, took nearly six years to plan, construct, install and test. It incorporates the latest technological advancements. This investment brings the company's total investment in the Adrian exchange to $18,300,000. That equals $981 for every telephone in the exchange.

Community College Gets Strong Support

Strong support was aired at a recent state Senate hearing at Va-Tech Nov. 24 for the operation of a community college in Lenawee County on a contractual basis.

Proposed legislation, the result of several years of study, makes every Michigan resident a member of a community college district.

It is proposed that the existing 29 community college districts, which include geographically only approximately half of the state, would be increased to 33 districts, including all Michigan residents.

Although in the proposed legislation Lenawee County is its own community college district, originally the task force which was appointed by the State Board of Education to study the redistricting divided Lenawee County between the Monroe and Jackson districts.

Lenawee superintendents working closely with the task force brought about the change, however. It was felt that Lenawee County has a substantial economic base and a large enough population to warrant its own district.

The bills, which call for the establishment of a seven-member board of trustees to operate the college, give the district the power to levy one mill in order to receive state aid with the approving vote of the people.

A proposed amendment to the bill, however, would eliminate the need for a vote on the mill levy.

Local persons involved in the planning of the community college legislation feel that in Lenawee County the most efficient method of operation would be on a contractual basis.

With two colleges in Adrian and other existing educational institutions, it would be a waste of money to build additional facilities, it is felt.

Four Ticketed in Five Accidents

Although Tecumseh police handled just five traffic accidents the past week, four of the five drivers were ticketed for violations.

None involved personal injury, but one occurring at the Herrick Park bank branch caught some attention.

Kathleen M. Walsh, 16, of 6988 Green Hwy., was headed north on N. Evans St. Sunday when another motorist pulled out in front of her, just south of the bank office.

Miss Walsh swerved to miss the car and then slid on the icy street, jumped a curb, clipped a small tree and then struck the bank building, breaking a large glass pane. She was not cited in the mishap.

Other motorists, however, were ticketed. A resume is:

School Board Names Agent

Tecumseh's School Board last week named Michigan National Bank as the paying and co-paying agent for the $1,500,000 bond issue for the high school addition.

Asst. Supt. Eugene Cooley reported that "the plans are moving well on the addition. As it now stands, construction bids will hopefully be received sometime in January."

He went on to say, "We are optimistic that we can use at least a portion of the addition in the next school year. It depends on construction, the labor situation, and the availability of construction materials."

Cooley said that bond settlement will be made Dec. 11 with representatives of the Board meeting with the bonding people and attorneys to finalize the exchange of bonds for cash.

Collision Corners Is Site

Four persons were treated and released from Herrick Hospital, Tuesday night, when they were injured in a two car collision at the intersection of M-50 and M-52, west of Tecumseh.

Mishap occurred at 5:50 p.m. when the driver of a northbound vehicle, Green Cole, 78, of Royalton, Ky., apparently stopped then proceeded through the intersection, striking a westbound vehicle driven by Christine Bates, 24, 309 W. Russell Rd.

Besides the drivers, injured were a passenger in the Cole car, Elizabeth Cole, 73, and a passenger in the Bates car, Michael Bates, 21, Manitou Beach.

Clinton State Police cited Cole for failure to yield right of way.

THREE MOON RISES

Remember the old song which talks about the moon over Miami? Miami — it should have been Tarpon Springs! Well, no, that doesn't sound quite right, does it?

However, on the 17th, 18th, and 19th of November we watched the moon rise over Tarpon Springs and a more thrilling, romantic moon would be hard to find. It was glorious.

The excitement all began on a Monday. We had been shopping that afternoon at the newly opened Countryside Mall. This mall, by the way, is only about seven miles from us and what a fantastic place!

It is a huge multi-level affair with "lovely ramps and elevators". A wheelchair rider's and pusher's dream. There are big department stores and small specialty shops. Great fun.

So busy were we in the mall that time slipped away. It was late afternoon before we realized it.

This new time may please some but the Duncans are definitely not in that group. It gets dark too early.

And here in Florida the problem is compounded because there is no twilight. There will be a dazzling sunset one minute and then bang, it is dark. Since we do not drive after dark you can see why we sometimes have problems.

Actually there was no particular problem on this day — we simply hurried out of the mall and, once in the car, dashed for home with no stopping along the way.

When we drove in the driveway it was still light but, by the time my wheelchair was out of the wagon and I was 'Hoyer Lifted' from the front seat to the chair, the street lights were beginning to flicker on. The sky was that dark deep blue, just minutes away from black.

As Mom pushed me down the drive and we turned left on the sidewalk the moon almost hit us in our eyes. It was big and bright and round. It looked as though it had just been cut out and hung up. Lovely!

The 18th was a porch day not a gadding one. Just as our house in Tecumseh is not set square with the compass neither is our coach here in Tarpon Springs. In my favorite and usual position on the porch my view is north, east and a little west. Thus while I do not see the complete sunset I see a little of it. (Of course, if it is spectacular enough, we can quickly turn the bed around.)

On this Tuesday there was a truly out-standing sunset — Mom and Dad were oohing and aahing as they prepared dinner but I was having my own private show and entertained no thoughts of having the bed turned.

The brilliant sunset in the west was reflected in the east where I was looking. Great billowy mounds of clouds were every shade of pink with an occasional hi-lite of yellowish-gold.

The underside of each puff and mound was a darkish blue. This was a moving color show too — it was constantly changing. Breathtaking is an understatement.

But almost as fast as it developed it disappeared. Only a faint trace was left when I noticed the tiny spot of brightness just above Dunbar's roof.

I called Mom and Dad thinking I could show them a hovering helicopter shiny bright. By the time they got to the porch the helicopter had grown into a small silver. The moon!

The night before it had been full — what was happening? We had just begun to make not too funny remarks about the Russians stealing the moon or perhaps one of the new science-fiction TV programs was not so far fetched after all, when the weather commentator began.

He mentioned that it was a perfect night to watch the moon-eclipse. Well, for goodness sakes — not only was it a perfect night but we had perfect front row seats. What an unexpected pleasure, and how exciting!

Although we did not see the entire eclipse we saw most of it. Absolutely fascinating. Once again the moon was big and round and yellow. As the dark shadow rose we were amazed at the speed.

By the time we had finished eating well over three-fourths of the moon was visible and a faint tinge of light even showed around the top.

However, before the total eclipse had finished we were out of window — the moon was high enough in the sky so that we could no longer see it from the porch. Isn't it a shame that a glass ceiling is not practical?

Wednesday we decided that nothing the moon could do would even begin to approach the thrill of Tuesday night. Wrong, all wrong.

Late in the afternoon peculiar clouds began to form. There were not many and in shape they were long and narrow.

When the moon popped into view over Dunbar's coach it seemed even larger than the night before and it was more orange than yellow. As it rose those eerie black clouds floated in front of it.

All we needed was the witch to go riding by, on the broomstick. The timing was a bit off, but it was truly a picture-perfect Halloween scene even though the calendar said November 19.

Bi-centennial Journey

BICENTENNIAL JOURNEY
Thanksgiving Memories
By Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — Thanksgiving has come and gone for another year and many of the older generation recall some of the Thanksgivings of their childhood.

Older citizens are inclined to compare present day preparations for the gala event with the preparations made by their mothers, grandmothers, and other relatives.

Children seemed to have been more interested and took a more active part in getting ready for the event. Perhaps there were several reasons for their interest in family affairs.

There were no TV sets to watch nor radios to listen to. Without these, naturally, the subjects of conversation centered around family interests - the participation and preparation for holiday gatherings.

Young people seemed to have spent more time talking about their homes and families. As the school children walked to and from school, they usually discussed plans for coming events.

Recesses and noon lunch periods were spent talking about what each family intended to do.

Before the day arrived everyone knew where and how each family would spend the day, what the menu would consist of, and how many could be expected at each gathering.

In those days most guests, from even a relatively short distance, traveled by railroad. Area roads had not been improved. Railroad transportation was more comfortable and more convenient.

Several passenger trains stopped in Britton daily. Many people from Detroit, Carleton, Scofield, Maybee, Adrian, Tecumseh, and Ridgeway made use of rail transportation.

People expecting guests were familiar with train time schedules and were at the depot to meet the guests when the train chugged to a stop. If only one or two people came, the host used a horse and carriage, but if there were more a team and surrey was used.

Some guests remained for a few days. In that case the hostess had to be prepared to serve several meals in addition to the traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

Few turkeys were raised in the area. Chicken was usually served for Thanksgiving. Often the chicken was baked and served with dressing, or made into a huge chicken pie.

Chickens were home grown, larger and more mature than the ones served in most homes today. Because of the age and size the chickens were meatier and even the gravy more flavorful.

In addition to chicken, mashed potatoes, squash (larger green Hubbard which had been stored in the oats in the granary), there were salads, jam, and jellies, home made pickles, homemade bread, pies, apple, pumpkin, and mince) and plenty of tea and coffee with thick cream.

Thanksgiving dinner was served at noon. In those days the ground was usually blanketed with a thick layer of snow. While the women and girls did the dishes, father and the boys went hunting.

One Thanksgiving the boys ran on ahead tracing the tracks of an animal into a rail pile. They soon called back to father that there was a pretty black and white kitty there. Father, being more experienced, immediately commanded the boys to stay back until he could look.

The kitty was a pole cat. The boys were lucky not to have been perfumed. Skunks are not to be petted.

Long before it began to get dusk, guests not staying over night, departed for home to do the evening chores.

Electric lights not having come into use, it was advisable to get home in time to gather the eggs, carry in the fuel for the stoves, and finish the evening chores while it was sufficiently light to see. Kerosene lanterns didn't provide very much light.

Our parents and grandparents lacked the many conveniences so common in our areas today, but they were kind and hospitable and made their guests welcome.

Thanksgiving was an enjoyable occasion. People didn't forget to thank God for their blessings.

Postal Hints for Christmas

BRITTON — Postmaster George Hawkins urges all customers to remember the "Mail Early" dates of December 10th for packages and December 15 for cards.

Also, Postmaster Hawkins, reminds all customers that to help speed and protect their mail, the following hits should be followed:

Address all mail by street address, city, state and zip code. Correct zip codes are an important part of any address as it may speed your mail by a day or more. All mail should also bear a return address. A return address will insure that all undeliverable mail (mail without a postage or someone who moved more than one year ago) will be returned to you.

To further help the post office, mail should be placed with stamps all in the same corner, separated and tied into two groups: "Local" (Britton mail only) and "All other mail".

Your packages should be wrapped securely and packed tight. Shopping bags do not make good containers. A solid box with contents packed to avoid moving are an excellent way to insure your presents safe arrival.

Some packing hints would be to wad up newspaper to fill the empty spaces in your box or fill with loose styrofoam or popcorn. Addresses should appear on one side of the parcel only. This procedure insures that any special privileges you pay for such as special handling, insurance, or special delivery are noted and you get your moneys worth. Another hint is to enclose a second address label inside the package. This will insure tracing packages in case the outside wrapping or label becomes separated during shipping.

With a little extra packing effort Christmas packages will arrive in good condition for placing under the tree.

To The Editor

To the Editor:
Dear City of Tecumseh,

I'm very pleased that the city puts on Halloween parties, in fact if I had my druthers I'd faze out trick or treating altogether.

However... I am very much opposed to the costume judging.

Every child thinks he looks great. Forty-five minutes is wasted on this function to the disappointment of most.

Is it always necessary to categorize children? In our society today children are constantly being judged. Can't we have a function just for the FUN of it?

I think games should be played and the movies should suit the group. The children would not have been restless had the movies been more suited to their age groups.

How about having the pre-school party in the morning as most pre-schoolers take naps?

I know several mothers who refused to send their youngsters to the parties and this bothers me. I'd like to see these parties become an annual FUN event for all children. Sincerely,

Mrs. Cheri Weakly

Santa Eardley Visits BPW Club

Business and Professional Woman's Club met recently at St. Elizabeth Church. They were served a fried chicken dinner by the women of the church.

The tables were bright and cheerful with Christmas decorations. Even Santa, Ward Eardley, was present, with a gift for everyone. Later he told about the Senior Citizens who are working hard in preparation for their Christmas Bazaar.

Ward Eardley displayed many of the items they will be selling. This sale will be Dec. 5 and 6 at the Community Center. Pie and coffee are also available.

At the business meeting it was decided the March meeting would be a show in Toledo. Reservations will be needed for the chartering of a bus.

The door prizes were won by Betty Cameron and Marvel Steinhoff.

The program was Helen Bendes' interpretation of "The Night Before Christmas." In this amusing skit she was assisted by Betty Flanders, Virginia Dixon, and Beulah Todd. All the members joined in singing Christmas songs. It was ended by Patty Kenney and Betty Flanders singing Silent Night.

The next meeting will be January 26 at the Presbyterian Church. The program is "Not To See" by Doug Spade of WLEN.

Happiness Shown

(Editor's note: Nga Makinen, 10-year-old Vietnamese orphan, living with Harold and Sharon Makinen of Tecumseh, was recently described in a news story as a problem in the foster household because she never wanted to leave Vietnam. When Tecumseh Herald reporter, Kathy Brown inquired about the progress of the Vietnamese children, teachers at Patterson told the reporter there was a happy side of Nga few people know about.)

By KATHY BROWN

Nga Makinen may dislike being in the United States, but school is one thing she truly likes. Her eyes show it.

"She likes school and the children," said her fifth grade teacher, Mrs. Louise Faling. "She is quick to learn, prints well, has an artistic flair and does well in math at a second grade level."

She is learning reading through primers and rote instruction.

However, Mrs. Faling said Nga is a child who does not understand love and holds hate within her. Nga often speaks of returning to Vietnam. Classmates sometimes see her in a trance and say, "Nga must be thinking of Vietnam."

It is believed that Nga saw her parents killed. She was raised in a Catholic orphanage and had to assume household responsibilities.

Part of Nga's problem seems to be no one ever explained to her what adoption means. When she stopped cooperating with adults in the airlift, she was told she could return to Vietnam.

Instead she was flown to Colorado and spent an unhappy time with an agency there. The Harold Makinens, who have worked with adoption authorities, were asked to help.

"She is mature for her age and has a will of her own. But we haven't experienced the temper tantrums we have heard about," told Mrs. Faling. Only twice did the school have any problem, officials said.

In the orphanage, Nga was taught her body is sacred. When she entered school, Mrs. Faling was warned not to touch Nga because she would react with a tantrum.

"I was afraid of child. I was completely frustrated. I didn't know how to communicate with her," Mrs. Faling recalled.

Gradually her teacher and classmates learned that Nga was not an untouchable person. In fact, the children are fond of patting her. "The children love her, almost too much," Mrs. Faling observed. school and showed the reporter her work, Mrs. Faling said Nga will not take her work home.

"She likes her grandmother. We don't know who she is. She will take her work home if I encourage her to show 'grandma.'" Mrs. Faling told.

Nga has become attached to Sharon Makinen's parents, "because of the oriental tradition to revere older persons," said Mrs. Makinen.

Mrs. Makinen added that Nga and the Makinen family regularly visit the Vietnamese family at St. Elizabeth's convent as well as other Vietnamese in the county.

"We cook Vietnamese and are thoroughly indoctrinated in Vietnamese culture," said Mrs. Makinen. "In fact we have a family joke that some weekends we should return to our American culture," she mused.

The Makinens are proud of Nga's progress

Nga resists doing new things she does not understand. She refused to square dance until her teacher took her as a partner. Nga was soon enjoying herself with the other children.

"I can't help but think of the shock — the things that must run through her mind," said Mrs. Owen Merrill, substitute teacher. "Imagine how any one of these children would feel if they were taken from home."

Annual Family Night for Club

Tecumseh Monday Club met Monday night at the Country House for its annual family night gathering.

James Beardsley, local attorney, showed movies taken by the late Leon Rosecrans in the 1920's to the 76 members, their husbands and guests.

The movies will later become the property of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society.

Prior to the movies Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger, president of the club, briefly told the members and guests, the beginning of Tecumseh Monday Club, that the club is state federated and general federated.

She told about the numerous projects that Monday Club contributes to on a state level, the one large project which is Girlstown, a state licensed child agency located in Belleville.

Program for Aged Dec. 4

How often do you think of the problems of the elderly? What are their needs? Who cares for the older person at home alone?

It is presumed that the homebound elderly have family or neighbors who check up on them. This is not always true.

A program about the normal aging process will be held at St. Elizabeth Religious Education Center, 510 N. Union St. on Dec. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Carol Zielinski will speak. She is from the University of Michigan Institute of Gerontology, Ann Arbor.

Public is invited.

Donate Basket for Thanksgiving

Xi Delta Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi collected can goods for a Thanksgiving basket. Purchase of a turkey was also approved for a needy family, at the Nov. 18 meeting at the home of Mrs. Joan Slick.

Christmas party will be Dec. 16 at the Rock Inn in Adrian.

A gift exchange and refreshments will follow at the home of Mrs. Kay Darish.

Mrs. July Spagnoli presented the program "The Voices Behind Us." Exemplar Day was observed with punch and hors-d-oeures.

In Play at WMU

Lance Tucker, a senior at Western Michigan University, will be a cast member of the last stage production of the Shaw Theatre's fall semester, "Anne of a Thousand Days."

Curtain time will be 8 p.m. Dec. 10-13.

If you are skiing out in the woods with an amiable companion, you can revel in the white beauty of the snow. If, on the other hand, you are on a city street, facing an icy wind, you may feel quite differently about the matter.

Isn't that the way it is with almost everything? The way we react to a situation so often depends upon the way it affects us personally. We aren't to be blamed for this; yet we should stop to think that there are two sides to every story. We should not judge the merit of a viewpoint on whether or not it agrees with our own opinion.

The Church is used to different viewpoints, to controversy. It has lived with changing times and opinions for centuries, and it has never been more involved than it is today. The Church is changing as change is needed, ever ready to investigate and to explore the new. Have you been keeping up with it?

Tecumseh Public Library

Tecumseh Public Library has several new books for parents and others interested in children and education.

People baffled by adoption procedures, always quickly outdated, will welcome THE ADOPTION ADVISER, by Joan McNamara. This book contains accurate, current information about adopting procedures. Plus a reference section listing by state, agencies and services useful to adoptive parents.

The Child Study Association has recently published a new revised edition of its very popular WHAT TO TELL YOUR CHILD ABOUT SEX. The first five chapters and arranged chronologically, dealing with children from their pre-school years through adolescence.

The rest deals with special problems. Included is a list of recommended readings for parents, children, and young adults. An important feature of this book is that it deals not only with what, but how to tell your children.

Parents of mentally handicapped children will appreciate IS IT WELL WITH THE CHILD?, written by Susan Strauss, mother of a handicapped son. Drawing on her own experience and research, the author advises parents on helping their children get the examinations, counseling and special-schools they need.

Another new edition of an old favorite is Eric W. Johnson's HOW TO LIVE THROUGH JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL. Addressing parents, teachers, and students, Johnson deals mainly with school-related problems that often accompany the transition from childhood to adolescence.

Some useful topics in this area are developing good study hapits, overcoming problems in reading and math, and what to do about boredom and underachievement. Outside school, Johnson discusses sexual development and behavior, drug and alcohol abuse,and getting along with parents.

For an overview of the history of American education, readers will enjoy GROWING UP IN AMERICA, by Fred and Grace Hechinger. The authors see educational development in this country as another aspect of the American dream: often disappointing in reality, but consistently idealistic.

In tracing cycles of educational reform and politics, the Hechingers reveal the roots of our current issues in education, many of which have grown out of the struggle between two extremes in our society: the privileged and affluent and the poor and disadvantaged. The author feel children have often been the losers in this struggle.

Jonathan Kozol, longtime reformer and author of DEATH AT AN EARLY AGE, has written a new book called THE NIGHT IS DARK AND I AM FAR FROM HOME. In this book he summarizes his views on the state of American schools after visiting over 40 cities.

He concludes that, despite many new, supposedly innovative programs, schools function to teach children to obey rather than develop the skills of observation, problem-solving, and evaluation, Kozol feels children are unable to deal with the problems of modern society.

Herrick Grant Is $200,000 to Hospital

The Herrick Foundation has donated another $200,000 to Ann Arbor's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for construction and further equipment costs for the cardiology department at the new hospital.

This latest gift makes a total of $700,000 that the Foundation, affiliated with Tecumseh Products Co., has given for heart disease diagnostic facilities at the new building.

It also donated $120,00 for the hospital's current Cardiac Catheterization Laboratory which opened in August, 1973.

The Herrick Foundation was founded by the late Ray Herrick, founder of Tecumseh Products Corporation, and he made the original gift to the hospital.

Subsequent gifts have been made in his memory by his son, Kenneth Herrick, Foundation president, who explained, "This latest gift will help guarantee that the new cardiology facility will have the best equipment possible for the diagnosis and treatment of heart disease. New technology and escalation affected the original estimate of what the cost would be for such a unit and so we felt a further gift was both necessary and appropriate."

Sister Mary Yvonne, executive director, expressed appreciation for the gift on behalf of the hospital. "We are extremely grateful for the magnificient continuing support from the Herrick Foundation. Their gifts are a source of inspiration to all of us who are concerned with involved in providing the most up-to-date techniques of care for our patients."

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

Mills School has a new roof! The crew nailed in the last cedar shingle two weeks ago. Though they are all brand new, the shingles have weathered nicely, giving the roof the desired "old" appearance.

The next order of business will be to scrape and paint Mills' exterior. A sign proclaiming Mills School may be hung soon.

Donations toward the restoration thus far have been received from Vern Wonder, Charles Christiansen, Beatrice Gilmore, Woodrow Hunt, Hazel Bush and Harold Ruhl.

It was decided at the November meeting of Macon Historical Society that the restoration should be submitted to the Lenawee County Bicentennial Commission for approval as a bicentennial project.

At the same meeting, Doris Lawrence Forsythe, last teacher of Mills School before its close in 1938, shared memories of her days in Macon with the group.

The Society regularly meets the first Saturday of each month, 8 p.m. At the Dec. 6 meeting, which will be hosted by Julie and Harold Rhora, the theme will be "An Old Fashioned Christmas," patterned after the holiday celebrations of colonial Williamsburg.

The Rhora home will be lit solely by candles, and refreshments made from authentic Williamsburg recipes—including the traditional "wassail bowl"—will be served.

Election Creates Excitement

Excitement reached a fever pitch at Tecumseh Junior High School Monday as 10 candidates for eighth grade class president made their last appeal with their electorate, the members of 10 eighth grade history classes.

For the past two weeks the classes under the direction of their teachers have experienced a simulation of a national election.

Learning exercise on which the students were graded included primaries, party conventions to nominate a candidate and select a platform related to student body, publicity campaigns, voter registration, and a secret ballot election on Tuesday.

Students also kept a daily journal on their participation and what they thought about it.

Teachers provided definition of political terms and gave procedural directions. They are Patrick Pomy, Joyce Costigan, Stanley Legenc and June VanDermullen.

Welcome Wagon Meets

There were Christmas decorations galore at the November meeting of the Tecumseh Welcome Wagon at the United Methodist Church when Jan Fox of the Grey Fox Floral presented a program on holiday decorations.

The club enjoyed watching Mrs. Fox put together a Christmas centerpiece, which was won by Mrs. James VanBuren. Then, with Mrs. Fox's guidance, each member made a wall decoration which they took home.

After the program, the turkey raffle was won by Mrs. Robert Thompson.

Guests at the November meeting were Mrs. Gary Phelps, Mrs. Joe Phelps, Mrs. Ron Publiski, Mrs. Paul Wilt, and Mrs. Ju Chul Rhee.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Richard Funk, Mrs. Anthony Ferraro, Mrs. John Ferguson, and Mrs. David Schrader.

The next Welcome Wagon meeting will be the Christmas potluck dinner Dec. 18 at the meeting room of the United Savings Bank branch on Chicago Blvd.

Executive Director to Speak

Lenawee County Common Cause will sponsor a meeting featuring Doug Ross, Executive Director of Common Cause in Michigan Dec. 7. He will speak in Adrian at the First United Methodist Church. The public is welcome.

Mr. Ross will describe how Common Cause helped write a landmark political reform bill and worked for its passage in the Michigan Legislature.

The new political reform package provides for financial disclosure by public officials and candidates, regulation of lobbyist activities, limitations on campaign gifts and expenditures, partial public financing of gubernatorial election, and an independent Ethics Commission to enforce the act.

There will be a question and answer period following Mr. Ross' talk.

Common Cause is a national citizens lobby whose primary aim is to make government more responsive to citizens. There are over 100 members in Lenawee County.

Jewels & gems

By Dick Eggleston

Spoons and porringers were used by all ages in colonial times. Both were favorite christening gifts, yet probably more survived engraved with initials of man and wife, than of an individual. Openwork handles had a great variety of design, made by early makers. In New York, the handles were elaborate designs which left scant room for initials. In New England, scroll forms around an initialed surface were next in popularity. Silversmithing in New York, an originally Dutch settlement, began a generation later than in New England. Early New York spoons were based on Dutch models with contorted handles strange to modern eyes.

Tories Sneak By Manchester

The Tories opened their cage season on Tuesday of last week with a victory over non-league foe Manchester 72-68.

Manchester came within week with a victory over non-45 seconds remaining but couldn't pull ahead after fouling Britton's Phil Loesch.

Britton held a 43-32 margin at the end of the second half and outscored the Dutchmen 15-10 in the third frame. But a poor fourth quarter showing caused the close finish. The Tories scored 14 points to Manchester's 26 in the last quarter.

Tory guard Jim Cradit led in scoring with 30 points followed by Craig Wagenschutz with 17. Wagenschutz also led in rebounding with 18.

Britton connected on 28 of 80 shots from the field for 35 percent while the Dutchmen hit 30 of 65 for 46 percent. From the line the Tories knocked in 16 of 26 compared to eight of 15 for Manchester.

The Tories outrebounded Manchester 52-27 and suffered 27 turnovers to 23 for the Dutchmen.

The Tory junior varsity also won 54-44.

The Tories travel to Whiteford this Friday to open their league season.

Girls Win District Final, Next Stop Is Regional

By FRANK WEIR

Tecumseh's girl cage squad narrowed its aim at repeating as state champions by beating Jackson Lumen Christi 60-31 in district finals on Monday of last week.

The win —which clinched the district title— was the team's 41st in a row. And, like so many this season, it was an easy one.

Tecumseh enters regional competition this Wednesday.

The Indians continued with their usual strategy. The starting five carved out a sizeable lead and the bench maintained that lead. Jackson was unable to score a single point on the orange and black in the first quarter while Tecumseh racked up 16 for themselves.

They picked up another 16 in the second frame while Jackson finally got on the board with six points. Tecumseh scored 19 in the third and nine in the fourth compared to 11 and 14 in each respective quarter for Jackson.

The Indians made 47 percent of their shots in the first half and 35 percent in the second.

Julie Anderson won rebound honors with 10 and Debbie Steadley followed with seven.

Melinda Ternak led in scoring with 14 followed by Anderson with 10, Brown nine, Stevens eight, Iffland and Steadley each with five, Faulkner and Underwood each with four, Burns with two and Upell with one.

Coach Diane Nelson said after the victory, "I thought they played a good ballgame. We did a couple of things differently and we started off better. Its too bad we couldn't have more competition. That can hurt us in tougher games. But it was good that everyone got to play. I think the bench played well."

The Indians travel to Riverview High School this Wednesday night where they square off against River Rouge to open regional competition.

If they win they'll play the winner of the Grosse Ile-St. Mary's Redford game. Nelson confides that Grosse Ile will probably prevail over St. Mary's and regional finals will be Friday at Riverview. Game time Wednesday is 8 p.m.

A regional championship would send Tecumseh into the quarterfinals Dec. 10th at Battle Creek Pennfield. State semi-finals will be Dec. 12th and finals will be on Dec. 13.

Indians Split A Pair To Open Cage Season

The Tecumseh Indians opened their cage season with a win and a loss. They hosted Ann Arbor Huron on Tuesday of last week winning 62-44 but dropped a contest with Milan on Friday 56-49. Both were non-league battles.

The Indians led Ann Arbor at the half 23-17 pacing their way to the victory. They were successful on 21 of 47 shots from the field for a percentage of 44.7. Huron hit 16 of 54 for 29.3 percent.

From the line Tecumseh completed 20 of 31 for 64.5 percent compared to Huron's 12 of 20 for an even 60 percent.

Tecumseh outrebounded Huron 34-25 with Bruce Hughes the leader at 12 rebounds. Huron gave up the ball 32 times while Tecumseh lost it 26 times.

The junior varsity beat Ann Arbor Huron 66-57 with Jeff Hans the leading scorer with 20 points followed by Ben Maves 14, Lyndon Hughes 13, and Pat Davis 13 points.

Coach Ron Spagnoli was disappointed with the team's performance against Milan Friday night. Tecumseh lost it 56-49. The Indians lost the first quarter 17-11 and couldn't make up the lost points in the second quarter finishing at the half 27-21.

Tecumseh had a poor third quarter scoring only eight points to Milan's 21. They came back in the fourth stanza scoring 20 points to Milan's eight but that wasn't enough to pick up the deficit.

The Indians dumped 23 of 61 shots from the field compared to 24 of 57 for Milan. From the line Tecumseh could complete just three of 11 while Milan completed eight of 12.

Tecumseh outrebounded Milan 37-33. Bruce Hughes led in scoring with 19.

The Indians' junior varsity defeated Milan 77-34 with Richard Cangley, Jeff Robideau, John Egbert, Dave Graf and Bret DesErmia all playing "respectable" games according to coach Jim Curth.

Tecumseh opens its league season when they travel to Flat Rock this Friday night.

Squad Is Young But Balanced

Tecumseh opens its wrestling season next Monday when a young orange and black squad travels to Saline.

The team lost its three big stars from last year including 105 pound Don Rapin, who finished sixth in the state last year; 132 pound Jim Shough, who participated in the state finals and heavyweight Don Heistand.

As a team, Tecumseh finished third in the league meet and second in the league behind New Boston Huron. They ended with a 5-1 dual meet record.

Huron promises to be tough again this year according to coach Pat Connors. Grosse Ile will probably be in contention as well.

Sixty wrestlers are on the team at the present, including seniors Mike Creswell, Tim Eggleston, Gary Beasley and Brad Williams; juniors Kevin Eggleston, Dan Tilton, Mark Johnston and Joe Castorena; and sophomores Dan Yoder, Dave Cuellar, John Silberhorn, Ben Williams, Steve Bishop and Mark Barrett. In addition, 13 freshman have turned out.

According to Connors the team has overall balance but is inexperienced at the 98-and-105-pound classes. Athletes in the rest of the weight classes have varying degrees of experience.

Connors says of his charges, "We're looking forward to the season. The seniors are ready to make a move and do the job. All are good solid kids."

Assisting Connors is Dan Howlett.

Tecumseh's first home match is against Chelsea Dec. 16.

Club Hockey

Tecumseh's Michigan South Central hockey club dropped a tough one to Hanover-Horton Sunday at Jackson Sports Arena.

Tecumseh was tied for first place in their division going into the penalty -filled contest. The 7-4 loss forces them into second place.

The squad had a 3-1 edge going into the final period when Hanover-Horton exploded for six goals. Tecumseh added another goal for themselves in the final stanza but couldn't make up that deficit.

Scoring goals for Tecumseh: Kevin Brehmer assisted by Mike Koscho; Koscho assisted by Jerry McFadden; Joel Wood assisted by Ron Oman; and Dave Perry assisted by Brent Dillon.

Tecumseh - which now posts a 1-2-1 record - takes on Napoleon next Sunday at 3 p.m.

Hudson Victorious

The Clinton Redskins lost to powerhouse Hudson in cage action last Friday. The game was the season opener for Clinton.

Clinton held a slim 8-6 lead at the end of the first quarter but went to the lockers at halftime trailing the Tigers 26-21. Hudson caught fire in the second half scoring 46 points while the Skins could muster just 17 points.

Clinton shot 30 percent for the game while Hudson hit 60 percent in the second half. Dave Mowery led the Redskins in scoring with 23 points. Next highest was Tim Sharp with five points. Tom Richter had 13 rebounds.

The Tigers outrebounded Clinton 36-35.

Youth Hockey

Tecumseh Recreation Department's youths hockey teams split a win and loss in weekend play at Tam O'Shanter.

In the early game the Tomahawk Squirts skated to a big victory over the top team in their league, the Town and Country Black Hawks 6 to 5.

Eric Amstutz received a hat trick and Chris O'Connell made a penalty shot along with one regular goal and Clark Warfel put the final goal in the nets to give the Tomahawks the win. Assists on goals go to John Skipper one, Chris O'Connell two, Dean Puccetti and Mike Doherty each received one.

In the second game the Tomahawk PeeWees suffered a loss in a very close and well played game to the Mid-State North Stars 2 to 1.

Clinton trailed against Bronson 28-23 with four minutes left in the game. They went ahead 30-28 on the shooting of Sue Richter. A Bronson player was fouled but missed her first attempt. Due to an injury, she was replaced by another Bronson player who made the second foul shot. Clinton stalled for the remaining seven seconds to win.

Sue Richter was tops in scoring with 12 points followed by Renita Bellmore with eight points. Bellmore also led in rebounds with 16. The Skins outrebounded Bronson 38-20.

The Skins play Michigan Center for the regional title this Friday at Columbia Central High School.

Girls Closing In on 2nd 'B' Title

Since the season started in September, Tecumseh's undefeated girls' varsity has pointed to a second straight Class B title. This is the week!

Wednesday night, the Indians faced a toughie in Gull Lake at Battle Creek. A victory here sends Coach Diane Nelson's team into the semi-finals Friday night at Grand Rapids.

State finals are scheduled Saturday evening. Both semi-finals and finals are scheduled for 8:30 with Friday's game at Grand Rapids Christian High School, and the finals at East Kentwood, same site as a year ago.

Can the Indians go all the way? We think so, despite some struggling in the regionals at Riverview. A team that can win 20 straight in one season - 43 straight over two seasons - has to be rated at the top. One win includes a victory over reigning Class A champions Detroit Dominican.

In the regionals, they overcame a faltering start to whip once-beaten River Rouge, and then battled back to defeat Redford St. Mary's going away, 57-40, in the title game.

Hundreds of local fans have backed the team this season, most of them traveling to the away games and to the tournaments. Hundreds were expected to make the trip to Battle Creek Wednesday night - and hopefully to Grand Rapids this weekend.

Adrian's WLEN will broadcast Friday's game, providing the Indians reach the semi-finals, and also the finals. If the Indians are in the championship game, WABJ also will broadcast the game back home.

Directions to Christian

Directions to Grand Rapids Christian are as follows: take I-96 to the westbound 28th St. exit. Go west on 28th St. until you come to Kalamazoo Ave. Turn north (right) and go to the first stop light (about ½ mile) and turn right (east) on Alger St. Alger merges with Plymouth at the top of the hill and the school is on the right about ½ mile further. School's address is 2300 Plymouth.

Directions to E. Kentwood

Directions to East Kentwood are: Same directions as above except you turn south (left) onto Kalamazoo Ave. from 28th St. Go down Kalamazoo until you are two blocks past 60th St. Here you will see Auditorium Drive on your left. Turn onto Auditorium and follow it to East Kentwood.

2 Confess Gambles B&E, Business Glass Breakage

Two 17-year-old youths have confessed a rash of glass breakage and the breaking and entering on Nov. 23 of Gambles, according to Tecumseh police.

Confined at the county jail are Eric Halberstadt, 115 W. Pottawatamie St., and Daniel Bayer of Monroe, both under $10,000 bond each. A Dec. 18 date in district court has been scheduled.

Big break for the police came Friday when the two youths were caught shoplifting at Kroger's. Taken to the police station, both admitted to the B&E at Gambles and to a number of glass breakings.

All four guns taken from Gambles — three shot guns and a rifle - were recovered at Halberstadt's home.

Although no value or loss has been placed on the glass breakage, it could easily run into several thousand dollars. Breakage admitted by the two youths include:

Wolf's Appliance, pellet gun or small rifle, two 9x9-foot windows and one 9x11-foot window.

Post Office, 22 caliber, 4x7-foot window.

General Telephone Co., 22 caliber or ball bearing, 9x6 foot window.

Welch Cleaners, sling shot and marble, front glass door.

City Hall, large office window, sling shot and marble.

First Federal, rear glass door.

Police believe 11 businesses sustained glass damages, including Buck Smith's station on Russell Rd., Kentucky Fried Chicken, Local Finance and two rear windows in Fred Hartwig's building on S. Pearl.

Other investigations the past week included a $332 robbery at the Arnulfo Flores residence, 607 Center Dr. Party, or parties, entered through an unlocked rear door last Thursday and took the money from a desk.

A pickup, owned by James Neitling, Macon Rd., Clinton, was stolen Saturday from John and Bill's Union 76 Station on N. Evans St. The vehicle, in for transmission repairs, was found later in a ditch near Deerfield with front end, fender and radiator damages.

Dale Jenkins, 507 S. Maumee, called police Saturday evening to report a wrecker parked on his lawn. It had been stolen at Adrian.

Closing $1.5 Million Sale for School

Closing of the $1,500,000 school bond sale for a Tecumseh High School addition will occur Thursday when board member Dr. Donald Phelan and Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, meet with officials of Michigan National Bank at Detroit.

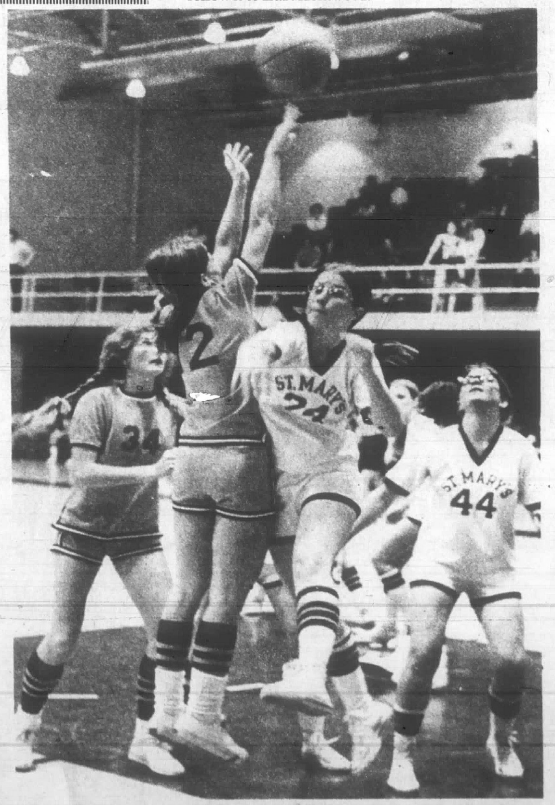
Cooley says the schools expect to take construction bids by mid-January with actual work scheduled to begin in the spring. Officials here hope that most of the 25,000-square-foot addition is completed before the start of the 1976-77 school year.

Two Workmen Fall, 1 Hurt

Two Redman Construction workers fell over 10 feet from an apartment building on Pawnee Court Friday afternoon, sending one to Herrick Hospital.

Ralph Richardson, 28, Onsted and Ron Rinehart, 44, Jackson fell when a scaffold bracket pulled loose at the second floor level.

Richardson suffered a shoulder injury and was held overnight at the local hospital. Rinehart was not hurt.



SPARKS VICTORY — Sue Brown rallied her teammates in the regional final against St. Mary's, tossing 18 points through the hoop to lead all scorers. The senior guard is seen here with teammate Debbie Steadly, who waits for a rebound - but Brown's shot stripped the nets. (Photo by Frank Weir)

You Told Us

by Kathy Brown

Vandalism is like the weather, everybody talks about it but there is nothing anyone can do about it. True or False?

If you think the answer to the riddle is "True," don't bother to read on.

For those of you still with me, here is an idea that should be openly discussed in the city of Tecumseh and might work if people put some muscle behind it.

Presently, some metropolitan cities are cooperating with their newspapers in various secret witness programs.

Idea is to award tips that lead to a prosecution or restitution for some crime. An award is sponsored. Anonymous tipsters are given an identifying number. Only if the clue leads to prosecution does the tipster receive a portion of the award. The newspapers publicize the program.

A similar system may be set up in Tecumseh with the city, Chamber of Commerce, schools, even area PTOs or civic organizations sponsoring the program.

If anyone thinks it is a good idea, write a letter to the editor. Better still, suggest it to your City Council, local businessmen and civic clubs.

It might be just the program to organize the Community in a Bicentennial project against our common and costly enemy: vandalism.

Students Score Well on Math Test

Recently a select group of Tecumseh High School mathematics students took the Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition Test.

Although no students scored high enough to qualify for the finals, there were several excellent scores, announced Principal Clarence Lacny.

Scoring the highest total was senior Myra Dermyer, followed be seniors Peggy Upell and Bill Silberhorn.

Juniors with high scores were Lynne Wikle and Mike Keller.

Almost all had above average scores for their respective grade levels, said William Raeburn teacher in charge of the competing students.

Raeburn indicated they worked hard and had done a fine job. For most, this was a first time experience in the competition.

Jewels & gems

Traditional dinner patterns are making a strong comeback. Do you know someone getting married in the Bicentennial Year? What could be a more memorable present than dishes which through their traditional patterns commemorate both the country's birthday, and the marriage of two people. Dishes are always a welcome present, and there is nothing finer than the real thing. Patterns these days mimic the delicate old patterns and gentle tints of days gone by. there is no nicer present - or how about some for your own family.

Presents for members of your family or friends can be purchased at EGGLESTON'S JEWELRY, 107 E. Chicago Blvd., 423-2715. IRA RETIREMENT PLAN FOR INDIVIDUALS

You can have an extra $1,500 tax deduction on your 1975 income tax return and the beginning of a great retirement plan. All you have to do is to establish an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at First Federal Savings of Lenawee by December 31. IRA is your answer. If you don't have a pension plan or profit sharing plan now, you can contribute 15% of your earnings, up to $1,500 each year, completely free of taxes. The high interest rate earned in your First Federal Savings of Lenawee account is also non-taxable.

KEOGH PLAN FOR SELF-EMPLOYED

To take advantage of their retirement plan tax deduction, self-employed persons must INITIATE a Keogh Account by December 31, 1975.

This can be done with a minimum deposit in a Keogh Account at First Federal Savings of Lenawee.

If the Keogh Account is INITIATED by December 31, a final 1975 contribution to the Retirement Plan can be made as late as your income tax filing date, normally April 15, 1976.

15% of earned income, with a maximum of $7,500, is tax free each year of the Retirement Plan. Also, the high interest rate earned in your First Federal Savings of Lenawee account is non-taxable.

BETTER ALL THE TIME

Yes, indeed, the bird-watching is improving. It is getting better all the time. There is still not the bird business on and around the lake that we wish there was but, as long as one week's total is better than last week's, we shall not complain.

We have still not attracted an egret who is dominating enough to take poor old assassinated George's place. The one that was here a few weeks ago is an improvement over the first one.

This last one was neither shy nor timid and he showed definite signs of being bold enough to defend his territory.

The only trouble is that he is not showing many signs of staking out our lake for his territory. We had one good episode to watch but apparently the bird discouraged easily.

It happened one day when I as on the porch. A shadow moving across the vacant lot attracted my attention. It was a large shadow, made by a good-sized bird.

I turned my head and looked out just as an egret spread his wings, dropped his legs, and landed on the island.

Always a thrilling sight. Suddenly there was another shadow and another egret prepared for a landing.

This is not the season for friendly sharing though — the first bird quickly launched an attack and not very politely let it be known that there was not room for two birds on that particular bit of land.

In fact, there was not room for two birds on this particular bit of water, As the second egret flew up the lake the first one kept in close pursuit, making sure there was no landing on the far bank.

Since having to give chase the egret has not shown much interest in the neighborhood. Well, a faint hearted and so easily discouraged character simply could never run things the way George did. We will just have to keep looking for a replacement.

The redwing blackbirds are now almost daily visitors. A flock of males will come winging in and scatter themselves on the ground, at the feeder, in the boxwood bushes by the porch and on the roof.

They take turns eating at the feeder and at what is spilling to the ground, leaving only when something frightens them away or when all have eaten their fill.

This constant changing of positions is fun to see and hear. No, the birds are not talking much now — what I hear is them prancing around on the roof.

Even a little red-winged blackbird has claws that scratch and clatter. Appearance-wise they are interesting this time of the year too. These birds have a once-a-year molt, late in the summer, which means that we are looking at new feathers now.

At first these new feathers are a bit dingy looking, they have a brownish cast which must wear off before the shiny glistening black appears. This year's males will not, however, acquire their brilliant shoulder-patches yet.

They must wait for another molt and until then be content with epaulets which are more orange than scarlet.

Some weeks ago I wrote about a frustrating day when, from morning until night, we heard a kingfisher rattle but I could never spot him. I figured that he was in the swamp because our lake was not 'kingfisher country'.

Well, again I was wrong, but only half-wrong. Birds adapt beautifully well to their surroundings and Florida kingfishers do things their northern cousins would not dream of doing. At least, the Evans Creek branch of the family never would.

Mom saw him first. Actually she heard that loud and raucous rattle and looked out just in time to see a white-tummied bird land on the corner of the roof of a coach across the lake. His oversized shaggy head was unmistakable.

He soon left his roof perch, flew out over the lake, dove, surfaced, took off and flew to the north end of the lake where he lit on some utility wires. Later in the day I heard him rattle and saw him fly by the porch. Such fun!

Slowly the herring gulls and the ring-bill gulls are returning. Each day it seems that more fly over but, as of now, they do not circle the lake squawking to be fed.

And speaking of squawking, I can not even begin to guess how many squawking and cawing crows we see. The coven convenes around the small lakes in the land development project and, when something disturbs the meeting, we hear all about it.

Crows are not particularly favorite birds but at least they help 'up' the tally of the week's bird-count and thus sustain my belief that truly, the bird watching is better all the time.

Gloria Dei Christmas Activities

The Christmas activities in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church will begin this Saturday when the Luther Leaguers will place the traditional Nativity Scene before the church around 3 p.m.

The story of Christ's birth will be read and carols will be sung by the youth members.

Next day, Sunday, Dec. 14, at 9 a.m. the Sunday School children will express their admiration and love toward the Christ-Child.

Each class individually presents a program in the church. Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend this event which will be followed by refreshments in the Luther Hall.

To honor our nation's Bicentennial the Chancel Choir of the church, directed by Mrs. Earl Mason, will present Christmas Anthems sung in America before 1810 on Sunday, Dec. 14, 7 p.m.

Narrator Mrs. William Macbeth will give a brief review on the impact of American Protestantism before 1810, in the fields of evangelism and the early American Christmas.

A free offering will be accepted for the Lutheran Seminary Appeal.

Choir members will serve refreshments after the concert. Everyone is invited to share our early American evening.

On Sunday, Dec. 21 during the worship service the Youth Singers will present the anthems "Mary, Mary," and "A Great And Mighty Wonder".

From 7 to 8:30 p.m. the youth of the church will visit old and sick members with Christmas Caroling.

The traditional Christmas Eve Candlelight Service will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 24 at 11 p.m.

This service of hymns, carols and anthems will celebrate Christ's birthday.

The youth of the church will participate in the service. The Youth Singers will present "Little Baby Jesus", the Chancel Choir, "Is This The Way To Bethlehem?" and the combined choirs will sing "He Shall Be Called Wonderful." Public is cordially invited to this joyful service.

Public Library

Five outstanding new novels and a new collection of short stories by an old favorite have recently gone onto the shelves at Tecumseh Public Library.

IN THE BEGINNING is a new novel by Chaim Potok, author of MY NAME IS ASHER LEV.

David Lurie, a famous Biblical scholar, recounts his childhood and youth in the Bronx with its joys and risks. Nutured by family love and a centuries-old Jewish tradition of which he is very proud, David encounters anti-Semitism, the heartbreak of World War II, and challenges to a religious belief he examines with great courage.

Isaac Bashevis Singer's new book of short stories is called PASSIONS. The 20 stories in this collection portray a wide array of eccentric and unforgettable personalities by an author whose work has been praised for "a skeptical, philosophically mischievous obsession with human and demonic character."

TERMS OF ENDEARMENT, by Larry McMurtry, relates the adventures of Aurora Greenway, a charming, widowed New Englander transplanted to Texas. Here she collects a herd of suitors, each peculiar and funny in his own way. With her are her daughter, Emma, and her maid, Rosie, whose up-and-down marriages help fill out McMurty's study of human relationships. McMurty is also the author of HORSEMAN, PASS BY, filmed as HUD, and of THE LAST PICTURE SHOW.

In VALLEY FORGE, McKinlay Kantor recreates the Revolution by bringing to life both famous people and fictitious characters through vivid, detailed characterization. Mr. Kantor has enriched a dramatic but well-known story by filling the pages of this novel with real human beings, not one-dimensional heroes.

CLARA REEVE is a novel which can be enjoyed on several levels. One reader might enjoy it as a nineteenth century adventure story in which marriage to an eccentric cousin takes innocent English Clara through a satisfying hodgepodge of European cities, confused family relationships, and mistaken identity, climaxed by a volcanic eruption. Others will enjoy it as a twentieth century attempt to write a Victorian novel, since both the narrator and her style are thoroughly nineteenth century. Still others will enjoy trying to guess the identity of the author, Leonie Hargrove, which, according to the book jacket "may be said to be the Maiden Name of an author both prolific and much praised for work in other modes."

SEAL WOMAN is a novel by Richard Lockley, most famous as the author of a book on rabbits used as source material for WATERSHIP DOWN by Richard Adams. The relationship between man and nature plays an important part in this love story between a young British naval intelligence officer and Shian, an Irish girl who has learned the way of seals and other wild animals and shuns human society.

"Christmas in the Arts," Film Shown

CLINTON — "Christmas in the Arts" was the title of a film strip on famous old paintings depicting the nativity or Christmas themes, shown at a meeting of the Episcopal Church Women, Dec. 4, by Mrs. Donald Houghton.

Mrs. Anna Mae Waterman of Tecumseh hosted the meeting attended by 12 members.

Members considered at length the matter of future bazaars. It was finally decided that bazaars would be held at two-year intervals instead of yearly.

The 1976 bazaar would be in conjunction with the Bicentennial observance.

Names as co-chairmen of that project are Mrs. David VanTuyle, Mrs. Linda Hannibal and Mrs. Lucille Schlegel.

A rummage garage sale will be held in May.

The ECW will share in the observance of the 140th anniversary of St. John's Episcopal Church in March.

Mrs. Houghton will host the Jan. 7 meeting.

Concerts Changed

CLINTON — Changes have been made in two school musical programs previously announced.

High School Band and Choir Concert will now be Monday, Dec. 15 at 7 p.m.

Middle School Choir and Band Concert will be 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 18 in the Middle School. Refreshments will be served after the concert.

Banquet Is Planned in March

CLINTON — Members of Men's Fellowship of the United Church of Christ are planning a Father-Son banquet March 27.

Program will be a circus theme for the banquet, and was discussed at the fellowship dinner meeting, Monday at the church.

James Spieth was host for the potluck dinner attended by 11 men including the new pastor, The Rev. Roy Wagner.

Next meeting is Jan. 19 when Leo Smith and Harold and Terry Calhoun will have charge of a pancake and sausage supper.

$50 Prize Is Won

CLINTON — Mrs. Frank Prichard, Taylor Rd., was the winner of a $50 cash prize at the annual Christmas bazaar in the United Church of Christ, Saturday.

Mrs. John O'Connor, nee Kay Grossman, was the winner of the bicentennial name quilt.

A doll was won by Jenny Pike, of California, a niece of Mrs. Hugh Pike. A sled was won by Betty Patterson.

Although not marked by a record attendance, the dinner and bazaar, including the quilt project, raised over $1,000 for the general fund of the church.

Daughter Is Born

CLINTON - A daughter, Heidi Mae, was born Friday Dec. 5 at Kitchener, Ont. to Vicar and Mrs. Douglas Thompson, nee Madeline Brugger Emory.

Vicar Thompson is associated with the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. DeArle Brugger, Clinton and Mrs. Rose Thompson, Blissfield.

Christmas party is Dec. 13 at the Clinton Community Center with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Families are to bring a main dish and a salad or dessert, and their own table service.

Society Banquet

CLINTON — Members of the Historical Society of Clinton, at a meeting Dec. 2, decided to go ahead with the bicentennial banquet planned for May 1, 1976 in Clinton Inn, Greenfield Village.

Since reservations must be confirmed with Greenfield Village by February, those who plan to attend are asked to make reservations with a member of the committee soon.

Dinner will be served at 6 p.m., and is open to anyone in the area, from a minimum of 40 to 140 persons.

Members are busy at the preservation of a quantity of historical material which has been received.

When properly preserved, it will be placed on file at the Clinton Township Library.

Next meeting is Jan. 6 at the Community Center.

Contract Offer Rejected

CLINTON — Lenawee County Library Board rejected Clinton's last offer for contracting services, the Clinton Township Public Library board learned in a letter Monday night.

County board's last offer was at a cost of all penal fines and state aid, a sum of more than $4,000.

Clinton's board offered to pay $2,641, based on $1.04 per capita, for about nine library services deemed essential.

Because of the stalemate in negotiations, which have continued for some months, services from the Lenawee County Library board will no longer be available at the Clinton Township Public Library.

However, all residents of the township still may use the facilities of the county library in Adrian, by going directly there.

Jay Smith, a representative of Central Michigan Library system was present to discuss the services that system can provide Clinton's library if it becomes a member library.

Smith itemized a dozen services available at a cost of 10 cents per township resident, or a total of $254.

He said low cost is possible since Central Michigan Library system uses its various state and federal aid grants to provide these services to its member libraries.

Services available include reference service interlibrary loan with electronic telecopier; selection ordering and processing of library materials, (a service the Clinton library has never had); rotating book collection; professional advisory services; supplementary update-replacement collections; bibliographic compilations; photo copying; publicity and promotional materials; special service programs; delivery service; and a new printing service.

Board decided to have a special January meeting to hear proposals for service from Huron Valley Library system, Washtenaw County, and Raisin Valley Library system, Monroe County.

John Colton was elected president; Dennis Spina, vice-president; Mrs. Cylde Miller, treasurer and Mrs. Robert Winder, secretary.

Members voted to extend the no-fine period for return of books until Jan. 4

Next regular meeting will be Jan. 13.

JC Auxiliary Gains Member

CLINTON — Mrs. Donald (Debbie) Fiester was received as a new member of the Clinton Area Jaycee Auxiliary at a meeting, Monday, following the joint JC and Auxiliary dinner at Peerless Gear Union Hall.

Auxiliary members made plans to assist the Jaycees with the Christmas shopping spree for local needy youngsters, with Sharon Walker in charge.

The women will also assist the Jaycees with the Christmas party for local youngsters, Dec. 20 at the high school. Mrs. Roger Hebert is in charge of this activity.

The Auxiliary members recently completed the stuffing of 364 stockings for the Michigan Kidney Foundation.

Auxiliary will put on the dinner for the Jaycee meeting on Jan. 5 at Peerless Gear Union Hall.

Auxiliary is now a sponsor for the Blue Bird troop and will go caroling with the girls on Dec. 18.

Clinton's auxiliary has been named as a sister city with Holly, and will exchange letters with ideas.

Several new projects were proposed for announcement after the holidays.

Jan. 12 meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., preceded by a board meeting at 6:30 p.m. in Water Wheel Center.

To The Editor Tecumseh's Century Club Under Fire

To the Editor:

I think the Century Club is in very poor taste of the Herald. I have contributed to the United Way through work and feel that my amount, even though it is under $100, is just as important as the one who contributes over $100. You should either print everyone or no one at all. After all, United Way says "Because of you it's working." That doesn't mean "Because of your $100 it's working."

Next year I will reconsider my contribution to the United Fund.

Driver Injured

CLINTON — Robert M. McKee, 21, 2613 E. Monroe Rd., Tecumseh, was treated at Herrick Hospital for minor injuries, when he was injured in an accident Sunday at 7:25 a.m.

Mishap occurred at M-50 40 ft. east of Gilbert Hwy. when McKee attempted to pass another vehicle also westbound.

McKee saw the other vehicle turn left on the left turn signal and when he applied his brakes, and pulled back into line, his automobile ran off the right side of the highway, and rolled over in a ditch.

Clinton State Police investigated and did not issue a citation.

DO IT YOURSELF CORNER

Master Plumber

Hot water heaters should be located as close as possible to other fixtures using hot water. Consideration must be given to locating the heater close to a flue or chimney to vent it. A well located hot water heater is found close to the chimney flue. Short runs of water piping are economical and result in a minimum loss of hot water. Washing machines should be located close to both water supply and drainage.

Supplies for do-it-yourselfers can be easily found at CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING, 1108 W. Chicago Blvd., 423-3121. We will be happy to give advice on how to handle a project and have the materials and tools necessary to do your own work. Insinkerator garbage disposals, Altons personal showers, Kitchen aid dishwashers, electric wire, cond, uit, fuse boxes, fuses, electrical switches, light bulbs, and bathroom items including soap dishes, towel racks, glass holders, chrome, nickle or brass waste baskets and marble walls are available. Hours: 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. daily, until 5 p.m. Sat.

Handy Hints: Long runs of pipe are uneconomical and less efficient for drainage.

SHERIFF PROUD

New Facilities

Builders are putting the final touches on Lenawee County's new jail addition this week and the Sheriff's department sponsored an open house for the public last Sunday.

Around 1200 area residents visited the new facilities.

According to County Sheriff Richard Germond the $1,290,000 addition will give the jail a capacity of 119 beds, 68 more than present. Construction began in October of last year.

The addition features a new communications center and booking room as well as minimum, medium and maximum security cell blocks. Those perpetrating minor crimes will no longer have to be lodged in the midst of hardened criminals.

Criminals may now go from maximum to minimum security cells based on their behavior.

Another new program made possible by the addition is a learning-rehabilitation program utilizing new class room space. Inmates will be able to earn a high school equivalency diploma (G.E.D.). An exercise yard was also built for inmate recreation.

Some of the new cells feature private toilet facilities and electricity, both not present in existing cell blocks.

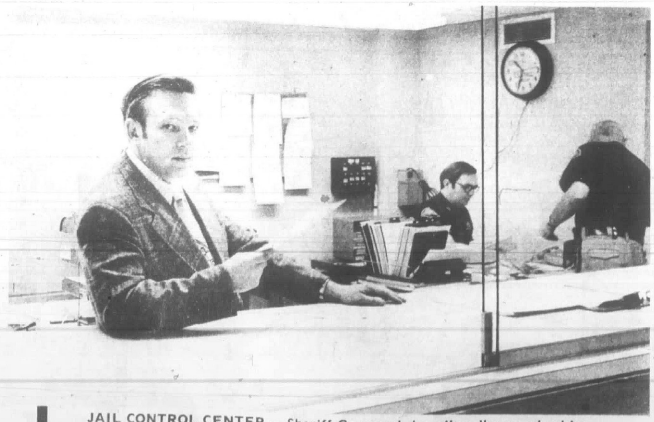
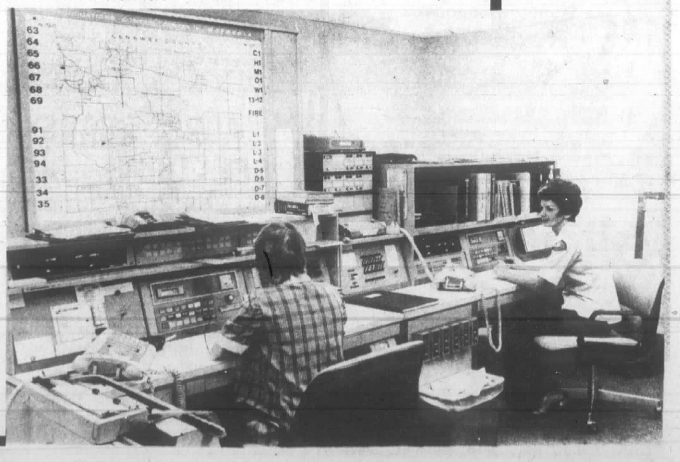
Photos by Frank Weir



JAIL CONTROL CENTER — Sheriff Germond describes the new booking room as the "control center" of the jail. Those accused of crimes first stop here after apprehension to be booked and lodged.

COMMUNICATIONS CENTER — Patti Tipton (l) and Evelyn Spencely work on their appointed rounds dispatching deputies from the County jail's new communications center.



Girls Suffer Slow Start But Win Regional Title

SCRAMBLE — Julie Anderson (center) and Tori Iffland fight with Redford St. Mary's players for the ball. (Photos by Frank Weir)

by Frank Weir

Tecumseh's girls basketball squad knows only too well that its tough being number one. As the defending class B state champs, the Indians are the ones to beat. Every class B team in the state knows that.

And the Indians had to overcome that pressure – and some poor player performances – to win the regional championship last Friday at Riverview High School.

They defeated St. Mary's Redford that night 57-40 to take the title. Last Wednesday they licked River Rouge 63-50 to advance to the regional finals.

Both victories were blemished by poor first half play. River Rouge had an 18-9 lead at the end of the first quarter shocking fans and players alike. Tecumseh had not given up a first quarter this season or last.

They pulled together in the second frame to take a slim 32-28 lead at the half. In the second half they looked like the Indians of old racking up 16 points to just five for River Rouge.

Melinda Ternak was high scorer for the game with 21 followed by Julie Anderson with 19. Mention must be made of Rouge's 5'11" Lannall Campbell who played a strong board game and pumped in her share of the buckets as well.

The old first half bugaboo was back haunting the orange and black on Friday when the squad took on St. Mary's for the title. They again could not put it together in the first half, particularly the first quarter. St. Mary's led at the end of the first frame 10-8.

Susie Brown and Jan Stevens were the only Tecumseh players to connect in the first stanza. The Indians fought back taking a two point lead midway through the second quarter on a bucket by Tori Iffland. St. Mary's fought back, though, taking a four point lead. At the end of the first half, Tecumseh had taken an 18-17 lead. They never trailed again in the contest.

Third quarter followed the River Rouge pattern. The orange and black came out very strong and aggressive. They scored 20 points to 12 for St. Mary's. In the final frame, the Indians had 19 points to 11 for their opponents.

Shooting in the early going could be described as poor at best in both games. Against St. Mary's the girls shot, quarter-by-quarter, 36 percent, 30 percent, 71 percent, and 45 percent. The squad couldn't seem to make those foul buckets dumping only five of 25 foul shots.

They also turned over the ball 32 times to St. Mary's 33.

Susie Brown was the leading scorer in the St. Mary's game with 18 points. Stevens, Ternak and Iffland each had 10, Anderson had a poor night scoring just nine points.

Coach Diane Nelson had much to say about the regional tournament. She blames pressure for the team's problems in beginning the games, "I really think that its a combination of playing and thinking under pressure. Everybody wants to beat the champs. We snuck up last year but this year the teams' are ready for us. We weren't aggressive and on the ball both games. We couldn't hit. In order to win, we have to be aggressive for four quarters."

She goes on to say that team members were "afraid to take chances" and that both ball clubs were "respectable." The Indians aren't really used to serious opposition. However, the coach was proud of the way the girls battled back from a deficit to win both games.

This Wednesday night the Indians take on Gull Lake in the quarterfinals at Battle Creek Pennfield. Nelson is apprehensive about the game. "I am concerned just because of the way the girls have been playing." But she quickly adds that "we'll definitely be ready for Wednesday night. You'll see a different game."

A win Wednesday would throw the Indians into the semi-finals in Grand Rapids at Christian High School. A victory would mean a berth in the state finals at Grand Rapids East Kentwood on Saturday. Both games are at 8:30 p.m.

Tecumseh	9	23	16	15	–63
River Rouge	18	10	5	17	–50

Tecumseh	8	10	20	19–57

Tuesday things looked brighter for the Tories. They took a 26-13 lead at the end of the first frame. At the half their lead had dropped to 44-34 but a 13-9 Tory third quarter cinched the win. Both teams played even in the fourth stanza 18-18.

Britton hit 30 of 64 from the field and 15 of 23 from the line. Waldron snagged 23 of 69 from the floor and 15 of 25 foul shots.

Boys Are Winning Too! Whip Flat Rock Rams

Tecumseh's boy cage squad added two wins last Friday and Saturday beating Flat Rock 65-52 and Columbia Central 78-65.

The victories upped the Indian record to 3-1 overall. Flat Rock was their first league game and they had little trouble with the Rams taking a 38-24 half time lead.

The orange and black were especially strong on the boards against Flat Rock outrebounding them 53-32. Tecumseh dumped 23 of 65 shots from the field for 35.4 percent and 19 of 25 free throws. Flat Rock completed 19 of 64 for 29.7 percent and 14 of 24 free throws.

The orange and black lost the ball 22 times compared to 26 for Flat Rock.

The next night the squad traveled to Columbia Central for a non-league contest taking a comfortable 41-30 halftime lead. Tecumseh shot a very respectable 51.9 percent from the field completing 27 of 52 shots. From the line they hit on 24 of 36. Columbia Central dumped 28 of 71 for 39.4 percent and completed only nine of 26 from the line.

Will Clinton Get Track?

CLINTON — Track Coach Ozzie Hasley presented a proposal by the Clinton Community Athletic Development Program (CCADP) for an all-weather, six lane, quarter mile track, to members of the school board, Monday night.

Larry Choate, of Humphrey Hanson Co., was present to discuss the track.

Cost of paving the track was estimated at $41,000. Drainage system, fencing, and grading would be additional. A fence would be needed before the rubber coating is laid.

Internal draining system for the track would cost approximately $10,000 to $12,000.

Total cost of track was estimated at about $55,000.

Clinton Village engineer will be asked to look at the site to give village requirements.

Board voted to begin moving on the track project to meet for discussions with CCADP board and to request bids on the drainage system.

Thomas Carlton and Dr. Dean Kirkland volunteered to serve on a joint planning committee.

Other members will be Superintendent Richard Wegner; Fred McCrate, athletic director; and Ozzie Hashley, track coach.

Concerining CEA and board contract negotiations, no report has been received from John Kiefer on the fact-finding hearing held Nov. 26. Arbitration hearing will probably be held in February.

Resignation of Roberta Riley as high school special education teacher was accepted with regret.

Board acted to expel Dan Stewart for remainder of school year. Parents were notified and did not attend meeting.

Board approved second year probationary status, effective second semester, for Thomas Mueller, Middle School Social Studies teacher.

Request for field trip for selected seventh and eighth grade students, to Chicago for visits to museums, was denied on the grounds that present policy does not permit traveling so far out of state, and that it would discriminate against remaining students.

On behalf of all the Blue Bird and Camp Fire Girls, leaders and parents, I would like to say "Thank you" to everyone in the Tecumseh Area who purchased our candy during our annual Candy Sale.

It seems like every year, with your wonderful help, we do better than the year before.

Also thank you to Betty Flanders who let the girls talk on the radio porgram; Mr. Ward Eardley, who had his picture taken with the girls; The Tecumseh Herald; Kathy Brown and Frank Weir who helped Camp Fire in many ways.

Also a special thank you to Kathy Handy for helping out when we really needed her.

Girls Were Great But Lose Class B Final

An era in Tecumseh High School sports passed Saturday night, and unfortunately, it was disappointing and sad. Our girls were edged in the Class B finals by Warren Woods, 46 to 43, at the Kentwood Field House in Grand Rapids.

The Indians had won the title in 1974 and were favored to repeat. They played well, well enough to win most games, but not quite well enough against the Detroit suburb school.

For the past two years the local girls not only dominated Class B basketball in their league, this area but the entire state. They also had previously whipped the Class A champs and had outclassed most of their opponents.

This era of THS sports included the talents of Julie Anderson, Melinda Ternak, Sue Brown, Janice Stevens, Connie Younglove, Jane Faulkner and Peg Upell - all seniors with Brown, Ternak, Anderson and Stevens starters. Other three seniors would have been starts on most other teams.

Coach Diane Nelson is going to miss these girls next year.

BURNED— Jay Tressler was burned when he carried this desk drawer out of his burning home. (Photo by Cortland Hunt)

9 ESCAPE FLAMES, FATHER BURNED

Fire Damages Top $40,000

Nine people, including seven children, escaped a fire here early Tuesday morning that extensively damaged the Jay Tressler home at the corner of W. Chicago Blvd. and N. Union St.

Damages to the home, previously occupied by the Ned Baldwin family, may exceed $40,000.

Mr. Tressler suffered the only injuries from the fire and was taken to Herrick Hospital immediately after firemen arrived at the scene, just before 5 a.m. He is still in the hospital with first degree burns to the face, hands and feet. His condition is reported good.

Firemen had little trouble in extinguishing most of the blaze, but fire within walls of the brick structure presented problems, especially when flames reached the second floor. Power saws were used to open walls so firemen could reach the flames.

Major damage to the home is toward the rear, where portions are actually gutted. While there is some fire damage at the front, most was limited to smoke damage.

As of Wednesday, cause and source of the fire had yet to be determined.

Efforts have been made to locate a house for the family, and some offers have been received for both furnished and unfurnished homes. At the present, a few of the children are staying with families of close friends.

Some are with their mother, Pat Ely Tressler, at her mother's home, Mrs. Ethel Hammack of Tecumseh. Mrs. Tressler is a member of the Tecumseh School Board and had attended the board meeting just hours before the fire broke out.

Mrs. Richard Heglin, a close friend of the family, said staples are being collected for the family's pantry, and friends are waiting to see how much clothing can be salvaged before collecting clothes.

Tuesday the family discovered that more clothing can be salvaged than first thought. Offers of other help from the community have been received.

A TV news cast Tuesday evening erroneously reported that Mr. Tressler had died in the fire. Fire chief Wallace MacGeorge contacted the station and informed them that their report was false, but the station refused to correct the report.

State Aid to Schools Cut Again, Now $95,000 Short

By FRANK WEIR

Michigan's school districts are feeling the impact of the state's financial troubles — and Tecumseh is no exception.

At a School Board meeting Monday night, members were told by Eugene Cooley, assistant superintendent, that Tecumseh's school district is receiving another cut in state aid, a cut amounting to $70,256.

Cooley said the cut is in addition to an initial cut of nearly $25,000 in August. Administrative officials were led to believe that the August cut would be the only one in the present fiscal year.

Yet, on Monday, they were informed of the further — and larger — cut.

Cooley went on to say that the cut is "very discouraging" in that the district is locked into salary committments and other financial obligations.

The district receives state aid payments six times a year in August, October, December, February, April and June.

In October, the district received only half its payment, the rest coming in November. This forced the district to borrow more funds than usual to tide the district over until tax funds are received in January.

The district was also notified that the February state aid payment will be cut in half with the other half coming in March. Officials had hoped to pay off a $700,000 note in February. That will now be difficult with the state aid payment spread over February and March.

The district will probably have to carry the note into March, or perhaps April depending on tax receipts, Cooley said.

Cooley went on to say that some degree of "belt tightening" will have to occur. The board's financial advisory committee will meet with Cooley and supt. Robert Duhan shortly after the new year to review the situation.

The committee consists of board members William Macbeth, James Records and Todd Herrick.

Council Approves Control of Dams

Tecumseh City Council accepted alternative one from the engineering firm of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May, Inc. of Ann Arbor as a hopeful solution to control the algae problem in the waters surrounding the Herrick Park subdivision.

This alternative calls for operating the Globe Mill Pond gate as an over flow weir, or dam.

The sluice gates at Standish Pond would be designed or modified to act as a weir without increasing their height.

When the overflow exceeds 12 inches at the Globe gate, it would be opened to allow underflow and a greater discharge of water from the pond.

Council agreed this would be the least costly and according to Mrs. Elaine Shough, 611 Outer Dr., one of the complaintants, "it would solve everyone's problem," because it would create water movement to break up the algae.

Alan Rothe, one of the engineers, was available for questions from Council.

He cautioned the city that if the radial gate at the Globe Dam were used for flood control in winter, it might freeze, unless the gate were opened and stop logs placed across it. These could then be removed in case of an emergency overflow.

Asked when the proposed solution would be employed, Mayor Harold Easton told Mrs. Shough he hoped "minor things could be done now. Some dam safety measures should be taken carp of as soon as possible."

Council did not make any specific reference to implementation of other suggestions in the engineers report such as when a structural analysis of Standish Dam may be done.

On the subject of dredging behind the residents' homes in the area of the Standish Pond, city manager Cal Zorn said he got "no satisfaction" after speaking to Rothe about the depth and width of the dredging. The Department of Natural Resources was concerned about silt washing back in the bed, and contractors recommended summer time for the project.

Mrs. Shough claimed she would get the manager statistics for an application for dredging. Her sources at DNR approved dredging if the bank were seeded.

"Several firms" said winter is the best time for the project when water is low, she said.

City Agrees To Help Historic Committee

by KATHY BROWN

Tecumseh got a boost toward establishing a historic district and protective ordinance from City Council Monday night when it agreed to help the Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee (HDSC) to mail questionaires to homeowners involved in the study.

The questionnaries, which will collect historical data on homes, is required by the State of Michigan to establish a protective ordinance to save Tecumseh's historical architecture, notably on Chicago Blvd.

Homeowners in the area bounded on the east by the Community Center and the west by Sunset Street, from the north at Brown Street and from the south at Cummins Street, will receive the questionnaries sometime after Jan. 1.

Progress of the Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee's work was presented by Mrs. Carlton Cook, chairman.

Council initiated a historic district study for Tecumseh in June 1973 with the appointment of the Study Committee.

Since that time, internal committees have:

+ Surveyed the exterior architecture of every home built before the 1900's in the area mentioned. Cecil Eby directed the survey.

Photographed between 250 and 300 homes, with more to be photographed this winter. Donald Berkley directed the photography.

+ Begun working with ordinances from other communities to develop one for Tecumseh. Earl Mason is heading the ordinance committee.

15 Years Is Enough

He does not know who the new operator will be. He expects to start farming next year.

Club Distributing Christmas Boxes to 70 Families

by KATHY BROWN

Thanks to you, 70 families in the Tecumseh School district will have Christmas and receive "Christmas boxes" distributed by the Tecumseh Service Club.

The Tecumseh Service Club relies solely on donations from the community and a share from the Community fund.

The Club was concerned this year that it would not be able to continue its Christmas sharing program because its Community Fund share was cut in half to $600.

However this figure may change since contributions for this year's drive were better than last year's.

Eleven members of the service club were elated that several churches, individuals and service organizations in town came through with support in money, canned goods, clothing, used toys and gifts for boys and girls.

As always these will be distributed to the families according to need.

Assistance to some families can run $100, especially if shoes, etc. are needed.

Another big boost to the Service Club came from the donors of mittens, scarves, gloves and booties at the mitten tree of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh, Herrick Park branch.

This year many of the items are credited to one annual contributor whom bank employees said "brought in two grocery sacks full."

The new plywood Christmas tree stand for the mitten collection was built and painted by Earl and Marjorie Bilby.

The mitten tree originated about five years ago at the main office at the bank and later found a home at the branch.

The Service Club was founded in 1932 to serve the needs of children in the Tecumseh School district.

Families in need are recommended to the club by school officials, individuals or social agencies.

The 11 members of the Service Club spend their own time and gas money to interview each family to determine the extent of need and number of people, ages, sizes, etc.

Emergency calls are received from older citizens, especially when illness is involved.

Some medical needs, such as glasses or dental work may also be paid for as well as material needs.

The Service Club tries to find used clothing whenever possible, because of its budget. Whatever else may be needed is purchased.

THANKS TO YOU, 70 families in the Tecumseh School district will have Christmas and receive gift boxes distributed by the Tecumseh Service Club. The Club is elated this year by the response from churches, individuals and service organizations who donated canned goods, used toys, money, and gifts for children. Another boost came from the United Savings Bank Herrick Park branch mitten tree. One woman knitted "two grocery bags full" according to bank employees. Epoxy glue is made in many forms by many manufacturers. It comes in two parts, both liquid, and is mixed in the required amount just before using. It is a good wood glue, and it glues almost anything else, as well. As it is usually 100 percent solid, it can be used to stick large areas of metal together. Here solvent drying glues will not work, because the solvent can not escape from between the metal surfaces. Epoxy glue holds with a strength of one ton per square inch or more.

You can depend on us at CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING, 1108 W. Chicago Blvd., 423-3121 to handle all your plumbing and air-conditioning jobs. We will be happy to give free estimates on your jobs and in addition to installations, handle repairs and remodeling. Hours: Daily 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m., Sat. until 5 p.m.

Land Sale Authorized

Council authorized the sale Wednesday night of half of the northwest lot of the city's owned industrial property originally requested by Richard Boley.

The local businessman plans a bulk plant at the site, south of Russell Road.

Some councilmen objected to selling the entire lot to Boley when he indicated he may build a retail gasoline station there sometime in the future. Monday Boley asked Council for only half the property, abandoning his plans for a gas station.

Although Tecumseh's zoning ordinance allows gas stations in an industrial park, Council wants to sell the land only to industry.

Attends Institute

Vera Gardner, 804 River Acres Dr., Tecumseh City Clerk-Treasurer, has returned from a week of concentrated study at Michigan State University designed to improve services of her office to the community.

Mrs. Gardner was among 66 Michigan municipal clerks who completed the first segment of the three-year university-level program dealing with responsibilities and services of the clerk's office.

Satisfactory completion of the three-year sequence, taught by university faculty and government authorities, fulfills the educational requirements for the Certified Municipal Clerk Award of the International Institute of Municipal Clerks.

Bernard Apol, director of elections, Michigan Department of State, told the attendants that the voting machines now in use throughout the state may not have room enough for all the political parties in next fall's general election.

This may require reinstatement of the paper ballot system with its inherent delay in tallying results.

The clerk's responsibility for public disclosure of election expenditures under the newly enacted campaign reform legislation was underscored in another seminar.

Santa Approves Mason's Work

BY KATHY BROWN

Everybody knows who comes down the chimney on Christmas Eve.

Well this year Santa Claus made an early visit with the Girls Scouts of Troop 137 at the Scout Cabin.

For his grand appearance, he popped out of the fireplace which Wilfred Waldron constructed in 1948.

"One of the city's finest," commented Santa laying a finger aside of his nose.

All whimsy aside, fireplaces are a popular addition to a home, and are associated with the spirit of the holiday season.

Distinguishing feature of the Scout Cabin fireplace is its stone masonry.

Mr. Waldron, modest as he is, is perhaps one of the few people in the area knowledgeable of the once common art.

In addition to the Scout Cabin fireplace, Mr. Waldron also designed and built a stone drinking fountain for a local park and built the fireplace with raised hearth and partially faced the front of 413 E. Shawnee, the former home of his daughter and son-in-law, John and Wenonah Hamilton, now of Ohio.

Another fine example of stone masonry in Tecumseh is the old Catholic Church located on the corner of East Chicago and Oneida St.

Difference in its construction is that the rocks are not split.

"I never got to be an expert. It's fun and I still have five fingers on each hand," told Mr. Waldron.

Because one rarely sees this kind of work done today in building of homes, Mr. Waldron shared some of the basic "how to's" of the trade.

"First you have to catch your turkey . . . you have to find your stones."

In building of the cabin fireplace, Mr. Waldron selected from stones rounded up by a few friends and himself.

He said Tecumseh fortunately has a good selection of rocks in the area because of the glaciers.

Granite rocks are the best specimens. Their crystalized composition makes them easy to split and makes a handsome front.

Fine grain stone, although much harder to break is a desirable stone for contrast.

Primary tools of the trade are an ordinary trowel, a box, about 2'x3' to mix mortar, a level (to determine a flat surface when desired) and most importantly, a stone hammer.

Mr. Waldron noted years ago a blacksmith knew exactly how to temper the stone hammer for efficiency.

On his rest periods, Mr. Waldron enjoyed visiting with nearby Floyd Elliot, long-time village president and son of the local blacksmith, Jim Elliot.

The cabin fireplace was built in about 10 days, five to six hours per evening.

Mr. Waldron remarked that stone masonary is a good hobby since it can be done in spare time, preferably in cool, damp weather, so that mortar does not set as fast.

How does a stone mason get the rocks aligned on the corners?

Part of the skill is in the wrist, when breaking the stones. To position a stone,a common stone with a little extra mortar keeps it in place without slipping.

The fireplace in the Scout Cabin was built on a form of heavy double wall sheet iron, available from a local lumber yard.

Vents were placed in the front as an additional heat escape. The height of the chimney is constructed around a flue liner and steel batting.

With the energy crunch, more and more new homes seem to be built with the family room fireplace as a special feature.

Whether or not you have a hearth around which you and your family gather for the holidays, may the warmth of your kinship keep you cozy this Merry Christmas.

Bicentennial Plans Revealed

by KATHY BROWN

Plans to have Tecumseh designated as a Bicentennial Community were revealed to Council Monday night by the Rev. David Fox, chairman of Tecumseh's Bicentennial Committee.

At least one activity for each of the three thematic areas of the Bicentennial celebration is desired by the national American Revolution Bicentennial Administration before the city receives the distinction.

The three themes are Heritage '76: commemorating the history of the United States; Festival USA: celebrating the spirit of the country's birthday and Horizons '76: sponsoring a lasting reminder of the Bicentennial.

Tecumseh's Committee has a proposal for each theme and hopes more groups or individuals will volunteer new ideas and sponsor projects in addition to the following:

HERITAGE

Photographing history - The Bicentennial committee is working on an arrangement to offer a photo or slide of a historical item by a volunteer photographer to any interested owner. Copies would be available for cataloging at the library also.

FESTIVAL

Vaudeville Show — The Tecumseh Music Club will sponsor the event for the community on June 29, 1976. Western Michigan University students will be featured. Also qualifies as a Heritage project.

July 4th Festival — The Bicentennial Committee will sponsor a walk by residents of the community through the town. Flag carriers and bands will participate.

Walk will end at the Athletic Field where a prayer, song fest, and address by a prominent citizen of the state will be followed by fireworks. Goal is to build a spirit of celebration.

Liberty Tree — Three local garden clubs are interested in sponsoring this project to commemorate the special tree in Boston under which the revolution was planned 200 years ago.

A hardwood tree near city hall would be designated, strung with lights and lit every night during 1976 in celebration of Freedom.

HORIZON

Historical District — The Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee designated by Council together with the assistance of the Historical Society plans to designate an area of the city, occupied by private homes, to prove the historical importance of Tecumseh's architecture. An ordinance will be recommended to preserve our city's heritage.

The Council also agreed to allow the Bicentennial Committee to appoint new members from various interests in the community for fuller representation.

Next Bicentennial Committee meeting is Jan. 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Tecumseh Public Library. Public is welcome.

"Holly and Tinsel" Enjoyed by Eighty

Holly and Tinsel breakfast was held at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Dec. 15.

Approximately 80 members and guests attended this 20th annual event, which was originated by Mrs. Herbert Murphy.

Tables decorated in holiday theme with individual Christmas corsages for each one.

Potted artificial poinsettias made by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Officers of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs were guests.

Five members of the Gloria Dei Luther League choir sang under the direction of Mrs. Earl Mason. They accompanied themselves on guitars.

Mrs. Carlton Cushing led the group in repeating "The Night Before Christmas." She then spoke on the true meaning of the greeting, "I wish you a Merry Xmas". She concluded with a reading, "He Planned Christmas, because He loved Us."

In conclusion, Christmas carols were sung by the group, led by Mrs. Mason and accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Driscoll at the piano.

How Children Grow

by KATHY BROWN

BRITTON — Students of the child development class taught by home economics teacher, Mrs. Mary Ann Berry, have had the opportunity to see the world through the eyes of children.

For the last semester, they have been studying how children grow.

The child development class offers hands on experience for the 24 students who entertain nursery school age children three days a week.

The course called "Life Skills" is one of several specialized semester offerings in the home economics field that attempt to prepare students for their adult roles in family life and consumer responsibility.

In the "Life Skills" class, the students are divided into five teams. Each week a team is responsible for planning activities and snacks for its charges.

Unlike other classes that stick to a text book, the girls attend class lectures and have a good amount of current reference material to assist them in their planning.

Students are graded on their interaction with the children.

"My overall goal for the class is to make them better parents," said Mrs. Berry.

"I think it would be easier for parents to respond if more were aware of the stages of child development. This might explain to parents why their child does some of the things he or she does," she elaborated.

Some of the things the students have learned by observing and working with their nursery school charges includes:

Girls develop faster than boys.

Children are involved in power struggles, when the will of one challenges the will of the group or another child. The girls are advised to allow the children to work out such problems and protect their safety.

Younger children will play alongside others; older children enjoy group playing. This is because at an older pre-school age, the child begins to understand the concept of other and sharing.

Children develop motor skills. Walking, climbing, etc. are all part of the child's development.

Children express themselves in art, however primitive it appears to adults. The nursery children are encouraged to draw rather than color in lines, to encourage creative expression.

The inventiveness and imagination of a child's mind fascinated Diane Andrews, a senior.

"They come up with the wildest stories. One boy overturned the wooden boat, (one of the toys the students brought to class) and started crawling on the ground. He said he wasn't afraid to swim around alligators," said Diane.

"Children change interests so fast. I've learned a lot about the different things they like to do," said Pam Dusseau, a sophomore, "it gives you a change to see a child's point of view."

"This is the advantage of the class. The girls see that the children have needs and feelings, they want approval and acceptance just like any other human being. They want to be involved," replied Mrs. Berry.

Beth Kopka, also a sophomore said she enjoys the class because, "It teaches you more practical things, most classes don't."

Replicas Available

BRITTON — Necklaces and keychains with replicas of $20 gold pieces to commemorate the Bicentennial year, are now available, announced Mrs. Cassie Niblack, Bicentennial Committee chairwoman.

They may be purchased at the Britton Variety Store or by contacting any Bicentennial committee member.

ANIMAL FEASTS

Ancient tradition has it that animals helped spread the joyous tidings of the Birth of Christ. Because of this, barnyard animals in many countries are served a special supper on Christmas eve.

Cattle kneel in their stalls at midnight, on Christmas eve, and for a moment have the power of speech. This belief, an old German legend, has been broadened to include all animals.

Bi-centennial Journey

Rural School Christmas
by Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — During the days when one-room rural schools were common in Michigan, the Christmas season was about the most important time of the year for people.

Thanksgiving over, teacher and pupils began elaborate preparations for the holiday season.

Plans were made for the presentation of a Christmas program with every pupil from the youngest to the oldest taking part.

Teachers searched every available school program book and educational magazine for recitations, monologues, dialogues, Christmas songs, and other numbers suitable for the occasion.

After parts had been assigned, pupils began to memorize their parts. Then practice and drill began.

Costumes and props were gathered.

Fathers or board members erected a stage (raised platform) so even the smallest child could be seen from the rear of the room.

If the teacher or one of the oldest pupils could not play the organ, one of the mothers took time from her busy schedule to play for the songs. In most cases parents were very cooperative.

To enhance the holiday atmosphere, the classroom was decorated with red, white, and green crepe paper, paper chains, children's art work, and some commercial decorations.

Curtains (often sheets) were strung on a wire that was stretched from one side of the room to the other to curtain off the stage.

One of two of the older pupils was chosen to draw the curtains when it was necessary to change scenes.

A few days before the program was to be given a large evergreen Christmas tree was placed in one corner at the front of the room.

Pupils assisted in decorating the tree.

Many times candles about 4½ inches long were place on the tree, using clamp on holders, (at that time the use of fresh evergreen trees and candles were not restricted).

Early in December pupils drew names for a gift exchange. Prior to about 1930 scholars were limited in price to about 25 cents per gift.

It was really amazing the variety of suitable gifts that could be purchased for that price.

The day of the program, pupils brought the gifts to school, all wrapped and tagged and placed them about the tree.

Teachers usually gave each child a gift. These were tastefully wrapped and placed on or under the tree.

Either the teacher or school board provided a treat for each child present. The treat was an orange, popcorn ball, a pretty box or small stocking made of mosquito netting filled with a mixture of popcorn, candy, and mixed nuts.

Unless weather permitted the Christmas program was held in the evening.

Kerosene lamps dimly lighted the school which was always filled to capacity — invitations having been sent to every family.

Excitement ran high as children dressed in their very best gathered in their designated places to wait for the time for the program to start.

At last everyone was ready and the program began. Parents listened and watched intently whenever their children appeared on the stage and applauded loudly.

The concluding number on each program was usually a closing song by the entire school. The last note had scarcely faded away when the sound of sleigh bells would be heard outside announcing the arrival of that jolly old gent, Santa Claus.

After a hearty greeting and some good natured dialogue with the pupils, teacher, and the audience, Santa often asked for assistance in distributing the treats and gifts.

When the last present had been given out, Santa bade everyone farewell, saying that he had many calls yet to make and took his departure.

Another one-room school Christmas program had been completed.

Board entered a contract with Dearborn architect, Richard J. Happley, to perform architectural services in connection with the proposed addition of a multi-purpose room to the Britton-Macon Area School.

What's Up At THS

by Tecumseh High School Journalism Class

The high school and junior high school bands will join together in a Christmas program Thursday. The high school and junior high chorus will sing, accompanied by the band.

The program will be held during school hours for the high school student body. A program for parents will be at the gym at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The Christmas program is an annual assembly each year at THS. The Christmas music and songs are a nice break from the daily routine, especially during the holiday season.

The students, faculty and administration appreciate the band students and also Jimmie Rice for the time spent in preparation for this year's Christmas program.

The halls of Tecumseh High School are full of happy, excited faces, and the reason is, this Friday is the last day of the 1975 school year.

With 1975 about to come to an end, many exciting and happy things have taken place.

Clarence Lacny, the new principal, has proven to be effective. This year's homecoming parade was great, and we also won the homecoming football game.

The girls' varsity basketball team is runner-up State Champions. Over-all the 1975 school year has been outstanding.

This year's Christmas dance, sponsored by the class of 1976, will be held Dec. 20 in the high school gym.

The band "Rampant" is returning for a second appearance at THS from 9 p.m. to midnight.

The dance is for couples and singles.

Students can save 50 cents if tickets are bought before the end of the school day on Friday. Dress is semi-formal.

My Year In Sweden

By Valerie Egli
Exchange Student

Before I left for Sweden I was told that Swedish schools are very different from American schools. I thought, a school is a school, they're all basically the same.

I've found out that the only way that they are basically the same is that both expect students to learn what the teachers teach.

First of all, in Sweden children begin school at the age of seven.

There is no kindergarten, although the Swedish government is debating a law making one year of pre-school compulsory.

Until that law is passed, the seven-year-old enters the first year of comprehensive school, "grundskolan," and is required by law to finish through the ninth.

Because it is required, this education is free, including textbooks, other instruction materials, and school lunches!

The comprehensive school consists of three three-year stages, lower, intermediate, and upper.

Swedish children start school for only a few hours a day and gradually work up to a full day of school.

The first grade is only 20 hours a week, second grade is 24, third grade is 30, fourth is 34, and fifth through ninth grades are 35 hours a week.

The classes which are established in first grade stay together, with the same students, through the ninth grade.

This is known as the "undivided class."

The lower stage classes have a maximum of 25 students, while the intermediate and upper classes are allowed a maximum of 30 to allow for "new kids."

The first through sixth grade classes have one teacher for every class as in our elementary schools, with special teachers for music gymnastics and art in the intermediate stage.

The upper stage is taught by subject teachers as in our junior high schools.

Required subjects taught in the lower stage include Swedish, mathematics, religion, provincial culture, music, handicrafts, and gymnastics.

English is a required language starting in the third grade and continuing through the ninth.

In the third grade also, a subject is introduced teaching students how to work with materials such as wood and metal.

This is called "slojd," and is comparable to our junior high shop class. This class is also continued through the ninth grade.

In the intermediate stage provincial culture is replaced by civics, history, geography, and the study of nature.

In seventh grade a student may take either German or French as a second language, a natural science class is also introduced, including chemistry and physics.

A student has four electives in the seventh and eighth grades.

Vocational guidance is offered beginning in the seventh grade and continues through the rest of school.

In the last year each student is required to take three weeks of job training of their choice in actual working conditions.

After comprehensive school, most students continue in the gymnasial school, although this isn't required by law.

There are five basic curricula: liberal arts (humanities), where a student can choose from Latin, Greek, English, French, German, Spanish and Russian languages; social sciences which include geography, world history, philosophy, and religion; natural sciences including chemistry, physics, biology; advanced mathematics, business (economics), and the technical arts.

There are 16 other more technical curricula, but these are the basic five.

All students, except those taking the technical arts curriculum, are required to study three languages for at least one year each.

Education at the gymnasial level lasts three years. This is equivalent to our high school. However, students taking the technical arts curricula can continue for a fourth year in a techinical gymnasial.

They then receive a gymnasial engineering degree.

To obtain a professional engineering degree they must continue schooling in an institute of technology.

The grading scale in Sweden is in numbers. There is no failure mark given.

In comparison to standard American grades they are: 5-A, 4 and 3-B, 2-C, 1-C or D.

A grade average of 2.3 is required for entrance into a Swedish University. Some professions, like medicine, require a higher grade point average.

There is no graduation as we know it in the United States.

Instead, up until the spring of 1968, a test called the Studentexamen was given at the end of the third year in the gymnasium which covered everything learned up until that point.

If a student passed this test, he or she received a white cap that looked something like a sea-captain's cap and parties were thrown something like the graduation open houses we know, only much wilder. Sometimes they last through the night to the next day.

But all this (except the parties!) stopped after 1968. In place of the Studentexamen, written standard tests set by the National Board of Education, called "central provs," are given in each subject, covering everything learned in that subject up until that point.

These tests are spread out over the last two years in the gymnasial.

And last but not least of all the differences, there is no formal "graduation" ceremony.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

OH, WHAT A BEAUTIFUL MORNING!

The windows in my room are long and narrow. Up quite high on the wall, they are the type of windows so often put in small rooms because they do not take up much wall-space.

Although fine for furniture arranging they leave a bit to be desired if one is a 'through my window' watcher. Thank goodness for an eight-foot glass door, and a wide open porch.

But my room windows are not all that bad. Not too long ago what they showed me started an exciting adventure.

It began just after breakfast, before I had even given serious thought to sitting up and being pushed out on the porch. When lying flat and looking up through the windows the area of sky I see is not too large. On this particular morning, it was big enough.

First of all, I saw an incredibly beautiful bit of sky. The air was so clear it almost sparkled and the sky was of bright deep blue. The sunshine was everything Florida sunshine should be, bright and invigorating.

One sometimes reads about light which seems alive, on this morning I knew exactly what the description meant.

All of a sudden there were many flickering flakes of white in the dazzling blue sky. I knew at once that it was a high-flying flock of birds. But what kind of birds?

As the flock wheeled and turned it almost disappeared, another turn and it was back in sight. Sun glistened on white feathers and responsible for the 'coming and going' trick. Fortunately Mom was standing by the window so all she had to do was turn around.

Truly, it was a beautiful picture and, even though my viewing area was small the birds stayed in sight a surprisingly long time. Well over a minute I am sure.

When the birds had flown out of range Mom called Dad and they went out in the yard to look. Our nighbor, Bill, was just coming out of his coach so they called to him and, after one quick look he called to his wife, Joan.

From bird watching I went to 'people watching'. Four adults standing, with their backs to the lake, looking up at the sky and trying to shield their eyes from the bright sun, pointing out each new stunt and turn the flock was taking and passing binoculars back and forth.

I had quite a show to watch. When the arm waving stopped there was a little conference and I knew they were oohing and aahing over what they had seen.

As soon as Mom came to the house she immediately went to the bird books. BIRDS OF NORTH AMERICA by Robbins, Bruun and Zim gave her the answer she sought. Snow geese!

There was absolutely no doubt. Through the binoculars all four had been able to see very distinctly that the birds were fairly good size and all white except for black markings on the wing tips.

Mom also said that before the flock had gone completely out of sight the birds had sorted themselves out, the milling about had ceased and they had formed into a recognizable V-formation.

Now the second half of the adventure began. The bird book reading. We had never seen snow geese before, what should we know about them?

The first book Mom looked at is an excellent reference for quick identification.

However, others on the shelf would give us more infomation. Size-wise the snow geese are smaller than the Canada Honers with which we are all familiar.

Twenty-nine inches in length with a 58 inch wing spread and weighing about six pounds versus 39 inches by 76 inches and 14 pounds. The snow goose also has a much shorter neck.

Breeding in the far, far north they are important to both the Indians and Eskimos — at least, they will be important until civilization completely changes the old way of life for these people.

Usually the geese come down the Mississippi flyway and winter along the Gulf coast, although there are some who branch further east and spend the cold weather months along the Atlantic coast, primarily in the Carolinas.

So our flock was either farther south than usual or farther east. It really doesn't matter — we thoroughly enjoyed the whole experience and Mom summed it up when she said, "Oh, what a beautiful morning!"

Airman Mark A. Hickok, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hickok of 307 S. Union, has been selected for technical training in the U.S. Air Force air operations field at Keesler AFB, Miss. The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He is a 1975 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Card Origin Disputed

The origin of the Christmas card is disputed. They appeared about the same time as the engraving process in the mid-1800's.

Author George Buday definitively credits John Horsley as designer of the first card in 1843, executed at the urging of a friend, Henry (later Sir Henry) Cole.

Published in the Home Treasury Office in London, the card featured a family toasting the holiday and charitable acts. One thousand were printed and sold at one shilling each.

Christmas cards were introduced to the United States in 1875 by Louis Prang, a native German who settled in Boston.

His early cards, produced by a process of color lithography, were models of expert craftsmanship. They featured flower designs.

By 1881 he was turning out more traditional designs including Santa Claus, Madonna and child and blazing fires.

Demand exceeded supply and inferior, cheaper cards came flooding in from Europe. Prang found it hard to compete.

Christmas Past Revealed in Cards

BY KATHY BROWN

Remember when you were a child and weren't old enough to read?

Grandmother's small trunk of Christmas cards provided a treasure chest of colorful pictures, irresistible to a nosey toddler.

Today rummaging through grandmother's Christmas card trunk is a trip to yesteryear.

The cards are appreciated not only as the endearing mementos of grandmother's childhood, but also as a review of the life, fashion and attitudes of Christmas past.

The Tecumseh Herald is fortunate to have on display a collection dating from 1902 to 1931, now owned by Roberta Anderson of Ypsilanti, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Keller of Clinton and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt of Tecumseh.

Perhaps you are sending Christmas postcards, as these cards are, to save postage. Sixty years ago Christmas greetings could be sent on a postcard for a penny.

Several of the cards bear traditional Christmas landscapes, also holly, mistletoe, animals and flowers.

Oddly enough these cards which span 30 years time, picture only the social aspects of the holiday and not the religious.

Because of the predominance of religion and morality in this era, one would expect more religious cards. Sources do say they were printed but perhaps few in number.

Usually religious designs were reproductions of paintings by the Old Masters since folks were shy of using art work by contemporaries which consciously interpreted the gospel.

One authority does not think there were any more religious cards then than there are now.

In The History of the Christmas Card, George Buday claims the only reason the lack of religious designs is noticed is because of the decline of the importance and practice of religion in our times.

Perhaps in the Victorian era, cards representing the social aspects of the holiday rather than the religious were not considered irreverant because religion was an integral part of life, said Buday.

Those who prefer religious cards today make their preference known to card companies and their attitude toward Christmas as the commemoration of the Birthday of Christ through the sending of religious cards.

Nature symbols used in the card designs may be traced to the pagan holiday of Winter Soltice, celebrated before Christians celebrated Christmas.

Soltice was the year-end holiday at which time people looked forward to the end of the long winter nights and the blossoming of nature that would soon happen in the spring.

Social customs such as kissing under mistletoe, Yule fire, etc, commemorated in the cards, were a part of the social customs believed to chase away evil spirits and invite the good at the change of the seasons.

Animals were believed by pagans to have magical powers, such as the bird. It can fly and man cannot.

In the Victorian era, the robin, best known and liked of birds, was especially popular on cards as the herald of spring.

Though Christianity has supplanted paganism, these symbols and traditions are probably continued in part or whole though few remember why or where they started.

The use of flowers in these cards dated 1902-1931 might also be explained in view of the fact that during the Victorian era, flowers were a language of their own.

Flower dictionaries enabled people to express messages using the names of appropriate flowers to express love, affection, admiration, friendship, etc.

A card elaborately decorated with flowers could be read as a letter itself.

Perhaps a less curious about these cards is the constant image of youth.

Christians believe that Christmas is for everyone, Christ having been born to die for everyone's sin, but the celebration of Christmas, inevitably focuses on the children when generations of the family gather.

The children depicted in these cards, were an entertainment for adults, perhaps more than the children to whom the cards were sent.

Mrs. Keller recalled when she was a girl, "Cards were mostly for children."

Cards were sent to children either by grandparents, aunts and uncles or between cousins. Today, the cards are exchanged between neighbors, near and far, as well as among relatives.

In her youth, Mrs. Keller and her peers sent Christmas cards to convey greetings of the season to absent friends and family.

Cards carried the latest family gossip, memories enjoyed with cousins at summertime, or word to expect a holiday visit.

One card with the greeting "Hard Times" was apologetically sent instead of a present, according to the verse.

Christmas cards were a substitute for the older custom of a Christmas letter.

Postcards presented a disadvantage. One could only write a short message that the postman could read. For these reasons, Christmas cards were often enclosed in a letter

Voices Blend at Choir Concert

CLINTON — A festival of carols was presented by the choir of the United Church of Christ, Sunday evening, under the direction of Carolyn Dicks.

Evergreen garlands and large red bows decorated the sanctuary walls, and the chancel was enhanced with many poinsettias, and a ceiling-high, lighted Christmas tree. Branch candelabra, and lighted hurricane candles lighted the aisle.

Participating in the concert were sopranos, Chari Cadmus, Darcy Ford, Della Ford, Roberta Girbach, Ruth Strolle, Irene Steffens, Jean Rhoades, Linda Corwin, and Evelyn Heimerdinger.

Altos were Joan Foster, Peg Rockwell, Christy Schnizlein, Betty Heimerdinger and Nancy Cadmus.

Tenors were Terry Calhoun and Charles Steffens.

Basses were Frederick Miller, Clayton Strolle and Mark Schnizlein.

Besides Mrs. Dicks, organist, accompaniment was provided by Christy Schnizlein, organ and finger cymbals; Lynn Greenleaf, flute; Mark Schnizlein, snare drum.

Steve Bowman was narrator.

A family dinner preceded the concert and was attended by 100 persons. Santa visited the children and brought them boxes of candy.

A party for the choir was held after the concert at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steffens.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

Ladies, your attitudes about going to the laundromat have to change!

Don't think of it as some dingy place where a week's worth of gravy stains and ground-in dirt go down the drain!

Don't regard the time you sit waiting for the Play Dough to become loosened from your daughter's shirt as wasted!

Think of it as a mystery, which only you and your quarters and dimes can solve. Think of it as a game!

It used to be so simple that it was no fun. But this is almost 1976, and the rules have changed.

The clues are still there, though, in the clothing that people dump and stuff in washers, pull from dryers and fold in mountainous stacks. But beware . . .

For instance, the woman who is washing four loads of soiled diapers, kimonos (size 0), green-bean-stained bibs, and tiny booties may have a baby at home.

But who knows? She might be working on a doctoral thesis entitled, "Similarities Between Apes and Humans" and the subject of her study may be "rooming in."

And better not let yourselves be deceived by the pretty blonde at dryer 27.

Sure, she's gingerly removing grease-stained shirts from the super-hot bin in the wall. But don't put your money on the too obvious.

The still-grimy overalls might be evidence of her class in "powder puff mechanics" — not from the Saturday tuneup her hubby gave the family station wagon.

Get the picture?

That rather distinguished looking man carrying out a basket of ladies' "unmentionables," toddler T-shirts, and neatly folded linen napkins is not, perhaps, doing his sick wife a favor.

She might be pulling emergency duty at the hospital (M.D. specializing in internal medicine), and this is the day that their son spends at nursery school.

Me? I've positioned myself as near the back of the establishment as possible, valiantly trying to fold my clothes as I pull them from the dryers.

I don't want my blatant laundry spoiling the game for somebody else. . .

Christmas Is Special Time

Have you any special holiday traditions you would like to share with our readers? Please contact Kathy Brown at the Herald, 423-2174.

The Rev. and Mrs. Dane Ruff of Tecumseh Friends church share this holiday news with us. Christmas, the family will gather with daughters Judy Orchard and husband, Neil of East Rochester, Ohio and Marriann Jadallah and husband, Ed of Norwalk, Ohio.

By Mrs. Dane Ruff

At Christmastime in our home we have a special family time. We read the beautiful account of Christ's birth as recorded in Luke, chapter 2.

We talk about what God's special gifts to us have been the past year.

It's a warm and happy time that we close by praising God in song and prayer for the gift of His Son.

Another tradition started quite accidentally.

The year our first daughter was born we were given a pair of small china bells.

For our second daughter's first Christmas we purchased another pair of bells.

With what care the China bells were unwrapped each year and just the right spot selected by each of the girls to hang their bells on the tree.

Now that the girls have their own homes and trees the bells have gone with them to remind them of all the warm and happy holiday seasons of their childhood.

We gave our first grandchild a pair of bells in hopes the tradition will be carried on.

The family was privately sponsored by relatives of the Thomas Adams family of Clinton.

Monday night the youth delivered a Christmas tree and all the decorations to the family.

Although the family has sufficient clothing at this time, there is a need for presents or money for needs of the children.

Five boys are age 2, 4, 6, 15 and 16, and the girls are 8 and 12.

For further information call Mrs. Thomas Adams, 456-7283.

Clothing Needed

CLINTON — During the cold weather some children do not have proper clothing to wear outdoors at recess time in our Elementary School.

Several volunteer mothers suggested that with Christmas coming and many children receiving larger sizes under the tree, such as boots, mittens, gloves, scarves, hats and sweaters. Perhaps the outgrown items could be sent to the Collection Point at Clinton Elementary School, for the children in local schools who could use them.

If transportation is needed call 456-7441 ext. 42, for someone to pick up any donated items.

Volunteer mothers are carrying out this effort.

You Told Us

by Kathy Brown

Is Christmas sneaking up on you? Tree half decorated, more cookies to bake, presents to buy and wrap. And oh darn — forgot to send a card to Uncle Ed in Florida.

Comes a time when a person has to sit down and review priorities. Whatever you do this holiday season, set aside a time for you and your family when you can worship together and reflect on the Christmas miracle.

Monday guests of Clara Waldron were Lois Lund, dean of the College of Human Ecology at Michigan State University and her assistant, Dr. Norma Bobbitt. They were joined in the afternoon by Anne Carson and Mrs. Neal Patterson. All are members of Omicron Nu, National Honor Society of Home Economics. The afternoon was spent in reminiscing about the early days of the society.

Tryout Date Set for Play

"Ten Little Indians", the famous mystery thriller by Agatha Christie, will be the next offering of the Tecumseh Players at the Tecumseh Community Center this season.

Tryouts for the play, which has a cast of eight men and three women, will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Jan. 5 and 6 at the Presbyterian Church in Tecumseh.

The production, under the direction of Bettie Jo Hancock of Adrian, will open Feb. 21 and continue for other performances Feb. 22, 27, and 28.

This is the second time around for "Ten Little Indians" in Tecumseh.

It was presented by the Players in 1962 at the old Strand Theatre, which has long since departed from the Tecumseh scene.

It was a highly successful production, and the theatre group felt that it was a fitting selection for the Bicentennial year — the first "repeat" ever staged by the Players.

Miss Hancock is no stranger to the Tecumseh stage, although her recent connection has been with the Croswell at Adrian.

In the 1960's she directed three well-remembered shows for the Players, "Never Too Late," "Guys and Dolls", and "Annie, Get Your Gun."

The Players stress that the welcome mat is out for everyone, but especially for newcomers who want to participate in a rewarding experience in community theatre.

Besides the stage roles, there are many jobs to be filled behind the scenes: properties, make-up, set construction, costumes, ticket sales, and ushering, to name only a few.

WINDING TECHNIQUE — Richard Preston of the Apollo University of Hair Design, Adrian, shows Pat Moore of Tecumseh the proper technique for winding the hair for a permanent wave. Pat's model is her mother Jane Moore. Students at the Lenawee Vo-Tech Center begin cosmetology training in their junior year so they may be in training for the required 1500 hours, completing the program in their senior year.

City Agrees to Help Historic Committee

The questionnaire to be mailed by the city will serve as community input for the ordinance, too.

Volunteers from the HDSC will follow up with personal contact of each owner involved.

These trained volunteers will complete documentation through other sources including the Historical Society and collections of Tecumseh Public Library.

All labor on forms and maps have and will be donated, Mrs. Cook said in the report. So far, the city has paid for photographic film, printing, files and study sheets totaling $75.

Such a survey conducted by professionals would conceivably cost the city several thousands.

Legal and architectural fees, when not donated will be included in the city's responsibilities as they would for any other city document and ordinance.

Council authorized a letter of appreciation to Cecil and Patricia Eby, formerly of Tecumseh and now of Oxford, Miss., who developed the Tecumseh survey form and evaluation criteria for commercial and residental buildings.

Michele Worley of Tecumseh was appointed a member of the HDSC by Council.

Councilwoman Mary Bowers was appointed Council's liaison to the HDSC.

Presently in the area of publicity, high school drafting students of Charles Gross, are working on maps showing the growth of Tecumseh, and Anne Fox's high school arts and graphics classes are sketching old homes which will be made into a calendar.

Mrs. Cook has a slide program of Tecumseh architecture and natural heritage which is available to any group wishing to see them, including elementary schools.

Richard Lewis, a member of the HDSC is studying underground railway in the county. School children may see the original sites.

Study Conducted by Clinic on Heart Attacks

Interested men and women who have had a heart attack and are between 30 and 69 years of age are asked to please contact the University of Michigan AMIS Clinic, Heart Station, University Hospital, Ann Arbor, MI 48109.

Volunteers are needed to participate in a study being conducted by Dr. Henry K. Schoch, Associate Professor of Internal Medicine, to see whether aspirin will reduce the threat of recurrent heart attack or stroke.

This research program — called the Aspirin-Myocardial Infarction Study (AMIS) — is a 4-year project being conducted at 30 major medical institutions throughout the country and is funded by the National Heart and Lung Institute of the US Public Health Service, Bethesda, Maryland.

Readers may call collect (preferably during working hours), 313-665-9568 for an appointment or write Dr. Schoch, C-o AMIS, Heart Station, University Hospital, Ann Arbor, MI 48104.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

May I comment on recent letters from your readers that are of interest to me?

Beginning with the one from E.J. Cook in your last issue regarding the "Century Club," his points are very taken and I wonder how many others feel the same way.

It appeared in the Herald that the Board of Trustees "unamimously" voted for the idea — well I didn't.

I saw the injustice of it and I also see the injustice of using the word "unamiously" as too often is done.

Neither did I like receiving the letter which was sent to the residents addressed to the "Occupant." I registered my complaint of that.

In the Herald on 11-6-75 Bud Barwick told the story of his pleasant experience with a worth while Vietnamese. I appreciated his bringing the matter to our attention.

Now I'll pass on the thought of each person asking himself if his ancestors were Indians.

As one authorized lecturer on the Indian question said, "We should have had tighter immigration laws in those days."

Our wonderful country is the result of using the talents of all the nationalities regardless of color or creed. Michigan history is fascinating.

My last comment is a type of rebuttal to Bob Proctor's statements in his column 'way back in April when he took exception to my views on the storetop apartments being more suitable for young adults than the elderly.

I did not mean to brand the young adults as being undesirables. I have many young friends who are ace high in my estimation, but they were born into a world of noise much of which is due to industry.

I wish that space permitted me to say more.

Remember this, all renters pay their share of property taxes which is included in the rent.

To the Editor:

I am writing as a concerned Student about the escorting of the Girls basketball team back home after their State game.

Sure they are State Runners up, but so was the softball team!

Not even a welcoming back sign was put up for the softball team.

Do people like basketball better? Or was it that no one knew the softball team went to state?

This could really hurt the players, they may feel like no one is behind them.

Well let's think about this before the next team, boy or girl goes to state.

This is a big step in their life. Let them live it with enjoyment!

Welcome them back home!

Interested Student,
Vickie Anderson

Dear Editor,

Jesus welcomed the widow's mite and I am under the impression that every little bit helps.

I gave the United Way but not enough to be on the elite Century Club listing in your paper.

I feel this practice should be omitted unless every contributor's name is published.

American clocks were first manufactured in Connecticut about 1800 by Eli Terry. Mr. Terry built up a successful business which became known as the Terry Manufacturing Company. Many neighboring establishments were soon engaged in clock manufacture, and Connecticut is still the center of the industry in the United States. The earliest clocks were constructed of wood and in the better clocks the pendulum was of wood overlaid with gold leaf.

Group Seeks to Reduce Crime

Would you know what to do in event that you are a witness to or victim of crime?

Publishing a booklet explaining to citizens what to do in the event in such an emergency was discussed at the Dec. 10 meeting of the Community Resource Committee in the Herrick Memorial Hospital conference room.

The committee, headed by Trooper Earl J. Raczkowski, of the Clinton State Police Post, was formed in March 1975, for the purpose of creating citizen's awareness of crime and methods of prevention.

The booklet will be catalogued and is planned to include: A suspicious person or car; Accident; Fire, Tornado, Rape, Robbery or Burglary.

Each listing will advise what to do immediately and the proper local telephone number in each area.

It will also include the telephone number of poison control centers.

The booklet will be printed in two sizes, a small one for the car and a larger one for the home.

When completed, they will be distributed by local youth groups.

The responsibility for the printing of these booklets has been assumed by Robert Halliday, of Lodi Township, a vice-president of the Zerox Corporation in Ann Arbor.

The importance of Operation Identification was discussed.

All personal belongings should be catalogued, with full description, serial numbers and model numbers, if available.

Also of prime importance is a neighborhood or block watch, which would prove a great deterrent in the prevention of malicious destruction of property and breaking and entering.

Interested citizens were present from Clinton, Manchester, Saline, Ann Arbor and Tecumseh.

Trooper Raczkowski announced the next meeting is Jan. 21, 1976.

The Pastor, the Official board, and the congregation of The Tecumseh Assembly of God would like to wish all of those wonderful people who have helped us so very much this past year a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

He was a retired editor and a wise one. But he was a realist — as a newspaperman must be. One of his sayings became legendary in that busy pressroom:

When the front page makes you happy — it's been a great day!

I'm one who has noticed that the great days seem farther apart. Nor can I blame on my ulcer the headlines that don't make anyone happy. Someone else said: men make the news; reporters only write it.

It's time to give thought to the roots of happiness. After all, what happens every day is simply the fruit of a million vines. Down at the roots is where the fateful choices are made which inevitably bring forth their fruit.

This is a mighty fine newspaper whose service to the community is to tell us what news men have made today. We also have some mighty fine churches. Their service to the community is to mold the faith and character of the men who will make the news tomorrow.

Our churches are working at the roots of happiness!

When family ties are broken and loved ones have to part.
It leaves a wound that never heals, and also a broken heart.
Upon the path we tread, we bless the years we shared, and leave the rest to God.
His end was very sudden. It made us weep and cry.
But the saddest part to all of us, we never said good-bye.
Sadly missed by his wife and children. 12-18c

In loving memory of our father and grandfather John L. Marine who left us Dec. 19, 1968.

Disappointed Coach, Team Presented Class B Runner-Up Trophy

WARREN WOODS EDGES TECUMSEH IN FINALS, 46-43

Indians Lose Thriller, Title

All good things must come to an end, and such was the case Saturday night when a game and proud Tecumseh girls basketball team - undefeated in 45 straight games over two seasons and battling for a second consecutive Class B title - was upset in the state finals at Kentwood, 46 to 43, by Warren Woods of Detroit.

It was a game the girls could have just as easily won as lose.

They will never forget it, nor will hundreds of Indian fans who made the trip to the Grand Rapids suburb. Of the four state title games, this was the closest and best played.

When two teams struggle for 32 minutes with the largest lead being five points, the score tied three times and the lead changing hands 11 times - then you've had a basketball game!

Coach Diane Nelson's team was the favorite as Warren Woods played well in ousting Jenison the previous night, but not well enough that evening to take the Indians. Unfortunately, Warren Woods played very well the next night in the title game, a performance that was absolutely necessary - as our Indians played very well, too.

The winners gained their three-point victory margin in the first period when they led Tecumseh 16-13. At the half it was 27-24, and at the end of the third quarter, the Indians had closed the gap to single point, 37 to 36.

Early in the fourth period, Tecumseh jumped out to a 40-39 lead. Warren Woods regained the lead moments later and led the rest of the way, usually by one or three points. When the Indians pulled to within a point, Warren Woods would either sink a couple free throws or a goal.

The game was not decided until the final nine seconds when Kathy Bieniek dropped the second of two free throws, to boost her team into a three-point lead.

Susie Brown with 16 points and Melinda Ternak with 14 led the Tecumseh attack that almost gave the Indians their second straight Class B title.

Last week enroute to the finals, the Indians whipped Gull Lake in the quarter-finals, 42 to 31, and West Branch in the semi-finals, 58 to 54.

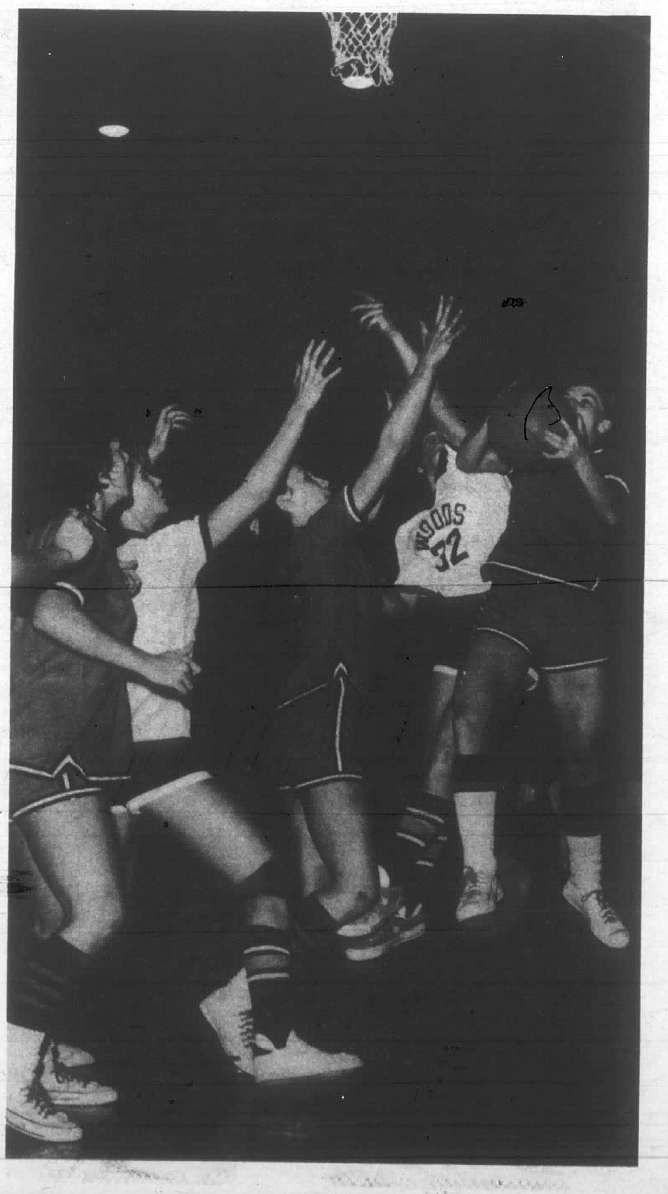
Janice Stevens, one of the Indians most improved players this season, drops in a two-pointer early in the game against Warren Woods. Kathy Bieniek, far left of Warren Woods, was player Tecumseh feared most as she tallied 35 pointed against Jenison on Friday night. The Indians stopped her with 11 points.



Tecumseh battled Warren Woods on the boards all evening and had its trouble rebounding, especially with the opponent's six-foot center. But not here, however, as Susie Brown goes high to grab one with nearby help from Julie Anderson and Janice Stevens.

Susie Brown (right) and Melinda Ternak (below) were outstanding in the Class B championship game. Sue hit for 16 points - tops for both teams - and Melinda, 14, in a game that could have gone either way. Melinda's drive here for two points has Janice Stevens waiting for possible rebound.

Julie Anderson got into four trouble early and eventually fouled out in the fourth quarter. She was an exceptional player as was teammate Sue Brown, partially hidden by ball.

Trouble with a capital T was Warren Woods center Deborah Waschewski. A six-footer, she dominated the boards and scored 15 points, a surprise for the Indians who had watched her the previous night in just a so-so performance. Jane Faulkner scraps with her for the ball with Melinda Ternak watching the action.

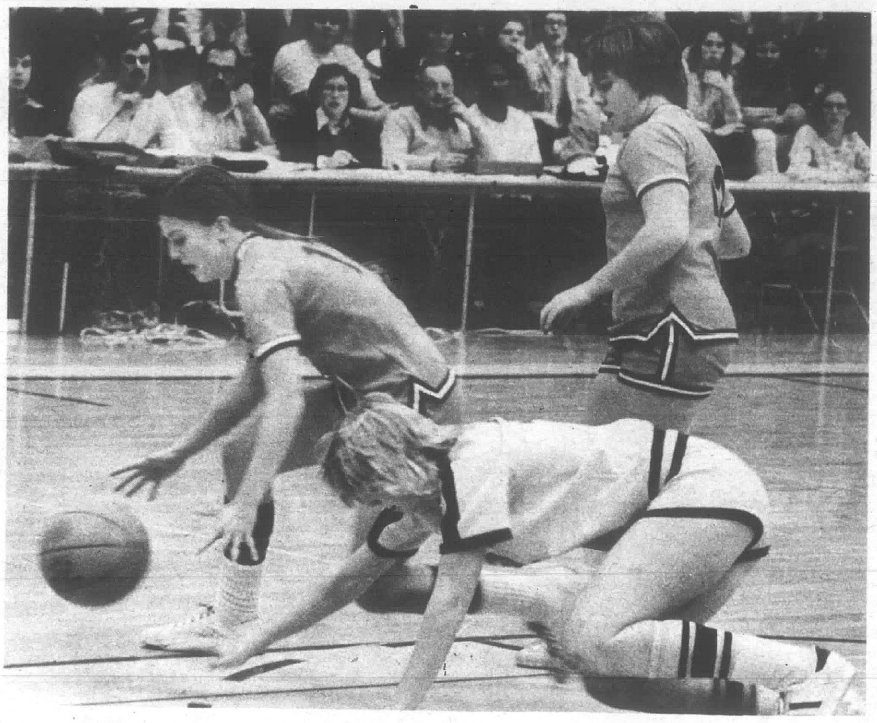
Lost, They Made Everyone Proud To Be from Tecumseh



Susie Brown slides by a determined West Branch player during semi-final action Friday night. Tori Iffland follows along, ready if needed. Brown scored six points in the contest.

Julie Anderson looks fatigued as she prepares to shoot over several West Branch players. Julie tied with Melinda Ternak for scoring honors each with 17 points. Tecumseh held a decisive 30-21 edge at the half after playing a strong 18 point second quarter.

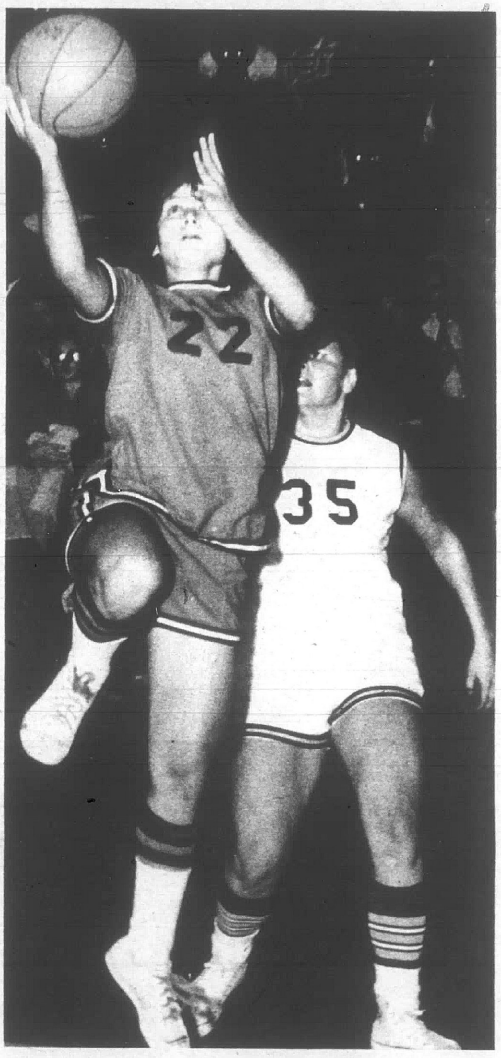
Indians Trounce Gull Lake in Quarter-finals 42 to 31



Melinda Ternak cuts past Gull Lake's Mary Bodnar for a bucket. Melinda was third highest in scoring for the game with seven points. Susie Brown took top point honors with 16. The orange and black held a slim 8-7 lead at the end of the first quarter. A strong second stanza gave the Indians a 22-15 advantage at the half. Twenty points in the second half for Tecumseh compared to 16 for Gull Lake iced the Indians' victory.

Jan Stevens takes an easy jumper pumping two points in. She followed Susie in scoring honors grabbing 12 points for the Indians.

'Its been fantastic to coach these girls'

I would have liked to have seen them win it, but they lost like state champs and that's more important. I try to teach character besides fundamentals. They were fantastic about it, I'm really proud of them. Not only are they talented, but they have character.

As a team, they only lost four times. Sometimes, with other teams with a 72-4 record, it's hard for them to lose, but these girls showed poise and character. We learned a lot from the loss. And one thing is that it takes the pressure off the girls for next year.

They've given a lot to the community by the type of girls that they are - and the community has done a lot for them. Its been a great four years with them, and I feel I've accomplished a lot. A lot of people I talked to were disappointed with the loss, not just because we lost, but because of the caliber of the girls.

Directors of the bank have declared a 35-cent per share quarterly dividend, plus a year-end extra dividend of 35 cents per share. Dividends will be paid Jan. 2 to shareholders of record on Dec. 15th.

This year the directors have declared a total of $350,000 in cash dividends, an increase of $50,000 over the $300,000 declared in 1974.

HOW'S ABOUT A CHRISTMAS SMOOCH? —A lecherous Santa Claus, played by Jim Kingon, tries to plant a Christmas kiss on Melanie Hoover who is more amused than interested. It was all in fun as the Sutton Elementary teachers put on their own skit for students Friday. WAIT TILL SUMMER — Billington Corners or M-50 and M-52, whichever you prefer, is now a four-way stop. State highway department installed new stop signs on M-50 last week in another move to slow down the high number of accidents at the intersection. The four-way stop signs might do just that, but unless we're way wrong, eastbound and westbound traffic on M-50 could be backed up for miles, especially following a MIS race next summer. And, let's not forget the heavy lake traffic on the weekends.

Fire Destroys Large Barn, Contents

Tecumseh Fire Department was busy this weekend as they responded to three calls Friday and Saturday.

On Friday, a fire completely destroyed a large barn and its contents at 7755 Ridge Rd. The property belonged to Peter Perry, but his son, Kenneth Perry, lives there and turned in the alarm.

Ridgeway Township Fire Department responded initially to the call at 10:27 p.m. Tecumseh and Raisin Township Fire Departments assisted. LaVon Tubbs, Ridgeway Township fire chief, explained that the barn was not savable and everything inside was also destroyed. Contents included baled straw, digging equipment, and lumber.

The four outbuildings and house in the area of the fire were saved. No structural damage occurred to any of the buildings, but the metal building next to the barn did lose some paint from the heat and flames.

Cause of the fire and estimated damage as yet are undetermined.

Local firemen also responded Friday to a garage fire at 8:50 p.m. Property belonged to James Pinkard, 412 Occidental.

Contents destroyed included new cupboards, and assorted furniture and odds and ends. There were no cars in the garage.

A breezeway connecting the garage and house was damaged from water and smoke, and only slight structural damage occurred as the firemen put a hole in the ceiling to make sure the fire was not spreading towards the house. The house stustained only minor smoke damage.

Cause of the fire and estimated damage is undetermined.

Then on Saturday, the rescue squad responded to a call at 315 Cummins. Mrs. Joe Pospisil was taken to Herrick Hospital, where she was treated. She is reportedly in good condition.

ABOUT THE ONLY DISTINGUISHABLE ITEM LEFT IN BARN WAS A WAGON

Raise $1,434

"Just about everybody of Kiwanis and Rotary turned out for the annual Kettle Drive Friday and Saturday," accroding to officials and Brigadier William Larned of the Salvation Army.

The Kiwanians collected $626. on Friday and Rotary members $808 on Saturday, making a total of $1,434, a little less than last year.

Food amounting to $40, from A&P, Kroger, Party Shop and Owen Merrill swelled the funds to be used for a Christmas party for the underpriviledged Monday evening in St. Peter's Church and for other charitable purposes by the Salvation Army.

Carl Lamb was Kiwanis chairman and Doug Aylesworth for Rotary.

A&P Manager, Assistant Transferred

Al Snyder, a 36-year veteran with the A&P company and store manager here for nearly 21 years, has been transferred as a manager to the Adrian A&P.

Assistant manager Herb Simpson also has been transferred to the Adrian store.

A new manager for the Tecumseh outlet has not been named.

Ice Not Safe for Skating

City recreation officials urge parents to keep their youngsters off all city ponds.

Director Ward Eardley says the ice is not yet safe. Ponds will be posted when officials deem the ice thick enough for skating.

Santa's Hut Again Victim of Vandals

Vandals have again broken into the Santa Claus hut next to Automotive Parts and Supply in downtown Tecumseh.

Patroling police officers discovered that the south door to the building had been kicked in early Friday morning. Candy was thrown onto the floor inside and some discarded on the ground outside the building.

The building, renovated this past fall, was broken into earlier on Dec. 14.

In past years the Chamber of Commerce located the hut on E. Chicago Blvd. near Evans St., and experienced little vandalism. This year Automotive Parts and Supply offered the Chamber its vacant lot next door plus providing electricity to the building.

Family Now Re-located

The Jay Tressler family of nine is comfortably settled temporarily in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Woodward on Ottawa St. following a fire Dec. 16 which extensively damaged the Tressler home on W. Chicago Blvd.

Mr. Tressler was discharged from Herrick Hospital Saturday following treatment for first degree burns on his face, hands and feet.

Mrs. Ken Woodward of Lansing and Mrs. Tressler are friends, dating back to school days, and the Ken Woodwards contacted his parents in Florida to make arrangements for the fire victims.

Offers of assistance have been much appreciated by members of the Tressler family.

Ethel Hammack, mother of Mrs. Tressler, stated Monday that the community residents have been "marvelous with offers of help, hot meals, warm clothing, boots, dresses, pantsuits and everything."

Audience Thrilled by Band Concert

By KATHY BROWN

The Christmas Band Concert at the high school Thursday left no doubt in the minds of the 800 parents, friends, and band boosters: Tecumseh is achieving its goal to have the best band in the county.

Songs for the season, performed by the seventh, eighth grade bands directed by Robert Schoof and the junior varsity and varsity bands, directed by Jimmie Rice, set the mood for the holiday spirit and warmed our hearts though the weather outside was a frightful 12 degrees.

For School, it was the first year his baton led the junior high school. And the first time the seventh graders were members of a band.

The group left observers calling for more. The appreciation of students and leader for each other's efforts was apparent, even before the group presented Schoof with a "thank you" plaque. Their rendition of "Jingle Bells Around the World" was excellent.

The eighth grade received a challenge with the music "Greensleeves" ("What Child Is This?") but played valiantly.

They demonstrated their dedication to practice and aspiration to "be the best" when they have a crack at the varsity band.

The junior varsity shows great promise, especially the strong brass section. "The Carol of Drums" was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

The varsity band was, of course, the star of the show with Brazilian Sleigh Ride and the traditional version of Sleigh Ride.

Band camp certainly gave the group the polish and pride. Jimmie Rice has helped them achieve near perfection.

Doby Dobrinsky has been assisting with the drum section this year.

The surprise Christmas present announced by Rice is that the Tecumseh Marching Band has been invited to the National Cherry Festival in Traverse City to participate in a full day of band activities.

Pending approval of the School Board, the band has been invited to the Heritage Parade, a street concert and field competition on July 7.

Boarding facilities for the overnight trip would be available through the courtesy of a local school gymnasium. The trip would be chaperoned. Meals would also be contracted through the local schools.

Tecumseh will also be fortunate in having a percussion and brass ensemble from Interlochen on the evening of Jan. 22.

Parents are encouraged to bring their children to see these top notch music students.

About 27 of the visiting students will need places to stay. Area families are asked to volunteer a bed in their homes that night. Meals will be contracted locally.

Latest project of the Band Boosters will be a summer uniform for the marching band to enter competition.

Formal uniforms are necessary to be eligible to compete, said Rice. Uniforms must also be durable and easy to replace. A uniform committee is now gathering samples.

Three fund raising projects for the summer uniforms will be upcoming in the next six months.

Candles sold this year will enable the band to attend band camp at no extra cost to the students.

A few of the Christmas and Bicentennial candles remain for sale. Three thousand, four hundred were sold.

A free will offering of $170 was collected at the doors, Thursday.

Old Tradition Renewed by Several Churches

by Kathy Brown

Christmas pageants in Tecumseh churches are probably almost as old a tradition as the city itself.

The tradition has been renewed this year by several area churches. Usually the children of the Bible and Sunday schools play the roles of Mary, Joseph, shepherds, angels and kings.

Many old timers will probably tell you however, that nothing today compares to the presentation of "Holy Night," at the First Baptist Church some 50 years ago.

The production, in drama and music, included every able bodied man, woman and child of the congregation, attracted crowds from throughout the county and perhaps taught more folks about Bible history than any sermon.

According to sources available to the Tecumseh Herald, the first performance of the production under this title was held in 1924 in the church with Mrs. R.S. Moore, the director, choosing cast and costumes.

Newspapers indicated the production was an annual affair for over 20 years, under Mrs. Moore's leadership.

"In those days, music had a prominent place in the community and the churches were the focal point of activity," said Mrs. Phoebe Bryan. (She worked many years on costumes.)

This explains in part, its popularity.

Perhaps the biggest reason the production was a crowd pleaser was because the authentic costumes made it a visual extravaganza.

Though eleborate, the costumes were not costly.

Many were made from blankets, bathrobes, old formals, draperies, scarves and thousands of beads, jewels and sequins, all painstakingly hand-sewn by dedicated seamstresses.

A few of the costumes were borrowed from local lodges.

Many of the articles were from Mrs. Moore's travels or borrowed from the friends of the church.

"Shawls came from Spain and Italy; leopard skins from Africa; antique shawls nearly a century old; blankets from Italy and Mexico; scarves from Venice, Rome and Norway; jewelry from Italy, China, the Netherlands and Mexico, and many silks, satins, and brocades from among family treasure chests.

"Thousands of dollars of jewels will be worn by the cast," boasted the Tecumseh Herald, of the miracle play in the Dec. 17, 1936 issue.

The cast consisted of 30 carolers dressed in old English caroler costumes with hoods and they carried lighted tapers.

Other biblical characters represented included those from the Old Testament: Abraham, Sarah, Hagar, and ishmeal, Lot and his wife and daughters, Isaac, Rebekah, Jacob, etc.

The production began with the annunciation, the visitation of the shepherds, the manger scene, the worship of the three kings and assembly of all the people in adoration.

Biblical characters were introduced through the narration and each had a part in pantomime and song.

Total cast climbed in years from 50 to more than 100.

Several of the cast grew with the production, former cherubs grew into the roles of the Biblical men and women.

Crowds still came to see the new costumes, hear the new songs and see who played a favored part that year, as new things were always added.

"There was nothing else to take the place of it," remarked Mrs. Byran, "We wished we could be in the audience ourselves so we could see it."

Mrs. Byran's station was to prepare the actors for stage entrances.

Some things probably haven't changed about Christmas pageants.

"I had to keep helping the angels get their wings untangled," chuckled Mrs. Bryan.

The most important reason for the Christmas pageant was that it was a biblical event, it tried to play down the commercial aspects of Christmas.

It was a Christmas time inspiration that strived to be as authentic as the first "Holy Night", recorded in the Bible.

Director of the Pageant for many years was the late Mrs. R. S. Moore. She was responsible for casting and costumes. Prominent in Tecumseh's music circles in her day, she also entertained at garden parties with music entertainment and helped coordinate other music programs.

Money Taken from Purse

Mrs. Herbert Bagby, 1201 Murray Dr., told police officers last Wednesday that approximately $60 was taken from her purse while she was working at Kroger store.

She said the money was in her pocketbook when placed in a locker and locked.

There are no suspects.

Bi-centennial Journey

Feather Picking Parties
By Thelma Younglove

BRITTON — For many years feather picking parties were common in the farming area of northeastern Lenawee County.

The parties were more utilitarian than social. Feather picking parties were held just before Thanksgiving or Christmas, sometimes just before New Years.

The date depended upon market demand, price, and maturity of the poultry.

Many farmers in the area raised large flocks of ducks, geese, and chickens.

Prices for dressed poultry was considerably more than for the live birds.

Since feather picking machines had not come into use, farmers organized feather picking parties.

A farmer having a large number of ducks or geese contacted other neighbors who also raised poultry and arranged for several couples to come to his farm on a certain date to pick the birds and prepare them for market.

Prior to the feather picking party, the poultry had been well fed to be sure the birds were well developed as free as possible from pin feathers.

Before the date that the feather picking party was to be held each farmer expecting to have a bee prepared a building where the work could be done (garage, shed or summer kitchen) and assembled all of the equipment necessary for the project.

A huge kettle for heating the water for scalding each bird was in place.

Fuel for heating the water was ready and a place to hang the dressed birds to cool thoroughly was in readiness.

While the farmer was making the outside preparations, the farmer's wife was preparing a tasty meal (almost like a Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner) arranging for a friend to serve the meal so she could help prepare the poultry for market.

On the morning of the day the poultry was to be plucked, the farmer had the birds confined in an enclosure where each could be caught easily.

Work usually began quite early in the morning. Each worker had a particular task to perform.

One man slaughtered the birds. One scalded them. Care had to be exercised.

If not scalded enough, it was hard to remove the feathers.

If the water was too hot and the bird overly scalded the skin might tear and the bird would not be so saleable.

As soon as the bird had been scalded and the large stiff feathers removed it was passed along to the women who finished picking the fowl.

The down, soft goose feathers was saved, dried, and used to make feather pillows or feather ticks.

By noon men and women had developed an appetite and ready to stop work for awhile.

To the group of 10 or 12 workers the hearty meal and cozy warmth of the home was most enjoyable.

After dinner the workers resumed their labors and worked until all of the poultry had been finished and hung outside in the chilly air to cool. Sometimes the dressed birds were left hanging out in the cold all night, and marketed the next morning.

How many poultry raisers would risk that now?

Each feather picking season the neighborhood group made the rounds from one farm to another until each farmer had marketed his fowls.

Feather picking parties were discontinued after feather picking machines had been invented and put into common use. This labor saving device was one more step in the machine age.

Mrs. W.P. VanOrden from Adrian talked on "Gifts That Christmas Brings," the need to get involved, decorating, traditions and sharing.

During the business meeting Mrs. Gladys Prill, club member and president of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs, announced that the committee for revising the Britton Woman's club's constitution had met and is now ready for the January meeting.

Club voted to give $5 to the scholarship fund for the Music Camp at Interlochen.

Christmas Day is really depressing.

It's not the naked-looking tree, the broken $20 toys scattered on the living room floor, or even the slinky hostess gown that's two sizes too small.

It's depressing because not a single parental threat will carry any weight from 5:45 a.m. Dec. 25, until Nov. 1976.

You can threaten a child with no dessert, no TV, no friends over to play – you name it.

But it just doesn't have the wallop that "Santa won't bring you that (substitute here anything that we necessitate your serving hamburger casseroles up to and including Thanksgiving).

Thanks to that wonderful person (he or she certainly must have had at least one child) who wrote "You better not pout, you better not cry, you better watch out I'm telling you why: Santa Claus is coming to Town!" the usual screaming is replaced with a pleasant little ditty.

The immortal lines: "He sees you when you're sleeping; He knows when you're awake; He knows when you are bad or good, so be good for goodness sake," are the real zinger.

When you start singing it, kids who are engaged in the pretzel hold and-or have teeth sunk in each other, immediately unclasp each other and start looking behind chairs and under beds and tables for their sneaky – but jolly – benefactor.

Better yet, get a 45 rpm recording, leave the arm on your record player to one side, and let it play all day. The harmony this induces is positively astonishing!

On Christmas Day, however, you can hum it, whistle it, play it on the stereo, strum it on the banjo and sing it — simultaneously — and nothing.

This is mainly because it isn't audible over "That's mine!" "He broke the leg off my Barbie!" And, "Next year I want . . ."

Right now I'm trying to compose a new set of lines for the old standard, "Here Comes Peter Cottontail."

Something like, "He sees you when you're sleeping . . ."

(Merry Christmas!)

School Christmas

Should "Tick and Tock" forget to tick in Christmas?

Will last year's Rag Doll and Teddy Bear be forgotten if there is Christmas?

These questions were posed by Jannette Mannino's fourth grade class at Ridgeway School in Alieen Fisher's play, "Time Out for Christmas."

The Ridgeway stars included Rebecca Irwin and Scott Maddux as "Tick" and "Tock," Laurie Linn as "Rag Doll" and Tammy Lopez as "Teddy Bear."

The "Calendar Days" were Susan Galindo, Kathy McCann, Fred Hochrein, Bill Russell, Deanna Governo, Greg Waynick, Terry Rodgers, Sara Olvera, Laura Kirk, Janice DeJonghe, Amy Rebottaro, Wendy Phelps, Arrin Schroeder, David Larrowe, Chuck Staley, Tereasa Jennings, Tod Dennis, Tom DeJonghe, Melissa Smith. Tom Hochrein and Cherie Escott and Doug Henry.

To The Editor

To the Editor:

"CHRISTMAS IS LOVE".

On behalf of the mentally handicapped children and adults, to all people who have shown concern, the LARC says "Thank you" with these Beatitudes:

1. Blessed are you who take time to listen to difficult speech, for you help us to know that if we presevere we can be understood.

2. Blessed are you who walk with us in public places, and ignore the stares of strangers, for in your companionship we find havens of relaxation.

3. Blessed are you who never bid us to "hurry up", and, more blessed, you who do not snatch our tasks from our hands to do them for us, for often we need time rather than help.

4. Blessed are you who stand beside us as we enter new and untried ventures, for our failures will be outweighed by the times when we surprise ourselves and you.

5. Blessed are you who ask for our help, for our greatest need is to be needed.

6. Blessed are you who help with the graciousness of Christ, who did not bruise and reed and quench the flax, for often we need the help we cannot ask for.

7. Blessed are you, when by these things you assure us that the thing that makes us individuals is not in our peculiar muscles, nor in our wounded nervous systems, nor in our difficulties in learning, but in the God-given self which no infirmity can confide.

8. Rejoice and be exceeding glad, and know that you give us reassurances that could never be spoken in words, for you deal with us as Christ dealt with all His children.

Santa Visits Camp Fire Girls

Guess who showed up at the Christmas Party on Saturday at the Church of Christ to see the Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls of this area?

Right! Santa himself.

The girls went on the Joy Bus to the front of Flanders Music Co. where they sang Christmas carols.

From there the girls went to Herrick Hospital and the Nursing Home, adopted Grandma Partridge's and Mrs. Rupert's home and sang.

They then went back to the church for refreshments.

Doby's Donuts donated the rolls and the leaders furnished hot chocolate and cookies.

A good turn out of girls proved to be a special event for everyone. Special thanks are for Carl Rupert for doing so many extra things this year.

Jewels & gems

By Dick Eggleston

Goldsmiths were busy in America at a surprisingly early period, and displayed a really unexpected excellence of skill when compared with other craftsmen of that period. In the Old World, the goldsmith had been largely required to take his product to the guildhall to be assayed and stamped as proof of its quality, there was never any such supervision in colonial days in the new country. Thus the makeup of the precious metals in the new country was left up to individual craftsmen, who were careful to produce the very best, on pain of loss of their personal reputation.

We at EGGLESTON'S JEWELRY, 107 E. Chicago Blvd., 423-2715 are proud of our fine reputation and provide personal service to all our customers. We can have your baby's shoes bronzed as a momento, and there are many different styles and we handle both jewelry and watch repairs. "Fine Jewelry ... Always". Merry Christmas Everyone!

GEM FACT: Use the best way to keep silver looking like new. Washing in hot water and careful drying keeps tarnish away.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

SEASON'S GREETINGS!

For sometime now I have thought that perhaps I should try to write a new Christmas article. After all, things do change. For we three Duncans this will be our second holiday season in Florida instead of Michigan. WHITE CHRISTMAS is a lovely eye-moistening song and the weather forecast we are hoping to hear is sunny and warm.

There is no doubt about it, the holidays are different down here. Instead of a parade of old friends coming and going there are the new people we have met.

The trees I look at through my windows are green graceful palms not bare stark maples. Even the holiday food is different.

And yes, we do miss the after-dark caroling of the church choirs and the youth groups.

As for the Christmas decorations -- well, they seem perhaps a bit overdone and slightly garish.

But, who am I to criticize? If people like this type of display and it brings the spirit of Christmas to them I shall applaud their efforts.

Last year the Christmas Eve party down the street ended with the whole bunch trooping up and down and singing one or two carols at each coach.

Retirement voices have as much enthusiasm as do the youthful Michigan ones.

As for food, fresh squeezed orange-juice does not have to take a back seat to a hot toddy even through the holidays.

I must admit that as much as we love our winters here in Tarpon Springs we do miss our friends at home. Especially at this time of year.

But cards and letters keep us in touch and maybe there is even a bit of mental telepathy taking the place of those in-person visits.

And, our new friends here in Florida are, no not taking the place of the old ones; they are greatly enlarging our circle of dear people.

With Auntn, Rog and Penny close by too we have a busy and fun-filled time.

So the outward way of our holiday celebration is quite different but the true spirit of Christmas lies within our hearts.

I find that even though the outer trappings have changed the inward thoughts and beliefs are much the same.

Acutally Thanksgiving sets the mood which has grown and carries right through the end of the year. In between turkey and football games there should always be time for a bit of thoughtful reflection.

We all have so much to be thankful for -- in my case, family and friends. Because of them my life is full and rich.

Good health is so important and even though I am paralyzed from the neck down I do, with the help of braces, sit comfortably for a few hours in a wheel-chair, a car or an airplane.

I am also most thankful to you, the generous readers of the Tecumseh Herald. Your letters, cards, notes and calls are greatly enjoyed and appreciated. Unfortunately it is impossible for me to answer each and every one.

Now that we are blessed by being able to spend summers in Michigan and winters in Florida I am even more sure that there is, to borrow a phrase, "A power greater than myself."

As I look out on the wonderful world of Evans Creek and our small lake here His miracles are all around and are mine just for the looking.

A kingfisher rattling up the creek searching for dinner, a graceful egret 'letting down' on the tiny island, flowers and bird songs, and rainy days as well as the sunny ones.

His handiwork gladdens my window-pictures continually. Few sermons are stronger and more meaningful than watching storm clouds brood over the Gulf.

Or a male cardinal bringing his youngsters to the near-my-window-feeder for their first visit.

Why then does such a wise Creator, who can be so lavish with love and beauty, allows 'things' to happen? Cruel, tragic, and seemingly senseless things.

Well, a long time ago, after the car in which I was riding came out second best in an encouter with a tree, I decided that perhaps it is not meant for us to know all the answers, all the whys.

There may be no seemingly logical explanation but things do happen for a purpose -- even though we do not always see right away what that purpose is.

One of my favorite thoughts is taken from Peter Marshall, that famous Scot who spoke so eloquently from a Presbyterian pulpit.

He believed that God never closes one door without opening another.

So then it is our job to find that other door.

The search may be a long and difficult one -- certainly it is a full-time task and one which leaves no time for bitterness or self pity.

Oh, of course, there are dark moods and moments of discouragement but, when faith falters, a look outside quickly sets me back on the right track.

I hope your Christmas will be merry and bright; and my New Year's wish for you all is health, happiness and a full measure of peace and joy in your hearts!

No Meeting for LARC in December

There will be no meeting in December of the Lenawee Association for Retarded Citizens, but committees will continue to work.

Next meeting will be Jan. 26, 1976, 7:30 p.m. at the Lenawee Institute.

Christmas card sale, with calendars and wrapping paper for ads is ending successfully, thanks to Jan Bird for all that bookkeeping.

Card of Thanks

Thanks to all my friends at the American Legion Club for all their good wishes, cards, visits and contributions. Special thanks to June and the club board, and to Jane and Betty for filling in on my job for me. A special kind of thanks to Betty Bishop. She is one of those rare type of friends. Sincerely,
Penny Hammack 12-25p

I would like to thank everyone at Herrick Memorial Hospital for the excellent care during my recent stay there. Special thanks to Dr. Dustin, all the nurses and nurses aides. We are so fortunate to have such a fine hospital available to all of us. Sincerely,

In memory of my Dear Beloved Mother Gladys Murphy, who passed away one year ago this day on Dec. 24, 1974. Though she's not here with me, thoughts and memories are often.
Her daughter, Irene Brown and family. 12-25c

The family of Ernest Linger wishes to express appreciation to Purse Funeral Home, Dr. Carlton Cook, and Dr. B. Buenaflor, nurses aides and Intensive Care unit at Herrick Hospital; Ladies Aid and Tecumseh and VFW Auxiliary for dinner. Also thanks to Rev. Max Bailey, Rev. Allen Gray and Rev. Edmond Watkins for their prayers.
Thank you to all who sent the beautiful flowers. 12-25p

We thank each and everyone of you who unhesitantly came to our aid with gifts of food, clothing, and money after our disastrous fire. Close friends shared their family activities, food, clothing, and shelter while caring for our children. Without your help, we could not have happily reunited our family in our temporary home in only five days. We will now be able to enjoy the holiday season in comfort and with a minimum of inconvenience. Words simply cannot express the gratitude we feel to the people of Tecumseh who have given us so much.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Anna L. Marine who passed away December 23, 1974

Although she is gone or so they say,
She is in our hearts
both night and day.
And time may pass
so far away,
But still we will know
her loving way.
And days will come in days to pass,
When we will hear her sing.
we will hear her laugh.
To remember well
her loving touch,
She will never be too far from us.

Sadly missed by her family and friends. 12-25p
